MUTE WOMAN SHOOTS MUTE MAN IN HEART

My Home and My Husband"

TAKOMA PARK, Md., Aug. 30. - Mrs. Cora E. Schnessler, a deaf mute, shot and fatally wounded Gilbert Erickson, also a mute, today and immediately indicated her intention to rely on the "unwritten law" to save her from the consequences.

A dozen witnesses saw the shooting, which courred in front of the postoffice and general store at 7:20 a. m. They seized the frantic woman and held her for the arrival of an officer from Washington, D. C., of which this town is a suburb.

The wounded man, a clerk in the Post office Department, started to run, but fell within a few hundred feet. He was rushed to a Washington hospital. There it was said his condition was critical, the bullet having lodged near his heart.

At the station house Mrs. Schuessler signed this statement;

"I shot Gilbert Erickson and he ruined my home and my husband." The woman's husband, also a mute, said he and his wife came to Takoma Park from Hodgenville, Ky., about a year ago. Until recently they lived with the Ericksons, Mrs. Erickson, like the others, being a mute. Erickson, it said, had known Mrs. Schuess ler in her childhood back in Kentucky.

GIRL'S FATHER SUBDUES | BYBERRY FAIR OPENS HER NEGRO ASSAILANT

Assailant Says Clerk "Ruined Overpowers Giant Who Attacks Daughter After Terrific Fight

> Raymond Richman, of Woodlyne, N. J., battled in a swamp early today with a powerful, drunken negro who had attacked his daughter, finally subduing him and almost drowning him in the muddy water. The negro is William Perry, 25 years old, of 529 Fawn street.

The negro was sent to the county jail to await trial in the courts.

Richman and his 14-year-old daughter Doris, were returning to their home at 221 Allen avenue, Woodlyne, which is a suburb of Camden. They had been attending a social function at West Collingswood.

The negro jumped from the bushes and seized Miss Richman. "I want you," he shouted, clinging to her dress. She broke from his hold, tearing her frock and scream from his hold, tearing her frock and screaming so that she aroused several hundred residents of the village. Meanwhile, her father had been struck by Perry over the eye with a blackjack. Richman beat the negro with his fists and they fought for several minutes on the edge of a tributary of the Newton Creek, each trying to throw the other into the water.

Then Perry ran into a nearly several minutes of the newton Creek, each trying to throw the other into the water.

Then Perry ran into a nearby swamp, Richman following him. He had his daughter's assailant submerged beneath the water and had choked him into insensibility when neighbors arrived, threatening to lynch the negro. The crowd was prevented from carrying out their intentions, however, y the prompt action of several citizen in taking him to a jail. Justice of the Peace Frech commended the father for the courageous defense of his daughter. After the hearing he was treated by his family physician for the injuries the negro had inflicted upon him.

According to Prosecutor Kraft, pawn ickets and other memoranda were found in Perry's pockets, which may ald in the solution of several recent robberies in South Jersey. The negro told Frech that he was so intoxicated that he failed to realize what he was doing when he held up Richman and the girl. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 20 pounds ere than Richman at the last minute the health guardians of
