EVENING LEDGER-PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1916

NCY WYNNE FINDS FEWER BUDS THAN THOSE OF LAST YEAR

the Onslaught of Debutantes Will Not Be So Great as Those of Previous Seasons-About Fifty as Compared to Eighty in 1915 will be many entertainments. Is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. Mees, for several days at Ventner. a year filled with as much gayety for, do you realize it, there were whty to eighty-five buds in 7915as compared with about fifty this so far as I know at this moment. all I can tell, however, some thirty-may crop up before the time is past revery day with one, two or three to my nothing of dances, dintheaters and luncheons. However, are not many large balls on the such as have been the order te day for several seasons past. Last was Eleanor Cuyler, or Eleanor or Cornelia Leidy, or Lina Norris, tana Gowen, or Marion Grant, or a Page, or Marjory Taylor. And the year before; think of the balls for Cordella Biddle Duke alone! ir it seems as if Lucile Carter and Huhn would lead in the question is though plenty of smaller dinner-will be given for others. am glad to hear that Mrs. Hutchisen ill again have her supper club the same committee as last year ne Bellevue-Stratford, Mrs. Scott down at Cape May for several with her beautiful little son, Dallas Scott, who is now eight years and has so far outgrown the attack antile paralysis of five years ago show only a little lameness in one He is a darling child, and both Mr. m. Scott are perfectly devoted to and spend much of their time in entry or by the sea, as the dochave prescribed very pure air for Mrs. Scott's club has become so r, it has been decided to give dances in each series, so the first will start early in November. They be held as last year in the ballroom te Bellevue-Stratford. The floor there out excellent and the attendance and ent all that one could possibly Mrs. Scott, I hear, is planning to rarious special dancers and stunts min evenings of the series, Already are number of persons are sending ir names for admission to the exre affairs.

tam and Audrey Kane are doing r interesting things this year, as red with some girls who still inon going out: Miriam, if you please, still in Paris, where she is doing relief In a letter received from her reshe says: "Paris looks just like rge city now that things are goon just the same as before the war. is an entire change of spirit, as ed with the first months of fight-Audrey, I understand, has entered ans Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore te the trained nurse's course. She ts the work not so awfully hard and crasy about it. That society is not in as compared with learning to help ers is evidently the opinion of both these attractive girls. Let us hope otha will follow their example. NANCY WYNNE.

Personals

in Alfred E. Norris is giving a house sty over the week-end at her villa at Nar-nganett Pier in honor of her daughter, is Derothy Norris. Mrs. Norris will give we tonight for her guests.

and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury left

Mins Mabel C. Linton, of Washington, D. C., has been the guest of Mrs. F. E. Bland at Logan.

Mr. Roy Marlow, of Eikins Park, has re-turned from Washington, D. C., where he has been spending a fortnight.

Mr. Vincent P. Brecht, of Ashbourne, has returned from a trip to California,

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wallis. Mr. Allen Wallis, Jr., Miss Jane Wallis and Miss Prudence Wallis, of Woodland avenue. Wyncote, who have been spending the summer at their cottage in Ocean City, N. J. will return shority. J., will return shortly.

North Philadelphia Miss Ann F. Murphy, of 1819 Oxford street, announces the engagement of her niece, Miss Gertrude McClellan Murphy, to Mr. Edward J. Grubb, Mr. and Mrs. J. Heas, of 1633 North Thirty-third street, entertained last Satur-day evening at their home to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Christine. of 2043 North Tweifth street, have issued in-vitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Natalis Evelyn Christine, to Mr. Ed-ward A. Kiehl, on Tuesday, October 10, at 7 o'clock, in the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Park avenue and Norris street.

Lansdowne

LiamSubwite Miss Florence M. Clarke, of Runnemede avenue, entertained a few Wellesley College classmates at luncheon last Friday in honor of Miss Catherine Oakes, of Boston, Mass. Among those present were Miss Mary W. Chambers, of Moorestown, N. J.; Miss Caro-line Miller, of Chestnut Hill, and her guest, Miss Anna Peyton, of Paterson, N. J.; Mrs. J. Gordon Gilkey, of Haverford, Pa., and Miss Ruth Powell, of Philadelphia.

Frankford Mrs. Edward A. Treacy, of Olney, is visiting Mrs. Thomas F. Dunn, of Pitta-burgh, for a month.

South Philadelphia

The Idle Hour Sewing Circle held its first meeting Thursday evening at the home of Miss Sarah Monroe, 218 South street. Election of officers took place and Miss Retta Berkowits, of 1330 North Seventh street, was elected president; Miss Lottie Ratner, of 224 Poplar street, secretary; Miss Bessie Goodman, of 409 South Third street, vice president, and Miss Sarah Monroe, treasurer.

Mr. Edward Warner entertained in hono

Mr. Edward Warner entertained in honor of Miss Anna Reichler at his home, 439 Ritner street, this week. Among those present were Miss Bella Cupperman, Miss Anna Cupperman, Miss Gertrude Fen-drick, Miss Bessle Fineberg, Miss Dora Goldatein, Miss Fannie Gotfreid, Mrs. God-isfield, Miss Anna Goodman, Miss Ray Ginsberg, Miss Rose Harris, Miss Ray Is-daner, Miss Fannie Krasnick, Miss Bessle Linoff, Miss Augusta Lennard, Miss Anna Reichler, Miss Elizabeth Rosenberg Miss Linoff. Miss Fainte Krashick, Miss Bessie Linoff. Miss Fainte Krashick, Miss Anna Reichler, Miss Elizabeth Rosenberg, Miss Ethel Resnick, Miss Anna Samuels, Miss Tanchner, Miss Sarah Valensick, Miss Dela Wainberg, Miss Anna Werner, Miss Ray Young, Miss Ida Yougie, Miss Katherine Yougie, Mr. Leon Beninfield, Mr. Edward Cinsloov, Mr. Harry Collons, Mr. Samuel Dandy, Mr. Samuel Fendrick, Mr. Freed-man, Mr. Albert Gerber, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Samuel Gotfreid, Mr. Harry Godisfield, Mr. Samuel Gotfreid, Mr. Samuel Goldman, Mr. Maurice Goldstein, Mr. Leon Gumbinner, Mr. Benjamin Hoffman, Mr. Dewy Holts-man, Mr. Manuel Ladenson, Mr. William Notter, Mr. Benjamin Ranick, Mr. Harold Roisner, Mr. John Taschner, Mr. Herman Tucker, Ms Louis Weintraub, Mr. Edward Werner, Mr. Joseph Werner and Mr. Jo-seph Young.

seph Young.

The sewing circle of the Orion Club held

FIRST OF SEASON'S LARGE WEDDINGS

Marriage of Miss Saunders to New York Man Picturesque Event of Early Fall

An interesting autump wedding took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Asaph's Church, Bala, when Miss Emily Beatrice Saunders, daughter of Mrs. Walter B. Saunders, became the bride of Mr Charles Callahan Perkins, of New York. The Rev. Prescott Evarts, rector of Christ Church, Cambridge, an uncle of the bridegroom, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Harrison B. Wright.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Lawrence Saunders, 2d. wore an exquisite gown of ivory white satin and tulle trimmed with of ivory white satin and tuile trimmed with lace worn by her mother at her wedding. Miss Margaret R. Gest, a cousin of the bride, attended her as maid of honor. Mr. Louis A. Perkins acted as his brother's best man, and the ushers included Mr. Maxwell E. Perkins, another brother; Mr. Robert Wheelwright and Mr. Putnam Mor-rison, of New York, and Mr. Sidney G. Gest, the bride's cousin.

Only the immediate families and a few intimate friends were present at the cere-mony, which was followed by a large re-ception at 4:30 o'clock at Ivy Lodge, the home of the bride's mother, in Overbrock. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins will be at home after November 1 at 157 East Eighty-first street, New York, and at Idlewild Farm, Bryn Mawr, next June. STEELE-HEARNE

STEELE-HEARNE The marriage of Miss Rebecca W. Steele, of Wayne, and Mr. Thomas W. Hearne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hearne, of Wayne, took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Charles Armstrong, reo-tor of St. Mary's Memorial Church, Wayne, officiated, at the home of Mr. Charles T. Thomas, in Whitford, Pa. Owing to a recent death in the bride's family, the wed-ding was very quiet, only the members of the immediate families being present. The bride was attended by Miss Jans G. Thomas, as maid of honor, while Mr. John Mont-gomery Forster, of St. Davids, was beat man. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hearne will live at the Louella Apart-ments, Wayne. ents, Wayne

CAMPBELL-SEXTON

The marriage of Miss Ada Barbara Sex. ton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sex. ton, of 6042 Catharine strest, and Mr. Samuel Rudolph Campbell, of 747 South Sixtleth strest, took place yesterday mon-ing at St. Stephen's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Fortieth street and Powelton ave-Church, Fortista areast and Fowerton ave-nue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. W. Kretschmann. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mra George W. Weldy as matron of honor, and Mr. William Campbell acted as best man.

PURCELL-CONWAY

The marriage of Miss Eleanor M. Con-way, of 2229 North Seventeenth street, sister of Mr. John Conway, of Jersey City, and Mr. Thomas J. Purcell was solemnized

The WINGS By Louis Tracy

<section-header><section-header><text><text><text><text><text>

CHAPTEB VIII-(Continued)

THEN you will be gratified promptly These are our sentinels. Come with me o allot his post to the most distant one." He picked up a faggot with its queer attachment, shouldered a Lee-Metford, and smiled when he saw the businesslike air with which Iris slung a revolver around her waist. They walked rapidly to Smugglers' Cove and the girl soon perceived the ingenuity of and the girl soon perceived the ingenuity of his automatic signal. He securely bound the block of wood to a tree where it was hidden by the undergrowth. Breaking the builtet out of a cartridge, he placed the blank charge in position in front of the striker, the case being firmly clasped by a bent nail. To the trigger, the spring of which he had eased to a slight pressure. the attached a piece of unraveled rope, and this he carefully trained among the trees at a height of six inches from the ground, using as carriers nails driven into the trunks which of Iris's dress against the taut cord exploded the cartridge. "There!" he exclaimed, exultantly. "When I have driven stakes into the sand when I have driven stakes into the sand to the water's edge on both sides of the cove, I will defy them to land by night without giving us warning." "Do you know," said Iris, in all serious-ness, "I think you are the cleverest man in the world."

The ultimate result was that a mer

"My dear Miss Deane, that is not at all a trades unionist sentiment. Equality is the keynote of their propaganda." Nevertheless he was manifestly pleased by the success of his ingenious contrivance.

and forthwith completed the cordon. To make doubly sure, he set another snare further within the trees. He was certain the Dyaks would not pass along Turtle Beach if, they could help it. By this time

Beach if, they could neep it. By this time the light was failing. "That will suffice for the present," he told the girl, "Tomorrow we will place other sentries in position at strategic points. Then we can sleep in the castle with toler-able safety." Then

By the meager light of the tiny lamp they labored sedulously at the rope ladder until Iris's eyes were closing with sheer wearinees. Neither of them had slept much during the preceding night, and they were both completely tired. It was with a very weak little smith

It was with a very weak little smile that the girl bade him "good-night," and they were soon wrapped in that sound slum-ber which comes only from health, hard work and wholesome fare.

The first streaks of dawn were tipping the opposite crags with reseate tints when oused by what he the sailor was suddenly

Then, before she could expostulate, he decended, this time for the rifes. These he hastily slung to the rope, again swarmed up the pole and drew the guns after him with infinite care.

Even in the whirl of the moment he no-ticed that Iris had managed to partially Even in the whirl of the moment he ne-theed that Iris had managed to partially complete her costume. "Now we are ready for them," he growh-ed, lying prone on the ledge and earerly scanning both sides of Prospect Park for a glimpse of their assallants. For two shivering hours they waited there, until the sun was high over the cliff and filled sea and land with its bright-ness. At last, despite the girl's tears and prayers, Jenks insisted on making a recon-malssance in person. Let this portion of their adventures be passed over with merciful brevity. Both watch guns had been fired by the troupe of tiny wou-wou monkeys! Iris did not know whether to laugh or cry, when Jenks, with much difficulty, lowered her to mother earth again, and marveled the while how he had managed to carry forty feet into the all a young woman who weighed so solidly. They est down to a based been benefit benefit. he had managed to carry forty feet into the air a young woman who weighed so solidly. They sat down to a belated breakfast and Jenks then became conscious that the muscles of his arms, legs and back were aching hugely. It was by that means he could judge the true extent of his achieve-ment. Iris, too, realized it gradually, but, like the Frenchwoman in the earthquake, she was too concerned with memories of her state of dishabilie to appreciate, all at once, the incidents of the dawn.

CHAPTEB IX

THE SECRET OF THE CAVE THE sallor went after those monkeys in a mood of relentless severity. Thus far, the regular denizens of Rainbow Island had dwelt together in peace and mutual goodwill, but each diminutive wou-wou must be taught not to pull any strings he found tied promiscuously to trees or stakes. As a pre liminary essay, Jenks resolved to try force combined with artifice. Falling complete success, he would endeavor to kill every moress, he would endeavor to kill every monkey in the place, though he had in full measure the inherent disilke of Anglo-India measure the inherent disilke of Anglo-India to the slaying of the tree people. This, then, is what he did. After filling a biscut tin with good-sized pebbles, he donned a Dyak hat, blouse and belt, rubbed earth over his face and hands, and proceed-ed to pelt the wou-wous mercilessly. For more than an hour he made their lives mis-orable, until at the merce sight of him the more than an hour he made their lives mis-erable, until at the mere sight of him they fied, shrieking and gurgling like a thousand water bottles. Finally he constructed sev-eral Dyak scarecrows and erected one to guard each of his alarm guns. The device was thoroughly effective. Thenceforth, when some adventurous monkey—swinging with hands or tail among the treetops in the morning search for appetizing nut or luscious plantain—saw one of these fear-some bogies, he raised such a hubbub that all his companions scampered hastily from all his companions scampered hastily from the confines of the wood to the inner fast-Desses

In contriving these same scarecrows-which, by the way, he had vaguely intended at first to erect on the beach in order to frighten the invaders and induce them to samments that covered her. He explained to the protecting girl, as he ran with her to the ledge with the ald of the pole and the rope placed there the add of the pole and the rope placed there the northur the the samped. In calmer moments he would have abrunk from its performance, if only on the score of danger to the precious burden he carried. Now there was no times for thought. Up he had earned might be equally noxious to some peaceable fishing a community on the was used to the index and taking a turn of the rope over his timpet, and taking a turn of the rope over his tricht wright triumphant, he reached the isdge and was able to pass his instructions to Iris to travel to the was as fair lodged on the broad plat.

That night they finished the rops ladder. Indeed, Jenks was determined not to retire to rest until it was placed in situ; he did not care to try a second time to carry Iris to that elevated perch, and it may be re-marked that henceforth the girl, before go-ing to sleep, simply changed one ragged dress for another.

One of the first things he contemplated was the destruction, if possible, of the point on the opposite cilf which commanded the ledge. This, however, was utterly imprac-ticable with the appliances at his command. The top of the rock sloped slightly toward the west, and nothing short of dynamite or regular quarries constitues would be or regular quarrying operations would ren der it untenable by hostile marksmen.

During the day his Lee-Metfords. During the day his Lee-Metfords, at ninety yards' range, might be trusted to keep the place clear of intruders. But at night—that was the difficulty. He partially solved it by fixing two rests on the ledge to support a rifle in exact line with the center of the enemy's supposed position, and as a variant, on the outer rest he marked lines which corresponded with other sections of the entire front available to the foe.

the entire front available to the foe. Even then he was not satisfied. When time permitted he made many experiments with ropes reeved through the pulley and attached to a rife action. He might have succeeded in his main object had not his thoughts taken a new line. His aim was to achieve some method of opening and clos-ing the breech-block by means of two ropes. The difficulty was to secure the preliminary ing the breech-block by means of two ropes. The difficulty was to secure the preliminary and final lateral movement of the lever bolt, but it suddenly occured to him that if he could manage to convey the impression that Iris and he had left the island, the Dyaks would go away after a fruitless search. The existence of ropes along the chanical scheme — would betray their whereabouts, or at any rate excite dan-gerous curiosity. So he reluctantly aban-domed his original design, though not wholly, as will be seen in due course. In pursuance of his latest idea he sed-wholly, as will be seen in due course. In pursuance of his latest idea he sed-ulously removed from the foot of the cliff all traces of the clearance effected on the ledge, and, although he provided supports for the tarpaulin covering, he fild not adjust it. Iris and he might lie perdu there for days without their retreat being found out. This development suggested the ne-cessity of hiding their surplus stores and ammunition, and what spot could be more suitable than the cave?

So Jenks began to dig once more in the So Jenks Degan to dig once more in the interior, laboring manfully with pick and shovel in the locality of the fault with its vein of antimony. It was thus that he blundered upon the second great event of his life.

Rainbow Island had given him the one thing a man prizes above all else—a pure yet passionate love for a woman beautiful alike in body and mind. And now it was to endow him with riches that might stir

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

OLD YORK BOAD

For the salid, unsindful of than providing the requisite ing and deiving with the ens-all his act ons, suddenly stry of simost virgin gold. ing and dety of almost virgin gold. To facilitate the disposal at a distance of the flaturbed debris, he threw each shorel-ful on to a canvas sheet, which he subse-quently dragged among the trees in order to dislodge its contents. After doing this feur-times he noticed certain metallic specks in the fifth load which recalled the presence of the antimony. But the appearance of the sixth cargo was no restarkable when brought out into the semilar that it invited closer inspection. Though his knowledge of geology was slight—the half-forgotten forced to believe that the spectmens he hundled so dubiously contained ne ther cop-per not from pyrites but gittering yellow sold. Their weight, the distribution of the metal through quarts in a transition state heween an oxide and a teiluride, compelled recognition. recognition

Somewhat excited, yet half skeptical, he returned to the excavation and accoped out yet another collection. This time there could be no mistake. Nature's own alchemy had fashioned a veritable ingot. There were small lumps in the ore which would need alloy at the mint before they could be found as anyoriging no the form dreat saued as sovereigns, so free from dry vere they Iris had gone to Venus's Bath, and would be absent for some time. Janks sat down on a tree stump. He held in his hand a small bit of ore worth perhaps twenty pounds sterling. Slowly the conjectures already pieced together in his mind during early days on the Island came back to him.

days on the island came back to him. The skeleton of an Englishman lying there among the bushes near the well; the Golgotha of the poison-filled hollow; the mining tools, both Chinese and European; the plan on the plece of tin—sh. the plece of tin! Mechanically the sallor produced it from the breast pocket of his Jersey. At last the mysterious sign "31-1" revealed its significance. Measure thirty-two feet from the mouth of the tunnel, dig one foot in depth, and you came upon the mother lode of this gold-bearing rock. This, then, was the secret of the cave. The Chinese knew the richness of the de-

The Chinese knew the richness of the de-posit, and exploited its treasures by quar-rying from the other side of the hill. But their crass ignorance of modern science led to their undeling. The accumulation of lib-erated carbonic acid gas in the workings killed them in scores.

killed them in scores. They probably fought this unseen demon with the tenacity of their race, until the place became accursed and banned of all living things. 'Tet had they dug a little ditch, and permitted the invisible terror to flow quietly downward until its potency was dissipated by sea and air, they might have mined the whole cliff with impunity. The unfortunate unknown, J. Sk-be of the whitened bones-might have done this thing too. But he only possessed the half-knowledge of the working miner, and while shunning the plague-stricken quarry, adopted the more laborious method of mak-ing an adit to strike the deposit. He suc-ceeded, to perish miserably in the hour when he asw himself a millionaire.

Was this a portent of the fats about to overtake the latest comers? Jenks, of course, stood up. He always stood square on his feet when the volcang within him fired his blood.

fired his blood. "No, by God !" hs almost shouted. "I will break the spall. I am sent here by Providence, not to search for gold, but to save a woman's life, and if all the devils of China and Malay are in league against ms I will beat them!" The sound of his own voice startled him. He had no notion that he was so hys-terical. Promptly his British phlegm throt-tied the demonstration. He was rather ashamed of it.

ashamed of it. What was all the fuss about? With a barrow-load of sold he could not buy an instant's safety for Iris, not to mention him-self. The language difficulty was insuper-able. Were it otherwise, the Dyaks would simply humbug him until he revealed the source of his wealth, and then murder him as an effective safeguard against foreign interference. interference.

Iris' Not once since she was hurled ashore in his arms had Jenks so long for-gotten her existence. Should he tell her? They were partners in everything apper-taining to the island-why keep this mar-velous intelligence from her? CONTINUED MONDAY.

SUBURBAN

and Mrs. John L. Craig, of Oak rk, will introduce their daughter, B. Craig, at a dance at the Ger-Cricket Club on the evening of November 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Simeon Good-an of Montclair, N. J., have issued in-tailons for the marriage of their daugh-the state of their daugh-the state of their daugh-the state of the state of their daugh-the state of the s

Along the Main Line

WINNEWOOD-Mr. and Mrs. Abel P. Usefill have returned to their home on it road after spanding six weeks at cottage at Cape Cod, Mass.

TN MAWR—Mr. Francis King Wain-t, who has been spending several as at Northeast Harbor, Me, has re-to his home on Morris avenue. Mrs. wight has postponed her return until myself.

Chestnut Hill

Emily Weish, daughter of Mrs. T. Dixon, of Thirty-second street and reak road, will return to town on i from Winter Harbor, Me. Miss will make her debut at a tea to be on Monday, October 16. never said a word.

witations have been received from Mr. ar G. Thomas for the marriage of his htter, Miss Charlotte Reeves Thomas, Mr. Samuel E. Doak, on Wednesday, imber 29, at the home of the bride's ar, 41 Gowen avenue.

Germantown

Miriam Megargee, who has been a Miriam Megargee, who has been a friends in New York, has returned a May, where she will be the guest mainder of the month. Itemant Commander Earle Cooke, U., and Mrs. Cooke, whose marriage place a few weeks ago, are occupying speriment at the Wissablekon, Queen Mrs. Cooke was Miss Lorna Doone Tex.

and Mrs. George W. Harkins, Jr., of Manhaim street, returned yesterday Take Minnewaska, N. Y.

and Mrs. Walter C. Snipley, of 127 street, entertained informally at on Monday evening, in honor of or William 8. Twining and Mrs. 6. whose marriage took place in The other guests included Mr. and orman Mellor, Mr. and Mrs. William and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bosler.

and Mrs. William Conroy, of Greene the atrests, autoounce the engagement of daughter, Miss Etitabeth Eleanor , to Mr. Charles E. Hendrick, Jr., of allows.

Along the Reading

McEvoy, of Old York road, a surbounces the engravement inter, Miss Helen G. McEvoy, mand Elizatey, nos of Mr. and of Mius Marie Pinon, 427 South Eighth street. Among the members are Miss E. Stein, Miss E. Scherr, Miss M. Scherr, Miss T. Lodge, Miss C. Heyder, Miss M. Pinon, Miss B. Factor and Miss F. Tannepol

FARMER SMITH'S

It is a great memory test to see if you can reme

If you borrow a book, cover it with paper and return it.

Friends of Mrs. William Orman, of 519 South Sixth street, will be glad to learn that she has recovered from her recent ill-

ABOUT A FRIEND OF MINE

A friend of mine came to see me the other day; in fact, I brought him

As soon as he got in the house I slammed him on the table. Later on

A dance was given last evening by Miss May Powers and Miss Marguerite Powers, of 1739 Ritner street, in St. Monica's Hall, Seventeenth and Ritner streets, in aid of St. Monica's carnival. Dr. Nettie C. Turner and her daughter, Miss Derothy Turner, of 4228 Pine street, have returned home, after a season spent at Hadden Hall, Atlantic City.

and Mr. Thomas J. Purcell was selemnized on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the church of Our Lady of Mercy, Broad street and Susquehanna avenue. The Rev. Dr. William Garrigan, of the Cathedral, officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Conway, and Mr. Daniel Purcell was his brother's best man. Mr. Purcell and his bride will spend the autumn traveling and upon their return will live at 8 South Thirty-eighth street. the sailor was suddenly aroused by what he believed to be a gunshot. He could not be sure. He was still collecting his scat-tered senses, straining eyes and ears in-tensely, when there came a second report. Then he knew what had happened. The sentries on the Smugglers' Cove post were faithful to their trust. The enemy was upon them upon them. At such a moment Jenks was not a man who prayed. Indeed, he was prone to in-voke the nether powers, a habit long since acquired by the British army in Flanders, West Philadelphia it is believed.

There was not a moment to be lost. He rushed into Iris's room and gathered in his arms both her and the weird medley of frighten the invaders and induce them to fire a warning volley—the sailor paid closer heed to the spoils gathered from the failen. One, at least, of the belts was made of human hair, and some among its long strands could have come only from the faxon-haired head of a European child. This fact, though ghastly enough, confirmed him in his theory that it was impossible to him in his theory that it was impossible to him in his theory that it was impossible to think of temporizing with these human fiends. Unhappily such savage virtues as they possess do not include elemency to the weak or hospitality to defenseless strangers. There was nothing for it but a fight to a finish, with the law of the jungle to decide the terms of conquest.

Our Postoffice Box

That morning, of course, he had not been to visit Summit Rock until after his cau-tious survey of the island. Once there, how-ever, he noticed that the gale two nights earlier had loosened two of the supports of his sky sign. It was not a difficult or a long job to repair the damage. With the invaluable ax he cut several wedges and soon made all secure.

Now, during each of the two daily exami-nations of the horison, which he never omlited, he minutely scrutinized the sea be-tween Rainbow Island and the distant group. It was, perhaps, a needless precau-tion. The Dyaks would come at night. With a favorable wind they need not set in a neighborhood of a rapidly increasing values. The mere seeing of these five beautiful homes is a treat. May we show them to you? The price and the terms will suit you.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Ogontz Hill-Old York Road and Meeting House Lane-Five New and Very Unusual Homes

Unique in many ways-architecture, surroundings. Big lots, close to clubs and golf courses.

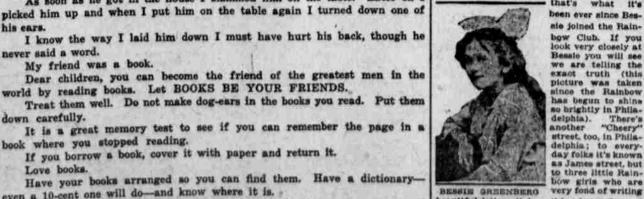

ALSO A FEW CHOICE BUILDING SITES

J. T. Jackson Company Chestnut at 13th

Branch Office, Oak Lane, Opposite Station

Beasie Greenberg is a West Philadelphi Rainbow. She lives on Cherry street-Oh axcuse us! We mean "Cheery street," for - that's what it's been ever since Bes

SUBURBAN

That

on free. I agree [DNESS EACH GEAD A LITTLE

HINE ALL ALONG THE WAY

Have your books arranged so you can find them. Have a dictionaryeven a 10-cent one will do-and know where it is. Make your own books. Take a composition book (five or ten cents) mutiful letters it is nothing but a lane of naste these talks and our stories and puzzles in the book. Refer to the right through the mattress. See! There is a hole under you." Sure enough! Willie turned to look; there was the hole.

FARMER SMITH, Children's Editor.

Suddenly there was another noise Willis knew to be his alarm clock.

in a few moments his moth

DO A LITTLE

editorials and stories you like. Some day you will thank

My friend was a book.

ok where you stopped reading.

his cars.

down carefully.

Love books.

WILLIE WIDEAWAKE'S WANDERINGS By FARMER SMITH

Willie Wideawake couldn't go to sleep. He put his toos three feet from the foot of the bed as the Good Dream Fairy had told him and still he couldn't get to sleep. By and by he began to think, think, By and by he began to think, wondered how little boys grew-how He

"Oh, dear! she exclatmed, "You have broken another your nightle." Willie laughed. "I've grown replied, thinking of the Good D who had vanished. "I glisse you have," answered his a they became bigger. Just at that moment there was a terrific BANGI something lifted Willie right off the ttress and he sat right up straight in FARMER SMITH. I wish to become a Rainbow Club. P) beautiful Rainbow boll. In front of him he saw the Good Dream Pairy. He had not seen her before; her voice sounded like a silver bell. "When a set was that noise" anked will freiling of binnesif to see if he were BESIE GREENBERO Very fond of writing beautiful letters it is nothing but a lane of sunshine. These little girls are Elisabeth Mercilliott, Madalyn Haas and Mabel Hoff-man. Elisabeth has a dear little baby sin-ter, Margaret, just five months old, who haughs right out loud. She and the other Rainbows never thre of taking care of baby Margaret. Of course they do other things than that, too; for instance, just at present they are making Christmas presents. Mabel had ar that is easily made at home. Watch for this description in the Club News ! The other day the "three graces" want to the Zoe. They had lots and lots of fun. Mabel says: "The 12 of cluck while be wand the coyotes all began to hollsr. They knew it meant dinner hour, and they wanted theirs, too. We saw a mother monkey and her little baby monkey. The baby was very uta. It tried to show off when it asw us. These little girls don't really have to go to the doa's the Madalyn's back yard, where they can see "Brownis," the baby was conto the doa's frain the Brecktes," the battam; "Niblic," the bunny, and they can see sough of realy true flowers to make them balave they are in a beautiful park! The they are in a beautiful park! The they are in a beautiful park! The they are in a beautiful park!

Things to Know and Do

brundrum: What is the best way

Visit SPRINGF THE LEADING SUBURB

SUBURBAN

12 Minutes, 5c Fare, from 69th Street Terminal On the Media Short Line

Where All Improvements Are Made-Not Promised

sie joined the Rainbow Club. If you look very closely at Bessie you will see we are telling the exact truth (this picture was taken since the Rainbow has begun to shine so brightly in Phila-delphia). There's another "Cheery" street, too, in Phila-delphis: to every.

RAINBOW CLUB