National Committee Chairman Writes Wilson Business Will Necessitate His Retirement After Convention

PRaised BY EXECUTIVE

WASHINGTON, April 24.—William F. McCombs, it was officially announced today, will not hold his post as chairman of the Democratic National Committee after the St. Louis convention.

McCombs wrote he had formed a new law partnership which would require all his time, and that "in view of party precedent that the nominee for President is requested to indicate his preference for chairman, and in view of the unity of sentiment for your nomination."

"I have your letter of the 23rd of April apprising me of your inability to retain the chairmanship of the Democratic National Convention for the approaching campaign."

"I fully appreciate the necessity you feel yourself to be under to resign after the convention shall have been held in June; I know that you would not have reached such a decision had not your new business obligations made it unavoidable."

Charles Jones, 53 years old, has spent 17 years of his life in various prisons. Today he faced Recorder Stackhouse, in the Camden Police Court, accused of having committed at least two robberies recently.

obligations made it unavoidable. I do not feel at liberty, therefore, to urge you to make the sacrifice that a retention of the chairmanship would in the circumstances involve. You have made many and great sacrifices already for the party, and I know that I am speaking the sentiments of all loyal Democrats, when I express the very deep appreciation I have felt of the great services you have rendered.

"I am sure that the greatest regret will be felt at your retirement and that a host of friends will join me in the hopes that your new business connections will bring you continued abundant success. With the best wishes,

"Sincerely yours, 'WOODROW WILSON."

Upon receipt of the news of McCombs' retirement Democratic leaders advanced the opinion today that Frederick B. Lynch, National Committeeman from Minnesota, and chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Committee, would probably be the President's choice to succeed McCombs.

McCombs wrote he had formed a new law partnership which would require all his time, and that "in view of party precedent that the nominee for President is requested to indicate his preference for chairman, and in view of the unity of sentiment for your nomination."

"I had no idea" said a woman to the editor of a woman's magazine recently, "that your magazine had changed so for the better."

She was surprised because the magazine was different than when she knew it five years ago.

But five years have made a tremendous change in women themselves, and the magazine that is to reflect the woman of to-day must be different from the magazine of yesterday.

Years ago the woman's magazine made a chair out of a barrel; to-day it makes an efficient woman out of a college graduate.

Different? Of course—as electricity differs from oil! See for yourself. Just buy a copy of
