NANCY WYNNE PREDICTS LESS GAIETY IN SOCIETY TILL EASTER

This Evening's Mi-Careme Dance and All-Day Bazaar and Card Party Will Be About the Last of Lenten Doings-Supper Club Very Gay.

have taken card tables for the afternoon, and the evening from 9 o'clock on will be devoted to dancing. After this affair there will be very little more entertaining while Lent is with us, as with the more solemn weeks of that season coming closer, if any entertaining is done it is only of an informal kind and hardly spoken of.

Today's affair will doubtless be very successful, as a number of prominent women are interested in the day nursery. It's for the small colored kiddies, you know, and they are too cunning for words. If you stop in there to see them, all spandy, clean and happy and interested in their little games; and then the wee mites in long clothes, you want to stay and play with them. Mrs. Charles Howell is president of the Day Nursery and has a very able board of managers.

The final meeting of Mrs. Hutchison Scott's Supper Club was held on Saturday night in the ball com of the Bellevue Stratford and was its usual success. These supper club dances, which were inaugurated by Mrs. Scott this year. have proved to be among the most pop ular affairs of the season. They are delightfully informal and exclusive as well, and so many people go. On Saturday night there were nearly 300 there and it was quite delightful. The Meyer, Davis Orchestra was on the tapis, or the stake rather, for they played there instead of on the floor. And they are splendid.

Miss Grace Field, of New York, gave four exhibition dances with great skill. She was extremely graceful and light as n feather, and did the skating waltz gowned in the cutest white frock, with collar, toque and tiny muff of ermine.

The management has shown decided tact in the choice of artists for the various meetings of the club. Each dancer has been totally different from those before. It is delightful to know that an extra dance is to be given by the management on April 29 for the members of both series. That night will see the last performance of the Mask and Wig play, so there will probably be numerous box parties to go over to the supper club afterward.

Some among those there on Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Billie Warden. who were chaperoning Agnes Brockie's party (Agnes is Mrs. Warden's eldest daughter). Sarah Franklin was with them and looked perfectly sweet in a frock of white silk. Mrs. Jimmie Potter was very smart in dark blue chiffon cent bride was Mrs. Eddie Dale, who wore her wedding dress, and Gabriella Honkinson, with her flance, was entertained by the Samuel Woodwards.

The Sidney Brocks had a party of six. and as usual the Alfred Norrises had six guests. Dorothy having returned from New York, where she had been for a day or two. Anne Spencer was with her sister, Mrs. Charlie Potter.

The Harry Thayers had a party of nine guests and the Samuel Reeves entertained seven. Mr. and Mrs. Evan Coates and Mr. and Mrs. Houston Dunn.

Others there were Katherine Ogden. Betty Scott, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Marechal Brown, Sam Chew. Billy Longstreth, the P. F. Rothermel. 3ds, Billy Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lewis, the Spencer Millers, Billy McAleer, Hall Heddington, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Cassatt, Miss Frances Clark, Harry Hodge, Drew Wheeler and the two Wheeler men. Walter and Arthur, who came down from the Russian Ballet; Mr. Theodore Grayson, the Billy Huhns, Alfred Hansell, the C. C. Fitlers. Heath Bannard and the Richard G. Woods. NANCY WYNNE.

OPEN SUNDAY PLAYGROUNDS URGED BY SOCIAL WORKERS

ple to Mischief, They Say The opening of the Fourth National Flower Show on Sunday has aroused com-ment in many sections of the city. No lin many sections of the city. No locality, however, is more interested than the congested district of the 3d Ward, South Philadelphia, where Sunday, instead of being a day of peace and rest, is one of turmoil, according to settlement workers, who declare that "mischief finds work for idle hands to do," and adventure the context of the public class.

difficulties of managing the people of con-gested districts on Sundays. "The public playgrounds should be opened on Sundays. I do not mean that this should interfere with the church hours. But I do mean that some place should be open for the people who have nowhere to go Sunday afternoon for recreation except the streets. The large parks are too far away. What the people want is a place near their own homes—such a place as is provided by the playgrounds, which are closed on Sundays. There should be supervised recreation in these places on Sundays.
