Philadelphia Organization Hits Out at Interference of Many Kinds With Photoplay Business

By the Photoplay Editor

Several days ago there appeared in this department an article by Oliver Morosco, in which he declared that the moving picture was already showing signs of degeneration, that its doom was sealed. At the time no detailed answer was made. The Photoplay Editor contented himself with pointing out that while Mr. Morosco's analysis of the situation was correct in his remarks on the great number of bad movies produced, his conclusion was wrong. The next step will be a gradual bettering of Today we give space to a plaint of an-other nature. It is from the exhibitors: the people who choose the films made by the people who choose the hims made by ethers, who give their theaters to these films, who take the chances with large investment. Many persons will disagree with some of their points. The question of quarantine is a vexed one, and no one seems to be able to solve it to the satisfaction of all. The Motion Picture Exhibitors of Philadelphia met recently at the office of the Photoplayer Company, Parkway building, to discuss the matters mentioned below. The following is from the letter calling the meeting: letter calling the meeting:

The motion picture exhibitor of today In waging a losing battle against a host of enemies worse than any business ever before has had to contend with. An unjust censorship, a discriminating quarantine, the low price of admission, the increased cost of films; these and many other conditions are sapping the very life blood from the theater business. These are conditions we must already contend with, but is that the end to the persecution of our business? We don't know. What is to prevent all those persons, official and otherwise, who are trying to regulate our business for us—the business in which we have hundreds of thousands of dollars invested—from fur-ther imposing unjust restrictions upon our theaters, the necessity for which exists only in the minds of the 'regulators'? In-dividual protests are futile. Only in con-certed action may a remedy be found."

Henry Ford purposes nominating Thomas H. Ince as a candidate for the Nobel Prize. in view of the fact that Mr. Ince produced that greatest of all screen spectacles, "Civ-Ilization," now current at the Criterion Theater. At least so it is said. Mr. Ince's masterpiece has admittedly created an epoch in the art of silent drama production, and by reason of that fact has interested many noted advocates of universal peace. It will be recalled that Mr. Ford paid $1000 a seat for a private showing of "Civilization" in Detroit August 4.

E. H. Sothern and Edith Storey are busily engaged on "An Enemy of the King," by Robert N. Stephens. Frank Thomson is di Rumors are flying fast. Don't be sur-prised if Griffith and Ince films land on the open market soon. A tip from Wid.

W. Christy Cabanne, for seven years associated with D. W. Griffith as director, has signed a long-term contract with the Metro Pictures Corporation. His first work on the Metro program will be the direction of Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne In a new serial, as yet unnamed. The serial will be released through Metro in 14 sodes of two reels each. He will start work with Metro early in September.

PHYSICIAN FACING DEATH WITH SMILE

St. Louis Doctor, for Whom Specialists Have Abandoned Hope, Laughs at Fate

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 28.—Literally condemned to death with a cancerous growth in his stomach which is steadily sapping his vitality despite all that medical science has been able to do for him, Dr. Harry J. Cummings, one of the most prominent physicians of St. Louis, laughed in the face of fate here today. He has been doing that every day since he came here early in the summer and took a cotbeen doing that every day since he came here early in the summer and took a cottage in Chelsea in the hope that a change of scene and a new atmosphere might help to prolong his days.

On the porch of his residence, at 2626 Pacific avenue, yesterday the St. Louis doctor, a stocky figure of slightly above medium height, gray of hair and blue of eye, to all indications a man in perfect health, read a dispatch from St. Louis, It stated that he had come here to face a living death under the happlest circumstances possible for a condemned man. s possible for a condemned man, when he had concluded the grid story Doctor Cummings laughed, a full wholesome laugh. It was not the fact that fate had condemned him to face virtually a living death which evoked his humor.

a living death which evoked his humor, but the supplementary statement that to him had fallen the largest fee ever paid a practitioner in St. Louis medical profession. Doctor Cummings was a close friend of James Campbell, head of the North American Company, who died some months ago in Norwich, Conn. The St. Louis dispatch said Doctor Cummings had been paid $40,000 for his services rendered the millionaire

"Mr. Campbell was a friend of mine. We had business relations. The $40,000 paid mar. Campbell was a triend of mine. We had business relations. The $40,000 paid me was in satisfaction of certain claims I had. It was not a professional fee," he said smilingly. Then he added quickly, "I wish it had been."

Doctor Cummings is no sentimentalist. "I am still on my feet," he said. "It is a fact that I have "roughle" in my stomach. fact that I have 'trouble' in my stomach, a tumor the specialists tell we. While there is life there always is hope. Medical science is accomplishing amazing things in these days. No man should give up hope, because life is too rich a heritage to be treated lightly. Worry has killed many

He found no fault with the statement that he is awaiting certain death at his shore home. He confirmed the part which said he was facing fate bravely by smiling while he spoke and declaring that seashore life has many compensations.
