

PHILADELPHIA'S ACTIVITIES PICTORIALY PORTRAYED BY THE EVENING LEDGER'S CAMERA MEN

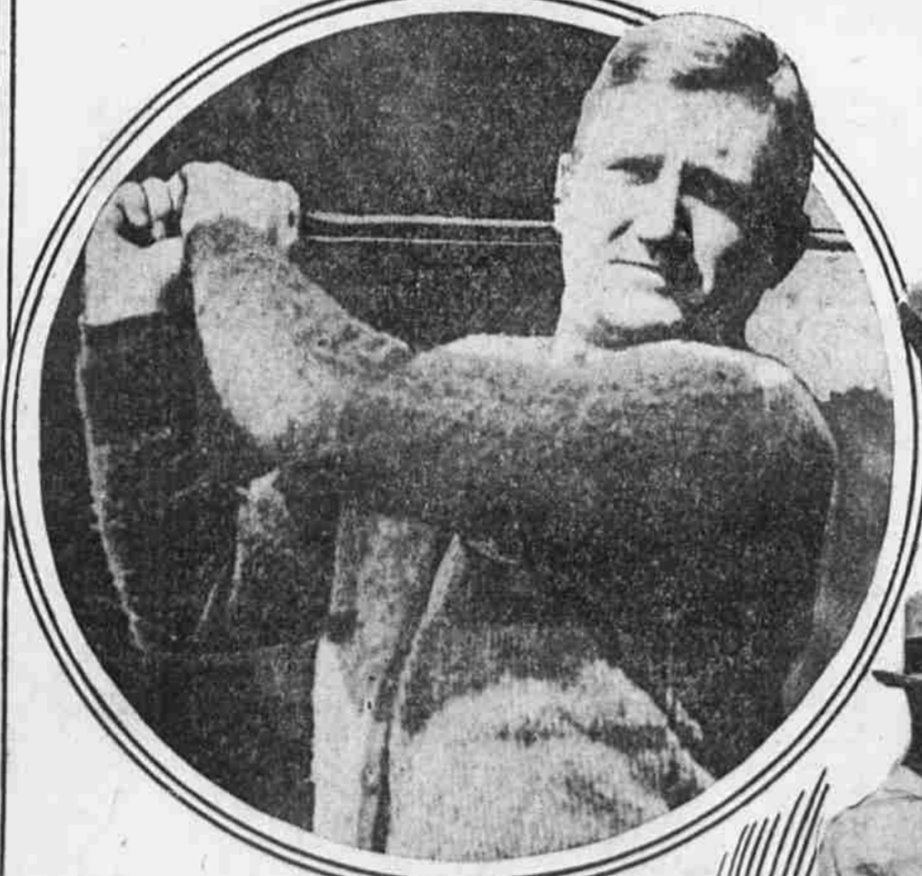

SERGEANT OF RESERVES HARRY L. SHULTZ, WHO IS AMONG THE BLUECOATS VOLUNTEERING THEIR BLOOD IN THE SERUM-SACRIFICING CRUSADE

THESE ARE THE STARS AMONG THE STAR-GAZERS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION AT SWARTHMORE
The Delaware County college is host at the nineteenth annual session of the American Astronomical Society. The photograph, taken in front of the Sprawl Observatory, contains some of the world's most eminent scientists.

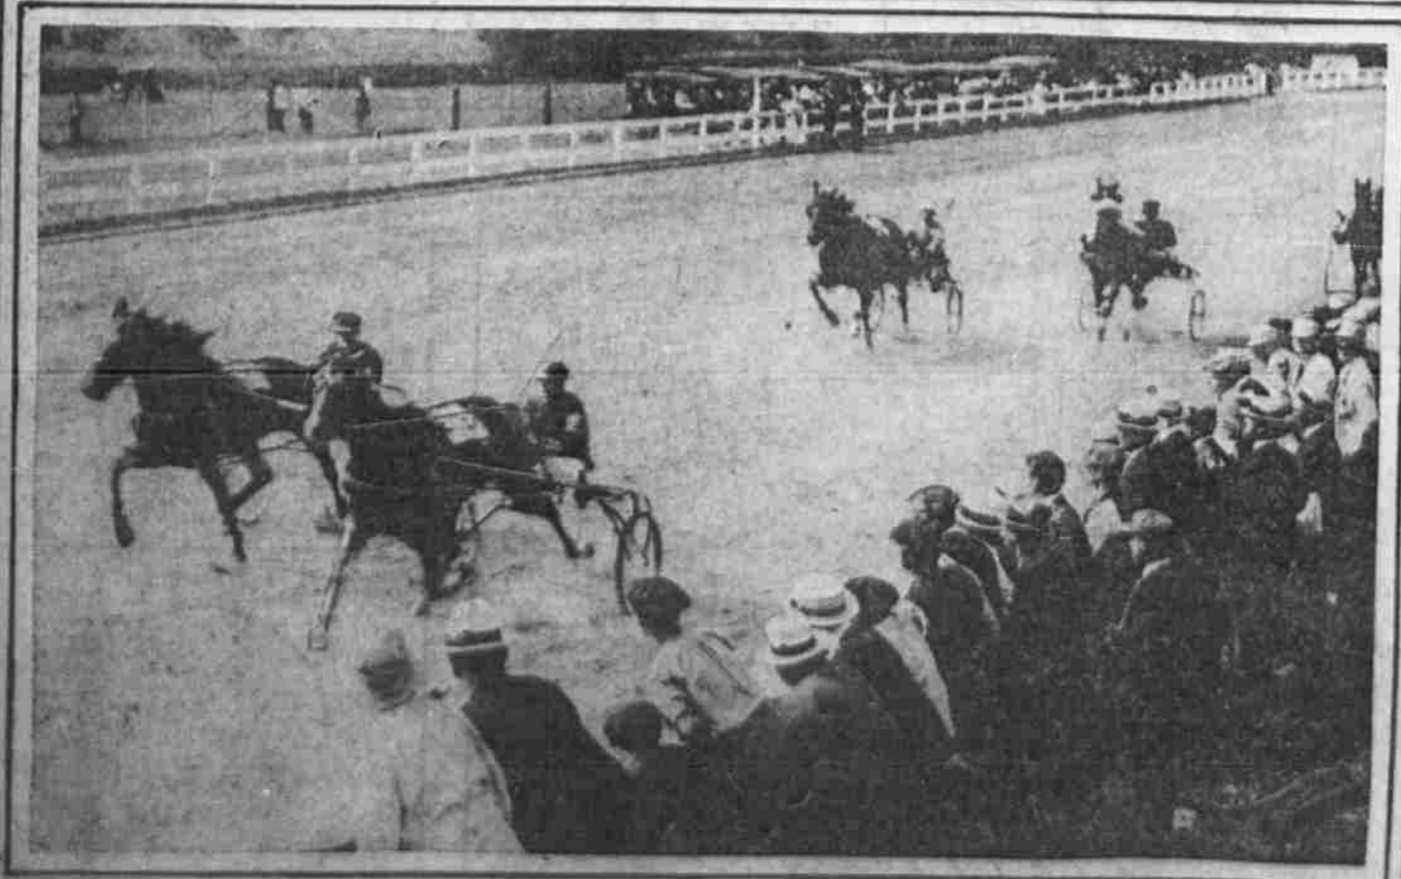

TWO STARS PRACTICING FOR THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP AT MERION
"Chick" Evans, open champion, at the left, is considered the "best bet" to win the tournament which opens Monday, while Philadelphians pin their hope on C. B. Buxton, at the right.

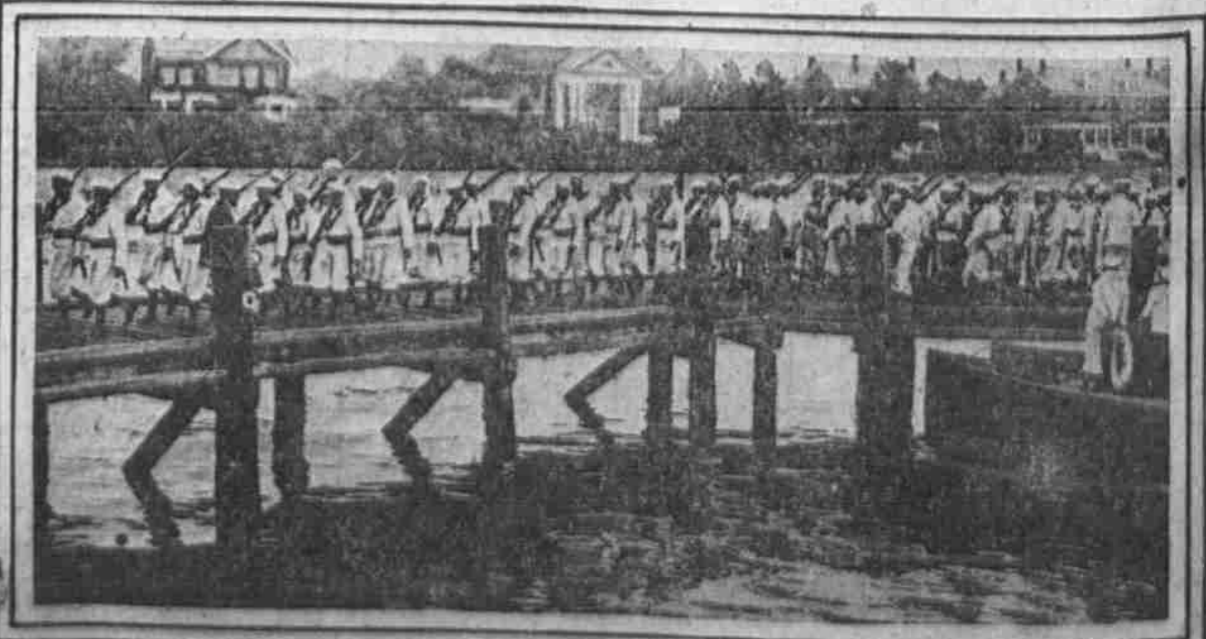

HE'S MINUS A LEG, BUT—
He made the bell ring with every swing of his powerful arm.

"SOME PUN'KIN" ON EXHIBIT AT THE BYBERRY FAIR
The three girls had their hands full holding this huge specimen, which weighs 150 pounds.

A CLOSE FINISH TO AN EXCITING RACE AT THE PHILADELPHIA COUNTY FAIR
This was undoubtedly the most stirring event at Byberry yesterday, the opening day. It is the finish of the 7:22 pace. Winner, Joe Burt; second, Ellen Todd.

PREPARING TO MAN THE BIG NAVY AUTHORIZED BY CONGRESS
Pennsylvania's contingent of Naval Volunteers, which sailed from Philadelphia recently on the citizens' training cruise, is seen parading at Old Point Comfort, Va., after its arrival at Hampton Roads.