

CARRANZA DEFIES U. S. ANEW IN TALK TO STUDENT BODY

First Chief Declares Mexico, to a Man, Will Resist Plan of Aggression

DOES NOT SEEK WAR

MEXICO CITY, June 27. Via Galveston, Tex., June 28.—First Chief Carranza, in a speech to 10,000 students who offered their services in case of war, today reiterated his statement that any further attempt by the American punitive expedition to advance in Chihuahua would be met by force.

"In the last note forwarded to the American Government it was declared that if a new expedition should cross into Mexico, or if the expedition now in Chihuahua should attempt to advance, it would be repulsed by force.

"The American Government, probably to test the truth of this assertion, moved a column and caused the punitive expedition to advance. The Constitutional soldiers, fulfilling their duty, repulsed the Americans.

"Before leading the country into a bloody war the Government desires to exhaust all means for a peaceful solution which shall not conflict with the national honor."

General Carranza explained the failure to publish in Mexico to the recent note from the United States Government by saying: "If the note has not been published it is because of the fact that it is more than a reply to our note; it is a series of charges. Rectifications in the statements made in this note are being prepared so that both documents may be given to the public at the same time."

Carranza exhorted the young men to maintain their enthusiasm by military preparation. "If this enthusiasm cannot be made available at the present time," he said, "it will nevertheless prove a guarantee against any clash with the United States which may come sooner or later."

"Mexico, in defending her sovereignty, will be defending that of all Latin-America. I am satisfied that all the Mexican nation, men, women and even children, will be prompt to sacrifice themselves to defend their country in the presence of danger."

URGES GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH TO CALL OUT ALL OF GUARD

A. Mitchell Palmer Would Have State Follow New York Lead

STROUDSBURG, June 28.—Ex-Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer urges Governor Brumbaugh to call out the two remaining Pennsylvania regiments. He wired the Governor today as follows: "Hon. M. G. Brumbaugh,

"The matter of calling the 9th and 13th Regiments is in your control and not under Federal Government. I earnestly urge you to follow the example of New York, which called its entire Guard to mobilization camp, where divisions are to be formed in accordance with Federal requirements. Such a plan will utilize all the Pennsylvania troops by converting one or two regiments into artillery."

"A. MITCHELL PALMER. The Governor's telegram follows: 'Harrisburg, June 27.

"A. Mitchell Palmer: 'We have done all we could to have Federal Government include 9th and 13th Regiments in call, but I will refer your request to Adjutant General and hope there may be some way of using the two regiments.'"

"M. G. BRUMBAUGH, Governor."

POTTSVILLE AUTOIST FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Boy of Seven Was Victim of Dash Through Gilberton

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 28.—John Dunn, of this city, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter this morning. Dunn, who is the son of Michael J. Dunn, a business manager, and owner of much real estate in this city, and three other youths, while racing in an automobile through Gilberton on Sunday, May 7 last, ran down and killed William Sullivan, 7 years old. Dunn, who was at the wheel, and his companions continued until they reached Ashland, 10 miles away, where the officers, who had been apprised of the accident, arrested them. The occupants of the car, with the exception of Dunn, were released when the Grand Jury declined to indict them.

Sentence of Dunn was suspended, a motion for arrest in judgment and new trial having been asked.

WARRICKS BOTTLE "PLANTED" TO AID ORPET, STATE CONTENTS

Prosecution Also Plans to Show He Had No Brainstorm

WAURIEGAN, Ill., June 28.—The State is planning to smash the defense in the trial of W. H. Orpet for murder. Assistant State's Attorney Jodyny will center his attack on four points set up by Orpet in his story of Marian Lamber's death in Helm's Woods. These are the powdered cyanide which Orpet said he saw on the girl's face and hand; the three convulsions which he said attacked the dying girl; the brainstorm which he declared overcame him as he watched her die; and the molasses and water which, he said, he tried to persuade her to drink, telling her it was medicine.

The State believes that the bottle of molasses and water found in Helm's Woods by scouts sent out by Orpet's lawyers was "planted" there. It will try to convince the jury that the Orpet story of seeing powder on the girl's face and hand and the three convulsions are details which have been framed up to meet the exigencies of the evidence introduced by the prosecution.

As for the brainstorm, it will be contended that it passed away in a minute or two, enabling him to remember exactly where he threw the bottle and to draw a map of it which enabled Leslie P. Hanna and his assistants to find it.

MEN ATTEMPT SUICIDE; POLICEMEN SAVE THEM

Despondent Man Dragged From Delaware—One Takes Poison on Car Tracks

Two men who attempted suicide early today were saved by policemen who restrained them. The men who effected the rescue are Pastore and Murphy, attached to the 11th and Winter and 4th and Race streets stations respectively.

About midnight Murphy saw a well-dressed man, pacing frantically about the Arch street wharf on the Delaware River. As he was about to apprehend him, the man jumped into the water. The policeman threw a rope to him, but he refused to grasp it, according to the report of the officer presented by Murphy at the station house.

So he set out in a boat and caught the man with a hook, dragging him to shore. He was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital, where his recovery is expected. He gave the name of Joseph Wilson and said he lived at 3255 South Clarton street. He is 58 years old.

The other attempt at suicide was that of Joseph Jackson, of Gashen, Va. Jackson is 32 years old.

He drank poison while standing between the car tracks at 8th and Vine streets as a car was approaching rapidly. Pastore dragged him to the pavement and he obtained eggs and milk. He forced the antidote into the man's mouth and then sent him to the Hahnemann Hospital. He will recover. Neither of the two men would tell his motives for attempting death.

ROOSEVELT PLANNING TO LEAD LITTLE ARMY OF HIS OWN TO MEXICO

Colonel, of Course, Wishes to Deviate From U. S. Regulations and Organize Force Along New Lines for Service

MANY OFFER TO SERVE

NEW YORK, June 28.—Colonel Roosevelt will ask President Wilson, in the event of a declaration of war on Mexico for permission to put into the field a division of troops fully equipped for practically immediate service. This was learned here on high authority.

While details of the plans are being kept carefully guarded as yet, it is understood that in making the request of the Government that it appoint him a major general and accept his offer of 12,000 fighting men, the Colonel will ask that a little latitude be allowed him in the enrollment of his division.

Instead of the usual grouping of three brigades of infantry with its cavalry and artillery complements, this division, it is reported, will consist of four brigades, two of cavalry, one of infantry and one of field artillery. There will be the customary engineer battalions and signal corps, and a full quota of the most modern machine guns. High-powered armored aeroplanes will be attached for service with the artillery.

It was learned that recruiting for this body of troops had been going along quietly for the last 10 days. Many of the Colonel's former assistants in military life have been apprised of the scheme and have been working hard towards its completion. The details of the plan have all been worked out. It was said, and it is asserted, that Colonel Roosevelt will give the country a demonstration of quickness in organization and equipment of soldiers for field service.

For the last few weeks his mail literally has been flooded. It is asserted, with applications from men who want to go to war under his command. Many of them have been single applicants only, but there have been also many from persons representing organizations of ex-regulars and ex-guardians, Spanish War veterans, rifle and riding clubs.

It is declared that horses for the mounted men are even now listed and can be obtained by telegraph messages. Draft horses have been promised by contractors for artillery and the heavy work. Motor vehicles, autos and trucks, it is said, have been generously offered.

The officers of this prospective division will come, in the main, from the regular army. The four brigadier generals and every one of the 12 or 15 colonels, it is stated positively, will be veterans now in the active service of the United States. In fact, the plan as it stands is said to have the indorsement of the highest officers in the army.

HEADQUARTERS IN TEXAS

The headquarters of the division, it is believed here, will be somewhere in Texas where the Rough Riders prepared for service. There will probably be a recruiting depot in this city, as well as in others, when the enrollment starts, although the nucleus of the force, it is understood, has been notified and is now already to proceed wherever the Colonel may direct.

The enlisted personnel of the division, it is said, will be much the same as that of the Rough Riders. The soldiers will be recruited chiefly from the Southwest and the West, and there will be a number of

It Pays to Think

We read every day where Player-Pianos are featured at small prices and easy terms, the sellers lauding them to the skies. They state they are composed of all the flexible component parts, including gasoline and hot-air chests, and possessing a tone equaling a thunderstorm or the roar of a great cannon, and if you don't wish such forceful music, you can throttle it down to something equaling the most delicate or Mozart touch.

We wonder if piano buyers know that an instrument possessing all these great qualities and sold by a dealer at a certain price (?) can be purchased much cheaper by dealing with the manufacturer direct. We would hint that the philanthropist dealer give the name and address of the manufacturer, so that his patrons may save all the profits that come from various handling of the instruments.

We recently noted an advertisement of a store which was manufacturing one article of the several they retailed, and, in featuring this particular garment, they wished to remind their patrons that they were the makers, and in consequence saved their customers all the middleman's profits which other retailers would have to exact from their patrons.

When buying pianos from us, you are dealing directly with the makers here in Philadelphia, and it is only reasonable to suppose that we can save you at least from 20 to 30% on your purchase, which means considerable to a careful buyer.
