will hold a large lawn fete at "Ingeborg," he beautiful country home of Mrs. Willsimpson, Jr., at Overbrook, on Satarday afternoon, June 17, at 3:30 o'clock. he affair will be given for the benefit of the Vacation House of the Institutions Penllyn, which was started and has many times been aided since by the moughtful kindness of that sweet and arming woman, Mrs. Henry Edward An attractive dinner-dance will take place at the Huntingion Valley Country Club tonight, following an invitation tennis tournament in the afternion. Among those who will be present are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Balley, Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buck, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Geiger, Dr. and Mrs. Albert P. Francine and Baron and Baroneas Fritz von Hiller. There will be a dinner-dance on Tuesday, May 20, as a fitting close to the invitation tournament. The girls of the two associa mayton. tens will themselves dance various folk sinces in the midst of the wonderful rounds of "Ingeborg," a treat which many of us will want to take advantage Mrs. John Malcolm Shelmire at the dauarters of the Association, at 1800 a street, is in charge of the whole

any of us who have been going about s bit lately to some of the many dances and suppers which are given so frequently about town have been watching a certain of ostriches, who are oblivious to ne fact that most of us know their little mance and won't be a bit surprised they finally make up their minda ts let us into the secret, too. He is very sandsome, rather dark and well built, shile the little lady is quite petite and tair, and, though not very beautiful, exenally attractive. I wonder why they haven't told us? Perhaps he fs a hit shy about telling her himself what every one can see. Here's to hoping he will not delay longer, for there's many a slip, you know.

Great things happened in the National Service Camp on Thursday afternoon down at Chevy Chase. Every one who nold secure leave pelted over to the sarby Country Club on one mad rush or the tubs. Splashes and scrubbings could be heard on all sides, for some of the poor dears had not had a tub bath for 1 days. After that, my Rookie friend tells me, "You should have seen the hot olate, muffins, toast and jam disapunr." It is a droll thing, but they say hey can always spot those who have been er leave at supper that night, for boiled tatoes, apples and sausages are not my appetizing after goodies, and you an guess the rest.

There have been great goings on in ome of the tents. In one last week a redding took place, with Mrs. Hume, of Washington, as the bride and Miss Willey. Baltimore, as the bridegroom. A piece e mosquito netting did service as a veil, and other members of the camp were mhers, maids of honor, bridesmaids and very other kind of attendant.

One of our own Philadelphia girls had s long-distance phone call from "Paul" hree days ago, and everybody in her tent was racing about trying to discover what his last name was. Then yesterday a huge bunch of flowers came to another. and at least 25 rookies were aiding this lar person" to write her "thankpu" letter.

Great excitement was caused in the camp on Thursday because no one was. allowed to read one of the New York papers; cause why; some one had given away the secret that measles had broken into chmp and it had gotten into the New York papers, and Miss Poe had bought in all the copies. I guess they feared a

SECOND DAY OF FETE TO OPEN AT MERION-YESTERDAY SUCCESSFUL

Scores of Gaily Gowned Folk Attend All-day Fete Given at Merion Convent for the Benefit of the New Mercy Hospital

WiTH deep blue sky above and every leaf and twig green and bright after Thursday's storm, the beautiful grounds of the Merion convent presented a wonderful sight yesterday. The Fete Champetre, which will continue all day tomorrow, was in full swing. Cheery crowds of visitors, mingling with white-clud nides, lent a festive air to the whole place, which looked like a real day in June. And the building fund of the Mater Misericordiae Hospital grew tour by hour, Winding around the shaded trees, Main Line youngsters could be seen all morning and afternoon busily taking little people around the grounds for a pony ride—and off in a corner Miss Roberta Browning and Miss Charlotte Mulcey sat in a tent and read palms.

In fact, the management of the fete under the enthusiastic leadership of Mrs. A. Nash Burke, had planned almost everything that any one ever heard of for the amuse-ment of the visitors. And in the large ment of the visitors. And in the large school auditorium, opening from the gar-den, movie reels were shown afternoon and evening. And then of course the wonder-ful array of booths, gaily topped with can-oples and decorated most artistically, at-tracted no end of attention.

In fact it would indeed be difficult to escribe each one of all the many varied nooths.

At the fancy booth, where Mrs. Blank and her assistants held sway, the buyer was quite bewildered with the display of artiles, from lady string winders-formed o Cles, from lady string winders—formed of little maidens around which a ball of twine was fastened, to handsome candlesticks and automobile luncheon cases. And at the flower booth, so gaily decorated with little birds and such very novel flower things, in-cluding a tiny "gondola" drawn by two swans and filled with flowers and a white-clad baby. Mrs. Harry C. Schmilt deserves clad baby. Mrs. Harry C. Schmitt deserves much praise for this artistic booth.

And at the baby booth Mrs. Charles E. Hallet and her fair assistants were having a lovely time with their display of exquisite baby articles.

The market-day booth, in charge of Mrs. M. J. McMenamin and Mrs. Frank A. Hookey, was installed on the porch, and looked exactly like a veritable market house. Gay little country girls, dressed in white and wearing pink and white striped aprons, weighed chicken, sold vegetables and count-ed eggs with all the skill of real old-time narket lassles.

And at the animal table were teddies with electrically "lit" eyes; and long-haired dogs teld sway. A real live little black kitten in a tiny basket attracted no end of attention. Mrs. T. H. Cullinan and her aides were busy all day. In the doll world everything children love was arranged with real evergreen trees decorated with yellow grab bags that looked like oranges on a wrong tree. And, of course, the garden cafe was busy rom morning until night. The members of the Tigris Outing Club, of Kirkwood, N. J., held their annual meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. Sydney Goldberg. The officers who were elected are: Mr. Samuel Schuster, president; Mr. Cyrus Rand, vice president; Mr. Maurice Peppelman, secretary; Mr. Nathan Schulman, treasurer. A. I. DU PONT FOR ROOSEVELT

A. I. DU FUNT FOR ROUSEVELT WILMINGTON, Del, May 27.—Alfred I. du Pont, one of fine six desegates from this State to the Republican National Conven-tion, has announced that he will vote for the nomination of Colonel Rousevelt despite the instructions to support T. Coloman da Pont. The latter controlled the State con-vention, but the instructions were given in such a bungling manner that Alfred I du Pont easily found an excuse for bolding his relative. It is not unlikely that other dele-gates will follow. BY STAND OF SISTERS Suffragist and "Anti" Leader Precipirates will fol years. Prominent Philadelphians and other American travelers who have visited the plcturesque "City of Flowers." where sho made her home for decades after her mar-riage to Alexander, the famous artist of Florence, will recall the salon of Mrs. Alex-ander as the gathering place of the celeb-rities of the day. It was attended contin-uously by many noted Europeans, perhaps foremost of whom was John Ruskin. Mrs. Alexander was the daughter of the Mrs. Alexander was the daughter of the
