

NANCY WYNNE IS INTERESTED IN VARIOUS MAIN LINE AFFAIRS

Fourth Annual Pony Show Will Be Held at the Home of Mrs. and Mrs. William J. Clothier on May 24—Many Novel Features for This Year—Real Doll Show

Think besides the pony show this year there is going to be a real true show, and that will be so nice, you know, because while only a few of us have ponies or pet dogs, most of us have dolls, and there it is, we can all join in the fun. The children themselves are to be the judges, mind you, so I believe it will be a splendid affair. And the very smallest doll, and then the prettiest one, and would you believe the oldest one; and do not think the doll show will be neglected; not at all, for the best dressed doll will also be given a magnificent prize. But the grand prize will be that given for the best doll. The dollies are to arrive at 5 o'clock and to be judged at 5, so it will be necessary for the wee Mammies to bring their children up properly until the momentous day, so they won't spill their cream on their frocks nor get their hands sticky with peppermint sticks and chocolate layer cake in those hours from 5 to 5. Miss Elsie Hopkins has the dolls in charge, so you must let her know at her home in Chestnut Hill if you want to enter the show before the month of the month.

Another affair of interest on the Main Line is the dinner dance which Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barkie will give this evening at their home Inver House, Wynne, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Hamlyn Wilkes Cary, of New York, who are giving their guests for several days. The Wynne Rensselaers are giving Mr. and Mrs. Cary a luncheon tomorrow, the William Townsend Wrights a dinner in the evening and on Sunday night the Warburtons will entertain in their honor. On Monday George Moynihan will give a dinner, and on Tuesday the Charlie Wrights will be their hosts. Certainly when the Carys return to New York they will have no mean idea of Philadelphia's hospitality.

Another Main Line party to be given tonight is the dinner-dance for Elizabeth Griffith and Neddy Page, at which Mr. Robert Lesley and Mrs. Lesley's sister and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Wilcox, will be the hosts. The guests will include Lisa Norris, Margaret Scott, Eugenia Casatt, Sarah Kennedy, Theodora Lillie, Edith Earle, Kennedy, Eleanor Cuyler, Harriette Gowen, Agnes Brockie, Harriette Frazier, Mary Alice Clay, Almee Robinson, Dorothy L. Norris and Thayer, and I hear that among the out-of-town men will be George H. Shelton Farr and Joseph Walker from New York.

Speaking of Mrs. Lesley reminds me of the famous which St. Vincent's Aid members will give tomorrow afternoon in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton. Mrs. Lesley was made president of that association this year, and so she is interested in the various charities which are constantly getting up for the support of the institution. They take care of the little foundlings of the city, and it is really a wonderful work. The little ones are kept at the institution until they are about 5 years of age, and are then transferred to the orphan asylums.

The Junior Aid members go out to the home on different days of the week and play with the small tots, who look forward to their visits with delight. I was amused one day while visiting there, they gave us an impromptu fire drill, and all the babies from 3 years of age up were sent down the fire chute to tumble on the grass at our feet. And you may believe they loved it. It seemed to me like a game in a while; then if there ever is a need to use it the little ones can be gotten out without fear of a panic.

Other patronesses of the dainty to-morrow at the Ritz are Mrs. Joseph E. Bennett, Mrs. Nicholas Thouron, Mrs. Archibald Barkie and Mrs. William Warburton.

Some of the committee in charge of the affair are Miss Florence Walsh, chairman; Miss Frances Sullivan, Miss Mary Rivinus, Miss Marjory Wilcox and Miss Dorothy Hoban.

TERCENTENARY CLUB FORMED YESTERDAY

Members of Catholic Theatre Movement Inaugurate Dramatic Association

An enthusiastic little gathering of men and women members of the Catholic Theatre Movement, met last night in the Walton Hotel to inaugurate and found a dramatic association under the auspices of the Theatre Movement. The name chosen for the new organization is the Tercentenary Club, and the purpose is to bring together amateur players and playwrights for study and production of plays on different occasions throughout the year. Members of the movement having been asked to join in the Shakespearean tercentenary and to produce one of the immortal author's plays, decided to form a permanent organization among Catholics and to inaugurate the movement. The inspiration of the idea, it was decided to call the club by that name, though the plays to be produced will be by no means confined to Shakespeare.

Officers were elected and several committees formed. Dr. Sylvester Deehan was made president, Mr. James Skelly, vice president; Mr. John Ferriek, secretary, and the Rev. John J. Wheeler, treasurer. The board of governors includes the Rev. S. B. Dever, D. D., Mr. Eugene Helme, Mr. Theodore Earle Jennings, Mrs. Edward Beecher Fink, Mr. P. A. Kinsley, Miss Ada Deering, Miss Virginia Martin, Miss Emily Cargenter, Mr. Michael Francis Doyle and Miss Katherine Bregy.
