CONVENTION AT ARMORY

NEW YORK, May 28.—Twenty thousand wemen from all over the United States treoped gayly in and teek possession of the gaventh Regiment Armery this morning for the biennial national convention of the pederated Avomen's Clubs of America. From today to the second day of June the armory is given up to the biennial, which means that the Colonel's room this morning is in the possession of Mrs. Percy y Pennybacker, of Texas, national president, and that the messroom is not nearly large enough for the luncheon which will be served at noon and every day, but had to have joined with it the bandroom and the theory.

There are extra seats in Drill Hall for delegates, and all the gallery seats are in For 11 days this great block of the city, between Lexington and Park avenues, and 15th and 67th streets, belongs to the club-

A pitched battle between the Far West and the Middle West, for the presidency of the Federation was under way even before Mrs. Pennybacker whacked the gavel that brought more or less silence to the ranks of the women.

Even at this early date the contest has simmered down to two candidates who would succeed Mrs. Pennybacker. They are Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath, of Timn, O., now first vice president, and Mrs. jeeph Evans Cowles, of Los Angeles. Both Mrs. Cowls and Mrs. Sneath have nobilized their campaign forces with the arrawdness of a Tammany politician, and both the floor and galleries of the conrention at the opening hour were the scenes of as frenzied electioneering, jeckeying for josition, trading between delegations and the like as ever characterized a buzzfest of national politicians.

The New Jersey women entertained other delegates at a breakfast at the Essex Country Club at East Orange, N. J., today. The guests included members of the Federation beard, State presidents and members of the seneral beard. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison threw open their home. Park, N. J., fer an afternoon reception.

A meeting of chairmen was held today and in the evening the visitors will be enterained at a reception in the grand Central Palace.

PRESBYTERIANS DENY COMPROMISE IN NEW YORK HERESY DISPUTE

Continued from Page One the whole convention, if that were possible, than the New York Presbytery case, only it is a more technical problem and does not hold popular interest.

All the speaking to be done on the ques-tion hereafter will be from the floor. COMPROMISE RUMORED

A report was current today that a com-promise had been reached between the ex-treme factions figuring in the New York Presbytary controversy, and that the pro-posed compromise would be laid before the General Assembly today.

Doctor Stevenson, chairman of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, early this merning interrupted a session of his committee to inform newspaper men that no conclusion had been reached, and that it will hardly be possible to reach one before tomorrow or Thursday at the earliest.

fors tomorrow or Thursday at the earliestThe Rev. Dr. William C. Hogg. of Willlamsport, Pa., a member of the committee, said with all the earnestness he could command: "You may say emphatically that there is no compromise, nor will there be say. We are facing every question in a manily, honest way. The question demands a solution, not a compromise."

The New Yorkers, all clerical commissioners, it was stated, sought to give publicity to the idea that a sort of "50-50" compromise had been reached, the result of which would be that the New York Prenbytery would go unpunished and unreprimanded if "it promised to be good and not do it again." The informants said that the Rev. Dr. McKibben, of the Cincinnati Presbytery, the Rev. Dr. Masters, of the Fort Wayne Presbytery, and the Rev.
Dr. Mendelhall, moderator of the New York
Presbytery, had got together, and by sm-Presbytery, had got together, and by am-ployment of great tact and diplomacy succeeded in reaching a compremise.

DR. STEVENSON'S STATEMENT. This information was sent to Doctor Stevenson, and he personally wrote for publication the following:

I am authorized by the committee on bills and overtures to state that we have under consideration a paper which has been presented by certain parties concerned in the situation as it now stands in the New York Presbytery and am hopeful of reaching a satis-factory settlement, but have as yet ar-rived at me final conclusions and shall not be likely to do so until Wednesday or Thursday.

When the General Assembly convened to day. Chairman Stavenson appeared before it and, as he did yesterday, asked for fur-ther time to consider the New York case. It was granted.

In the New Yorker's story of compromise, the men mentioned were Doctor McKlibben and Doctor Masters, the spokesmen of the Freshyteries which presented the most drastic overtures against New York, and Doctor Mendenhall, chief adviser of the New York faction. None of these gentlemen would make a statement on the matter.

men would make a statement on the matter.

It looks as if the so-called "heresy affair" was still very much in the air. Apparently, the inspired stories which the New Yorkers sought to have printed would have helped the "cause" slong; now it is a question whether the effort will not be harmful. Only they have Dector Hogg's assurances that every problem is being tackled honestly and manfully. estly and manfully. Judge James Deal Andrews, of New York June James Deal Andrews, of New York, said today that a compromise or postponement would certainly be unacceptable to the New York Presbytery. The Washington overture, which proposes a committee of visitation and invitation, consisting of 11 members, to investigate the matter and report to the 1917 convention would not 'ease New York at all.

"We want this General Assembly to make up its mind what ought to be done," he said.

The General Assembly was still pleased today over the fun it had in electing Edward H. Warren, of the syned of Kentucky, to be permanent clerk. His election was obtained by the Rev. Charles W. Welch, paster of the Fark Avenue Church. New York, who so amused the convention in his nominating speech by relating the time-honered story of the vagrant negro who told the judge at his trial that he assumed he had been arrested for "fragrancy," that the election was a foregone conclusion. the election was a foregone conclusion. Patrick Francis Murphy, up to date couldn't have done better.

a large portion of the Union Theological Semipary property. New York, obtaining its $5,000,000 endowment by legal processes, and placing them in the hands of an entirely new board of trustees to whom shall be given the power to elect new officials and faculty are a few of the possibilities which loomed up in the 128th General Assembly today, as the result of an article from the pen of Judge Ralph 15. Prime, New York attorney. This would mean the creation of a new seminary.

This article attacks the Union Theological Seminary in no uncertain terms and gives a complete history of the controversy of the years and the alleged heresy of the York Presbytery and the Union Theolegical Seminary.

As the time draws near for the expected struggle on the floor of the General Assembly, which is expected by all commissioners, unless the 26 overtures relative to the New York situation are killed in the Bills and Overtures Committee, feeling is growing bitter, both among the conservatives and the radicals.

Whenever a group of commission are gather, a passer-by can invariably hear the "New York Presbytery, Union Theo-Seminary—hereay, Virgin Birth, three young men.'

The trouble at present is over the licens ing of three young men from the Union Theological Seminary, who, it is alleged, ad-mit they do not believe in the Virgin Birth and many of the other miracles of the JUDGE PRIME'S PLAN. The section of the article written by Judge Prime, which caused the new attitude on the creation of a new theological seminary to come into being, reads as fol-

"Perhaps then the remedy is through the Attorney General to deprive Union Seminary of title and possession of all the moneys and of the properties received, and to seek and obtain judgment in the courts for administration of the funds as near as possible according to the trust impressed. And as the seminary repudiates the compact and relation to our Church, the court would go on to the creation of new trustees, who will carry out the trust in administration of the property."

who will carry out the trust in adminis-tration of the property."
"In speaking of the possibility of winning the legal case for Union Saminary." Judge Prime said. "It is my belief that Union Seminary has no right to the property in- error somewhere."

"But with a great part of its property gone, it would in reality mean that only a shell would be left and its power and resources transferred to a new seminary, which would be under the direction of the Presbyterian church. The teachers of the new meninary would conform to the Presbyterian faith, just as Union Seminary instructors did in the olden days, when the property was given it." reparty was given it."

OVERTURE LOST.

A new phase of the controversy developed today when it became known that the overture of the Washington. D. C., Presbytery, written with the object of pouring oil on troubled waters, had been lost. This overture, which suggested the ap-This overture, which suggested the appointment of a committee of ministers and elders to investigate the situation and report back to the General Assembly next year, would likely have solved the problem. It was mailed from Washington on May 9, according to Dr. T. Davis Richards of Germantown, Md., who says he is at a loss to know where it can be.

He did not say so in so many words, but he hinted that it might be possible "there's a reason that it is lost."

"This is the situation in Washington Presbytery." he said in discussing the overture. "One of the three young students who, it is alleged, denied certain truths of the Bible, affirmation of which is required. who, it is alleged, denied certain truths of the Bible, affirmation of which is required by our Church, has been called to the Sixth Presbyterian Church, Washington. Now we Presbyterians do not want to have a man of that kind in our Presbytery if we can help it. We want to let the General Assembly know how we stand. The over-tures must be handed in two days after the General Assembly convenes. I thought it had been received, and now I find it has

LINE OF PRESBYTERIAN STUDENTS WOULD EQUAL BOARDWALK LENGTH

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. May 23.—The young Presbyterians in the colleges of the United States would reach the length of the Boardwalk—seven miles — standing shoulder to shoulder nine deep, with a length of two and a half miles in the centre two deep, according to figures given today at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in 138th annual session here. The Re: Thomas R. White, University pastor, Bloomington, Ind., stands sponsor for the figures.

Dr. Andrew Doremus, of Jaginaw, Mich. Dr. Andrew Doremus, of Jaginaw, Mich, in appealing for student pastors in church colleges, as well as State University Committees, declared he saw more drunkenness fifty years ago in college, his alma mater, a church school not far from Atjantic City, than he had ever seen in his whole life before. He said he heard it was even worse at Princeton at that time.
