NANCY WYNNE TALKS ABOUT THE OPERATIC SOCIETY'S WORK

soinald De Koven Will Be Present Himself Next thursday Night and Will Conduct "Robin Hood," to Be Produced at Metropolitan Opera House are lovers are anticipating a mat in the rendition of Reginald goven's "Robin Hood" on Thursday Friday nights of next week by the s Society of this city. Usually society has only produced grand but it has seen fit to diverge from surse, and certainly "Robin Hood" he said to be one of the most deof the modern comic operas. first performance will be conducted Mr. De Koven himself. After the nance that night a supper will given at the Ritz-Carlton for Mr. Mrs. De Koven.

number of prominent persons have n boxes, among them Mr. and Mrs. ury, Mr. and Mrs. George Quinof Horwitz, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander meselaer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miss Mary K. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. oel F. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. J. ms Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. for, Mr. Lyman Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. ge H. Frazier, Mr. Charles F. Mr. Louis Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Gribbel, Mr. Clement Buckley wheld, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Emlen old, Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarall Miss Nina Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grave, Mrs. William L. McLean, Mrs. wal Tattersfield, Mrs. Phillips Jen-Mrs. Henry A. Nassan, Mr. and Samuel Castner, Jr., Mr. Edward undere, Mr. John Luther Long, Mr. and Mrs. Wassill Leps, Mr. and Mrs. Assistald De Koven, Mr. Charles F. bener, Mrs. Austin Stevens Hecksher and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. th; in other words, the Mayor and wife will also be there.

Mrs. Heckscher has done much for de society since she was made its dent and her unfalling interest has and much to its success financially well as musically.

Every day I hear more and more of derful time the younger set had the Stotesburys' dance on Wednesy night. As we have all heard, they of Maurice and Miss Walton on from York to give exhibition dancing the guests were simply delighted. applauded with such enthusiasm hat Maurice became very generous and unced that he would dance with of the girls present and proeded to announce the names out loud. as danced first with Isabel Page, and Margaret Berwind, Marguerite aperton and Hope Cromwell had their together with several others, tile Miss Walton was equally gracious dancing with the men, though somebow the men did not show up as well w did the girls in the exhibition. It ms pretty trying though, one must simit so it would not be fair to say abs dance better, the girls or men of delphia. Personally I think they are about evenly matched, and most of then pretty good at that.

Mith Baily will entertain tonight at a small dance and supper for her two ins, Frances Baily and Molly Baily, to their respective flances, Jee Keen Brewster Koons. Frances and y are not sisters, but first cousins. ces came out three seasons ago ad Molly two years past. The dance e given at Edith's house, Cloverly, re, and of course Frances' mother, in Harry Baily, and Molly's mother, Mrs. Coares, Edith's two sisters.

Harry Baily, and Molly's mother, er" to buy for them. All the newest, quaintest, prettlest and funniest things in toyland will be found at this toy shop at Mrs. Coares, Edith's two sisters. and Mrs. Coates, Edith's two sisters.

Molly Thayer, one of the very pretset of the past season's buds, will be given a dinner-dance this evening by incle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilen Sharpless, at their home in Chestnut Hill. Molly's mother was one of the Dixons, a sister of Mrs. Sharpless, Mrs. Arthur Newbold, Mrs. Linton Landreth, Mrs. Percy Keating, George Dallas ixon, A. J. Dallas Dixon, Tom Dixon and Mrs. Francis J. Alison. Besides all se aunts and uncles she has no fewer. than five brothers and she is not one Rt spoiled, just a sweet charming girl; and the best thing is that most persons salize how charming she is, and so has had a correspondingly good time this, her first year.

which had a notable and prolonged run' in this city about a score or so years ago with Eleanor Mayo in the title role, renewed its olden melodies, charms of lyrics and interest of sentiment in a capital re-vival last night in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford.

The beneficiary of the performance, which was successful from every point of view, was the Cape May Seaside Home. Mrs. William King, Miss Fannie de Silver and Mrs. R. A. Hunter were the committee in charge, and the production was under the efficient direction of Miss Estelle K. Hysinger. The performance was supple-mented by a group of fancy and novel dances. These included a unique arrangedances. These included a unique arrangement of Edouard Schuett's "La Dien Almee Valis," in which a bailet of half a score of skilfully trained vung ladies executed some graceful and clifficult figures. Their grace and advoitness were also given boular evidence in a special number set to the music of "La Cinquaintune". Sele decreas were contributed by Solo dances were contributed by Irene Hubbard, who was interesting and picturesque in interpretations of the Pavlowa Gavotte and Chopin selections.

Mr. Spenser's score has lost none its fine quality with the passing of the years. It is replete with tunes of real melody and musical distinction. The little operetta is in decided contrast to the operetta is in decided contract to the hodge-podge modern musical commedy or revue, as it has more than a thread of plot and dees not depend on specialties imported from vaudeville for its attractiveness. There is good music also of the choral variety, while the solos are delightful.

Elms Carey Johnson had the captivating titular role and the remaining members of the cast were Aunty Crab and Donna Pomposo, Rebekah Conway; Kitty Clöver, Mildred Love; Roy Sterling, Wilbur Her-Shrimps, Horace Hood; Tarpaulin Robert Martin: Admiral Pomposo, Ed-ward A.
