OLIVER LETTER NOT YET FOUND BY GOVERNOR

Hunt for $1000 Check Missive Has Been Futile, Friends Say

PENROSE MEN ALERT

Brown's Plan to Make Them Aid Brumbaugh Candidacy Hits Snag, They Assert

HARRISBURG, April 11.—That Governor Brumbaugh's search for the David B. Oliver letter was futile, is the belief of the few persons on Capitol Fill who the willing to discuss the $1000 check in-

The Governor, Attorney General Brown and Secretary Hall only shrugged their shoulders today when interrogated, but it has become known that Mrs. Brumbaugh and the Attorney General assisted the Governor in hunting for the missing letter in the Governor's Germantown home on Sunday. The fact that it has not been made public is taken here to mean that it was not found.

Most of the State employes maintained the same sort of silence as the Governor and his advisers. The State employes who owe their appointment to Penrose, however, were making considerable noise, and were losing no time in making it known that Attorney General Brown's plan to force the State jobholders to work for the Governor's candidacy had struck a sons Governor's candidacy had struck a snag.

CLERK REFUNDS DAY'S PAY. The most sensational turn of yesterday was the announcement that Professor J. was the announcement that Professor J.
Louis Sowers, of Gettysburg, a clerk in the Workmen's Compensation Board, which is under the Department of Labor and Industry, had been forced to circulate a petition much against his will. In order to get signatures, he said, he had to take a day's time and so he refunded to the State Treasurer the amount of $2.78, that representing one day's pay.

Professor Sowers for years was a school teacher in Adams County before he came here. During the last week in March, he says, he was informed by a superior of the Department of Labor and Industry that he would be expected to circulate a petition for signers for C. L. Lamotte, of York County, which is in Sowers' congres-sional district, as a candidate for alternate delegate to the Republican National

It is said that Sowers demurred and even went to see Commissioner John Price Jackson, of the Department of Labor and Industry. He agreed to hire somebody to get the signatures, and this proposition was agreed to, but evidently he could not find a sultable person, and he was then in-structed to take the petition out himself through Adams County.

FEARED WRATH OF SUPERIORS. Fearing to provoke the wrath of his au-perior, he agreed to take a day off, and this he did March 31. When he later received his check for March he declined to accept it as a whole, and he made out a check for one day's pay and sent his letter to the State Treasurer.

Paul N. Furman, statistician in the Department of Labor and Industry, has been devoting much of his time to the cam-paign of the Governor. Professor Sowers would not say it was he who got him to would not say it was he who got him to obtain the signatures. It is said few others in the Department show the same interest in the Governor's campaign.

Another officeholder the Brumbaugh backers did not land is Josiah W. Kline, Republican County Chairman his Combeted land, who is an assistant cataloguer in the State Library. He was called from his desk to the Attorney General's Department several days ago and there found Henry G. Wasson, Republican National Committeeman, who, it is said, desired that he turn in to help elect a Brumbaugh delegate turn in to help elect a Brumbaugh delogate from the Dauphin-Cumberland-Lebanon district to the Republican National Con-

WORKING FOR DELEGATES.

According to the Organization version of the story, Wasson, who has been here a considerable part of his time making up a list of Brumbaugh delegates, wanted Kline to turn over the Republican Organization in Cumberland County. This Kline said he could not do. Kline was asked to become a national delegate himself, it is claimed, but he declined.

The Brumbaugh headquarters last night issued a statement, which, like others made during the last few days, is said to have been indersed by the Governor before being given out. This statement contains extracts of letters and tele-grams received from friends since the Oliver check episode was given publicly.

Two Stricken by Dread Disease in Handling Germ-Laden Skins From Abroad

Two men, formerly employed by wool and leather firms, and admitted to the Municipal Hospital a few days ago, died from anthrax, according to announcement today by Dr. A. A. Cairns, chief medical inspector. He asserted that both men were stricken while handling diseased hides.

The victims are James McCauley, of 4855 Umbria street, Manayunk, and Alexander Gremerk, of 4335 Stiles street.

The disease was contracted through an abrasion on the faces of the men in both instances. Despite the fact that scrums from Italy, the only known cure, were used, the malady, which proves fatal in more than half the cases, could not be checked. thecked.

According to Doctor Calena about twelve cases of anthrax develop annually in Philadelphia, Four deaths already have courred the present year from the dis-ass. Doctor Cairns blamed the lax im-ortation law, which allows anthrax germladen hides to be brought into this coun try, with disinfection as the only requirement, for the presence of the malady.

SAINTS OUR ALLIES

We Are Their Fellow Citizens in Kingdom of God, Says Preacher

"Saints are not merely historical figure that lived centuries ago," said the Rev. Dr. William H. Van Allen today, at the noonday Lenten services at the Garrick Theatre. "They have a deeper meaning than that; they are a part of Christ's great army which is invisible to our eyes." Doctor Van Allen spoke of our fellowship with the saints, and said that every con ceigable condition of mankind was repre-sented in Christ's great army of saints. "We should realize the fact that we are fellow-citizens of the saints in the Kingdom of God, and should try to follow their example. When things are not bright the thought that we have such allies should give us strength and courage.

Preacher Warns Against Remorse Repentance should never take the form of remorse, according to the Rev. Dr. Samuel McComb in a Lenten sermon today at St. Stephen's Church. "The popular idea of repentance," said Doctor Mc-Comb, "is that it is a feeling of sorrow for sin. This feeling may deepen into the angulah of remorse. But remorse undermines the will and paralyzes the moral snergy. Sometimes it injures the brain and leads to insunity and suicide. True repentance should form the basis for new living."

LOAN BILLS TO PASS WITHOUT OPPOSITION IN COUNCILS TODAY

Vare-Smith Faction Says Preliminary Measures for $114,-525,000 Bonds Will Carry Easily

OPPOSITION SUBMISSIVE

Councils today will pass the bill pro-osing a $47,425,000 loan for general municipal improvements, maintenance and deficiency bills, as well as that proposing a port and transit loan of $57,100,000, if the plans of the Vare-Smith faction in both branches do not meet with unexpected opposition. The measures, signifying the intention to increase the city's bonded indebtedness by $114,525,000, require but a majority vote, which should be obtained without difficulty.

Friends of the loan bills which were so delpal Improvements, maintenance

Friends of the loan bills, which mean so much to the Administration, this morning freely predicted that both measures will pass without a dissenting vote. They pointed to the fact that all who opposed the bills in their passage through the Finance Committee finally sanctioned the easures.

Opposition from the 22 West Philadel-phia Councilmen, banded together to try to obtain concessions for their section. which is virtually ignored in the gen-eral loan, is not counted on to develop into a serious situation in Councils, no matter what effect it has on the fortunes of the general loan when that measure is sub-mitted to the voters.

It is an open secret that the PenroseMcNichol leaders plan to work for the defeat of the general loan, which they have increased to the limit of the city's horrowing capacity, in the hope of making it top-heavy enough to meet opposition.
Mayor Smith will be importuned today by the Wast Philadelphia delection. the West Philadelphia delogation to grant at least a part of the $2,620,000 they have asked for street and sewer improvements and additions and improvements to Cobb's Preek Park.

In the not improbable event of Mayor Smith's declining to interfere in the interests of West Philadelphia, opponents of the general loan intend making a campaign in that section of the citylying west of the Schuylkill River with view of imperiling the general loan at

At today's session Chairman Gaffney, of the Finance Committee, will introduce a bill providing approximately $20,000 to cover the cost of printing ballots to carry the separate loan bills before the voters. The printing of ballots is the only expense of any consequence to be incurred incident to the loan election, as, unless obstacles arise, it will be advertised at once and the bills will be placed before voters at the presidential primaric next month. The cost of a special election to increase the city's borrowing capac-ity would be $100,000, and this sum will be sayed if everything is shipshape for the voters by May 16.

He made this admission in the presence of these three disinterested wit-nesses, clearly and specifically, not-withstanding the fact that in his ardertaking would be dangerous.

After gaining from him those admissions the meeting broke up, and I told the editor of the Public Ledge that I believed he had ample proof in Mr. Caccavajo's own words, that the conclusions in the article which he prepared were not justified by the facts, and that the publication of that article would be misleading to the copie of Philadelphia.

Mr. Taylor said in conclusion that he suggested that the publication of the article would be unwarranted, and, "I accept full responsibility for making that suggestion.

world is diseased." How to curcome of its diseases was the subject of discussion today by the Rev. A. B. Mac-Intosh, of Trinity Church, Norristown, who spoke at the noonday Lenten service in old St. John's Lutheran Church, Race street below 6th.

"There has never been the slightest difficulty in perceiving that there is some-thing out of kelter in the world," said Doctor MacIntosh. "A brain of very small calibre can readily discern that. Many men set themselves up as expert diagnos-ticians in telling us just what is wrong. One says that man's highest nature has simply been enslaved by his lower nature. And here comes another who says that inperent selfishness is the curse of the world Still another lays the trouble to the fact that men have become so enamored of this world that they have neither time nor thought for the higher and better
