

SARTORIAL SUGGESTIONS—MARION HARLAND'S CORNER—SEWING ADVICE—QUERIES

IS THE MODERN BUSINESS WOMAN A ROLLING STONE?

The Fact That She Seldom Signs a Permanent Lease Brands Her With the Wanderlust, Says Correspondent

WHY does a business woman refuse to sign a lease? Why does she prefer to take an apartment by the month, paying a third more for it than she would if she leased it by the year?

rents from month to month the risk is there and the tenant must pay the difference. "Women don't like to sign leases. There's something constitutional about it. They don't like the idea of being tied down to one place; they seem to prefer a feeling of independence to a good bargain. Business women are, on the whole, bluffers, and are too aggressive to be agreeable tenants. They are rolling stones. They would rather put up with make-shifts and change often than feel that they're fixtures in one apartment."

Letters to the Editor of the Woman's Page

Dear Madam—Will you kindly give me some information as to where I can have my hair cut? I've asked many persons, but could not get the desired information. Write for me, please, because I read daily your column and find that you are so kind and helpful.

there are various kinds of parchment, and that the real prepared sheepskin is scarce, but still procurable. Inquire of any reliable artists' supplies dealer.

MARION HARLAND'S CORNER

I SAW a request for government white-wash recipe. Slake half a bushel of good lime with warm water, covering to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve; add a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice flour boiled to a thin paste and stirred in boiling hot; half pound of Spanish whiting, and one pound of glue, previously dissolved in hot water. Place in a hanging pot enclosed within a large one to form a double boiler, filling the outer one with boiling water. Put over a slow fire and let the mixture become thoroughly incorporated. Then add five gallons of water, stir, let stand for a few days. Apply hot. It may be tinted any color desired. MRS. I. H.

city at the time, and was much interested in the poem. E. W. B.

Removal of Mildew To Mrs. R. H. C.: Try pouring kerosene oil on mildewed colored clothing. Wrap up and leave for a while. Then wash as usual. It will not harm colored material and will remove fresh mildew. I cannot speak as to mildew that has been allowed to dry into the cloth. MRS. I. H.

Recipe for Burgoo "Some time ago some one asked for a recipe for burgoo. I am inclosing a copy taken from a magazine. I hope you will print it, since I know there are many who would like to have the formula: (Dus Jaubert's Kentucky Burgoo) Take one gallon of water, and put in a whole chicken and a beef shank, cut up into small pieces. Keep this cooking until the meat is done. Then pour off the water, and cut from the cob, a half dozen tomatoes, one dozen potatoes and three onions, all cut up very fine. This mixture must be stirred constantly to prevent scorching, and water must be added from time to time as is necessary. It takes from two to three hours to cook burgoo properly, and when it is taken from the stove, it should be light brown in color and very thick. "IDA M. F."

"Is It Nothing to You?" "Answering H. C. G.: The lines beginning 'Is it nothing to you, ye that pass by' etc., are used in a passage of dramatic declamation in Gounod's oratorio of 'The Redemption,' translated I assume from the original French. They are based upon a verse in the lamentations of Jeremiah, which reads as follows: 'Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? Behold and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow which is done unto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of His fierce anger. (Lam. I, 12.) C. S. H."

Recipes for Soaps "I send in a few soap recipes, as you speak of making soap at home. Brown two quarts of fat and one pound of resin pulverized; mix and boil half an hour. Turn it into a tub to cool. Soap for cleaning silver: One bar of turpentine soap, three tablespoonfuls of spirits of turpentine, half a tumblerful of water. Let it boil 10 minutes. Add six tablespoonfuls of ammonia. Make a soda of the wash the silver with it. Soap polish: Six pounds of potash, five pounds of grease and a quarter of a pound of powdered resin; mix all well in a pot, and when warm pour on 10 gallons of boiling water. Boil until thick enough. M. A. V."

Makes Powder Stick "If your nose gets shiny in the hot weather and the powder won't stay on, buy a tube of white cosmetic and rub the offending member with it before you put the powder on. Not only will the powder stay, but the shininess will not be in evidence, even if it is wiped away. It might be added that the girl who's embarrassed should use what is known as a brunoise powder, instead of the usual white or rose tint.

They Look Clean "Glass jars are used for storing dry materials, such as coffee, tea, spices, etc. Paste the label inside the jar.

Exercise for Beauty

The woman who does her own housework is usually worn out at the end of the day. She is apt to conclude, therefore, that exercise is not a word intended for her. She could hardly make a greater mistake, however. A woman needs a half hour's rest near the middle of the day. It is true, but she needs also systematic and stimulating exercise.

New Veils

Colored veils float everywhere, and be it said that the floating colored veil is more becoming than the closely drawn one. A veil of leaf-green hexagonal mesh has a sprig of leaf pattern hand-run in the mesh and is worn with a turban crowned with overlapping green velvet leaves. A cerise veil of square mesh with a ramage design has been selected by a woman with perfectly white hair but a charmingly fresh complexion, and the effect is enchanting.

Fish Filets

Fish should always be fried like doughnuts, in deep fat. Bacon drippings are perhaps as good a material as any. Butter should not be used for frying fish. It should be cooked until well browned, and then removed and allowed to drain, but not grow cool, before serving. If the filets prepared as above are cut into individual portions before being cooked, the housewife has no crumpled mass of fish as the result of her labors, but firm, well-cooked squares of a delicious food.

Candied Mint Leaves

Boil together a pound of granulated sugar and a half-cup of water until it is brittle when dropped into water; add the juice of a lemon; take from the fire and stand in a vessel of very hot water. Have the sprigs of mint ready; dip one at a time quickly in the syrup, then spread on wax paper to dry.

Household Lore

Dark-colored goods will not fade if soaked in salt and vinegar in the water. In the home a clothes cooker is indispensable. At times when a large amount of cooking is done it will work overtime, but that of course, without getting out of repair or using up fuel.

THE WOMAN WHO SEWS

Readers who desire help with their dress problems will address communications to the Editor of the Woman's Page, the Evening Ledger.

THE first article of a woman's fall wardrobe is her autumn hat. This most important article deserves all the attention that it gets, for nothing is more fascinating than a new hat. And, by the same token, nothing is more discouraging than an ill-shaped, unbecoming affair of uncertain characteristics.

How any woman can get an unbecoming hat these days is a source of wonder to me. The early millinery openings offer every sort of chapeau, from modest toques of soft black velvet to striking sample hats straight from the Paris ateliers.

This season, particularly, is rich in models of simplicity and charm. Tam crowns are combined with narrow upturned brims. Large Gainsborough shapes curve skyward on either side, for all the world like a French cure's "cicris."

Dear Madam—Will the two-piece skirt remain in style? I wish to make a two-piece wool skirt, but am afraid I will look too stout. Do you think so? My hip measure is 39 inches. Would you put pockets on a skirt of this kind? Your advice will be appreciated. SCHOOLGIRL, Rupert, Idaho.

I do not understand exactly what you mean by a "two-piece skirt." If you mean the skirt with a straight or pointed tunic over an underskirt, I should say that these are smarter in silk and georgette frocks than in heavy materials.

Dear Madam—What kind of a blouse would you get to take away on a wedding trip? I want something to wear with a navy blue coat suit. I am tall and slender and have dark wavy hair. I thought I would like a dark blouse, but have not seen any that were simple enough. Would a light-colored blouse wear better? If your skin is clear—as most Auburn-haired girls' skins are—a chiffon or georgette blouse in citron or mustard shade.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Oh, I would sail the surging main Where fishes swim and pirates rob, And I would do exciting things— But I'm afraid I'd lose my job.

The Shadow Dance She sees her image in the glass— How fair a thing to gaze upon! She lingers while the moments run, With happy thoughts that come and pass.

Like winds across the meadow grass When the young June is just begun! She sees her image in the glass— How true the love her love has won! She sees her image in the glass— She sees her image in the glass. —Louise Chandler Moulton.

Extra Value in Fresh Roasted Coffee

Among our many money-saving specials for this week, the three Coffee values below deserve your special attention. FARMER SMITH'S RAINBOW CLUB

"OH! THAT'S EASY!"

Let me ask you a few questions. I want and I want HARD to make your school days HAPPY. I want to tell you and I don't want any grown person to know about it, either, BUT I wish I had studied harder! Persons say to me: "My, what a SOFT job! You only have to write a few talks and stories and puzzles a week and you are done. Pahaw! some soft job!" Is it? Do you know why people THINK I have a soft job? I will tell you. It is because I am INTERESTED in what I am doing. I HAVE AN OBJECT! Let's see—Baby is playing with his blocks. He has 26 letters. He has what I have—26 letters from A to Z. Has baby an object? Not at all. He plays by the hour and maybe he NEVER makes a word. I have an object in view. I have the exquisite pleasure of amusing you and (I trust) HELPING you. Suppose this year in school you have an object. Suppose you try to be the HEAD OF THE CLASS. Suppose you try never to be tardy or absent. Lessons are sometimes dull because they never seem to get you anywhere. If you do not like arithmetic or spelling or any subject, write and tell me—I will try to make it easier for you. I will try to make it INTERESTING. FARMER SMITH, Children's Editor.

JIMMY MONKEY AND HIMSELF

By Farmer Smith "One, two, three, four. Twice two are four and— "The Baby Baboon was interrupted by Jimmy Monkey, who was saying: "A little boy lost himself and when he found himself, himself spanked him self— "You better watch out or you will get to trouble yourself," said the Baby Baboon. "Ah," began Jimmy, "it is, indeed, wonderful to think of oneself." "Latus Jimmy, it is too hot to talk about yourself or for me to talk about you yourself," said the Baby Baboon. "Now, who started all this talk?" asked Jimmy. "I don't care who started it—I am going to stop it myself." "Now you going to stop it?" Jimmy said to the Baby Baboon.

Pauline Blanchard, Atlantic City, N. J., must have had a "starry" dream, for her existence anchored deep out in the ocean when this picture was taken! We hope that the picture of Pauline, with her dark eyes "starry put" just as long as ever Pauline wants them to— even when she doesn't want them to! Jean Cantrell had the "blooms" the other day because it was cold in Had- denfield, where she lives! The cold must have put a stop to her "starry" dream. This amount of money was realized at the Rainbow fair given under the auspices of the Misses Kathryn Alexander, Eliza Finnessey, Helen Snyder, Dalphine and Hazel Pitts, Edith and Isabelle Leach and Margaret Smith, young ladies who are to be highly commended for their interest in the helpless babies. The books were artistically decorated with the Rainbow colors. The fudge on sale was temptingly wrapped in crinkly, colored "Rainbow" paper! In each piece was attached a little American flag.
