

ILLUSTRATED

Evening Ledger

THURSDAY
August 17, 1916

A DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN A BUSY WORLD GRAPHICALLY PORTRAYED BY THE CAMERA MAN

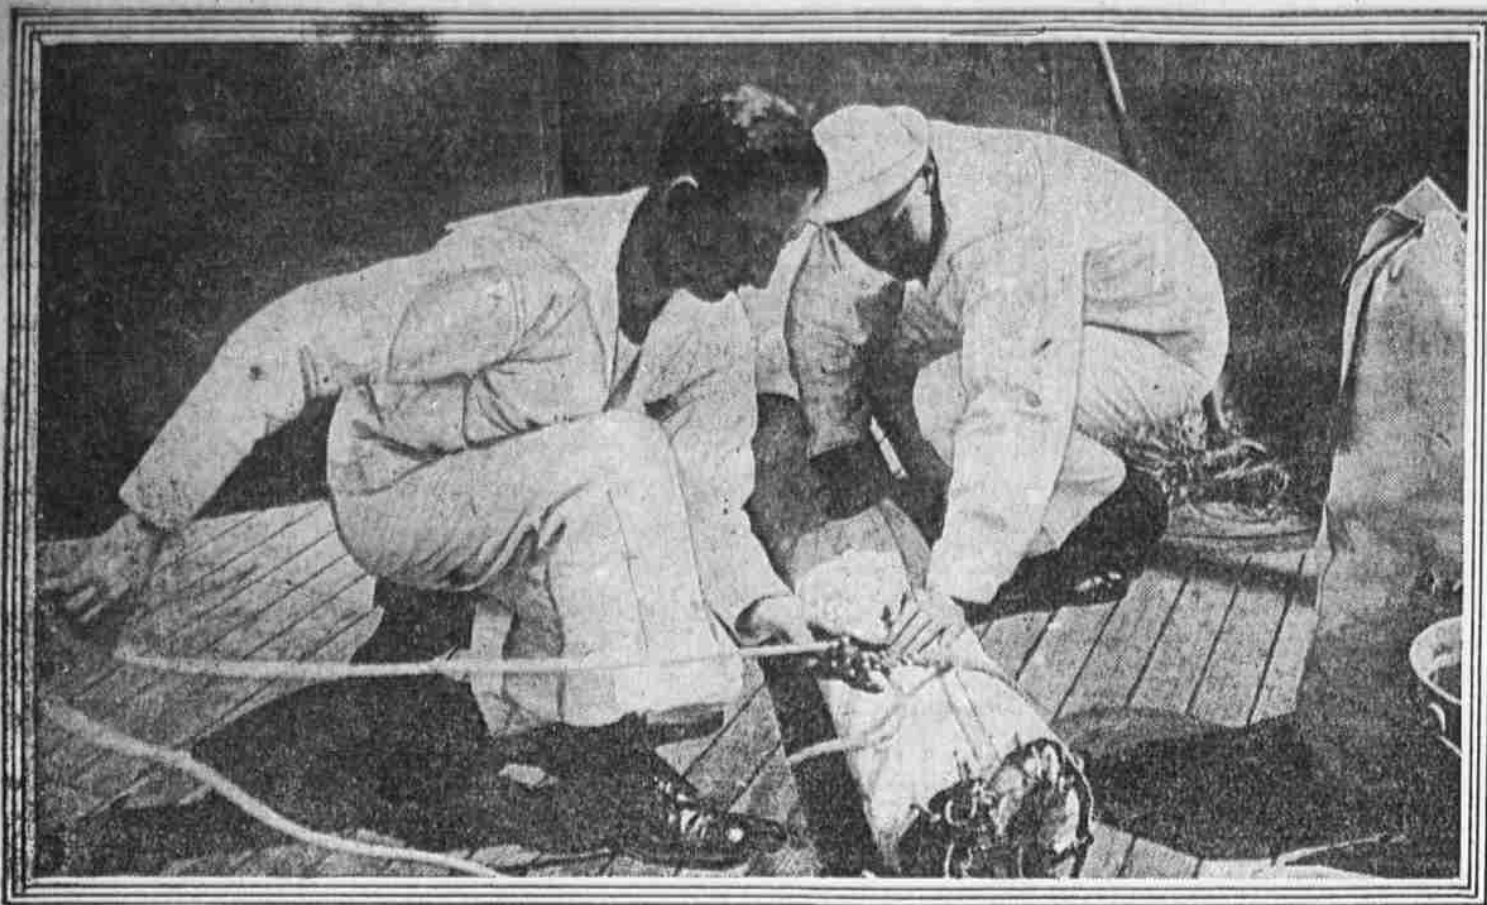

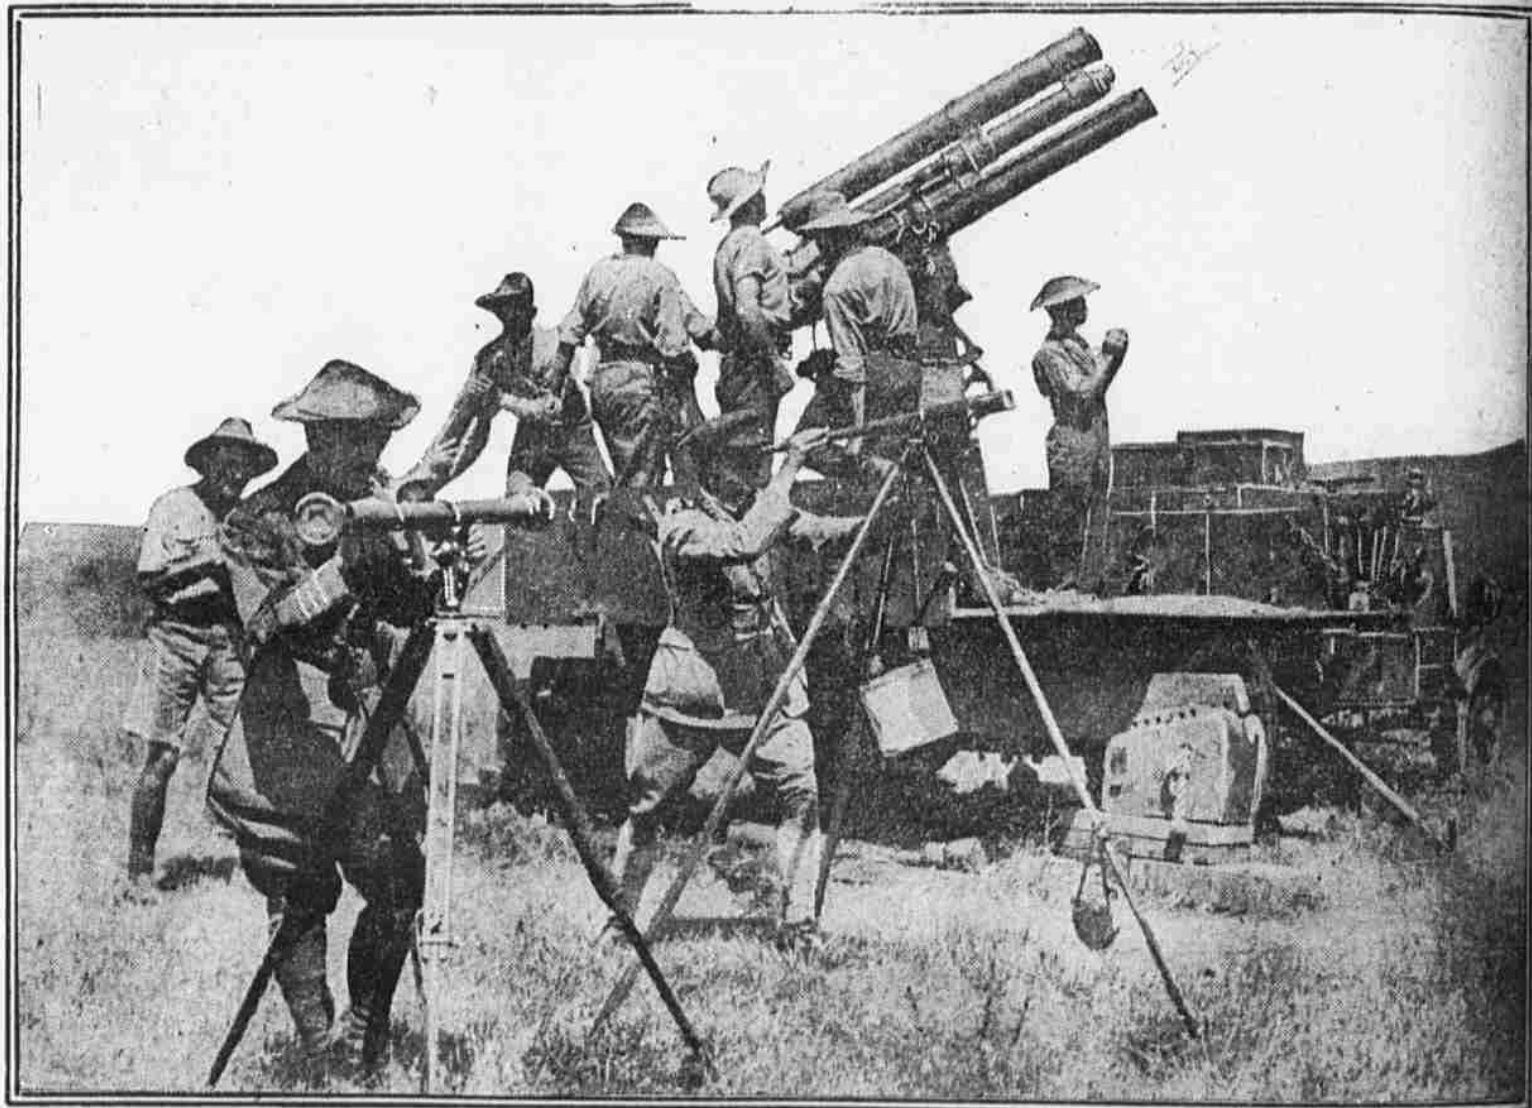

Photo by Bain.
JUNIUS S. MORGAN, SON OF J. P. MORGAN, IN THE FOREGROUND, IS A "ROOKIE" ON THE CITIZENS' NAVAL TRAINING CRUISE.

Photo by International Film Service.
WOMAN, BLIND FOR 65 YEARS, SEES SUN FOR FIRST TIME
Mrs. Josephine O'Farrall, of San Francisco, was operated upon by Dr. Aaron Green and his brother, Dr. L. D. Green, who recently returned from India, where they studied a peculiar form of cataract operation in which the lens of the eye is removed, operated upon and returned to its place. Mrs. O'Farrall now enjoys the beauties of form and color for the first time.

Copyright by International Film Service.
ONE OF THE COGS IN THE IMMENSE MACHINE THAT HAS BEGUN ITS BALKAN DRIVE
Range finders are seen at work in the presence of one of the effective British anti-aircraft machine guns. The weapon is mounted upon a motortruck which was specially constructed to overcome the difficulties of Balkan mountain paths. The photograph was taken near Salonica.

Copyright by I. F. S.
BRIGADIER GENERAL JOHN MONASH
Has the distinction of being the only Jewish brigadier general in the British Army and the first member of his belief to receive the Order of the Bath.

DO YOU KNOW THIS MAN?
He is Horace Trumbauer, one of the city's leading architects, on the way to his office.

A FEW FRIENDLY MEXICANS
The photograph, taken by one of the United States soldiers across the border, shows three little Mexican girls posing on their way from the well to the kitchen.

Photo from Underwood & Underwood.
TEUTON OFFICERS CELEBRATE THE KING OF BAVARIA'S BIRTHDAY
This is a scene in Warsaw during the feast in honor of the aged monarch. In the group can be seen Governor General von Beseler, in charge of the conquered Russian territory; General von Etsdorf, Commander von Kinselsbach and Consul General von Bruck, who was the toastmaster.