NO SHARK SCARE AT RESORTS ALONG SOUTH JERSEY COAST

Very Little Apprehension Felt in Cape May Because of Level Beach—Summer Girls in Atlantic City Don Winter Headgear Under Sun's Blistering Rays

CAPE MAY, July 17. SHARKS may be the subject of much talk at other seashore resorts, but owing to the very level stretches of beach here at Cape May even the most timid of bathers entertain very few fears.

There has been almost every form of excitement. It is quite the fad for women to drive their own motors here; in fact, one almost never sees a man driving, because those of them—poor souls—who are not busy driving test pegs "somewhere else" are sweating in their offices.

An unusually pretty woman was driving an equally stunning car on Washington avenue on Friday morning, and in attempting to turn a corner she ran up on the curb and into a pole, and there she stuck. The colored nurse screamed, and for a few awful seconds it was rather exciting, but the cool head of the driver soon set things right, and they went their way in peace, and not "in pieces."

People are pouring in every day, and "For Beach" signs are fast disappearing from the cottages.

Mr. John Stevenson and Mrs. W. N. Stevenson won the golf tournament played by the junior members of the club on Friday afternoon. On Saturday Mrs. Horace Eugene Smith was hostess at the weekly tea at the Golf Club. There was dancing on the porch and the usual putting contest.

Miss Nancy Jeffrey has gone to Buck Hill Falls for several weeks and will join her mother here in August.

Mr. Walter N. Stevenson, who is an active member of the golf club, has issued cards for a bridge on July 25 at the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Goodall, of Chestnut Hill, who are spending the summer at Chelsea, were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. William Morice at their cottage on Beach avenue. Mr. Paul Pearson was also a guest of the Morices. Mrs. Morice and Mrs. Arthur Colahan motored to Chelsea on Friday.

Mrs. Graham Archer has her sister, Mrs. Reid Goodridge, of Baltimore, as her guest at the Stockton Villa. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pequinot, of Merion, have taken a cottage on New York avenue for the season.

Mr. Andrew Wheeler arrived on Friday and spent the week-end with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McKenna are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McGrath and Mrs. James Stokas at their cottage on Columbia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fellows have arrived and will spend the remainder of the season with Mrs. James Stokas at her cottage on Columbia avenue.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 17. NOW that the scorching hot days are here, the summer girl is wearing the latest wrinkle in autumn millinery. By some idiosyncrasy of fashion we wear straw hats the first of January, when snow is on the ground, and in midsummer we don velvet and felt hats. Turbans of ostrich feathers snugly drawn over the crown are a novelty, although not half as novel as the patch-work birds with real feet. Some quilts and feathers are applied to the side of the hat to simulate a bird, and on this perfectly flat surface are perched bird claws. White silk clipped beaver hats of the same fabric as men's silk hats are having quite a vogue. The broad-brimmed hats are giving place to close-fitting feather turbans.

Lieutenant William Adams Hodgman, U. S. N., and Mrs. Hodgman have been visiting Mrs. Hodgman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Willis. Lieutenant Hodgman has gone to Newport to join the battleship Kansas.

The Emergency Aid bridge at the Ostend was a tremendously smart occasion. All the fashionables were there in their best bib and tucker, and the palm room, with its green and white furniture, formed a delightfully cool-looking background for the fetching summer frocks. Several hundred dollars were realized and the affair so successful that a number of other card parties will be held throughout the summer. The next one scheduled will be given at the Marlborough-Blenheim tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Lucille Metzler gave a sailing party from Venice Park last week in honor of Miss Grace Norcross, of Philadelphia, who is the guest of Miss Marie Thomas at Ventnor. In the party were Miss Violet Shreve, Miss Hylon Fritsch, Miss Amy Ware, Miss Josephine Joslin, Miss Verma Joulin, Miss Gladys Murray, Miss Graham and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Metzler.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moore, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jarden and Miss Jarden have taken apartments at Haddon Hall for the remainder of the season.

JAMESTOWN, R. I., July 17. A TEMPORARY lull in social activities was experienced last week, when the 15 dreadnoughts in the bay unexpectedly hauled anchor and spread themselves over the Atlantic for maneuvers. The Casino depends on the naval officers for the dancing men of the town through the middle of the week. And as the pretty debutantes usually outnumber even the large group of officers and petty officers who can get shore leave, it is a blue day indeed when the naval cortege is not here to be drawn upon.

Mr. Charles Morris Wood has opened his Conantville avenue cottage for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Cockitt Lovring and Mr. and Mrs. Gilpin Lovring, of Jenkintown, are occupying their West Shore cottage and will be here until September.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bertram Lippincott, of 1712 Spruce street, have opened their summer home, Meerestuck, on the beautiful automobile road to Beavertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander T. Stade have arrived and will spend the season in their cottage.

WILDWOOD, N. J., July 17. LAST week saw the beginning of the weekly card parties and weekly dances at the leading hotels. Many persons attend the nightly dances at the Wildwood Ocean Pier, which are in charge of Mr. Harry W. Roselle.

Music lovers are given an opportunity to hear some of the greatest vocal artists at this resort in connection with the special Sunday evening concerts at the new Casino Auditorium. Among those who will be heard are Madame Margaret Matzenauer, Madam Melonie Kurt, Miss Kathryn McGinley, St. Johannes Sembach, the distinguished Wagnerian tenor; Mary Barrett and Paul Volkman.

Mrs. H. E. Lewis and her son, Mr. Donald Lewis, of Plainfield, N. J., are registered at the Hotel Sheldon. Mr. and Mrs. William Frost and her son, of Camden, are guests of Mr. E. Frost, of West Montgomery avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dolson, of Camden, have arrived here on their cruiser, the Ulysses. Mr. Harry Hunter is spending the season at the Adelphi-Witte.

Mr. William H. Stemen is spending the summer at the Reading. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Gardner and their daughter, of Philadelphia, are at the Royal Inn.

OCEAN CITY, N. J., July 17. MRS. WILLIAM D. SHEPHERD, of Haddonfield, a summer resident of this city and chairman for South Jersey of the New Jersey Soldiers' Relief League, is organizing a branch in this resort. It is planned to give a concert and dance for the benefit of the league, to be held at the Ocean City Yacht Club the latter part of this month. It is expected that Governor and Mrs. Fleider will be among the guests. The members of the Summer Auxiliary of the First Methodist Episcopal Church are making fancy and useful articles for the bazaar to be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Church on Oak's Pavilion, on the Boardwalk, Friday, July 28. The auxiliary will hold its weekly meeting in the headquarters of the Visitors' Mission Club, on the Boardwalk tomorrow afternoon. The Entertainment Committee for this occasion comprises Mrs. C. H. Shoemaker, Mrs. N. S. Goff, Mrs. Dorey Clarke, Mrs. E. A. Corson and Miss Miskelly.

A women's chorus is being organized at the Ocean City Yacht Club, with a membership of at least 25. Among these will be several of the members of the Haydn Club, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Henry F. Haas and his family, of West Philadelphia, are occupying their cottage among the cottages.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan H. Thomas are among the cottagers.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Miles have opened their Ocean avenue cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green, of Philadelphia, are occupying apartments at 11th street and Ocean avenue.

Mr. E. L. Perry, of Philadelphia, has taken a cottage for the season.

Miss Mildred Lamorelle is here for an extended stay.

Weddings RHODES-BACON. A very attractive wedding took place at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when Miss Louise Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Coates Potts, became the bride of Mr. Merritt Trimble Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rhodes, of Media. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albert E. Clay, pastor of the Church of the Redemption.

Miss Bacon wore a gown of white taffeta trimmed with net and silver lace. Her veil was worn coronet fashion, with a wreath of lilies of the valley and silver lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, which was given in marriage. The bride also wore a wonderful necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, having been in the Rhodes family for 600 years. Miss Virginia Lee Bacon, the maid of honor, wore a most attractive gown of blue taffeta made Watteau fashion, trimmed in silk net and a blue hat trimmed in pink roses. She carried a bouquet of Maryland roses.

Mr. Rhodes had his brother, Mr. William Rhodes, as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Roy Sawyer and Mr. Henry Bevin. Mrs. F. Freeman, of Philadelphia, acted as matron. The reception was given in honor of the bride and groom by her father, Mr. John Freeman Bacon, is a daughter of the late John Francis Bacon and a granddaughter of Dr. William F. Freeman. Following the ceremony a most reception was held at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes left for Lake George. They will be at home after September 1 in Ambler.

FITZPATRICK-POLE. A pretty summer wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pole, 223 West Ontario street, when their daughter, Miss Mary E. Pole, became the bride of Mr. John Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzpatrick. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Bird, of the Temple Baptist Church, 22d and Tioga streets, and was followed by a reception. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Walter Van Selver as matron of honor. Mr. Harry Fitzpatrick, Jr., was his brother's best man. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick left on their wedding journey after the reception. They will be at home in the autumn at 2225 West Ontario street.

Lansdowne Mrs. Lee J. Eastman, of East Greenwood avenue, gave a delightful luncheon Thursday in honor of her mother, Mrs. C. C. Somes, of Washington, D. C., and her mother-in-law, Mrs. E. J. Eastman, of Los Angeles, Cal. Among the guests were Mrs. Benjamin Watson, of Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mrs. Benjamin West, Mrs. Benjamin West, Jr., Mrs. Charles Pierce, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. F. J. Tucker and Miss Elizabeth Tucker.

Mrs. Alexander Kerr, of Drexel road, is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lloyd Jones, of Shepparton, Australia.

Mrs. C. F. Lindenmayer, of Shadeland avenue, entertained a house party over the week-end.
