"WHY SHOULD A MANUFACTURER SUPPOSE IT HELPS THE SALE OF HIS SHOES TO ADVERTISE THEM MIT A PICTURE OF A BALD-HEADED MAN?"

"This Here First-to-Last-the-Truth Advertising Is Driving Women to Moving Pictures," Zapp Adds, in Discussing the Publicity Question

Then, After the Conversation Passes Through Various Devious and Tortuous Channels, Birsky Winds Up With This Bit of Wisdom: "There's Just Enough Rube in Each and Every Feller So That Sooner or Later, Mit Kidney Pills or Oitermobiles, the Fake Advertiser Will Get Him if He Don't Look Out"

"There is no more pleasure in reading advertisements nowadays," said Barnett Zapp, the waist manufacturer, to Louis Biraky, the real estater. "Why not?" Birsky asked.

"Well," Zapp said, "what for a simche in it to read in a paper:

REMOVAL SALE 196 Fair to Middling Suits, Season-before-last's Make $18 to $25.

Used to was $16 and $21, but on account of moving we marked them up, because some people has got an idee that when you move you reduce prices, and maybe they wouldn't see this advertisement.

B. SCHLEMIEL & CO. BROADWAY AT 277TH ST.

"And who would go to work and pay money to put in a paper an advertisement like that?" Birsky inquired.

"Everybody nowadays," Zapp said.
They dassen't do otherwise, because what with the Federal and State pure food laws and newspapers which is paying fellers fifty thousand dollars a year to show up adver-tisers so that no advertiser would take a chance on advertising. Birsky, if you want to advertise your merchandise, y'understand, you've got to tell the truth other the least that happens you is $10,000 ball on a certificate of reasonable doubts. So that's the way it goes, Birsky. Former times lady reads in the paper

> Women's Tailored Suits

THE LATEST FROM PARIS Was $120. Now $16.25

y'understand, and right away she forgets that she is going to take dinner Friday night with her husband's folks out in Borough Park; that the doctor says that people with her trouble could live for years already; that the radiator leaked all over the Chinese rug in the library; that she thinks the girl don't like it there on ac-

By MONTAGUE GLASS

"And right away she forgets that she is going to take dinner Friday night with her husband's folks."

husband's friends is getting offermobiles and couldn't afford it no more than he of the could. Birsky. Yes. Birsky, all them tising. Aber what is it nowadays, Birsky? A crepe de Chine dress could have enough it $120 suits marked down to $16.25, and Lockshen soup spilled on it to make it look. she goes down town to look 'em over mit a new lease of life. But what is it nowa-days for such a woman? She reads

WOMEN'S SUITS Bankrupt Stock of Morris Schlecht

Hamburg Avenue Brooklyn Schlecht's price$16.35 Our price$16.25 and not only does all her troubles com back on her, but she thinks she is also de-veloping a peculiar pain in her side." 'Maybe the advertisement give it to her.' Birsky suggested.

"Sure it did." Zapp replied. "This here first-to-last-the-truth advertising is driving women to moving pictures, Birsky. Another thing is the way drygood stores is acting nowadays. Former times a woman buys a dress at a drygoods store on April buys a dress at a drygoods store on April 2 and wears it up to and including July 15, when she brings it back with symptoms of a beefsteak supper, two weddings and a chocolate nut sundae on the front panel. Birsky, and for the next six months she has the time of her life trying to get a credit check for it. It gives her a fresh interest in things. Her eyes get bright and her cheeks is got fresh color in them the same like an advertisement for a complexion cream before the enactment of Sec.

like moire velour, Birsky, and when a woman returns it with the pleasant expectations of never being so insulted in her life, Birsky, before she could even open her mouth to say 'Listen' y'understand, the floor walker pulls a credit check on her."

"And I suppose," Birsky commented, "for the next few days she walks around looking so downhearted that whenever her lady friends see her they so home and practically throw the meals at their husbands and gives as an explanation that they'd like to see themselves worrying themselves to death over any man."

"Well. I'll tell you," Zapp said, "maybe the drygoods stores is getting done on their money back guarantees. Birsky, but that's because they are suffering from the fact that people ain't acquainted with up-to-date advertising idees. Their customers still thinks that when a drygoods store said. death over any man."

the next few days she walks around looking thinks that when a drygoods store says:

If anything you buy here proves unsatisfactory, it will be exchanged or your money will be refunded— Birsky, it must be understood that such guarantee means:

If anything you buy here proves un-satisfactory by the evidence of six un-interesting witnesses which a cracker jack A-number-one trial lawyer couldn't rattle on cross-examination, it will be exchanged or your money will be refunded when so ordered by the Supreme Court of the United States or a Justice thereof after the last appeal gets taken this guarantee shall apply to or bind the party making the same, his heirs, executors, administrators, Mishpocha and assigns

"But them things is all changed now. Before a newspaper accepts an advertisement nowadays, it is censured the same as an interview with General Joffer, and if an advertisement comes in from a shee manufacturer with his picture on it, they send a reporter up to Boston to make sure that the feller is bald like his photograph claims he is, and if he lan't they wouldn't print the advertisement. Also, Birsky, if a patent the advertisement. Also, Birsky, it a patent medicine advertisement says that it ain't genwine without a fac-smile of the manufacturer's signature on the bottle, y'understand, the proprietor of the newspaper wouldn't accept the advertisement till the manufacturer comes down and signs his name in the presence of the managing office. editor, the art editor, two prominent clergy-men and a handwriting expert, and if the signature don't look enough like the fac-sinile, it's all off."

smile, it's all off."
"If a feller is so stuck on his hand-writing that he wants to advertise his goods wit fac-smile of his signature. Zapp," Birsky said, "he don't deserve no better than that they should take him at his word and print the advertisement on him, and then if the bank paid the forged checks, it should ought to be held that the feller is guilty of contributing a negligence and has got to stand the loss himself." stand the loss himself."

"Aber what I couldn't understand is: Why should a manufacturer suppose it helps the sale of his shoes to advertise 'em mit a picture of a bald-headed man, even supposing he does chotz va' sholom look that way?" Zapp said.

"For that matter, Zapp, my wife's brother Sig as a young feller used to rub talcum powder on his upper lip, because he thought it would make grow for him a mustache like the feller on the box," Birsky

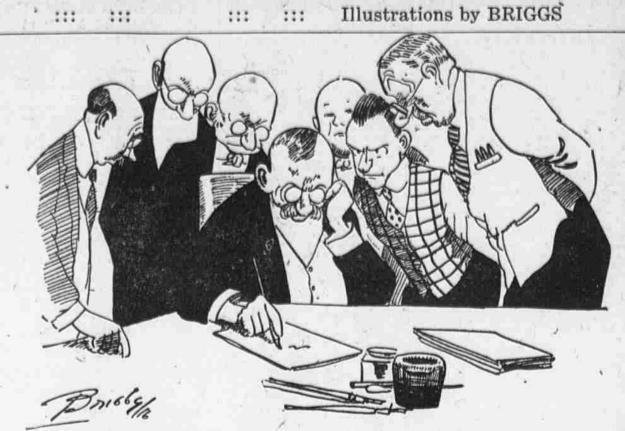

"Was there any such claim on the box outside of the picture?" Zapp asked.
"No," Birsky said, 'but Sig had just come over from the old country and couldn't read

"Well, all I could say he is lucky he didn't want to raise a bald head instead of a mustache." Zapp replied, "because he would of been set back at least $3.50 for shoes instead of twenty cents for talcum

"A feller who thinks he could get baldheaded by wearing any particular brand of shoes should ought to get stuck for $3.50," Birsky said, "never mind he couldn't read English

"Well, that only goes to show how careful a newspaper should be if it doesn't want its readers to be swindled," Zapp said. "Some people which is too foxy to believe anything they read in the news section of a newspaper gets fooled very easy by advertisements. They could read it in the paper how seals has become so scarce that if all the seals in existence was divided up among the inhabitants of the State of Kan sas there would be only .00062 seals to an inhabitant. Also they could see in a Sunday paper how the Secretary of Commerce and Labor gives out an interview that the United States is keeping a line of battleships in Alaska to prevent poachers from killing scals, Birsky, but that owing to the high price of scalskins in New York, the poachers takes a chance on getting shot, starved, frozen and drowned and sometimes catches as many as twenty-cight and a half scals in a season, y'understand, and yet, Birsky, when a concern by the name of yet, Birsky, when a concern by the name of the Paris and San Francisco Fur Importing Company advertises fur overcoats with Baffin Bay Seal lining and genwine Prus-sian Lamb collars at from $19.99 to $21.50 apiece, them newspaper readers figure what does a Secretary of Commerce and Labor know about seals anyway. know about seals anyway."

"Maybe they figure that way, and maybe they figure that the feller which is running the Paris and San Francisco Fur Importing Company is just some poor Nebich that has got shold of a line of seal overcoats and don't know their real value, Zapp, and never mind if the Schlemiei WOULD have a wife Chinese rug in the library; that she her cheeks is got fresh color in them the six the girl don't like it there on account the kitchen is too dark; that all her plexion cream before the enactment of Section 1.50 and 1.5

"Signs his name in the presence of the managing editor, the art editor, two prominent clergymen and a handwriting expert.'

ness if he don't know no more about furs | fact. Birsky, I ain't got no sympathy for than that; so they buy an overcoat off of him, Zapp, just to teach him a lesson as it

"Sometimes they also figure that the reason why the Paris and San Francisco Fur Importing Company could sell genwine sealskins at $19.99 is that the overcoats was stolen, Birsky," Zapp said, "so they go to work and buy 'em on the principle of what the eye don't see it, what is it the heart's husiness?" heart's business?" Then what is the use of newspapers pro tecting them crooks by not printing fake ad-

"I don't know, Birsky," Zapp said. "In "Gets so red in the face that you'd a bargain hunter anyway, and if he gets stuck by a Schlag store which advertises in a newspaper, y'understand, it's my idee that when the Recording Angel enters up the score in the Sepher Chayim, Birsky, he credits the Schlag store and the newspaper with a double play, while all that the bar-gain hunter gets is a error."

"And quite right, too," Birsky said. "It's always a Mitzvah to stick a bargain hunter, Zapp, because if he wasn't out to stick somebody himself a bargain hunter wouldn't be a bargain hunter. There is fellers in this town, Zapp,—millionaires and college gradgewates—which when they talk about Schlag stores gets so red in the face that you'd think they was discussing labor unions, Zapp, and in the very next breath, y'understand, they'll tell how they was motoring in the mountains of West Virginia and how they come across a log cabin where an old feller and his wife was raising a little corn for a living and cating it off a broken-down mahogany table mit bandy legs, club feet and all the other deformities which turns a human being into a helpless cripple and a table into a $1000 antique. Zapp. Then they'll tell you how they bought the table from the poor mountaineer for $2.35 and brought it back to New York and had it polished for $1.03 and sold it to an antique dealer for $1275.60; and they never stop to consider that while a Schlag store proprietor may sell a fur overcoat for $21.50 by representing that the lining is genwine seal, the garment probably stands him in as much as $10.50, reckoning what he paid the tailor for manufacturing and the S. P. C. A. for the skins."

"At the same time, Birsky," Zapp said, "if I would be a reputable merchant, and zoltenly I TRY to be, Birsky, I wouldn't advertise my goods in a paper which also accepts advertisements from Schlag stores, because I figure that if a bargain hunter wouldn't bear a figure that if a bargain hunter. wouldn't know of an advertised store where he THINKS he could get a $190 overcoat for $21, he would go to an advertised store where he really and truly could buy a $100 overcoat for $100, and anyhow $110.50. So you see, Birsky, censuring advertisements is really for the benefit of the advertiser and not for the feller who reads 'em.'

would be, a newspaper couldn't overesti-mate the foolishness of people that read ad-vertisements."

"I believe you," Zapp said. "Now you take me for instance, and I am a pretty hard proposition. If I see in a newspaper that I am recommended to drink sparkling Graperina made from the juice of the ripest Illinois grapes, I take it for granted that on the bottle it says: "The contents of this package is composed from grape skins, package is composed from grape skins, grape stalks, grape boxes and grape barrels, sweetened with sakkareeno and artificially colored and carbonated, contains 8-19 of 30 per cent. Benzo-boracid acid and 6-11 of 70 per cent. somethingate of soda and 4 per cent. alcohol by weight and 33 per cent. by volume. Also I never fail for advertisements of cheap clothing, cheap straw hats, cut price furniture or specials in watches and jewelry, aber when I see in a newspaper a newspaper

CHAROSES SIX ROADSTER made by the Charoses Motors

Car Corporation.

This car has the elegant, refined lines of the most expensive cars.
Distinctive Charoses stream line.
Seats eight and a half passengers and is finished in genwine walrus.
leather with four knife blade pleats fur and otherwise is equal in every respect to any car selling for over $4,250.

F. O. B. Ryan, Jeff Davis Co. Tex.

'understand, it's all I can do to hold myself back from ringing up the New York agent and asking him would he prefer cash feller so that sooner or later, mit kidney pills or oltermobiles, the fake advertiser will get him if he don't look out." "Maybe you're right, Zapp," Birsky will get him if he don't look out."

agreed, "aber it don't make no difference how small and greesartig its circulation look out for him," Zapp concluded.

Remember-Safety First!!

News and Views of Farmer Smith's Rainbow Club

"WRITE ABOUT KITCHENER"

Dearest Children-Your Editor got scolded the other day by a very beautiful and loving critic who accused him of writing too much about HIMSELF. Therefore he has CHANGED THE SUBJECTS somewhat lately. Today he gested the talk for today. The late Earl Kitchener, Great Britain's premier soldier, never married, He claimed that married life and army life did not go together.

Have you ever noticed how, far away from battle, great generals fall asleep? In running hastily over the great generals of history, how many do you find in action, if our memory is correct. Earl Kitchener paid the price of greatness, for he was accused of "never once being right." Now that Mother Ocean has claimed him for her own, he has been proved to have been always right. To be great is to be misunderstood, even as Kitchener was misunderstood by those he tried to serve the most. Surely, greatness has its penalties.

perience) is RIGHT. FARMER SMITH, Children's Editor.

JIMMY MONKEY'S DREAM

Jinmy Monkey was tooking at himself in the looking glass when he happened to think new hungry he was. He scoted downstairs to the pantry and looked and looked, but he could not see aven one piece of pie. "This is serious." he said to himself. Then he had a happy thought.

Going out to the front porch, he waited her the Baby Raboon to come along. Sure enough, in a little while along came the Baby Baboos.

Jimmy closed his eyes and the Baby came and ast down beside him. Jimmy opened his eyes quickly and then shut them, POP! His companion hadn't seen him. By and by Jimmy yawned and stretched himself.

himself.

"Asteep?" asked the Haby Baboon

"Having a day dream, that's all," anguered Jimmy.

"And what's & day dream? I never heard of that kind of a dream," the little fellow looked up at Jimmy in an inquiring man-That's because you aren't a monkey.

Honor Roll Contest

The prizes for the week anding July 1 were wen by the following members:

Blizebeth Garodeiz, East Moyamen-Mary Lebr. Germanstille, Fu., 50

Salis Berlie, North Frankito street, unter statute through arrest, 12 agest asked the very beautiful and loving critic WHAT to write about and she sug-

He was drowned.

were killed in battle? Stonewall Jackson was shot by his own men. Lord Roberts, another flower of the English army, died in service but not

We cannot all be Kitcheners, but we can stick to what we know (from ex-

All monkeys have day dreams and they al-By Farmer Smith "Yes; for instance, I was dreaming that I was so hungry my mouth was dry and my tongue was hanging out like this—see?. Then, all of a sudden, you came along and Then, all of a sudden, you came along and felt very, very sorry for me and you but your arms around me and said:

"'Come, Jimmy, I will see that you get something to eat, and you did. Wasn't that a beautiful dream?"

"Indeed it was," answered the Baby Baboon, "but it won't come trie just like that, because I have nothing to eat—see!"

"Yes-s-e but your mother has a cocoanut cake and."

"But my mother wasn't in the dream."

"But my mother wasn't in the dream," answered the Baby Bahoon.
"Excuse me," began Jimmy. "I will go to sleep and have another day dream and perhaps your mother will be in that dream."

"All right, snooze away," answered the Bahy Bahoon, and when Jimmy closed his eyes the little fellow ran off to get a piece of cocoanut cake and by and by he returned with it. He placed it right in front of Jimmy.

In a little while Jimmy began to stretch and yawn and then he opened his eyes. Looking straight at the cake, he said to companion:
'I dreamed this time that I gave you a

"Retter wait until you get your cake eaten." replied the Baby Baboon. "You mightn't feel strong enough to do it prop-

A Picnic for Twins by Katteriative and Ellication Millers.
Not so long ago we went to our Sunday on oil joints and had lots of fun. We went in a large true, and sang all the way. We wist day in the large true, and sang all the way. We wist form in the payed bean hag, but a case fully and had set sette of good hap. We had los tream, and sojoyed it. THE RAINBOW VIOLET HEARTS

Reading from left to right: Top row—Catherine Cohen and Celia Kaufman; middle row, Pauline Parker, Rose Morrison and Edith Kats; bottom row, Ida Cohen, Essie Wyman, Florence Loundy, Anna Levin, Anna Koval aky and Ethel Radeo.

Things to Know and Do 1. What is that question to which we must always answer yes? (Sent in by Charles a. Who ny sissping para? Potashnick).

The Philadelphia Bapid Transit SAFE-TY FIRST CONTEST opens July 13! $100 in PRIZES to the Balabows. For ruley, see Club News Wednesday, vented the present style of For r. F. (Sout in by Mine Hammah July 12.

Baseball Scores A. M. B..... 31

Batteries-Gross and Pallster; Goldmad and Dagobert.

MERCY ANNE PERKINS AT BOARDING SCHOOL

THE terraced lawn of Miss Stone's School for Girls resounded with the usual four o'clock noise. The green grass and trees formed a happy background to the flook of formed a happy background to the flock of bright colored dresses and still brighter colored silk sweaters. Fifteen more precious moments out in the beautiful open! Who formed a happy background to the flock of noments out in the beautiful open! Who wouldn't laugh and shout and make the most of them?

In truth, though, every one did not laugh In truth, though, every one did not haugh and shout. At 3:45 the mail had been dis-tributed, and as a result three various-sized figures had separated themselves from the gay crowd and were now seated at points in the lawn far apart, eye-deep in freshly opened letters.

May Belle Idelle Smith sat sullenly on May Belle Idelle Smith sat suiteniy on the summer house steps and read again what she had understood all too well the first time. "Dear Mabel: Your letter was received and I am sorry to say I cannet let you do as you have asked. The $500,000 that your uncle left you is not yours yet, and maybe it will never be. The son that he cut off without a dollar and his wife, whom, as you know, he did the same to, have put the case in a lawyer's hands. So you see spending money on an elaborate vacation trip is out of the question. Your mother will need you this summer to help her with the children's clothes. So make up your mind to come home and be a sensible girl. Lovingly.

YOUR PAPA."

May Belle bit her lips and thought hard. Mercy Anne Perkins, stretched out on the green grass, read bewilderedly a second time what did not sink into her bewildered time what did not sink into her bewindered mind the first time.

"Little Girl dear: Daddy has bad news for his big, brave daughter. He won't be able to get home from San Francisco this-whole coming summer and, what is worse, he won't be able to have his own daughter with him. Do you think, dear, that you

Vacation Notes

(To Be Continued.)

Vacation Notes

Mary Wright, of Spring City, Pa., expects to spend some time in Atlantic City this summer. Unfortunately, last summer her trip to the shore was marred by an automobile accident. This makes Mary a bit timid about motor traveling. Little Spring City Rainbows are perfectly willing to spend vacation days at home: they have such every good times. Mary, Catherine Rosenberger and Minnie Goldstein play tennis, "I Spy," "Tag," sew doll clothes and do every sort of a happy thing imaginable.

A Telltale Party By ALICE WILLIAMS.

Once upon a time there was a little boy whose mother told him never to take any of her blackberries without asking. One day she went out and left him alone. He met another boy and they took some berries and used a pound of sugar on them. When the mother came home she took him to a mirror and showed him himself with sugar on his mouth and she told him to stick out his tongue.

tongue.

He said, "Mother, don't ask me: I went into the herries, but will never do it again. I sao now that whatever you do will be found out some time."

and a belt of silk braid to the hip line, trimmed with narrow bands of oder a certified check."

"Yes, Zapp, Birsky commented, "there's just enough of the rube in each and every have marble steps with gold pillows on them, for here's a secret—Daddy thinks he is going to make some money! Good-by and God bless my little girl. DADDY."

A tear slid down the cheek of Mercy

Jerry Patton swung her feet hard against the old stone wall, cupped her chin in a pink little paim and didn't know whether to be happy or sad. Again her eyes traveled over the last paragraph in her mother's letter:

"And now. Jerry dear, about vacation plans—there's a little disappointment for you, I'm afraid. Father won't be with us this summer. He has to spend most of his time in the West on business. Please death for the transport he has thought don't fret, Jerry, because he has thought of something nice to make up for it. He says he just won't let you and Jack and me get lonesome, so guess what! We're going on a combination motor and camp trip, and Dad wants you to bring one of the girls from school with you and Jack to bring one of the boys. Isn't that fine?"

Jerry looked up from the paper. Suddenly the fun of it all dawned on her— And just then the bell that announced the hour of study rang clear and com mandingly.
In trooped the variculored sweaters

From their respective places rose the thre-figures and their letters. The little girl looked at each other, wondered at th-general silence and passed on into the

The Outdoor World

By DOROTHY BOTTE, Lambertville, N. J.
The whole world is a picture to ms, painted by the hand of Our Father. From the verdure of the trees and the grass to the verdure of the trees and the grass to the beautiful blanket of sparkling snow, all things were painted by the Great Artist. Then, too, are the little wood creatures and the large wood creatures and the birds, fam the tiny humming bird to the largest eagle; all these are part of the wonderful picture—the world. Truly, sometimes earth seems as though it must be a real place of Heaven.

FARMER SMITH,

EVENING LEDGER: I wish to become a member of your Rainbow Club. Please send me a beau-tiful Rainbow Button free. I agree to DO A LITTLE KINDNESS EACH AND EVERY DAY — SPREAD A LITTLE SUNSHINE ALL ALONG THE WAY.

Name

chool I attend