BRITAIN CLAIMS RIGHT TO RULE MEAT TRADE

Foreign Office Announces the Settlement of Cases of Chicago Shippers

LONDON, April 18.—The Foreign Of-fice issued last night a statement for pub-lication in the British press announcing a settlement of the cases of the Chicago meat packers arising from the selzure of a number of their cargoes. In addition to the Armour, Swift, Hammond, Morris and Schwarzschild & Sulzberger companies, the case of the Cudahy Company, which was represented by British solicitors, is included in the settlement. The Foreign Office statement reads:

included in the settlement. The Foreign Office statement reads:

"The settlement finally disposes of the claims of the companies in respect of all goods seized and detained as prizes. The settlement, however, does not in any way prejudice the decision of Sir Samuel Evans, president of the Prize Court, given in September, by which the bulk of the cargoes of the steamships Kim, Fridiand, Alfred Nobel and Bjoernstjerne-Bjoernson were condemned as prizes and the appeals of the packers to the Privy Council peals of the packers to the Privy Council in these cases against the above decision are now withdrawn.

"The whole proceeds from these goods will therefore remain to the credit of the prize fund, which is further augmented by a substantial part of the proceeds of other packers' goods which were the sub-ject of proceedings pending in the prize

"The settlement further provides that his majesty's Government, in considera-tion of a sum of money paid to the packers, shall regulate the entire shipment by the packers of all packing house products to neutral European countries during the continuation of the war. "The Government considers this provision to be of importance."

Settlement of the packers' cases was made in cash. The sum, although still-undisclosed, is not believed to be as great as indicated in published estimates. The money received by the packers will be deposited here and allowed gradually to be absorbed in their European business, so that the transaction will not affect the ex-change rates. The statement that the set-tlement was made on condition that the packers put the money into Exchequer bonds or war loans was denied by their representatives.

READ, OBSERVE, THINK; THEN APPLY FACTS YOU LEARN

Read.—Read much, to gain information that you will need in your progress toward the goal of your money-making success. Read always with a purpose—to gain information, to know human nature, to learn to express yourself. Dig deep for the knowledge that will help you in the work that you are doing. Go to the bottom in your quest for facts, and you will land at the top in your profession.

Observe.—You will learn as much by observation as you will by reading, if you seek to know human nature. Develop your powers of observation and you will profit by the failure and the success of others. All about you every day are lessons. By what men do and what they do not do, they are unknowingly helping you successward, if you will but take notice. The experience of another is as profitable to teach as is your own experience. For your own advancement, learn quickly to make right analysis and right application of what you see.

your own experience. For your own advancement, learn quickly to make right analysis and right application of what you see.

Think.—What you read and what you see will have no result in your progress unless you think. The spoken or written opinions of others have no bearing on your success until you learn to analyze them and to apply them to yourself. Your success lies not in imitation of others, but in thoughtful study of their experience, achievements and failures. Certain qualities of the man make for his success or failure. Think over what you read and see, so that you may know which self-qualities you need to develop and which you must destroy.

Apply the Information You Get.—When you have thought out the self-application of your reading and observation, you must promptly put it into practice. There is no success in finding the right way if you continue in the wrong way. If your analysis is right, your decision is valuable and you need not hesitate. You must have the courage of your convictions, regardless of what others are doing. Do not hesitate to strike out along new lines, if thoughtful study of your success-job shows a new departure to be advisable. Throw overboard all the litter of a new departure to be advisable. Throw overboard all the litter of fallacy and speed on to success standing on the clean deck of fact. Copyright, 1916, by Basil L. Smith, Philadelphia,

OPEN SHOP FIGHT STARTED BY WILMINGTON EMPLOYERS

Manufacturers in Conference Agree to Resist Demands of Unions

WILMINGTON, Del., April 18.— A meeting of manufacturers and employers of this city was held, last night at the Hotel du Pont and it was decided to declare for the "open-shop principle" and to fight any effort of the labor unions for a closed shop, regardless of the cost of such a campaign. The public will be informed through the newspapers as to the cause of the movement and the reason for it.

Walter Drew, counsel for the Manufacturers' Association, who has made a number of fights against what the manufac-turers declared were the unreasonable de-mands of the unions, was the principal speaker and the campaign will be con-ducted under his direction.

For nearly a year there have been strikes of the union machinists and the union brewery workers in this city. Their places have been filled by other men, but the strikes have never been declared off. The time for renewing contracts in most The time for renewing contracts in most of the trades in this city is May 1, and for some time there have been rumors that the various unions would demand a closed shop. Recently John H. Hickey, the president of the Central Labor Union. the president of the Central Labor Union, notified some of the employers that after May 1 union men would not participate on any job on which nonunion men had been employed. It is understood that this applied to the building trades.
