

NANCY WYNNE PREDICTS PLEASANT TIME FOR AD WOMEN AT NAVY YARD

Wives of the Officers at the Navy Yard Will Entertain the Women Who Have Come to the Great Advertising Convention This Afternoon

This great convention which is being held here this week for all the advertising men and women has its social as well as business side, let me tell you, and this fact has been noted very clearly by the wives of the business men of this city, as well as the wives of the officers of our country. Yesterday was given over principally to getting to know each other and to the opening sessions of the convention. There was a delightful luncheon out at Houston Hall and the women spent the time afterward, many of them listening to the speech which was delivered by Mr. Cyrus H. K. Curtis at the opening business session, while others went over to the University Museum and looked at the wonderful collections of old lace, rugs, china, vases which were fashioned thousands of years ago and all the numerous relics and tapestries for which the museum is justly famous. Mrs. Rowe Stewart, that charming hostess who has the entertainment of the visitors at her fingertips, was here, there and everywhere all day, together with her able assistant, Mrs. M. F. Hanson and a bevy of aides, making every one feel at home, providing entertainment and pleasure for all, and yet forcing no one to join in any one particular thing, as so many different entertainments had been provided.

This afternoon, besides the serving of tea at the Navy Yard, there will be the trip through the ships at the yard, and there is a probability that there will be dancing on the larger ones.

It seems that war is about here, and now in less time than it has taken to tell it our troops will have left Mt. Gretna today and will start direct for the border. Of course, there has been no formal declaration of war as yet, but in the meantime American citizens are being killed American soldiers are being surrounded and killed by people who cannot be trusted to treat them as man to man, but who, having quarreled, seem to be at peace and then, when our American men, satisfied that there is to be no trouble, return to their camps, the Mexicans are on them, flabbing them in the back.

Our men are eager to get off, I assure you, even though many have to leave their wives, sweethearts and mothers. An interesting episode took place on Friday afternoon when Joseph Dolan and his young bride, who had just been married, were aided by his fellow troopers on Chestnut street. Mr. Dolan is a well-known lawyer and a great favorite in the 1st City Troop. The members of Troop 1 formed a circle about the newly wedded pair and executed a regular war dance.

Mr. Dolan, of the 1st City Troop, gave a supper to 30 of the men and their wives on Saturday night, thereby saving the situation greatly, for they danced and ate together and tried bravely to forget that it was to be the last time for many days.

Edward Hoopes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hoopes, of West Chester, left Sunday with Troop A. Young Hoopes holds the rank of first lieutenant in that corps.

The tea given yesterday afternoon for the advertising women at the Adelphi under the auspices of the Philadelphia League of Advertising Women was a brilliant success. Tea was served in the Gold Room of the hotel and the affair was altogether informal and charming. Mrs. Leon B. Heacock was hostess and was assisted by a number of the League members.

Among the women at the tea were Miss J. J. Martin and Miss Jane Carroll, of New York; Mrs. Skerrett, Miss Alda Weber, Miss J. C. Duval, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Leon B. Heacock, Miss Black, Miss Blanche Fisher, Mrs. S. Y. Whelan and hosts of others.

Never have I seen such a sight as last night's cabaret party at the Bellevue-Stratford, where there was a special affair for the visitors in the huge ball room. We could scarcely get our noses into the entrance, much less our feet upon the floor, and, believe me, it was some dance, the music was simply great and those who managed to get in and command tables and eat certainly enjoyed it. It was some funny sight to see men and women hurrying around the Bellevue, carrying in small packages, baskets, soap, tissue paper towels and linen, knowing what they put them neatly down on chairs and tables and danced off gaily for a fox trot or waltz, to find that some one else, thinking they were still presents, had sampled the samples, and so it went. The Californians were giving out fruits in what was once the Palm Room, but which has been cleared of all furniture and was being used as an Assembly Room. The Toronto ladies sang gaily as they waited in line for oranges.

But I certainly was disgusted with the American public, which was at our very doors; they did not have the patriotism to remove their hats when the bands passed, playing the "Star-Spangled Banner." The Mayor was in a car near Broad and Chestnut street and every time the national air was played he pulled off his hat with graceful gesture! He also led some of the singers in the parade and had a wonderful time, every one else enjoying it, too.

WOMEN OF CITY FORM PLANS FOR AID TO SOLDIERS

Preparedness Division Work Discussed in West Philadelphia

$25,000 FOR HOSPITAL

State League Gives Fund for Work at Border in Case of Mexican War

A number of West Philadelphia women who are interested in the plans of the Pennsylvania Women's Division for National Preparedness to supply refreshments to soldiers and make surgical dressings and other hospital supplies, held a meeting this morning in St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal Parish House, 42d street and Baltimore avenue. An address was made by Mrs. L. H. O'Hara, a vice president of the body.

A contribution of $25,000 for the establishment of a base hospital will be turned over to the Red Cross here by the Pennsylvania Division.

This announcement was made yesterday at a meeting of the Executive Committee of this organization at the home of Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel, 18th and Locust streets. The meeting, which was one of the most enthusiastic ever held by the board, was called in the interest of patriotism. It was unanimously decided by the board, which is headed by Mrs. Drexel, to work in time of peace or war under the direction of the Red Cross.

Among those present were Dr. Richard H. Harte, chairman of the Red Cross for southeastern Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Corwin Stevenson, representing the Emergency Aid, which also has decided to do home relief work in connection with the Red Cross. The agreement reached between the three organizations means that the work of aiding the United States Government in the event of war with Mexico will be along systematic lines. Representatives of the women's preparedness organization on the Red Cross board here will be George Wharton Pepper, George W. Childs Drexel and George Quintard Horwitz.

Doctor Harte explained the base hospital offered by the division. A base hospital established near the border in the event of war. The institution will be called the Pennsylvania Women's Preparedness Unit of the Red Cross. Included in it will be 400 beds, laboratory equipment, X-ray plant and all other material needed for such a purpose. There also will be a corps of physicians, trained nurses, pharmacists and cooks.

Work of furnishing surgical dressings and other hospital supplies and performing various nursing work will be divided between the Red Cross, Pennsylvania Women's Division for National Preparedness and the Red Cross and the Emergency Aid, according to Doctor Harte.

The women's preparedness movement will be represented at a conference today of the Citizens Soldiers Aid Committee by Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Mrs. George Quintard Horwitz and Mrs. J. Gardner Cassatt.

During the meeting yesterday members of the executive board decided to at once join the Red Cross and to make every effort to have the work done by her to induce at least 25 per cent. of the members of the division to take out membership cards in the Red Cross.

Doctor Harte warmly praised the women's preparedness body for its plans to supply refreshments to soldiers who have been entrained for six or more hours and for other preparedness steps taken by the organization. Work of supplying refreshments to the troops at Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Philadelphia will be entirely in the hands of this body.

It was explained by Doctor Harte the 55 homes, pledged by women in various sections of the State, may be used as convalescent places in case of war. These homes, he said, could be used for soldiers needing long treatment to put them on the road to recovery. Long treatment of the wounded in convalescent homes, he said, would be of untold value.

Among the members of the executive board who attended the conference with Doctor Harte were Mrs. Helen Serrill, Mrs. Thomas McKean, Mrs. Robert E. Strawbridge, Mrs. Paul Denckla Mills, Mrs. John W. Geary, Mrs. L. H. O'Hara, Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, Mrs. Henry Brinton Cox, Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Mrs. Mary M. Mitchell, Mrs. George Quintard Horwitz and Mrs. John King Sharpe, of Chambersburg, Pa.
