NANCY WYNNE TALKS OF SOCIAL MATTERS OF GREAT INTEREST

Miss MacArthur's Wedding to Mr. Hansell Yesterday in New York Comes as a Surprise to Society. Various Other Doings

MOST people were surprised yesterday and their family, of Funnymede avenue, will leave today to spend the Easter holidays in New York.

MacArthur were married in New York.

They did not take any one into their confidence but their families, because confidence but their families, because Mrs. MacArthur has been very ill, and to instead of having a larger wedding in the spring, as they had intended, they just decided to get it over without any fuss. Mildred is one of the very pret-tiest girls in Michigan and will be a decided addition to Philadelphia's beau-but now making his home in Chicago. The General Arthur MacArthur, one of the most distinguished generals in the Union urmy. Her father was another Arthur MacArthur. She has lived in Mt. Clemens, Mich., and made her debut into their home on Woodland avenue society in 1914, having spent much of her school life in France, "Howdy", too, had a distinguished grandfather in the army, General Israel Vedges. On his mother's side of the family he is related to the Wetherills of this city. He is connected with the banking firm of Frazier and Company, is a graduate of he University of Pennsylvania, '09, and sember of the Rittenhouse Club, bes being an all-round good fellow and tly liked. The little bride looked ctly lovely in her white traveling t. They were married in Grace Church, New York, and are now off on decided to sit it out with said beaux on the porch and refuse to dance with others. I wonder why they did not stay "to hum," for I am sure it would have been less conspicuous and probably they would have had a better time; but something tells me each one has either a younger sister or brother, so maybe the parlor sofa would not be so desirable. after all, as the porch of the clubhouse. Both of the small ladies in question have had a great deal of attention all winter from young and old, and I hope they will not let it go to their wee heads, for if at the end of the season one starts to sit out whole cotillons and refuses perfectly good partners, one might be more on the shelf than is usually considered desirable by the society girl when one's second year opens-for they do usually go in for a second year, these small girls. However, with so many serious problems abroad and at home perhaps the butterfly of yesterday may turn into a thoughtful little butterfly. assimilating the honey instead of just sipping it and flying on looking for new excitements and interests.
