Candidate's Visit to North Dakota Indicates Purpose to "Kidnap" Nonpartisan League

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 10 .- Charles Evans Hughes, from the effete East, is out to capture the farmer vote. The Republican nominee got his first glimpse of hickory shirts and the "gallus" as a presidential candidate today.

Fargo gave him a royal welcome. Farmers from everywhere about came in their automobiles to hear the former Justice of the Supreme Court expound his doctrine of Republicanism.

Particular interest centered in Hughes's appearance in North Dakota today because of the suspicion of politicians that the G. O. P. candidate is setting out deliberately to kidnap North Dakota's famous Farmers' Non-Partisan League.

Up in the Northwest this farmers' alliance represents a new thing in politics. According to ex-Representative Manahan, who stumped North Dakota recently for the league, just before it carried the nomina-tion of virtually all its candidates in both old parties at the primaries, the league will again be successful in the fall elections so far as the State ticket is concerned and will eject professionals from control. Then, ording to Manahan, they will enact laws tate-owned elevators, revision tax laws, mutual insurance against hail and other Progressive plans.

Sponsors for Hughes are hoping that the Republican , candidate will carry such a convincing message to farmers in North Dakots today and tomorrow, that being already well organized, they will swing that strength to the G. O. P.

With such a swing they count on further farm strength from other States.

Hughes has a busy program today and tomorrow. Only two set speeches were scheduled for today—at Fargo and Grand Forks—but it was expected that the candidate would find opportunity for several rear-platform talks. The Governor's voice was improved today and there was less hearseness although he platfolk showed the hoarseness, although he plainly showed the strain of his campaigning. Despite the hot reather the candidate still stuck manfully to his "boiled" shirt, stand-up wing collar and white vest, but in all of his talks the shirt science. shirt, collar and vest wilted away in short

POLITICIANS SHINE AT GRANGERS' PICNIC: JERSEY STARS THERE

FARGO'S HEARTY GREETING MANY SPEECHES MADE

PITMAN, N. J., Aug. 10.—A number of political celebrities of New Jersey came to Alcyon Park today for "politicians' day" at the big picnic of the Gloucester County Grangers.

H. Otto Wittpenn, of Jersey City, Democratic candidate for Governor, and former Senator Joseph H, Frelinghuysen, of Plain-field, president of the New Jersey State Board of Agriculture and a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, led the field of politicians, large and small, who came to meet the Democratic State Chairman Edward E. Grosscup, whose home is at Wenonah, in this county, piloted Wittpenn to the picnic grounds. Senator George W. F. Gaunt, of Mullica Hill, master of the New Jersey State Grange and chairman of the county Picnic Committee, had Senator Freling-huysen in tow and presented him as one of the speakers at what was scheduled as a mass-meeting for the discussion of purely agricultural subjects.

Congressman William K. Browning, Republican, is expected here later in the day from Camden to look after his political fences as he will have to come up before the voters of the First Congressional District in his campaign for re-election again this fall. The candidate who is being most strongly boomed for the Democratic congressional nomination is Charles R. Bacon, of Haddonfield, secretary of the New Jersey Tunnel and Bridge Commission, which is booming the project for the erection of a bridge across the Delaware River between Camden and Philadelphia.

Politicians were by no means the sole attraction at the picnic grounds. Farmers and their families began to arrive early in order to get the choice places in the groves for parking their automobiles" and horse drawn rigs, there being a decided shrinkage in the number of the latter, as a large majority of the grangers turned out in their own automobiles. Some of the farmers drove their large motortrucks, but instead of carting along farm produce they packed them full of neighbors and their families and brought them along for the day's out-ing. At noon sumptuous farm dinners were spread in every available nook in and around the park.

The army of pleasure seekers put in this morning visiting the exhibition buildings and inspecting the exhibits of machinery and farm produce. Many new models in labor-saving devices for the farm are being showing most interest in motors for busi ess and pleasure. With potatoes $3 a barrel at the shipping stations, this being the highest price the tubers have reached in the last three or four years, the grangers could afford today to take more than one look at the tempting array of new models of motorcars which are shown along "Machinery Row." This is also a "money year" for tomatoes and other farm crops, and the automobile and machinery agents know that the farmers are good spenders when they've got the ready

The South Jersey Farmers' Exchange, a The South Jersey Farmers' Exchange, a co-operative organization which operates nearly a score of buying stations in the potato belt, has an attractive exhibit of potatoes and other produce in the grangers' building. In this building the various granges of the county also have a varied exhibit of prize fruits and vegetables, running anywhere from fresh strawberries of the everbearing variety to big peaches and still bigger watermelons and pumpkins. The park began to fill up rapidly with throngs of pleasure seekers around noon

To back up their threat to rock the boat in the coming election, the women have fig-ures which, they say, ought to frighten even the healthiest Democrat. One of them is that they control enough votes in each of the 12 "suff" States to elect either a Re-their actions by ill breeding, discourtesy and gross injustice." Mrs. Hilles said: "The sooner the women of this country, more than half of whom are unrepresented In Government, awaken to the fact that this is the kind of unjust treatment to which their most vital interests are sub-jected, the sooner will there rise, as indeed it has arisen, a tide of action that will put an end to such tactics. Individual liberty is the essential basis of free government, and under our form of govern-ment both political expediency and politi-cal justice demand the national enfran-chisement of women.

"The hopeless task of State referendums has taught women the necessity for con-centration on the Federal amendment. Un-doubtedly enough States are now won to enable the most skeptical observer to see that the political power already in the hands of women themselves is sufficient to win freedom for all women."
