E. P. Passmore, Opening State Association Session, Scores Those Who Pretend They Want War to End

READJUSTMENT COMING

High Points of Address of Chief of State Bankers

The financial gain per capita of the United States during last year was $3.77, or from $34.74 to $38.51.

The country generally gained $374,340,000.

On account of uncertainty of continuance of prosperity we should be conservative and plan to meet readjustments after the war.

Many financiers are praying at night for the war to end and fearing during the day it will end too soon for us to carry out our contracts.

Rivalry among banks for business is increasing cost of deposits.

It has now been found that the Federal Reserve Bank is chiefly useful in times of panic and financial distress.

Frugality in living should be practiced by our rising generation.

More Than 3000 Attend Continuous Mass-Meeting and Hear Speakers Urge Them to Ask Wage Increase

MAY ADJUST TROUBLE

Union labor leaders who are directing the efforts of the Rapid Transit Company's motormen and conductors to obtain 10 cents an hour pay, with time-and-a-half time pay for overtime, abolition of "cutting in" and other working conditions, held a mass-meeting this afternoon at 232 North 9th street, headquarters of the local union.

Harry E. Flynn, president of the union, presided at the meeting. He was assisted by W. R. Fitzgerald, of Trenton, participated.

Flynn said the personnel of the committee which is to carry the demands of the motormen and conductors to the Rapid Transit Company, was discussed.

He denied reports that the real inspiration of the demands was the desire of the union to assert its strength by voicing the demands and, under cover of championing the motormen's cause, of "playing the union" for the benefit of the company.

"There is no frame-up," Flynn declared. "This is a straight-out fight. We are standing together."

Of the 2500 men operating the cars of the company, the union claims about 4000. The others are said to be generally satisfied with conditions, especially after the rate of increase of 15 per cent of the motormen, conductors and trainmen, who voted for our election at our respective depots, we desire to further express our appreciation of the fair and impartial treatment of all matters relating to discipline, working conditions, etc., both as individuals and as a committee, resulting in a general improvement of working conditions, the maximum rate of pay during this five-year period having been advanced from 23 to 31 cents per hour, the abolishing of the fixing of a satisfactory minimum pay of extra men of $12 per week of a minimum pay of $25 per day for men who lost their runs by the change of schedule, re-routing, etc., and particularly do we desire to express our appreciation of the fact that the management retained in its employ during the depression of business of 1914 and early 1915 all of the employees upon the depot lists, when other large railroads and corporations were laying off large numbers of men.

"It is the earnest desire of the men we represent that in view of the result of the past five years (much more than could have been anticipated) under the cooperative plan, this plan be continued and no interruptions be permitted.

MAKE DEMANDS IN FEW DAYS

The meeting of employees, which ended at 3:30 o'clock this morning, was held under the joint auspices of the Central Labor Union and the Street Railway Employees' Union in the United Trades Building, 232 North 9th street.

It was agreed to present the demands within a few days. These include a request for conductors' and motormen's pay to be increased from 31 to 40 cents an hour, time and a half for overtime, straight runs, adjustment of grievances by a committee of the union and allowance of time for union officers to perform their duty.

Harry E. Flynn, president of Division No. 477, of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees and Motormen of America, presided at the meeting, which was addressed by P. J. Shea, member of the National Executive Board; William E. Fitzgerald, vice president; and J. C. Maguire, business agent of the Taxi Drivers' Union.

"OPPOSITION" NOTICE

Other employees were not idle in the meantime. They obtained thousands of printed circulars, which are being distributed today by employees on car lines throughout the city, giving notice of an "opposition" meeting tonight at Mercantile Hall. The circular reads:

A general demand for a meeting of the motormen of this city is being made by the suspended members of Division No. 477. In order that all car-

BOYS HELD FOR TRICKS TO DERAIL TRAINS

Thirty-nine Arrested at Altoona for Tearing Up P. R. R. Tracks

ALTOONA, Pa., May 18.—Thirty-nine boys, ranging in ages from 12 to 20 years, were arrested today by County Detectives James Spangler and assistants, on charges of tearing up the Pennsylvania Railroad, stoning passenger coaches, locomotives and telegraph towers, and attempting to wreck Main Line trains.

Trackwalkers between Altoona and Pine Show Curve have found large bolts, nuts, fish plates and other things in switch frogs and crossovers, obviously placed there with criminal intent, and their vigilance has resulted in the serious wreck of the train.

The boys will be arraigned tomorrow.

HOTELMEN GIVE $2750 TO POOR RICHARDS

Substantial Boost for Convention of Advertising Clubs of the World

Philadelphia hotelmen expressed their opinion of the value to the city of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World by forwarding to the Poor Richard Committee a check for $2750.

J. Miller Frazier, manager of the Bellevue-Stratford, served as treasurer of the Philadelphia Hotel Association in raising the fund.

"We are mighty glad to give this money to help the Poor Richard Club finance the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World," said J. Miller Frazier.

"I attended the Chicago convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World last summer and I know how well that means to a city. Philadelphia can consider herself mighty lucky to get it, not only because the 16,000 visitors will spend money here, but because they will carry away with them good ideas about the city."

"Every man in Philadelphia who knows anything about advertising joins with Mayor Smith in the opinion that Philadelphia needs publicity in the other sections of the country. We can have all sorts of movements to boom the port and exploit the manufacturing potency of the city, but this one convention probably will yield an actual dollar of money, because the delegates, when they go back home, cannot fail to be impressed with the city. The ad. men's convention is undoubtedly the greatest organization that ever met in Philadelphia."

The hotel men's check boosts the convention fund to about $38,000. Rowe Stewart, chairman of the Convention Committee, estimates that $1000 more is required to stage the convention.

SENATE WILL CONFIRM BRANDEIS' NOMINATION, IS OPINION AT CAPITAL

No Personal or Political Objections to Lawyer Likely to Be Raised if Question Comes to Vote

NEW YORK, May 18.—Because the Senate Judiciary Committee has decided to vote next Wednesday on the question of reporting to the Senate the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the United States Supreme Court, speculation is rife as to whether this appointment is to be rejected, as was George Rublee, of New Hampshire who was authorized by the Federal Trade Commission by President Wilson, comparatively few close students of political events in Washington believe that Brandeis will be rejected, owing to two distinct differences between the Rublee and Brandeis cases.

In the Rublee case, Senator Gallinger objected to the confirmation on the ground that his nomination was personally objectionable to him, and that the rejection of a nomination on this ground, Senator Martine, of New Jersey, who on a previous occasion objected to the confirmation of a nominee in his State on that ground, was supported by Senator Gallinger, Senator O'Gorman, of New York, who supported similarly when the President made a nomination that displeased him. Gallinger in his fight, No Senator has objected to Brandeis on the ground that he is personally objectionable.

The second point in the Rublee case which does not exist in the Brandeis case is that of politics. Under the terms of the Federal Trade Commission law, the President was authorized to appoint the five members; provision being made that not more than three should be from one political party. The President provoked great criticism because he selected three Democrats and two Progressives, one of them being Rublee. Senator Gallinger contended that Brandeis was in reality a Democrat, making four members of that party, instead of the three authorized by law. As proof of his contention, he cited the fact that Brandeis, in his nomination, had Democratic nominees for the Senate as against Gallinger during the Senate's recent campaign for re-election.

There are comparatively few Senators, even among those opposed to the nomination of Brandeis, who believe he will fall out of the nomination. They realize that the only way he can be kept off the bench is by a filibuster against his nomination. It is possible that when the Judiciary Committee, which has been investigating the charges against Brandeis, votes on his nomination next Wednesday, it will decide to report it without any recommendation.

It is known that there are at least five Republican Senators, La Follette, of Wisconsin; Underhill, of Washington; Norris, of Nebraska; Clapp, of Minnesota; and Sterling, of South Dakota, who will vote for the confirmation of Brandeis. In order to bring his nomination under such conditions, 12 Democratic Senators would have to vote against the nomination.

LAWRENCE J. CASEY NAMED WILKES-BARRE POSTMASTER

President Wilson Sends Nomination to Senate

WASHINGTON, May 18.—After having assured Representative John J. Casey six weeks ago that his brother, Lawrence J. Casey, would be appointed postmaster at Wilkes-Barre, President Wilson today, following Casey's renomination and victory in the primaries, sent the nomination to the Senate.

In doing so the President was forced to withdraw his schoolboy friend, Dr. E. C. Mahoney, who is accused of insulting the flag. The nomination of Casey's brother was held up until after the primary election so as to force Casey to support Palmer for the Democratic National Committee. This move is generally credited to the influence of Palmer.

RUSH TO PAY TAXES

House Owners Seek to Avoid 5 Per Cent Penalty

Water rent payments so far this month amount to $389,000, making a total payment since opening the books for the year of $1,404,981, as compared with $1,619,000 received in the same period of 1915.

The total revenue derived by the city during the year 1915 was $5,045,000. The May rush to make payments to avoid the 5 per cent penalty which goes into effect next month started this week and officials expect the May receipts to total $2,000,000.

MIDDLE WEST 'ALLIES' CLAIM CONTROL OF CHICAGO CONVENTION

Plan Concerted Action View to Eliminating Hughes as a Candidate for Presidential Nomination

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A concerted political move conducted in Washington during the last few days has developed the "allies" of the Middle West, claiming control of the Chicago convention, a conservative group of banks, real estate men and other business interests. It is believed that the "allies" have a total of 255 that will decide the nomination of Hughes.

With this combination well under way, supporters of Hughes have become convinced that the time has come to try to turn Hughes leader in the field and to put a concerted action behind a definite organization. Despite the fact that the "allies" might repudiate any political leader who might set himself up as the "allies' campaign manager," they realize that the "allies" are numbering between 100 and 300, must have some concerted encouragement if they are to be of any use.

In this situation, now comes Frank H. Hitchcock, ex-Postmaster General, ex-Chief of the National Committee and former engineer of the steam engine that carried William Howard Taft to the nomination in 1908. Despite numerous evasive denials, Hitchcock has been conducting a campaign wide Hughes campaign, the "allies" of the Middle West continue their efforts. It is expected that Hitchcock will come out in the open, settle down with headquarters in Chicago, and begin a strenuous fight for the nomination of Hughes.

FIVE STRIKES IN CAMDEN

Ironworkers, Freight Handlers and Textile Employees Included in Disputes

Labor troubles brought on by five strikes confronted Camden manufacturers today. Four hundred riveters and erectors in the New York Shipbuilding Company struck today. Officials of the company say the walk-out would hamper operations in the plant. The men want higher pay, fringe benefits and a shorter work week.

Freight handlers in the Highland Worked Mill strike were tied up the streets of Camden. The strike follows a dispute between the company and grievances of the handlers.

Fifty-eight girls walked out of the Hays Company plant at 214 and 216 1/2 streets, because of a dispute over the heating system, and disputes over wages came walk-outs in the Highland Worked Mill. The girls are being housed at the Hays Hotel. E. J. Boyer, spinner.

AT BRUMBAUGH DELEGATES NAMED, HIS BACKERS ASSERT

All Bound by Pledges or in Writing, They Say

HARRISBURG, May 18.—In addition to making general claims that 41 out of the 76 delegates to the (Chicago) convention will vote for Brumbaugh and the nominees of the Governor that he believes in the right of majority control, the campaign headquarters of the Governor and the Governor would not so far as the details regarding the outcome of Tuesday's primaries.

At least six of the delegates-at-large pledged to Brumbaugh are said to be elected by the Republican Party, but they will give out no lists. It is said that these six are the Governor, Mayor Smith, Aaron, Alcorn, Kendrick and Showmaker.

Paul N. Furman, who is directing the gathering of returns in the Governor's behalf, said last night that the number of Brumbaugh votes up to tonight is 43, but he added that he was not ready to give out details regarding the vote upon which he bases this claim. The 21 counties from which Brumbaugh delegates are being received at headquarters, and which is contained have elected Brumbaugh delegates, are said to include parts of Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties and Lackawanna, Luzerne, Blair, Bradford, Chester, Clearfield, Clinton, Fulton, Juniata, Lycoming, Mercer, Susquehanna, Wayne and Westmoreland.

COMMITTEE ISSUES STATEMENT

The Brumbaugh Campaign Committee last night issued the following statement, supplementing that of yesterday's day:

At least 41 of the 76 delegates from Pennsylvania to the Republican National Convention chosen at the primaries election on Tuesday are pledged to Governor Brumbaugh. These delegates are bound to the Governor, not by specific pledges in writing or by personal promises of support.

Returns received up to tonight are incomplete, but it is the opinion of the committee for a reunited Republican party, however, that the number of delegates pledged to Brumbaugh will be increased by later and more complete returns.

At least 6 of the 12 delegates-at-large favorable to the Governor were elected. The returns show that 8 of the 12 district delegates in Philadelphia pledged to support the Governor were chosen, while 5 of the district delegates in Allegheny County will stand by him. Throughout the rest of the State 23 or more district delegates pledged to the Governor were chosen.

Lafayette and Scott, supported by the Brumbaugh faction, are said to have been nominated as Congressmen-at-large.

If the claim that the Governor has a majority of the delegates is borne out by an official count, the delegates pledged to the Chicago convention as a candidate for President. Just who will be selected to make the nomination speech is unknown, and the Governor is waiting until the result of the election is known. It has been suggested that Attorney General Brown may attend the convention as a proxy for the purpose of naming the Governor.

RETURNS LIKELY TO BE TOO LATE

If the County Commissioners of the State are as slow in making their returns as they were two years ago after the primaries and again last year, the State Committee comparatively late. It may be that the Secretary of the Commonwealth cannot certify the names of the delegates in time for the Republican National Convention. Two years ago, it was necessary for the State Committee to meet informally and postpone the time of the meetings, as the law provides that the State Committee shall meet three weeks after the primaries.

With the unusual interest in the present situation, however, it is believed that all the County Commissioners will be able to make every possible effort to get the returns totaled as early as possible. The count will start in all counties Friday.

ATLANTIC FLEET TO GET MAYO AS NEW ADMIRAL

Man Who Made Huerta Salute Old Glory to Succeed Fletcher

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today following a conference with President Wilson that Admiral Mayo will succeed Admiral Fletcher as commander of the Atlantic fleet. He would be succeeded, it was stated, by Vice Admiral of the Fleet Henry T. Mayo, who took the command of the fleet and that there was nothing unusual in the change. He said that later Admiral Mayo would be given an important shore assignment.

Admiral Mayo will be succeeded as vice admiral by Rear Admiral D. W. Coffman, at present commanding the seventh division of the Atlantic fleet.

Admiral Mayo's demand on the Mexican troops brought on the landing of marines at Vera Cruz. President Wilson backed up Admiral Mayo's order, sending the marines then President Huerta order the salute Huerta's soldiers had arrested some American marines who went ashore at Tampico, and it was for this reason that Admiral Mayo demanded that the Huerta soldiers salute the American flag.

TAKES POISON AS WIFE SLEEPS

Samuel Russell, West Philadelphia, Dies From Effect of Fifteen Tablets

Samuel Russell left his room in which his wife was sleeping in a house at 3510 Chester avenue early today and was absent for 10 minutes.

"Miss me good-by," he told his wife when he returned. He took 15 poison tablets, Mrs. Edith Russell, his wife, would not believe it at first. Russell left her out into the hall and picked up a glass from which he said he took the poison.

As he held the glass before her he weakened and fell to the floor. Mrs. Russell called for help and Policeman McMillan, of the 54th street and Woodland avenue station, summoned an ambulance to the University Hospital. He died a few hours later. The reason he took poison is a mystery. He had been dependent, however, on the fact that he had been in a hospital at Gibbstown, N. J., blew up, Russell said, on reading of the accident. "I wish I had been one of those fellows."

Peter's mother said he had been in the house for the idea of going home without the sugar brew kisser during the afternoon and he mentioned his return intention.

While he thought it over he was walking. Darkness fell about Peter as he was near 45th street and Woodland avenue. He ran into a vacant house and hid in a room. Workmen found him in the room. His parents were notified by police at the 45th street and Woodland avenue station.
