

TODAY'S BIG FIRE, THE JERSEY GRANGERS' PICNIC AND OTHER EVENTS PICTORIALLY TREATED

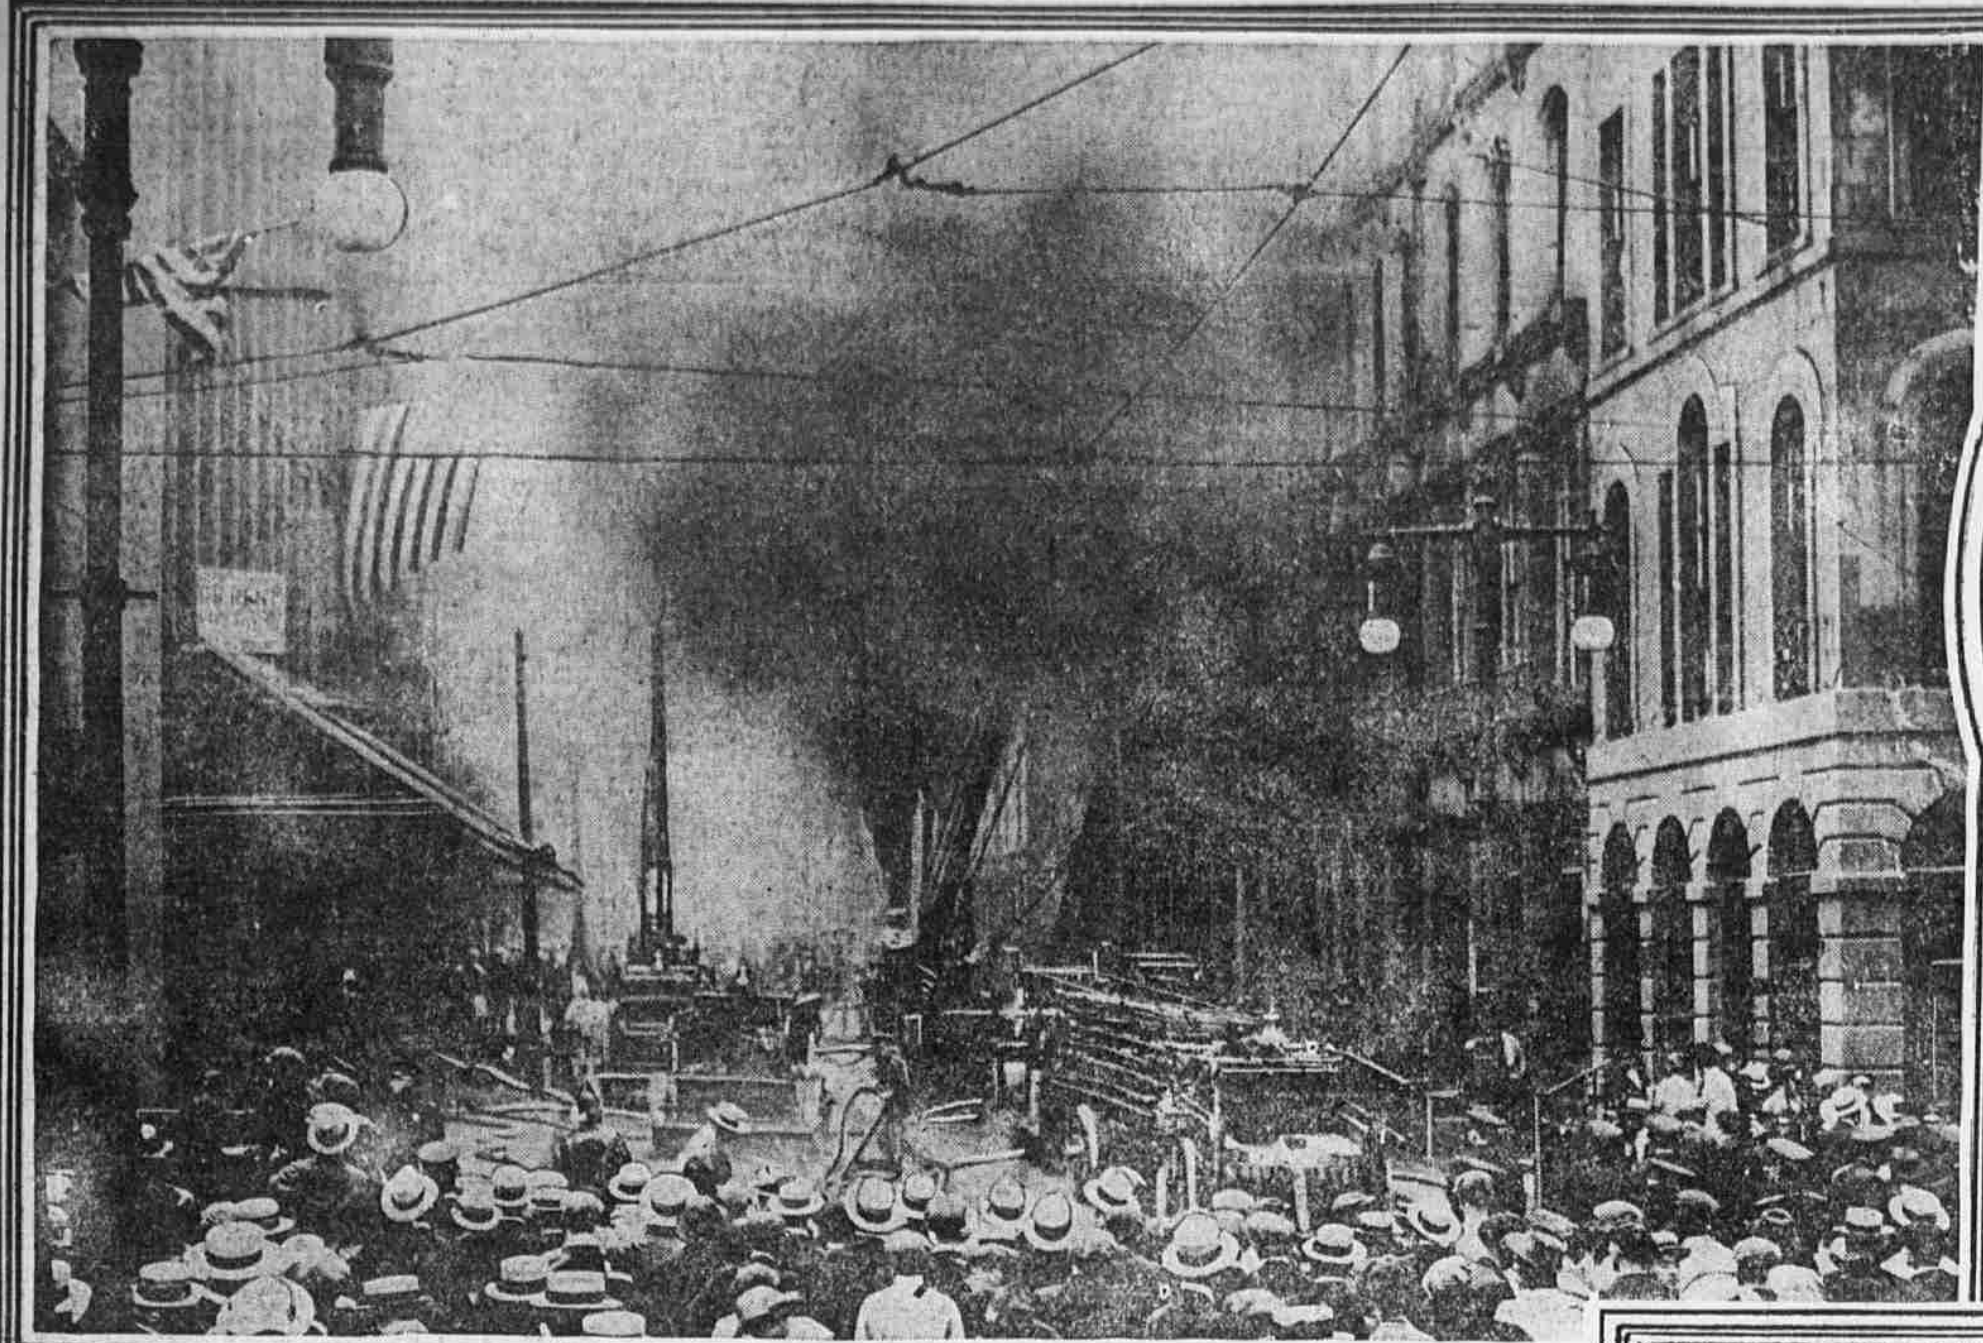

Photo by Ledger Photo Patrol.
TRAPPED BY FLAME, WITH HIS HOSE DRY
This was the plight that one of the firemen fighting the Chestnut street blaze found himself in. He was completely enveloped by flames, but escaped.

Photo by Ledger Photo Patrol.
FIRE WHICH HELD UP THOUSANDS GOING TO WORK
Fire, which threatened an important business district, broke out in the building occupied by the Clawson Company, dealers in spices and extracts, 240 Chestnut street, this morning and stalled cars on Chestnut and Third streets.

PRIZE CORNSTALK OF THE YEAR
George L. Dilkes, of Wrentham, is no dwarf himself, but he looks like a pygmy compared to this 14-foot stalk, grown on Jersey soil.

BLUE-RIBBON ROOSTER OF THE GRANGE PICNIC

JUST ONE OF MANY VEGETABLE EXHIBITS THAT ATTRACTED THE FARMERS' ATTENTION

FEDERAL MEDIATORS WORKING TO PREVENT BIG RAILROAD STRIKE
Martin A. Knapp, chairman; William L. Chambers and G. W. W. Hangar (left to right) compose the national board which is conferring with committees of the managers and the employes' brotherhoods in New York today.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood
DARING FRENCH AVIATOR CAPTURED
Sublieutenant Marchal, after covering 812 miles and dropping proclamations on Berlin, was captured when he was compelled to land at Cholm, Poland, because of engine trouble.