That Sir Roger Casement held the view Ireland could not be independent and have home rule until England was overthrown by a stronger European Power, was brought suit today, when Capitain S. R. White, D. S. C., was arraigned in court at Aberdare, charged with offenses under the defense of the realm act. the realm act

Captain White, son of the late Sir George White, a field marshal in the British army was found guilty and sentenced to three months.

Sensational statements relative to White's connection with the Irish revolutionists were made in court. Unusual interest was attached to the case by reason of the prominence of the prisoner.

White had a good army record, it wa and, but during the last year or so his activities brought him into close associaon with James Larkin, the Irish labe leader, who is now in the United States Sir Roger Casement, the Countess Markie wicz, James Connolly, Joseph Plunkett, J. Skeffington, the Irish editor, who was shot without court-martial, and others.

There was a difference of opinion between Captain White and Sir Roger, it was said, as to the best means of bringing about home rule for Ireland.

Counsel for the Government stated that White had gone into South Wales with the object of inducing coal miners to strike in order to compel the Government to show lealency toward the leaders of the Irish revolutions.

White's counsel declared that the real dect of the defendant's visit to South Waled was to enlighten the people regarding the real meaning of the Sinn Fein move-

Service-an Additional Reason

Two-Ton Worm Drive Trucks $1990

WHILE you have a great big reason for buying a Dorris truck in the service we can and do give to owners, we do not want to lay such stress on it that you will overlook the Dorris truck itself.

There's the main item-Dorris quality. You know what the Dorris pleasure car stands for in mechanical perfection and thoroughness of build. Keep this before you when you think of the Dorris truck-it is built in the same factory and up to exactly the same high ideals. That's why the Dorris truck stands up-pulls its load, whatever the road-lasts.

But accidents will happen - no fault of the truck but smash-ups, etc. Then the item of service looms up big. Lay-ups are costly-our service station cuts lay-up time down to the minimum.

Thoroughness of repair work is as essential to truck life and economy of operationas is thoroughness of build. You are assured of both when you buy a Dorris.
