

RABBI LEVINTHAL'S SON WINS ESSAY PRIZE, GIFT OF JUSTICE BRANDELS

Announcement Made Today by Executive Committee at Meeting of Zionists in Horticultural Hall

HOSPITAL IN PALESTINE

Louis Edward Levinthal, of this city, son of Rabbi R. L. Levinthal, was announced today as the winner of the second prize in an essay contest conducted by Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

Although only 29 years old, Levinthal was graduated several weeks ago with high honors from the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania. The decision of the judges awarding second prize to the youth was reported at this morning's session of the 19th annual convention of the Zionist Organization of America, which was begun yesterday in the Horticultural Hall and will continue until Wednesday night.

Announcement of the success of Levinthal, who lives at 716 Pine street, was greeted with tremendous cheering upon the part of Philadelphians at the convention and delegates from other cities. The announcement was a part of the report of the Executive Committee of the organization for the last year.

The first prize in the competition went to Leo I. Dana, of Boston. The latter's essay subject was "The Work and Problems of the Jewish National Fund." Levinthal's subject was "The Land Laws of Turkey and Their Administration." He will receive $50 in gold as a reward for his efforts, but the honor of winning a prize is regarded as far out of proportion to the monetary reward. Justice Brandeis has announced his intention of conducting a similar essay contest next year. His decision in this matter came as a surprise, as he was generally expected that he would discontinue the practice because of his recent appointment to the Supreme Court bench.

Telegrams were read at this morning's session from some of the leading Jews of America, expressing a favorable attitude toward the Zionist propaganda. More than 800 Hebrews from all parts of the United States prominent in various professions and businesses, have assembled for the annual convocation.

Women form a large proportion of the convention. In view of the suffering of the Jewish people throughout the world incidental to the present war, the gathering is of special significance. There was much discussion of the Land Laws of Turkey and work accomplished in the past year in behalf of suffering brethren.

The first formal address delivered this morning was that of Gauthier, president of the local Executive Committee. It was evident that the convention is divided into two factions, one satisfied with the administration of the last year, the other determined on a change in policy.

The contest will center itself about the Jewish Congress movement, which was recently organized in this country and of which Justice Louis D. Brandeis is one of the principal exponents. Doctor Cohen will lead the opposition, he indicated in his opening address.

Appealing for peace and harmony at this critical time in the history of the Jewish people, he warned the delegates not to be swayed by the cries of democracy, nor to estrange any element among the Jews in America. By this Doctor Cohen meant the American Jewish Committee, of which Judge Sulzberger and Dr. Cyrus Adler, of this city, are members, and which is antagonistic to the congress movement.

RUSSIAN FOLLOWS DOCTOR COHEN. Doctor Cohen was immediately answered by Dr. Shmarya Levin, former member of the Russian Duma, who represents the Inner Actions Committee of the International organization. In a speech which brought considerable applause he urged them not to have anything to do with the American Jewish Committee. He told them that the

COSTA RICA MERCHANT TO MAKE MARKET FOR PHILADELPHIA GOODS

Henri Frick Tells Chamber of Commerce It Will Be Worth $1,000,000 by End of Year

REPRESENTED EUROPE

A conspiracy to keep American exports out of Central and South America has been alleged by Henri Frick, of San Jose, Costa Rica, a visitor at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, who confessed that for 20 years, as the agent of the English, German, Italian, Swiss and French exporters, he has carried on a campaign against the merchants and manufacturers of this country.

In the end European goods flooded the market and the wares from this country knocked at the door in vain. But after a visit to Philadelphia and an examination of the prices of qualities of goods made here, Mr. Frick decided that the time was now ripe to turn away from Europe and develop the sale of American-made goods. We have made arrangements to represent a number of Philadelphia exporters, as well as those exporting from New York, Boston, Chicago, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland and Detroit, and when we have completed our arrangements and the selection of samples we will go back to Central America prepared to batter down all the obstacles we have raised against American goods, and we will push them to the exclusion of all others.

Stabbed in Trivial Quarrel. POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 3.—George Mason, of Schoentown, is dying in the Pottsville Hospital from stab wounds, alleged to have been inflicted by Albert Petroski, late last night at Port Carbon. Mason is a married man, his alleged assailant is unmarried. The two had quarreled at Schoentown during the afternoon over a trivial matter, which was renewed late last night when they met at Port Carbon.

Richardson, acting as spokesman for Frick, said that the change of front on Frick's part was partly due to sentiment, but also due to the fact that it was now more advantageous to Frick to sell American-made goods than the exports of any other country.

Frick admits that he has been engaged actively in framing legislation unfavorable to American exporters in five countries of Central America and in several of the countries on the east coast of South America. In many cases, he says, tariff regulations were framed to freeze out American prod-

Ecco il testo del rapporto del generale Cadorna pubblicato ieri sera da Ministero della Guerra: Tra l'Adige ed il Brenta continua vigorosamente la nostra offensiva. Nella Vallarosa la nostra fanteria ha inflitto un attacco sulle fortissime linee nemiche tra Zugna Torta e Foppiano. Nella stessa zona la nostra artiglieria di grosso calibro sta bombardando il forte di Pozzocchio.

Nella regione del Pasubio il nemico offre accanita resistenza dalle sue posizioni fortificate tra Monte Spil e Comajon.
