QUIET PATRIOTISM MARKS PROGRAM FOR THE FOURTH

Russell, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

It had been hoped by Chairman Baisley and his associates that President Wilson might be able to deliver the address of the day, but the crisis prevented Mr. Wilson from accepting the invitation.

Several hundred children from the public schools will sing patriotic songs and will attend, as will the distinguished military parade had to be abandoned there will be plenty to enthuse and inspire the most cautious observers.

In old Christ Church, 24 Street above Market, the pastor, the Rev. Louis C. Washburn, will conduct a patriotic service in the morning prior to the ceremonies in Independence Square.

Junior athletes will have a large part in the city Fourth of July sports, which will be held on Belmont Plateau, in West Fairmount Park, during the morning. More than one-half of the program has been given over to events for boys. Clubs, colleges and schools of the city and suburbs will be represented in the hundreds of entries.

In the afternoon, in People's Regatta, time-honored sporting feature of the Fourth of July, will take place over the National course on the Schuylkill River. Crews from the boat clubs of the Schuylkill Navy will compete with oarsmen from other cities, some of the contestants hailing from places as far distant as Duluth.

Large celebrations are planned at Starr Garden, Weecoco Square, Jefferson Square, Shot Tower Playground, Athletic Park, Happy Hollow, Sherwood Centre, Holmesbrook, Falls of Schuylkill, Manayunk, Overbrook, Bridesburg, Vernon Park, East Germantown Playground, 60th and Catharine streets, Went's Field, Diston Recreation Centre, Oak Lane, Hunting Park Section, Chestnut Hill, Wissinick Woods, Fottrell Square, Kingsessing Centre, while other celebrations will be held in convenient places by business men's and neighbors' associations.

FIREWORKS, PARADES AND SPORTS NEIGHBORHOOD FEATURES OF DAY

Neighborhood observances of the great national holiday will play a more conspicuous part in the celebration in this city tomorrow than in previous years. The program of exercises at some of these sectional and suburban Fourth of July demonstrations is given below:

North Philadelphia

Parade of 5000 school children in morning with athletic events in afternoon, accompanied by patriotic exercises and band concert in evening. Governor Brumbaugh, Harry A. Mackey and E. J. Cattell to be chief speakers. Field and track sports, patriotic singing by boys and girls and dancing during afternoon. Fireworks display begins at 8 o'clock.

Fottrell Square

Children of 13 schools, 10 troops of Boy Scouts and three divisions of P. O. S. of A. march. Prizes to be awarded for best costumes. At 10 o'clock singing of patriotic songs by chorus led by David Griffith and Harry Holt, preceding flag raising and baseball game, novelty drills and exercises by boys and girls and costumes dances.

Similar programs have been arranged for the suburbs both in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Every community in the vicinity of the city will have its Fourth of July celebration, Bala and Cynwyd having prepared an especially elaborate observance.

Aiming at a safe and sane program the churches in the extreme northwestern section of the city have arranged band concerts and fireworks. The Sunday Schools of Falls of Schuylkill and those of Manayunk, will have united celebrations, as will two congregations of Wissinick.

The Polish-American citizens of Nicetown will parade through that section and will also be addressed by Judges Eugene C. Bonniwell, A. Lincoln Acker and other prominent citizens.

The Philadelphia Branch of the German-American Alliance will take possession of Central Park, 400 North 5th street. United States Senator Boies Penrose, Congressman J. Hampton Moore and Joseph McLaughlin, national president of the Ili-berians, will be among the speakers.

At Willow Grove, Delaware, Brandywine Springs and Shellpot Parks special programs and fireworks will feature the day. The Botanical Society of Pennsylvania devotes the day to an excursion to the Lower Brandywine and Red Clay creeks. The plan is to leave the city at 9 a. m. by steamer to Wilmington and thence by trolley to Rising Sun, arriving back from Brandywine Springs via Wilmington by 9 p. m.

The amateur journalists of the past—the Fossils, they call themselves—will celebrate their 40th anniversary by the organization of the National Amateur Press Association in the city of its birth by dining at the Poor Richard Clubhouse, 239 South Camac street, tomorrow.

Among those on the committee or who are affiliated with these veterans are Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy; James M. Beck, former Assistant Secretary General; Henry L. Bryn, of the Department of State; Will J. Eldridge, of the Poor Richard Club, while members from Oklahoma and South Carolina are expected.

PICNICS TO KEEP FOURTH SANE IN WESTWEST

Bible and Church Classes Will Parade at Start of Day's Fun

The celebration of Independence Day in Manayunk, Bixborough and Wissinick will follow out the traditions of 25 years in being safe and sane.

Back in 1831 Samuel Lawson, of York-shire, England, who had settled in Manayunk three years before, thought it would be a fine thing to celebrate the Fourth by holding a picnic of the Bible School of the Fourth Reformed Church, with which he was associated. That started it and since then the picnic habit has grown so out in the extreme northwest of Philadelphia that there are now a number of picnics in the district have contracted it. Tomorrow they will take their members out into the open country for a quiet, outdoor celebration.

Other schools were not slow in following this example and frequently held a picnic preceding the picnic. Seven years ago the Executive Committee of the Epiphany Lutheran Bible School conceived the idea of holding a combined picnic of the Bible schools of the district and a committee was appointed to confer with the pastors and superintendents of the several Bible schools. As a result an organization was formed, the officers of which now are J. Harry Stephan, president; William Eddie-man, vice president; and Horace MacFadden, secretary. H. F. Wynne is chief marshal.

The churches which will participate in the parade tomorrow are Lexington Presbyterian, Galilee Baptist (negro), Fourth Reformed, Roxborough Baptist, Central M. E., Grace Lutheran, Ebenezer M. E., Epiphany Lutheran, Talmage Reformed and the Bethel Lutheran.

The parade will form at Manayunk and Lyceum avenues at 7:45 a. m., and move east on Lyceum avenue to Ridge avenue. The first eight Bible schools will move north on Ridge avenue to various picnic grounds and the other two will go south. Each school will have a band.

JUMPS 5 STORIES TO DEATH

Woman, Disappointed in Love, Startles Chicago Crowd

CHICAGO, July 2.—Miss Joanna Richardson, 21, a student at Houston, Tex., committed suicide today by jumping from the gallery to the stone-paved first floor of the Federal Building in sight of scores of persons in the postoffice here. She fell five stories and her body was crushed to a pulp.

Miss Richardson, it was said, was disappointed in love. She was to have married a New Orleans man last month, it was stated.

BAN ON BALLOONS

Director Wilson Sends Out Orders to Police Lieutenants

Director Wilson, of the Department of Public Safety, today issued orders to the lieutenants of every police station to arrest all persons, either selling, giving away or attempting to use paper fire balloons during tomorrow's celebration of the Fourth.

The use of these balloons was tabooed by act of Legislature last year, and it is the purpose of the police department to enforce the law to the letter tomorrow. The act was passed after it was determined that the balloons with their blasting, alcohol-soaked sponges, had settled on the roofs of houses and barns, causing in some cases serious damages.

Saved From Fire in Nightclothes

Four persons were rescued in their nightclothes when fire caused damage to the extent of $1000 in the delicatessen store of Enoch Higgins, 424 Frankford avenue, at 2 o'clock this morning. Higgins and his wife, who were sleeping on the second floor when the fire broke out in the building, holding Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nevitt, who occupied the third floor, were carried to the street by the firemen.

SHIPPING BILL MAY GO INTO DISCARD AGAIN

Congress Wants to Adjourn August 19, and Long Debate Won't Permit This

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Whether the total appropriations for this session of Congress, which are certain to be more than $1,500,000,000, will be increased by $50,000,000 depends upon the ability of the Democratic Senators to agree on the provisions of the Administration shipping bill.

The subcommittee of the Commerce Committee, having the bill in charge, has failed to reach an agreement on several important features, so has decided to report the measure to the full committee Thursday without recommendation.

Some members of Congress are inclined to believe the shipping bill will be thrown out for the session to make possible an adjournment by August 19. In order to get an adjournment on March 4 for the last session of Congress, the shipping bill was thrown into the discard. It is realized that if the shipping bill is taken up in the Senate now it will mean a long debate and delay of adjournment at a time when members of Congress are anxious to get into their campaigns for re-election.

Bills passed and favorably reported by the various committees show that the appropriations for the present session of Congress will be at least a half-billion dollars larger than any preceding Congress. The appropriations, according to estimates made by Representative John J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, will total approximately $1,650,000,000. At least $50,000,000 of this amount will be for preparedness. The navy bill, as amended by the Senate Committee, now carries $215,928,843, and the army bill approximately $282,000,000. It is considered certain the Senate will accept all the increases and that the House will agree to most of them. A $25,000,000 fortifications bill has passed both Houses.

SCHOOLMA'AMS INVADE N. Y. FOR CONVENTION

National Education Association Opens Gotham's Biggest Meeting

NEW YORK, July 2.—The biggest convention New York has ever entertained opened today—the annual meeting of the National Education Association. Thirty thousand teachers are here for the sessions.

The section on rural and agricultural education Mary C. Davis, of Nashville, urged that agricultural education be kept a practical school study. She cited numerous examples of field study of the subject as aiding in the teaching.

Will Honor Italian Immigrant

Italian and other friends in the neighborhood will hold a celebration in connection with Independence Day observance in honor of Nicholas Cannoe, of 2127 West Indiana avenue, on the 26th anniversary of his arrival in Philadelphia. The service will take the form of a flag-raising at Mr. Cannoe's place of business, 3025 North 22d street. Addresses will be made by the Rev. Stefano L. Testa, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; John Torio, of 2214 West Indiana avenue; the Rev. James Lutere, of the Tioga Presbyterian Church, and others.

MAN FOUGHT IN VAIN WITH SAVAGE SHARK

Onlookers Give Details of Young Charles Vansant's Battle at Beach Haven

Further details concerning the tragic death of Charles Epling Vansant became known yesterday, when his body was brought from Beach Haven, N. J., to the home of his father, Dr. E. L. Vansant, at 4034 Spruce street.

Vansant died on Saturday afternoon at the Englewood Hospital, at that seashore resort, after a terrific battle with a nine-foot shark in the surf. He had gone from here with his father and two sisters to spend the week-end vacation on Saturday afternoon when in the surf only a few yards from shore when attacked by the man-eater. He was playing with a dog at the time, and onlookers who heard his cries thought them only part of the game.

Vansant tried to get to shore with the jaws of the shark clutching his leg. In the shallow water persons on shore saw the man enter the surf and ran to help him. Led by Alexander Ott, a champion swimmer and member of the American Olympic team, they drove the shark off and carried its victim to the beach. His leg had been torn from the thigh to the knee. Physicians were called at once, but he died an hour and a half later.

Vansant is well known here, having been graduated from the Episcopal Academy in 1910 and from the University of Pennsylvania in 1914. At the latter institution he was a member of the Olee Club, assistant business manager of the Record and was on the business staffs of the Punch Bowl and the Red and Blue. At the time of his death he was connected with the Fowell Brothers & Co. of this city. He was the only son of Dr. C. L. Vansant, whose office are at 1829 Chestnut street. His father is a member of the Union League and is a prominent nose and throat specialist.
