

MILLION A DAY SPENT BY SCHUYLKILL DEPOT FOR ARMY'S SUPPLIES

Colonel Penrose and All Aids Work Overtime Rushing Needed Materials to Mexican Frontier

THOUSANDS OF UNIFORMS

$700 Complete Suits and Hundreds of Tents Made Daily—Merchants Praised

The Schuykill Arsenal today is not only turning out army equipment to its utmost capacity, but has spent on army materials more than $1,000,000 every day since June 15 when the hurry call was received from Washington.

The Arsenal never has been busier. The employees are working day and night. Lieutenant Colonel O. H. Penrose, commandant, seldom goes to bed before 4 a. m., and he is at his desk before 9 o'clock every morning. He expects the rush to continue indefinitely, too, for while his first and immediate job is that of supplying the troops of the 19 States the depot is responsible for, is finished, preparations have to be made now for renewals and possible complementary outfitting.

Colonel Penrose said today: "When the call was made by the Secretary of War it ordered supplies for 100,000 men. This was almost immediately raised to 350,000 men. The proportion this depot has had to supply was 70,000 men, approximately."

It has meant a supply of under and outer garments, shoes, stockings, bed tentage, blankets, ponchos, slickers and reserve ordnance. Besides this, just prior to the call for militia, the regular army was called to war strength and the New Mexico, Arizona and Texas National Guards had to be supplied—all by this depot.

SHIPMENTS BEGAN JUNE 23

"Shipments began June 23. Since then we have been averaging shipments of 25 to 30 carloads a day. We have been utilizing every wagon and truck the express companies could furnish. This depot has but two railroad spurs running into it and the number of openings from which supplies can be sent is, naturally, limited.

"We have had to make immediate purchase in enormous quantities for these shipments. Contracts have been awarded daily in excess of a million dollars.

"The majority of states we have had to supply are now provided for, and we expect to be done with them all by the end of this week if the railroads can continue to take care of the shipments, all of which are going by express."

WORKING FORCE DOUBLED

The force at the arsenal has been more than doubled in the manufacturing department, and all the clerks and other office men are working overtime just as Colonel Penrose is. An idea of what the arsenal is doing can be gained when it is considered that among the things made each day are 2500 complete uniforms and 150 tents.

An idea of how Colonel Penrose is purchasing things that aren't made at the arsenal is his order for 400,000 pairs of shoes yesterday. Colonel Penrose said it was gratifying to witness the loyal manner in which the large business houses of the country responded to the calls. They canceled foreign orders, he said, and devoted all their efforts to supplying the United States Government.

No trouble, he said, was experienced in getting promises of immediate delivery for such an order as the one for shoes or for several million yards of cloth for uniforms or duck for tentage.

GIRL HURT WHEN WAGON HITS PICNICKERS' BUS

Six-Year-Old West Philadelphia Child Seriously Injured—100 Kiddies in Panic

One little girl was seriously injured and a hundred other children thrown into a panic when an autobus, in which they were being conveyed to Fairmount Park for the annual outing of the Richardson Memorial Church, 60th street and Baltimore avenue, was struck by a coal wagon at 58th and Market streets this morning.

The injured child is Lillian G. Allen, 6 years old, of 104 South 42d street. She received a fractured right arm and contusions of the body, when the shaft of the coal wagon smashed through the body of the bus and jammed her against a seat. She was taken to the office of Dr. William C. Griggs, at 558 North 58th street, by Sergeant McMullen, of the 51st and Thompson streets police station, and later sent to the West Philadelphia Homeopathic Hospital.

Jacob Rappaport, of 945 North Marshall street, driver of the coal wagon, who was placed under arrest, said he tried his best to stop his team before they struck the bus. He was driving west on Market street and the bus, one of three, crowded with about 300 children, was going north on 58th street. Rappaport permitted two buses to pass and then believing there were no more, started his team.

JACK M'KALLIP, NEWSPAPER MAN, DEAD OF PARALYSIS

Well Known in This City and in Central and Western Pennsylvania

Jack McKallip, a former Philadelphia newspaper man and well known in journalistic circles throughout Pennsylvania, died of paralysis in New Kensington, Westmoreland County, last Sunday, according to word received by his friends in this city today. He was about 40 years old.

McKallip was famous as a writer of humorous poetry. He was a member of the staff of the Philadelphia Press, the North American and the Evening Telegraph a few years ago, coming here from Harrisburg, where he first entered the newspaper field. He went from here to Pittsburgh, where he wrote a special column for the Pittsburgh Press. A brother and sister reside in Pittsburgh.

SURVIVOR OF CARRIZAL FIGHT

Capt. Lewis S. Morey was one of the three white officers of the 10th Cavalry detachment which was fired upon by Mexicans at Carrizal. He was wounded in the shoulder and given up as lost, but later he was found in the desert by a rescuing party after being 22 hours without water. His companions, Captain Boyd and Lieutenant Adair, were killed. Captain Morey is now at General Pershing's base.

GREAT LEGAL BATTLE OF DU PONT BEGINS

Family Fight for Control of Big Powder Interests Opens. Large Crowd Attends

WILMINGTON, Del., June 28.—The family fight for the control of the vast du Pont powder interests, involving several hundred million dollars, was begun here today in United States District Court before Judge Thompson.

The issue centers about the sale by General T. Coleman du Pont, formerly president of the corporation, of his stock interests to the du Pont Securities Company, which was organized to acquire his shares by Pierre S. du Pont and others. Philip, Alfred L. Francis G. and other members of the family charge that Pierre and a majority of the directors of the company should have taken over Coleman du Pont's stock, now valued at upwards of $50,000,000, in the name of the du Pont Company proper. They seek the transfer of Coleman du Pont's stock from the Securities Company to the treasury of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. When court opened there were a large number of persons present. The array of distinguished counsel was also large. For the plaintiff there were John G. Johnson and William A. Glasgow, of Philadelphia; Robert Pennington, of Wilmington and Henry F. Brown, of Philadelphia.

George S. Graham, of Philadelphia; William D. Hillis, of Wilmington, and several other attorneys occupied the table for the respondent.

Mr. Glasgow, after offering the charter of the powder company and the du Pont Securities Company, to each of which Mr. Graham made objection and was overruled called Alfred I. du Pont as first witness.

Alfred I. du Pont said in 1914 he received a letter from Coleman du Pont offering to sell 20,000 shares of common stock in the company held by him for $150 a share, for distribution among employees. He and Pierre, both being vice presidents, favored the purchase, except that they objected to the price, writing Coleman to that effect. The Finance Committee, with the exception of Pierre, he said, thought $125 a share sufficient.

MOVIES TO AID RECRUITING

Daniels Accepts Offer and Baker Gives Plan to Funston

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A proposal by five moving picture weekly news services to help recruiting for the navy through pictures showing American warships at Vera Cruz has been accepted by Secretary Daniels.

Secretary Baker referred to General Funston a proposal to send "movie" operators to General Pershing's camp to help recruiting. Films taken of either branch will be censored by the authorities before being released to theatres.

AGED SPINSTER DIES; FRIEND MAY FOLLOW

Ill Woman, Learning of Other's Death, Hopes to Enter Eternity

Inseparable through life, two spinsters, both past 70 years old, may enter eternity almost together. One, Miss Margaret McLaughlin, 71 years old, is dead; the other, Miss Mary Allen, several months younger, is said to be dying. Informed today that her friend of a lifetime had gone, Miss Allen, in the Presbyterian Hospital, cried out that death would now be most welcome to her.

The spinsters lived for years at 50th and Gaden streets, but two years ago they took up their residence at the home of Mrs. Alvin Culver, of 781 North Preston street. Last Thursday, Miss Allen suffered nervous prostration. Miss McLaughlin helped to remove her to the hospital, and, to be near her friend, went to live with relatives at 35th and Powelton avenue. She became ill Monday and was taken to the hospital, her room being near that of Miss Allen. She died yesterday morning.

"Let me die now, too," she cried. Miss McLaughlin has a brother in the Masonic Home, Broad and Tioga streets.

Cuba Urged to Support Mexico

HAVANA, June 28.—Heraldo de Cuba, edited by Cresco Ferrera, speaker of the House and prominent in its anti-American attitude, "before a happening of such magnitude, all peoples of the American world should protest most solemnly. Cuba, because of her special position with respect to the United States, should be first to pronounce her protest against the Yankee aggression."

COLONEL IN NEW YORK TO MEET HUGHES

Both Silent on Report of Prospective Reconciliation With Taft

NEW YORK, June 28.—Colonel Roosevelt came to town today to keep his dinner appointment with Justice Hughes tonight. Neither the Colonel nor Hughes would discuss a report that efforts were being made to bring Roosevelt and ex-President Taft together. Republican leaders who called at Hughes' headquarters during the day said they would not be surprised if the report were true.

Frank Hitchcock, who helped corral Hughes' delegates before the Chicago convention and was prominently mentioned for the national chairmanship, called on Hughes today with an offer of his services. W. R. Willcox, new Republican national chairman, established headquarters at the Hotel Astor in rooms connecting with the Hughes headquarters.

Says Teutons Are Growing Weaker LONDON, June 28.—Dr. E. J. Dillon appears in a far more optimistic mood on the war than usual in the current number of the Fortnightly Review. He says Germany and Austria are substantially much weaker than they were; their staying powers are impaired; they are hardly capable of much longer maintaining an offensive against France and Russia, and they are impotent to withstand an offensive from a new enemy.
