NANCY WYNNE TALKS AT LENGTH ABOUT THE COMING FETE DES FLEURS

Preparations for Big Two Day Affair Go on Apace-Unusual Features Will Attract Many to Beautiful Show Place on Main Line

Sinnott.

EVERY one is becoming very much in-terested in the Fete des Fleurs, which will be given out at the George Fales Bakers on Friday and Saturday of next week. Mrs. Stewart Wurts is in charge of the affair.

One of the big features will be a country fair. In which everything imaginable will be sold, and in which, also, will be a series of amusements so that there will be "something doing" every minute.

One of the departments of the country fair will be devoted to children, and they will be entertained with pony rides and other attractions. Toys and games will be used and sold, and many novelties are on the youngsters. Mrs. G. Hamilton Colket is chairman of the children's department, and has used some ideas obtained in Vienna as part of the entertainment planned for the youngsters.

Two departments of the affair will be very interesting. The bazaar itself will be decorated in a manner which, as yet, has not been seen in this city. Each booth will be built to resemble the article which is its chief attraction. For instance, the hat booth will be built to look like a bandbox. Every other booth will follow the same general idea, and the whole will harmonize into a beautiful picture. Mrs. Eli Kirk Price is chairman of the Decoration Committee, and Miss Dorothy Stewart is in charge of the work.

One of the features of the fete will be a "just plain dog" show. Miss Mary Wurts, daughter of the general chairman, will have a gipsy cart, from which she and Rachel Fitler, Aimee Hutchinson, Helen Ellis and Margot Scull will sell tinware and other household articles. Miss Ellis and Miss Scull will sing folk songs as the cart passes along, and a quartet of mem- afterno bers of the Glee Club of the University of Pennsylvania will sing in costume. The by J. B. Stevens on the banjo.

Mrs. George G. Ross will head the tea tables, and will be assisted by Carolyn Valentine, Elsie Hirst, Mary Fahnestock, Mildred Longstreth, Nancy Dunning, Margaret Spencer, Jane Yeatman, Elise Klapp, Caroline Brown, Elizabeth Ross, Frances Ross, Elizabeth Taylor, Logan Starr, Sarah Thomas, Evelyn Plummer, Nancy Zimmerman and Mary Kennedy.

Mrs. William Ellis Scull's aides will include Rosalie Dolan, Aimee Hutchinson, Margot Scull, Helen Ellis, Sydney Ellis, Eugenia Cassatt, Eugenia Law, Maisie Graham, Jean Thompson, Isabel Page, Charlotte Brown, Emily Philler and Harriet Gevelin.

One of the departments of the bazaar also will be a cabaret supper, with tables surrounding the dancing pavilion. The supper tickets can be obtained from Mrs. George Stare, Devon; Mrs. Edgar Baird, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. J. H. Harris, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Churchill Williams, Germantown; Mary Mitchell and Harriet Frazier, of Jenkintown. Miss Mitchell and Miss Frazier have been active in arranging the cabaret features.

Another department will be devoted to gardening and other activities having to do with the soil. There will be contests in vegetables and other articles and prizes will be awarded. Eleanor B. Hopkins is in charge of the garden department. Mrs. Charles Custis Harrison, Jr., is helping by obtaining entries on the Main Line and Miss Elizabeth Henry is perfor the same service in Germantown, Chestnut Hill and Penllyn.

Dorothy Disston will be in charge of a booth of painted flowerpots. Mrs. Joseph Woolston will assist by taking charge of the booth of fancy articles for the garden. Miss Mary S. Montgomery will sell garden smocks and Eulalie Willcox will have garden tools and baskets. The dog show is in charge of Mrs. Benjamin Coates and Mrs. George Clymer Brooke.

Henry Rittenburg and two of his artist friends are going to supply one of the most attractive departments of the entire fete. They have promised to attend and paint hats. It will be worth something to have a hand-painted hat from one of the artists, all of whom are well known in artistic circles in this city.

The committee in charge of the entire affair consists of members of the boards of managers of the two institutions which are to benefit. Elaborate care has been taken in laying the plans, and the result should be one of the most successful events of the kind in this vicinity. NANCY WYNNE.
