If such thoughts are chasing through your mind, why not enter the Evening Ledger photoplay contest?

Should you fear to have the limelight thrown on your ability, then select a friend whom you know is talented in this direction and vote for him or her.

The play in which the lucky actors will appear will be by a Philadelphian and about Philadelphia. Local writers who entered the scenario contest have already submitted a large number of plays. They deal with places which you may pass every day mitted a large number of plays. They deal with places which you may pass every day — Independence Hall, the Phillies' grounds, the postoffice, Rittenhouse Square, Girard avenue bridge, Broad Street Station, the navy yard and other places which have made this progressive city famous. Perhaps in your office, store or shop or in your social club there's a funny fellow whose every move is a laugh. You've often wondered why he didn't go on the stare. Now you can give him an opporoften wondered why he didn't go on the stage. Now you can give him an opportunity to appear in his own home town, for the play will be produced in this city at a theatre where every one will have an opportunity to see it.

Maybe you know a young woman of considerable histrionic ability. If so, get together and vote for her. Take an active interest in it yourself and see that your favorite candidate gets a flying start.

There may be a pretty child in your neighborhood who shows marked ability. Vote for him or her, for it is possible that the winning scenario selected by the judges may require a little girl or boy.
