Unofficial returns being received from tribes scattered over the State begin to give some fair indication as to at least partial results in the recent spirited con-test for State officers. The re-election of Great Chief of Records Thomas K. Don-Joseph Farrar is conceded by a substan-tial plurality. For some of the other offices it will require an official count to determine the result, while for the initial chieftancy, in the progress through the Great Council chairs unofficial returns Great Council chairs, unofficial returns from 368 tribes give Samuel Williams, Jr., of Scranton, a lead of about 150 votes.

CONCENTRATION ON DUTIES BEFORE YOU KEY TO SUCCESS

Concentration Makes Man Master of His Work-Concentration is consideration continued. It is fixed attention to some particular subject. To concentrate your mind on any work, you must rigidly exclude from your thought anything that does not have pertinent bearing upon it. Thought that goes "wool-gathering" never advances you; think while you think you think. Your interest in your work will grow as your concen-tation increases; it will be maintained from day to day as you learn the power of concentration. Yours is the power to master every detail by the concentration of your dynamic powers. With your full energy ap-plied to a single purpose, you will surely reach the definite goal. Con-centration is the high-explosive power furnished for you to blast every betructing difficulty from your pathway to success. Buccess Is Gained by Concentration—Your ability to continue con-centration on your job and its various angles is the secret key to your centration on your job and its various angles is the secret key to your success. Yours must be concentration of effort and of action as well as concentration of thought. First get the vision of what is required to establish your success-superiority, then fashion your ideal into the real by concentrated action—ceaseless sledge-hammer blows of accomplish-

Do One Thing Better Than Any One Else Can—Trying to do many things defeats the successful accomplishment of any one thing. Division of your interest will defy and defeat the favors good fortune holds for you. Your ambition will not be satisfied with the little knowledge and the little skill of the doing of many things. Specialization is a result of ability to concentrate. Both are factors in gaining accomplishments worth while. Everything yields to superior skill rightly applied. Skill proficiency re-sults from concentrated application to a definite line of effort. Such a worker is the employe extraordinary, the result-getter. Your Job-Joy Is Concentration Success—As you master your con-centration ability, you will successfully specialize and you will know the safety of high position where you have but few competitors. You feel safe and secure. All difficulties have been overcome. Advancement in position and increase in pay always await the exceptional worker who shows that he has learned to concentrate. Class of 100 Candidates

Thursday evening last Court Friendship No. 96, at Tacony, admitted a class of 111 candidates to membership in the order. The initiatory work was performed by the celebrated degree team of Court Colling-wood, No. 55, in the presence of a large gathering from various courts in this city and vicinity, and was done in the able manner which has made this team famous throughout the order.

State Officers in Round of Visitation Witness Many Class Initiations

A monster class initiation was success-fully held last Monday evening by Con-cord School Council, No. 600. The fol-lowing acted as officers in the initiatory work: Councilor, State Councilor, Wilter A. Sanders, of Grace Council, No. 631; junior paid councilor, C. Lercy Tripmaker, of Grace Council, No. 631; chaplain, State Council Secretary George S. Ford, and conductor, Edward Brenner, of Diligent Council, No. 4, the various other parts being assumed by brethren present. This was one of the largest classes of candi-dates ever received by No. 600, which has just started an era of great activity. The candidates were not only impressed with the work, but as well with the many interesting remarks which were made by the State officers and members as to the the State officers and members as to the work being done and the material results

The various committees made satisfactory reports al the meeting of the Anniversary Banquet Committee hast Saturday evening and everything assures a notable success. But Councilor, Sheneman, the president of the ovtation, expects at least 1000 members and adv friends to assemble in Lu Lu Temple, Wednesday evening, May 17, to commemorate the anniversary and honor the principles and delects of this truly great American fraternity.

A general visitation of members will be nade Monday evening next to lone Council 50, 163. Linneret, at which time interesting diresses will be made by State Council to offi-ers and deputies. Jone Council is not only ucreasing its membership, but is doing a reat fraternal work in its locality.

10.0.000 Loss of perspective, that which determines and makes clear the eternal fitness of things, is a great loss to a man in any branch of life. It will ruin his ability as a student, as an athlete, as a business man and, above all, as a homemaker. The world terms it conceit. In "The Stepping Stone" this overwhelming conceit is satirized in a forceful and striking manner, Conceit is not self-knowledge. To know to overrate one's ability in any branch of activity is but to add confidence to that ability. But to overrate one's ability is conceit; and it is this that the new Triangle-Kay Bee film, now playing at the Arcadia, hits.

film, now playing at the Arcadia, hits. It tells the story of a young man, placed on the road to success by his wife's undying devotion, who, when success comes, loses his perspective of things as they are, and turns against the woman' to whom his success is due. The outcome of this egotism is a situation at once unusual and dramatic. It makes the basis for four great reels of a good picture, Unfortunately the scenario writer did not have courage to end the story with the have courage to end the story with the unpleasant, but natural solution, with the result that a fifth reel is needed to put a poor, weak close on an otherwise ex-cellent photoplay. The three leading roles are played by Frank Keenan, Mary Boland and Robert McKim. Needless to state that the pic-ture is artistically handled. Nothing less is possible with these artists in one cast. Mary Boland plays the wife with a delightfully charming simplicity that is most attractive. Gowned in exquisite taste, her screen presence could not be improved upon for the role she plays. Keenañ is, as always, the repressed, stony ice-cold man of steel. His hard-lined face records the intensity of his emotions far more forcibly than the physical routings of many of our screen stars.

Dismisses Sealers of Weights William J. Leary and Robert Watson

CHESTER, Pa., April 20.—Mayor Me-Dowell has dismissed William J. Leary and Robert Watson as sealers of weights and measures. He has not intimated who he will appoint to succeed them. Ex-Mayor Ward named Watson as Highway Complisioner and Leary as Sealer. The commission form of govern-ment abolished Watson's office, so Ward appointed Watson to succeed Leary.

Leary fought the case, the Court sus-Leary lought the case, the Court sus-taining him, ruling that he could not be removed for political reasons and that no charges had been brought against him. The Court also said that the Mayor could appoint more than one sealer. Both men have been serving nearly two years.
