Aronimik Veteran Eliminates Woodbury Player at 18th Hole

The first and second rounds of match play in the first spring golf tournament of the Lu Lu Temple Country Club at Edge Hill yesterday resulted in a number of one-sided matches and several thrills.

The most interesting match of the day occurred when Edward Clarey, the Woodbury youngster, and Walter Reynolds, the Aronimik veteran, were drawn together in a struggle that did not end until the last putt was made on the eighteenth green.

Coming in, Clarey increased his gain and won three holes, making him 1 up at the 15th. The short 16th was fatal to the Woodbury man, his ball finding the quarry.

Dr. R. L. Nell was the only Lu Lu man to advance beyond the first round of match play in the first 16. His win over C. P. Major, of Old York Road, gave him a chance at "Herb" Newton.

PHILADELPHIANS WIN GOLF MATCH

Boston Women Beaten on Links for the Famous Griscom Cup

MANCHESTER, Mass., June 10. The Philadelphia and Boston women golfers played in a deluge of rain at the Essex County Club yesterday in the second match for the Griscom Cup.

The Philadelphia team established an overwhelming lead early in the day, the first returns being completely in its favor. In fact, the Philadelphians took seven out of the first nine matches, and it was not until well into the morning that Miss Dorothy Crosby, of the home team, returned Boston's first winning card, the margin of her victory over Mrs. G. H. Stetson being 3 and 2.

Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow set a splendid example for her Philadelphia teammates by her 5 and 3 triumph over Miss Fanny Osgood. Mrs. Barlow playing really good golf, she was quite confident that she would topped her first six drives and, although she improved after that, Mrs. Barlow's lead of 6 up at the eighth hole was one that the Boston representative could not overcome.

NARBERTH RACES ON MONDAY

Heavy Track at Belmont Causes Second Postponement

The fifth annual Narberth sweepstakes, scheduled to be held last Wednesday, but postponed until this afternoon, again has had the date advanced, the heavy course at Belmont forcing the management to name Monday as the day for the holding of the big race.

QUICK STROKE BY GOLFERS DENOTES ABILITY ON LINKS

By GRANTLAND RICE

DID you ever notice, around a golf course, that the best golfers took but little time to make a stroke? You can see them over every shot, while the average player takes some time to make a stroke.

There are very few first-class golfers who play slowly. There are very few first-class golfers who play a two-ball match who take longer than two hours to travel around the 18 holes.

MRS. RAYMOND VS. ELEANORA SEARS IN TENNIS FINAL

Miss Evelyn Sears and Miss White Defeated in Semi-finals at St. Martin's

PLAY THIS AFTERNOON

ST. MARTIN'S, Pa., June 10.—Mrs. Edward Raymond, West Side Tennis Club, New York, and Miss Eleanora Sears, Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, are scheduled in the final round of the women's national tennis championship here this afternoon by virtue of victories over Miss Evelyn Sears, of the Longwood Cricket Club, and Miss Susanna White, of Baltimore, respectively, this morning.

The match between Miss Eleanora Sears and Miss Susanna White was most interesting, and yet in this there never was any doubt about the result. Miss Sears, 6-2, 6-3. The condition of the court suited Miss Sears much better than Miss White, the chop stroke of the Bostoner proving very effective all through the match.

Miss Sears played much the better game at the start and won the first three games easily. Miss White scoring two points in the first set, none in the second and one in the third. Miss White showed decided improvement in the fourth game and allowed her opponent only one point, but in the fifth game she was again in the lead and Miss Sears led by four games to one.

Miss White made short work of the seventh game and won it to love, and she won the eighth and the set after deuce had been called. Deuce was called four times in the first game of the second set before Miss White won. Miss Sears quite outplayed her opponent in the next three games and won them easily, but in the fourth game Miss White won the fifth, with her opponent serving after deuce had been called.

Having the service, Miss White had a chance to tie up the score, but after 30 all had been called Miss Sears won the next two games and the set. After this there never was any doubt about the result, and the match was over in the second set, 6-3, and the match.

Point summary: Mrs. Raymond vs. Miss Evelyn Sears: FIRST SET. Mrs. Raymond... 4 2 2 2 4 4-25-6. Miss Evelyn Sears... 2 2 2 2 2 2-15-2.

SECOND SET. Mrs. Raymond... 4 2 2 2 4 4-25-6. Miss Evelyn Sears... 2 2 2 2 2 2-15-2.

Having tied with a net score of 70 each in the second set, the match was drawn 7-7. The match was drawn 7-7. The match was drawn 7-7.

"FORE," THE WARNING CRY

If you should happen to walk over the golf course of any of the 21 Philadelphia golf clubs on a Saturday afternoon your ears will be greeted by a warning cry.

On most of the score cards supplied by the golf clubs is the sentence "Replace divots." A divot is a bit of turf cut by the club in making a stroke.

There is a warning cry to watch for in the line of the course and in the entire course is badly marred and scarred. If the turf is replaced and stamped upon in a few days the grass is growing again and a new day has begun.

A player has the "honor" when he has the privilege of playing first from the tee. A player is "away" when his ball is farther from the hole. A player is "down" when he is as many holes up on his opponent as there are holes to be played.

SHRINERS PLAN NEW CLUBHOUSE AND 18-HOLE LINKS

Golf Takes Big Boom in Nobles' Country Arena. Midnight Ends Tourney

CLAREY GETS MORE 385

By SANDY McNBICK

The little, old farmhouse that now serves as the home of the club is the Lu Lu Temple Country Club, at Edge Hill, Pa.

The plans of the new clubhouse, as drawn up by the architects, show a thorough modern building of English Colonial design. The building will be of stone.

The location will probably be to the east on the heights to overlook the course. Nine more holes will be added at the end of the present season, so that the course will be 18 holes.

The renovated course will be one of the best of the many courses in such a short time as it has at Lu Lu. The present short seventh will be one hole, which will remain as it is, except that the tee will be raised about six feet.

In no other club has golf monopolized the attention of the members in such a short time as it has at Lu Lu under such conditions. When the club was first started most of the members considered it a good objective for a motor trip.

The club is fairly overflowing with members on Thursday, ladies' day, and Saturdays. On nearly every one of these days more than 200 people get their dinners at the club.

Much work has been done on the present course this year, and the Green Committee have had a hard time getting the course in shape for the tourney there that ends today.
