NANCY WYNNE TELLS OF CONCERT GIVEN FOR CHARITY TONIGHT

Garretson Hospital Will Benefit by Recital and Dance to Be Held in New Century Drawing Room. Prominent Singers Take Part

OVERS of music and those who are mann Hospital, is recuperating rapidly interested in the poor and sick in the hospitals are anticipating with pleasure the recital which will take place tonight in the New Century drawing rooms at 124 South 12th street. The charity on this occasion will be the Garretson Hospital, which is greatly in need of funds. Four artists will take part in the entertainment before the dance. Elizabeth Latta, whose fresh, rich and supple voice is always a delight, will sing a number of solos in French, English and German. She really has an exquisite voice, so well developed and placed, and she sings with great case. Of course, there is the charm of youth about her. but there is also decided personality and real beauty of tone and expression. Then Doctor Bernd will give some dialect stories in his inimitable way, and he is a scream, as any one will tell you who has heard him. His negro songs nd stories are on a par with those of Charlie McCann, of Baltimore, who used to come up here so often and lend his humor and ready wit to our charitable undertakings. Clifford Vaughn, not Eleanor Lewis Vaughn's husband, as some have thought, but the musical Clifford Vaughn, will play on the plano, and then I must not forget Dan Donovan. who is always willing to sing for charity and can be counted on for various pleasing tenor solos. Altogether we'll get our money's worth without a doubt. After the concert, which will be finished by half after 9 o'clock, there will be dancing until 1 o'clock. The patronesses of the affair include Mrs. J. Madison Taylor, Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Mrs. Edward A. Schmidt, Mrs. N. Scammon-Jones, Mrs. George W. Edmonds, Mrs. Frank H. Wigton, Mrs. Isaac H. Kemble, Mrs. William Arrott. Mrs. M. Posey, Mrs. George B. Evans, Mrs. William Ernest, Mrs. Thomas Dixon Finletter, Mrs. Howard A. Davis, Mrs. William S. Beiding, Mrs. C. S. Miss Ray Williams, Mrs. Girardeau Shiles, Mrs. H. C. Biynn, Mrs. J. C. Poulterer, Mrs. Charles F. Bochman, Mrs. C. S. M. Henry, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. H. D. Sawyer, Mrs. S. Chandler, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Thomas J. Berry and Mrs. Mulford K. Fisher, Bless me, why should Nancy be around when funny things happen? After all, it isn't a bad idea though, for, left to ourselves, we might not tell of our sad downfalls.

You see, the gentleman in question was going away for a little trip and just as he was leaving the office some one called him on the telephone and so he had to run like everything to catch his train. And how was he to know that the lock of his suitcase had not latched and that the straps had worn thin; but, however it may be, this "posilutely" happened. He went flying up the steps of Broad Street Station at 15th street, and just as he reached the top the strain on the suitcase proved a bit too much, and open flew the bag and all over the top steps went collars, ties, socks, handkerchiefs, razors, soap ntimate nink silk articles. such as fastidious youths sport. It was a shame to laugh, but how could one help it. Be this said for his consolation. evidently his watch had been fast, for I saw him look desperately toward the clock, and joyous surprise lit up his countenance. And he gathered his belongings with the aid of several kindly persons and caught his train with full five minutes grace,
