Activities at Summer Resorts. Children in Chestnut Hill Give Play

Here at home, with the thermome ter in the nineties, one wonders how there can be activities at the various resorts; but then Bar Harbor and North East Harbor and Winter Harbor and all the other Harbors one might mention, are not hot. Think of it, my dears; not hot, like this beloved Philadelphia of ours, and so activities there are and great plans are on foot. Up in Bar Harbor, which really is a young Philadelphia in itself, they have started a Cabaret Club, which will give a series of four dances, followed by some special form of entertainment, next month, The first one will be held on Tuesday, August 8, and will take the form of a "Preparedness Ball," to be followed by a "Neutrality Ballet. The second is to be a Black and White Ball, with a musical comedy afterward entitled "Au Clair de la Lune." One would think that this would be enough in the way of fancy-dress affairs, but on the 22d there will be a fete champetre with divertissements and costume dances of the court of Marie Antolnette.

There will be further excitement on the 29th, when a "Foilies Ball" will be given, with many divertissements likewise, and the production of the George Bernard Shaw melodrama entitled "Passion. Poison and Petrification."

It sounds to little Nancy as if there would be some gay little times at this same series of dances, don't you think? The Edgar Scotts are interested in them, also Mr. and Mrs. Walter Damrosch. I hear also that the Alfred Ansons have given their names as patrons, though they will be unable to attend, as the Hon. Alfred is due to return to England and the front very shortly; in fact, if I am not mistaken, they have already sailed.

The energetic little kiddles of Chestnut Hill are once again charitywards inclined, for yesterday afternon five small girls and boys presented a play in the garden of the Robert T. Bicknells place on Highland avenue, charging the large sum of two cents a ticket. When asked what they were going to appear in, one small boy announced, "'The Lost Boat,' by the famous actor Robert Louis Stevenson," and looked slightly astonished that all present smiled faintly. But he was as much as ten years old, you know, and therefore he puzzled over what had made them snicker, and announced, "I should have said writer," which was pretty good for ten years. The two little Zane girls, Charlie and Lucretia Landreth and Thaxter Bicknell took part, and it was very successful, let me tell you, for a wee bird told me they had made as much as a whole dollar and a quarter.

Eleanor Flood, who is spending the go down to posterity as a heroine of no small fame. This week while bathing in the lake the little Beifield boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dunn Belfield, of Merion, fell into the water and had gone down once when Miss Flood jumped in and pulled him out. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Flood, of Wayne avenue and Hortter street, Germantown, and is a most popular member of the younger set in that locality. NANCY WYNNE.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 14.

THE industry of scashore fashionables apparently knows no limit. Girls meet at the Ostend every morning to make bandages and nightcaps for the soldiers, and they sew away as though their very lives depended upon it. Mrs. J. Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Reed Morgan and Mrs. George Q. Horwitz, who came down especially to add their encouragement to the work of the local branch, were astonished to find 100 cager listeners. The pain room of the Ostend was crowded, and so enthusiastic were the women that a permanent Atlantic City Emergency Aid Committee is being formally organized.

Emergency Aid Committee is being for maily organized.

When they are not sewing for the soldiers or the soldiers' families, the summer residents are busy planning ways and means of varsing funds to carry on the work.
