FRENCH HURL TEUTON TROOPS FROM LINE THREE MILES LONG; BRITISH PUSH PAST FRICOURT

Germans Driven From Between Mereaucourt Wood and Assevillers South of Somme-Lose Herbecourt Village, Paris Says

English Capture New Positions in Drive on Bapaume. 31 Teuton Battalions Crumple Beneath Blows of Allies-Artillery Fire Increases in Flanders

The Anglo-French armies are continuing their advance in the great offensive begun Saturday morning from Arras south to the Somme and the objective of which is the Peronne-Cambrai-Lille railway. The Germans are fighting desperately to save their communication lines and have succeeded in checking the British north of the Somme.

The great drive, which began with a terrific thrust at the German lines, has now resolved itself into a steady rolling movement with Bapaume as the British and Peronne as the French objective.

French troops have advanced on a front 10 miles long, extending from the outskirts of Hardecourt, north of the Somme, to a point south of Estres village. Having smashed the first line positions of the Germans in the sector of the Somme, the French are now pounding away at the second line. The French War Office in a communique issued today announced that three miles of the German second line between Mereaucourt wood and Assevillers, south of the Somme, have been captured. The village of Herbecourt has been captured by storm in spite of the furious resistance of the Germans. Between Estres and Assevillers the German line, which was defended by 31 battalions of troops, has crumpled beneath the blows of the Allies.

Fricourt, an important town three miles east of Albert, has fallen to the British arms, while the French have taken the village of Curlu, which lies to the southeast. The British have extended their lines beyond Fricourt.

The French have taken 6000 prisoners, according to the latest estimates. The British, after reporting the capture of 4000, later declared that the estimate was too low.

The capture of Friz, south of the Somme, has wiped out the German salient which extended into the French line at that point and has also placed the Allies in a position to menace important military roads.

The French are now only five miles from Peronne.

Peronne is a railroad centre of vital importance to the German lines, feeding the salient between the Aisne and the Oise, comprising what is known as the "Bloody Angle."

Late dispatches from the front show that the German line has been bent back from five to seven miles by the mighty offensive of the British and French troops.

Patrol and Not an Invasion

Peace prospects grew brighter in the Mexican situation today.

The United States announced it would not call any more National Guard for the present.

Latin-American diplomats announced they had succeeded in delaying the Carranza reply to the American demands, with the hope of eliminating any bellicose passages.

President Wilson's New York speech allayed fears in Mexico City and created a feeling that the United States had no designs against Mexico.

Reports have had it that the Carranza reply already was in Ambassador Designate Arredondo's hands, and was held up to allow the Mexicans to marshal for attack. This is denied, but may be true since Arredondo has not always been found wholly truthful.

Troop movements and equipment moved forward and Secretary Lansing announces there is no change in the situation.

However, operations, with the subdivision of the Southern Department of the Army, under Generals Funston, Pershing and Bell, indicate that the United States is preparing for an ironclad border patrol, and not for invasion.

This is strengthened by the withdrawal of General Pershing's forces to a post within 100 miles of the frontier.

FRENCH TAKE THREE MILES OF SECOND-LINE TRENCHES: ADVANCE TOWARD PERONNE

PARIS, July 3.

In a brilllant night attack that threw the Germans back on a wide front, French troops last night captured the village of Herbecourt, on the second line of German defenses, advancing to within five miles of the heart of Peronne, one of the immediate objectives of the allied offensive.

The advance was made on a five-kilometre front (about three miles). The French swept forward from the Mireaucourt wood, near the River Somme, to a point west of the village of Assevillers.

The official statement indicated that of about 39,000 German troops defending the sector of the front near Peronne, nearly $1,000, forming $1 battalions, suffered terrible losses and were badly disorganized. The rest of the official statement follows:

The combats south of the Somme were entirely favorable to the French. During Sunday evening and Sunday night the French entirely occupied on a five-kilometre front the two secondposition German trenches between Mireaucourt Wood and up to Asso-

Between these two points, during the course of a brilliant encounter, the French carried Herbecourt Village.

Toward Awre, in the region of Dancourt, the Desloges Wood was cleaned of the enemy by French grenada reconnaissance parties.

North of the Somme there were no German attacks during the night on our newly gained positions.

South of Assovillers the French made further progress, spreading their advance on the south bank of the Somme to the village of Estrees, seven and a half miles southwest of Peronne

North of Estress Village and between Estress and Assovillers, the French made important gains, capturing prisoners and heavy artillery pieces.

Information now at hand shows that #5 German battalions took part in the defense of the newly carried positions. Thirty-one of those battalions, having mustaland the heaviest losses, are com-pletely disorganized. Most of the prisoners captured by our forens or Saturday and Sunday are sr.

MILITARISM AGITATES TEACHERS' CONVENTION

Drill in Public Schools Big Issue Before National Education Association

NEW YORK, July 3 .- Whether "Beany" and "Plupy" and millions of other American schoolboys shall sacrifice part of the time at the old swimmin' hole in learning to shoulder arms is being dismissed by "teacher" today. Indorsement of military training in public schools is one of the big issues before the National Education Association which went into session here. This is the biggest convention ever entertained in New York.

It's all in the hands of the female of the species, too. Led by Mrs. Cora G. The committee decided to report the bill, despite Fresident Wilson's announcement that he was opposed to spending any money for public buildings during the coming year.

WARNS PRESIDENT TO SUPPORT ANTHONY AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, July 3.-Mrs. F. L. Moran, of Virginia, accompanying a delega tion representing the Woman's National Democratic League which called at the White House today to give the President a check for $1000 for his campaign and to tell him that the league was behind him, caused a diversion when she rushed forward and warned the President that he had better support the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the Constitution, giving women the ballot. She asserted that the 4,000,000 women voters of the West would be against him unless he did so. 'The leaders in the delegation were angry and repudiated Mrs. Moran's statements. The $1000 which the league had raised was one of the first campaign contributions received.

DIFFER ON NUMBER OF STRIKERS

Union officials and employers today differ in their estimates of the number of nion machinists who deciared a strike Saturday morning. The union officials say that 10,000 men walked out, while the employers place the number at 2000. The exact number will not be known until Wednesday morning, since the men walked out just before the half holiday on Saturday, and many of the firms have closed shop until Wednesday. The men are demanding a straight eight-hour day without a decrease in wages. A meeting of the strikers, scheduled to be held in the Broad Streat Theatra yesterday, was called off until Wednesday, because many of the atrikers are out of the city over the Fourth.

THE WEATHER

Just about 140 years ago we were born and our birth caused some discontent on the other side of the Atlantic. Ever since that time we have had various spells of illness-in 1812, 1846, 1861 and 1898. We fully recovered from all these attacks and believe that we can cure ourselves this year of 1916 as soon as our case has been properly diagnosed.

What our system needs is about half a allion soldiers, 2000 great guns and a gross of aeroplanes. These, used with discretion, will probably keep us in good physical condition, no matter which way the wind blows. Wind will prohably be scarce until the political campaigns open.
