If Phillies and Athletics Win Today, Philadelphia Will Have Won 50 Per Cent. of Starters

By ERNEST J. LANIGAN

Should the Phillies and Athletics both win today, the accomplishment would give this city's major league teams a percentage of .500 for all their opening days. The Athletics, in their 15 inaugurations, have won one more game than they have lost, while the Phils, in their 13 starts, have been vanquished three times oftener than their opponents.

Both clubs, in their first games in their present leagues, were conquered. The Athletics debut in the National took place on May 1, 1883, in this city, the visiting Providence Grays earning a 4-0-3 decision. "Old Hoss" Radbourn, the game's greatest iron man, pitched for the winners. The Athletics played their first game for the American League championship at old Columbia Park on April 15, 1901, and fell before the Senators, 5 to 1. C. Cooper ("Chick") Fraser, now a Pirate coach, hurled for the losers.

The Athletics never have beaten the Yankees on opening day and the only chance they had to subdue the Orioles on Kickoff Afternoon they accepted. In six openers with the Red Sox, the White Elephants have earned four decisions, and in five inaugurations with the Senators they have landed three knockdowns. The Mackmen have tallied 59 runs to their adversaries' 58 on the days the championship lids were fitted, shutting out the enemy once and getting duffed with whitewash twice. Herb Pennock hurled the whitewash victory of the Athletics. Walter Johnson and Joe Doyle opposed them in the ruleless defeats. The opening day game marked by the largest score was with the Red Sox, in 1913, 10 to 9, with the Athletics on the long end of the scoring statistics.

The Phillies have the edge on opening days with only two of their opponents—Detroit and Baltimore. They have split even with the Senators, won four out of nine from both the Giants and the Braves, captured three out of seven from the Superbas and lost both contests played with the Providence Grays. Shut-outs have been received from the Giants and the Superbas (Mathewson and Rucker pitched these games) and have been handed to Boston, Brooklyn and New York, the last-named team having been kalamintined thrice on opening day. The Phillies' pitchers who distributed blanks were, respectively, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Tom Seaton, "Kid" Gleason, Frank Corridon and Earl Moore. In the opener of 1900 the Phils won in 10 innings over Boston, 19 to 17. They have made 166 runs to the enemy's 169 in their 33 starting combats.

The record of opening games played by both Phillies and Athletics is appended:

CLOSE RACE PREDICTED IN INTERCLUB TENNIS LEAGUE

By WILLIAM T. TILDEN, 2D

WHAT are the probable line-ups for the interclub tennis season? Let us first consider the maximum strength of these clubs if all their players were home. We will at once pick Philadelphia Club to win the championship without a struggle under these conditions. They have the following possible team:

1. Richard Norris Williams, 24, who without the least doubt would easily win every match at "No. 1."
2. Willis E. Davis, the Philadelphia indoor champion. Davis is second only to Williams around Philadelphia and should easily win his matches at "No. 2."
3. Alexander D. Thayer, Pennsylvania State champion, with Wallace Johnson in doubles.
4. Joseph R. Carpenter, the veteran, whose unquestioned ability would seem to insure him of winning all his matches at "No. 4."

The doubles would be made up from Sidney Thayer, Jr., who is now a Philadelphia Clubman; Joseph Rowland, J. Dinstein, Jr., Morris Wister, Joseph Thayer and Edmond Thayer. It would seem as if Sid and Joe Thayer would be the logical team. They would easily win the majority of their matches.

Merion comes second, with William J. Clothier, Joseph J. Armstrong, Craig H. de. Rowland Evans and several other prominent men. Cynwyd Club, headed by Wallace F. Johnson, who will undoubtedly have a good year, and should win the large majority of his matches at "No. 1," comes third. The remainder of the team will be made up from William T. Tilden, 2d, Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Percy Osborne, Paul W. Gibbons, Harry Martin, C. N. Beard and a couple of other men. Germantown appears to be rather a two-man team. Stanley W. Pearson at "No. 1" should do quite as well if not better than any previous player in the same position. L. C. Wister at "No. 2" will be the only other first-string man, playing for Germantown this year. Germantown, however, is fortunate in having a large number of second-string men who are well above the average. Germantown should be a good fourth in any event. Huntingdon Valley and Belfield should be "fifth" and "sixth" respectively, both teams being rather shot to pieces.

But will all these stars play? That is a question. The matches come during

ERRORS DEFEAT SCHOOLBOYS IN EARLY CONTESTS

Careless Plays and Slippery Fields Help to Decide Many Games

OTHER SCHOOL NEWS

The error column in the schoolboy baseball games has of late told the story of victory or defeat, for many of the scholastic nines are beating themselves by their carelessness. This is the result of a late outdoor start, early games and the slippery fields. Playing conditions at this time are far from ideal. The school diamonds are soggy and the chances to slip up on a play numerous.

Collingswood High, victors over Friends' Central School in the game at Collinswood yesterday, played errorless ball. If the score-sheet of the Collingswood correspondent may be taken as correct, Friends' Central, losers by a score of 14 to 4, had four costly errors. When Bordentown High beat Palmyra in a Burlington League game 7 to 4 the Palmyra nine slipped up half a dozen times, while Bordentown also had five faults chalked up against them.

Penn Charter School added to its list of victories in the game with Haddonfield High yesterday afternoon at Quakertown. The final score was 14 to 9. It was a swifter game than that of a few more days of outdoor work will be necessary before they can hope to show in the contests still on the schedule.

Frankford High's students are happy they will be able to use the Dixon A-12 field for their home games. Frankford's 15 to 3 defeat last night in a recent contest, before O'Brien, by no means discouraged the upturn youngsters, who hope to make a much better showing in the contests still on the schedule.

Camden High had a very strong basketball team. Indications also point to a strong baseball team and at the conclusion of the game with Westbury yesterday, the youngsters across the river were on the long end, 14 to 6.

Penn Charter was too strong in stick work for Kearsy and Kearsy, who were knocked out of the box in the fifth inning.

The University of Pennsylvania freshmen meet Lawrenceville School in a game at Lawrenceville next Saturday afternoon. Then comes the Wednesday afternoon game with St. Luke's School and the contest with Hill school on April 29.

JOE TINKER

Fielder Jones, who led the St. Louis Reds last season, is at the Browns' helm. Jimmy Callahan goes to Pittsburgh, succeeding Fred Clarke, and Joe Tinker heads the Cubs after winning the 1915 pennant for the Chicago Federal League Club.

GREYSTOCK WINS BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP BY DEFAULT

Patterson Refuses to Meet Eastern League Five in Odd Game

Managers of the Patterson team, Interstate League champions, have notified Manager Bailey of Greystock, that the former would not appear in this city next Friday night for what was to be the deciding game of the basketball "world's series." No forfeit had been posted, so about the only satisfaction the local fans can extract from the situation is to claim the title of world's basketball champions for Greystock by default.

The Patterson team had framed a series of games with Wilkes-Barre, the Pennsylvania State champions, and two of the games are scheduled for Thursday and Saturday of this week.

Thomas Defeats Ferguson
Charles ("Kid") Thomas defeated Danny Ferguson, of Manassas, at Norristown last night in a rough contest. Referee O'Brien had to do the most work, breaking them apart, and in one instance he landed a wallop on the jaw by Ferguson as he separated the two. Eddie Hart beat Frankie Kewer. Willie Moorman added another victim to his K.O. string, sending Eddie Roland to the mat in the second round.
