Prima Donna on Way East After Enacting Saint's Life for Lasky

By the Photoplay Editor

With the completion of the cinema regacle. "Joan of Are." Geraldine Farrar as left California and is on her way to leave York city to prepare for the seasons concert and opens in which she will take art. Miss Farrar (or Mrs. Lou Tellegen, which, will arrive the latter part of this ather), will arrive the latter part of this seek.

Last season the singer starced in three asky productions, "Maria Ross." Tempation" and "Carmen." Aside from Lina availer, she is about the only faminine peratic artist to make a protracted popular success on the screen. Mrs. Tellegen as been possing for the movies most of the unmer. The nature of the picture on chich she was working was guarded, and he ifile of her new film has just been anounced. The life of the French saint, urned at Rouen, while rich in chrema possibilities, has hitherto evaded the director's ye, curlously enough. The nearest aproach to a treatment of the subject that he photoplay editor recalls was the series f exquisite "visions" interlarded in "Susan tooks the Boat," a Fine Arts feature with torothy Gish.

locks the Boat," a Fipe Arts feature with Dorothy Gish.

Miss Farrar has always been interested in the story of France's "fighting maid," and she assisted Cecil B. De Mille and leanie Macpherson in preparing the scenario. Scenic cities were erected near as Angeles for the production, and thousands of men and horses used. Broadway, and perhaps Philadelphia, will see "Joan of Arc" this autumn.

The daughter of Clay M. Greene, well wn in Philadelphia as a script writer Lubin—Miss Helen Greene—is at work a serial, "Perils of Our Girl Reporters." or the Niagara Film Service. Earl Met-alf, former leading man at Lubinville and lirector of Billie Reeves, is playing the trincipal mais role. Miss Greene, a reruit from the legitimate, where she played fouth in "Experience," made her film debut with Lubin.

Has a really formidable rival to the ubiquitous Charles Chaplin been found? Forthcoming releases of the Essanay Company will answer the question. That firm has engaged the famous French comedian and pantomimic artist, Max Linder, and French journais estimate his salary while working in "the States" on an amusingly titanic scale. Before Ford Sterling, Roscoe Arbuckle and John Bunny were heard of, Max was making Americans laugh. He was Pathe's great comic card back in 1910 and 1911. Indeed, some of his "business" set present-day fashions, and has survived present-day fashions, and has survived "The Count" and other modern films. der's facial grotesquerie is, or used to be, both subtle and broadly droll. Now for the farceurs' butle!

Oscar C. Apfel, who has directed nine of the fifteen William Farnum photoplays, was burned severely last week in directing "Big Bill's" latest western drama. The accident occured in the Silver Lake district, about 200 miles northeast of Los Angeles, whither the William Fox director and photoplayers had gone for "atmosphere." The nearby lake proved an efficacious extinguisher.

Sidney Olcott, one of the best of contemdirectors, has left the Famous
