

REPUBLICANS WIN GROUND IN MAINE ON ELECTION EVE

Presence of Hughes Aids in Fight Against Democrats CONTEST FOR GOVERNOR

By PERRY ARNOLD AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 8.—The raucous vote of the campaign spellbinder is resounding throughout Maine today.

Three weeks ago, Republican leaders here admitted they were considerably dubious as to the outcome of the interval a doze of voters who had been loosed on Maine voters.

On the congressional ticket, the First, Third and Fourth Districts are considered normally Republican, and Democratic leaders are not particularly sanguine about them.

In the First, Frank P. Goodall is the Republican candidate. In the Third, John J. Peter is running on the Hughes ticket.

In the Fourth the contest is between Republican Representative Guernsey, practically conceded.

The Second district appears almost certainly Democratic. Its present Representative, Daniel McGillicuddy, is extremely popular.

What makes Monday's election of most interest is the fact that the issues have been almost entirely national. Praise and assault the Wilson Administration has been almost the sole cry of campaign orators on both sides.

The Republicans made an eleventh-hour come today, when they plastered the State with circulars calling attention to one of Democracy's leading lights, who has been aiding the cause in Maine and who wrote for a New York newspaper, that Maine Democrats were too ignorant to learn.

CHARLIE HALL FINDS VARE WAR ON PHANTOM VOTERS 'OLD STUFF'

Seventh Ward Leader Says He and Other McNichol Lieutenants Have Been Purifying Ballot for Ten Years FRAUD 'UNPROFITABLE'

Charles R. Hall, chief clerk of Select Council and a leader of the Republican forces in the Seventh Ward, said today that he and other McNichol leaders have been doing for 10 years what Senator Vare said he proposed to do toward removing phantom names from the voter lists.

The Senator, in a statement yesterday, said he would urge all of his political forces to eliminate illegal voting and do all they could to prevent election frauds in the future.

"Senator Vare does not take me into his confidence," said Mr. Hall, "but I believe he would not come out with any statement declaring his intention to do a certain thing unless it was his purpose to do it."
