ROOSEVELT "BOGEY MAN"

Candidates Cling to Moldering Chances and "Night Was Dark and Dreary"

By SAMUEL G. BLYTHE (Copyright, 1916, by the Central Press Association.)

CHICAGO, June 8.—The Republican Platform Committee last night fought bitterly over the results that are expected to bring peace and harmony to a sadly jangled party.

The strategists extolled their own strategies and depreciated the activities of all others except the Hughes men, who were jubilant in a decorous and dignified manner, as befitted the austerity of their candidate.

It rained and the press agents were very, very weary. The candidates clung to their moldering polls and the night was dark and dreary.

The versatility of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt are so many that the mere catalogue of them would take up more space than the column of a newspaper.

They are doing it because they are scared, frightened over the possibility of a Roosevelt nomination.

Nothing further to try. There is talk here and there this morning that the Old Guard may pluck up enough courage to try to make a bid for a combination on some other, but the talk does not amount to much.

They do not know whether the Colonel will endorse Hughes or not; they are afraid he will not; they are afraid the Progressive convention will nominate Roosevelt, and this fear is well grounded.

G. F. TAFT DENIES REPORT HE IS SUPPORTING HUGHES

CINCINNATI, June 8.—Charles F. Taft, publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, whose millions were used in the campaign of his brother, William Howard Taft, states today that he is not supporting Mr. Hughes for President.

LEADERS ADMIT PEACE OUTLOOK GIVES NO HOPE

Two Conventions Heading Toward Break—Hold Harmony Conference Today

PENROSE ON COMMITTEE

Hughes Looks Like Republican Winner—Bull Moose May Name Governor Johnson

By EDMUND C. TAYLOR Evening Ledger Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 8.—Another split between the Progressive and the Old Guard Republicans is inevitable. The two conventions are heading toward another break that, while it will probably not equal that of four years ago in bitterness of feeling, will divide the two elements and strengthen the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson.

Leaders of both parties frankly admit that they see no way out of the dilemma that is confronting them in their efforts to bring about harmony.

Frantic last-hour efforts are being made today to save the convention and to make peace imminent at the Progressive convention yesterday following the action taken by the Pennsylvania Progressives at their caucus Tuesday night.

A conference of the leaders of both parties has been arranged for late this afternoon. The result of this conference will show whether or not there is any chance of harmony.

PLAN TO GET TOGETHER

Senator Penrose, Senator Smoot, William Barnes, of New York, and Theodore Burton, of Ohio, will be among the leaders who will look after the affairs of the Old Guard Republicans at the conference.

The wisecracks and political leaders, who have gathered in my restaurant, predict today that if Roosevelt is not nominated by the Republicans he will not accept a nomination from the Progressives.

No matter what Perkins and the other Roosevelt-Progressive leaders decide, they have decided since Perkins has been unable to stifle the strongly Roosevelt sentiment in the Progressive Convention, and force the Bull Moose to wait until after the Republican election before they make any nominations.

It looks like Hughes will be the Republican nominee. If he is nominated by the Republicans there will be three tickets in the field. Hughes will be at the head of one, Johnson the second, and Wilson the third.

Senator Penrose, while he was at the apartments of Perkins in the Blackstone Hotel, accompanied by Senator Lodge, served notice upon Roosevelt over the long distance telephone to Oyster Bay yesterday that the Republicans will not give the Colonel the nomination.

A report reached Chicago soon afterwards that Roosevelt had left Oyster Bay and given up his $9 a minute telephone and was on his way to Chicago to break into the two conventions. This could not be verified.

No matter what action is taken by the Republicans, however, outside of the actual nomination of Roosevelt, a majority of the Progressives, led by William Flynn, of Pittsburgh, and the entire Pennsylvania delegation, will "bolt" and will place their own nominee in the field against both Wilson and the nominee of the Republicans.

Senator Penrose has made it plain that the Old Guard Republicans are unalterably opposed to the nomination of Roosevelt. He pointed to Roosevelt's utterances against the German to support the attitude of himself and his associates.

WOMEN URGE EQUAL SUFFRAGE AT CHICAGO CONVENTION

Harmony Committee Holds Key to Peace Possibilities

CHICAGO, June 8.—A joint harmony committee, agreed upon by the leaders of both party conventions, will confer on the possibility of a peaceful solution of the political tangle in which Republicans and Progressive find themselves.

Leaders of both parties frankly admit that they see no way out of the dilemma that is confronting them in their efforts to bring about harmony.

"EVERYBODY TRUE TO ONE FLAG," SAYS PLATFORM OF THE REPUBLICANS

Larger navy that will protect America's interests anywhere throughout the world. A standing army sufficiently large to protect our borders, but in case of war to form a strong nucleus for national defense.

G. O. P. PLATFORM FOR AMERICANISM AND LARGER NAVY

Declares for Both Military and Industrial Preparedness by U. S.

TILTS OVER SOME PLANKS

By ROBERT J. BENDER CHICAGO, June 8.—The Republican platform to be adopted by the National Convention, in addition to taking a strong stand for out-and-out Americanism, will declare for a navy which will fear no other power in the world and for a standing army of sufficient size to form the nucleus of an effective mobile force in case of war.

It has been learned on highest authority that the principal planks of the platform are substantially as follows: Preparedness. The platform declares for both military and industrial preparedness; a larger navy that will be able to protect America's interests anywhere throughout the world and a standing army of sufficient size to form the nucleus of an effective mobile force in case of war.

Americianism. The Republican party in 1861 stood against secession, now stands for united people true to American ideals, one in thought, one in action, one in loyalty, one in aspiration. Everybody true to one flag and to one faith in America.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA LOSES VOTE IN CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 8.—Three congressional delegations from the District of Columbia denied seats in the Republican convention by the National Committee last week, and the District will be without representation in the convention. The decision of the National Committee was sustained by a vote of 23 to 20.

The District of Columbia cases were a last of a list involving 34 seats contested. Decisions of the National Committee were sustained by a vote of 23 to 20.

Georgia retains five Hughes delegates as a delegation of 17. The committee was organized with the election of Senator Reed Smoot over W. H. Morgan, of Kansas, as chairman, and it met in session about seven hours. As a result of the hearing there will be 97 votes in the convention. Hawaii, the Philippines and Porto Rico were granted votes, but Porto Rico did not send a delegation.

HUMAN INTEREST FEATURES AND ODD INCIDENTS OF BIG CONVENTIONS

Glimpses of the Men and Methods That Are Holding Centre of Stage in Coliseum and Auditorium

CHICAGO, June 8.—Official Parliamentarian William S. Bennett, of the Republican convention, has a fine job. He and his strappers worked far into the early hours of Wednesday morning and far into the hours of this morning typewriting everything the chairman of the convention had to say and the replies of the delegates he was to say it to.

Hundreds of women went wild at the Progressive Convention's first session, when President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor made his plea for a child labor and eight-hour day law and votes for women. The women stamped and yelled, waving umbrellas and would not be quiet until they had whooped themselves out.

The famous suffrage bell of the Pennsylvania women, a replica of the Liberty Bell, which has toured the entire country several times and is not to be rung until Pennsylvania votes for suffrage, is rolling silently around Chicago on a truck.

A favorite trick of bass drummers in Chicago convention bands is to mount their boom-booms on baby carriages and wheek them while they trundle them along.

Dancing girls in the cabarets are aiding T. R. with a campaign song. New Mexico has the biggest percentage of United States Senators and the biggest percentage of millionaires. In its membership of six are two Senators—Thomas B. Catron and Albert B. Fall, both millionaires.

Lewis P. Shackelford, Republican delegate of Juneau, Alaska, speaks of San Francisco as back east, and W. A. Gilmore, of Nome, Alaska, who lives 1000 miles or so northwest of Juneau, thinks the southern representation—such as farthest south Juneau has—ought to be cut down.

Political betting lagged so much today at the Bellevue-Stratford and most of the large hotels that it could not be found with a microscope. In the lobbies and stock-broking offices betting was extremely noticeable by the lack of it.

POLITICAL BETTORS SCARED OFF BY DOUBTFUL SITUATION

Keep Under Cover—Roosevelt Adherents Willing to Bet Even Money. Political betting lagged so much today at the Bellevue-Stratford and most of the large hotels that it could not be found with a microscope.

The explanation of those who say they know is that the uncertainty of the situation has scared the bettors off. They say there is a noticeable lack of "sure tips," and everybody seems up in the air. Then, too, it is said that the few Hughes backers want 2 to 1 and the Roosevelt adherents are willing only to bet even money, so there is difficulty in their getting together.

"You see, most of the wealthy men who are interested enough in the convention to risk their 'kale' are in Chicago," said a well-known man at the Bellevue, who is in touch with local politics. "Those who come here to get reports and talk over the situation see that there is such uncertainty in the election of the Republican ticket that they pick up in a day or so, when the interest gets to the fever-heat point all over the country—that is if it does."

CITY TREASURY RECEIPTS $3,835,505.53

The receipts of the Department of Receiver of Taxes, during the month of May, according to the statement of Receiver of Taxes W. Freeland Kendrick, amounted to $3,835,505.53. Of this sum, $2,896,901.68 was paid on account of water rents, $465,140.85 on city taxes, $129,640.75 on school taxes for the current year, and $129,547.64 for delinquent taxes.

FAVORITE SONS FILLED WITH ABUNDANT HOPE OF WINNING THE PRIZE

Allies Take Heart Under Impression That Hughes and Roosevelt Are Impossible Contenders. ROOMS GROW OVERNIGHT. By C. D. GROAT

CHICAGO, June 8.—The liveliest Republican spot in Chicago was along favorite son row. Firm belief was expressed that a compromise candidate must eventually be chosen by the convention and the stock of every favorite son candidate was boosted over night after renewed conferences among the campaign managers.

Fairbanks' managers are today making their final drive for delegates. With Harry S. New and Jim Watson, Indiana's two Republican candidates for the Senate, heading the van, this is one argument that is being used: Republican control for the next four years depends upon much more than the election of a Republican President.

Burton boomers today declared the Ohio candidate to be in a better position than at any time in the last several weeks. Little evidence is shown of increasing Cummins' strength, but the Iowa delegation is apparently well satisfied.

All favorite-son managers are convinced the Hughes boom has been stopped and that Roosevelt cannot be named. "There is nothing to it but a 'horse race' now," Congressman McKinley, Sherman's campaign manager, told his followers.

The Sherman crowd immediately jumped up with a couple of bands, literature and enthusiasm. Until late at night the Fairbanks band also blared away, rocking the Congress with "On the Banks of the Wabash."

The feeling prevailed in the camp of the Allies that Hughes has reached his limit. It is also contended that the Old Guard has offered T. R. all it can—the opportunity to name a man other than himself—and that his refusal will increase the tension to the point where it will be any one's race.

Mexico

Criticism of the present Administration's handling of the Mexican situation, characterized by war and meddling and declares for a policy that will protect American life and property at all times.

Tariff

American industries should be protected by tariff duties that are "reasonable in amount" which is defined to mean that the duty should equalize the differences between the wages in Europe and wages in America, at the same time preventing "undue exaction by monopolies and powerful industrial combinations."

The tariff plank characterizes the Underwood law as a complete failure which has not reduced the cost of living, but which has forced the Government to resort to "odious war taxes which threaten peace." Its repeal is demanded in strong terms. The party goes on record again in favor of a tariff commission.

Immigration

Immigration will increase enormously at the close of the present European war and therefore for the proper protection of American labor there should be a literacy test applied to all who seek to enter the country, the platform will declare. Exclusion should apply to all "who cannot read in some language."

Labor

The party pledges itself to the enactment of a child-labor law which will protect American children against under-age working, long hours and unhealthy conditions.

Merchant Marine

The party will stand for the payment of "liberal compensation to mail-carrying ships engaged in ocean trade." These ships should be such as could be requisitioned by the Government in time of war. The platform strongly opposes Government ownership of vessels.

Foreign Relations

"The Republican party greatly desires peace." It believes in a strict and honest neutrality as between the warring nations in Europe. However, it will "insist on all our rights as neutrals without fear or favor." President Wilson's foreign policy is characterized as one of "phrase-making performances in language changing attitude" and it is declared that he "has destroyed our influence abroad and has humiliated us in our own eyes."

Protection of the Country

The party is committed to a complete and thorough national defense and a literacy pledge "to protect every American citizen in all his rights on land and sea."

Business

The strict regulation of transportation and consolidated corporations of the country. Safety First. Declares for legislation to make safer the working conditions of persons engaged in various industries.

WILL SUBMIT TENTATIVE DRAFT

Despairing of reaching a complete agreement, the Subcommittee on Platform after an all-night session, early today agreed to abandon efforts to frame a complete platform and to submit a tentative draft to the full Committee on Resolutions.

While members of the Platform Committee declined to say what matters were in disagreement and adopted a resolution pledging themselves to secrecy, it was understood that the plank in disagreement included the much-disputed Americanism plank, complicated by the "hyphenated" issue and the proposed declaration of a Mexican policy.

"The subcommittee has completed its work," said Senator Borah, of Idaho, when the meeting adjourned.

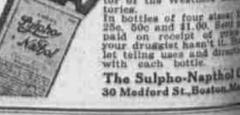

Keeps cuts and wounds from becoming dangerous

In the past, thousands of people have become dangerously ill and even died through not using an antiseptic as soon as hurt. Don't take chances, fight disease as it do in hospitals. One invisible germ in an open wound may result in a disease.

As soon after the mishap as possible, clean the wound with a solution of one teaspoonful of Sulpho-Naphol to a quart of water. Then cover with a dry bandage. This will relieve the pain, retain the heat, blood, prevent germ infection and quick healing.

Wonderful for burns

For burns use a teaspoonful of Sulpho-Naphol to a quart of water. Apply gauze cotton or soft linen soaked in this solution. It relieves the terrible pain, and keeps the blisters from forming. Today, get a tin of Sulpho-Naphol.

What about your feet?

WHY not give your feet the same consideration you give the rest of your body? If you did you would save yourself much pain and enjoy the healthful exercise of walking.
