

JERSEY CONTESTANTS RESTING ON ARMS FOR PRIMARIES TOMORROW

Interest Centers in Nominations for United States Senator and Governor—No Progressive Candidates

HOT DEMOCRATIC FIGHT

TRENTON, Sept. 25.—On the eve of the State primaries, the contestants for office are resting on their arms and calculating tomorrow's results.

There will be no Progressive candidates, as the party failed to poll the number of votes required by law last year.

Interest has accumulated with the approach of primary day, particularly among Republicans who are anxious to see the most important contests possible upon a State ticket.

BITTER BATTLES FOR NOMINATIONS The most bitter fight has been between United States Senator James E. Martine and Attorney General John W. Wescott for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

It is understood that Martine will have the opposition of the Wilson Democrats, who are said to favor Wescott, the man who has twice placed Mr. Wilson in nomination for the presidency.

MARTINE'S INDEPENDENCE FROM WILSON'S rule has won him friends and enemies alike. He has declared, it is said, that he would rather retain the office which he has than take his orders from the White House.

DEMOCRATIC RACES Two other Democrats in the United States Senatorial race are Frank McDermott, of Newark, a lawyer, and August Bruggemann, of Hoboken.

THE MOUNTAIN COLUMN OF First Aid National Preparedness, of which Mr. Willard R. Graham is chief, will hold its first meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the hall of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A.

WILLIAM MCCARTNEY, son of James S. McCartney, of Philadelphia, whose interest in educational matters in the State has enlisted for him many friends, and it is believed he will make a strong showing.

THREE-CORNERED STRUGGLE The three-cornered fight among Senator Walter E. Edge, of Atlantic City; Senator Austin Colgate, of Essex, and George L. Record, of Hudson, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination has been one of the most interesting of the campaign.

OTTO WITTMANN, of Hudson County, naval officer of New York, is the sole candidate on the Democratic primary ticket for the gubernatorial nomination.

THE DEMOCRATS offer the only contest in the congressional field in this district—Charles J. Blake, of Trenton, and former Assemblyman Asariah M. Beckman, of Somerset.

Representative E. C. Hutchinson, of Trenton, is opposed for the nomination on his ticket.

WHOLE STATE MAY GREET RETURNING GUARDSMEN

Continued from Page One

of the Department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R. today warmly endorsed the plan for a State-wide celebration.

"Let us set aside a day, or two days, and do the thing right," he said. "Give the boys time to rest up, but that does not detract from the greatest peace jubilee ever held in this country."

"Let us get the whole State in on the act," he said. "Let the entire Nation be invited to Philadelphia to issue invitations to every patriotic society in Pennsylvania to come and worship for a few hours at the Shrine of Patriotism."

"If we go about it right, we can have a peace jubilee that will rock the nation. I am sure that the Grand Army will support this thing with enthusiasm."

George W. Fisher, commander of Cavalry Post G. A. R., headquarters in the Parkway Building, said:

"Every one of our soldier boys went to the Mexican border with the idea that they would sacrifice their life if necessary for his country. Peace-at-any-price folks who think that they don't fire a shot and don't see any real service, but that they can't detract one whit from their patriotism."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

City News in Brief

FIREMEN RESCUED two men who had been overcome by smoke during a fire at 3521 Market street early today and carried them out after a dash through flames which were destroying a store on the first floor.

WILLS ADMITTED TO PROBATE today were those of Graham Calvert, 655 North 18th street, which, in private bequest, disposed of property valued at more than $25,000.

CITY APPOINTMENTS today include Philip L. Repesco, 813 Fernon street, clerk, Bureau of Health, salary, $1000.

A BURGALAR ALARM connected with telephone booth in the Wayne Junction station of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad notified Henry Miller, the station agent, early today.

A BARROOM BRAWL early this morning in the saloon at Allegheny avenue and Salmon street resulted in three men being stabbed by a man who was later charged with a murder.

MEMBERS OF THE International Evangelistic Converts and Workers' League, with headquarters at 612-14 Chestnut street, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A.

THIRTEEN CHINESE who were arrested in an alleged gambling house in Race street near Ninth had a hearing today in the Central Station.

NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS, of which Mr. Willard R. Graham is chief, will hold its first meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the hall of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A.

WILLIAM MCCARTNEY, son of James S. McCartney, of Philadelphia, whose interest in educational matters in the State has enlisted for him many friends, and it is believed he will make a strong showing.

THREE-CORNERED STRUGGLE The three-cornered fight among Senator Walter E. Edge, of Atlantic City; Senator Austin Colgate, of Essex, and George L. Record, of Hudson, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination has been one of the most interesting of the campaign.

OTTO WITTMANN, of Hudson County, naval officer of New York, is the sole candidate on the Democratic primary ticket for the gubernatorial nomination.

THE DEMOCRATS offer the only contest in the congressional field in this district—Charles J. Blake, of Trenton, and former Assemblyman Asariah M. Beckman, of Somerset.

Representative E. C. Hutchinson, of Trenton, is opposed for the nomination on his ticket.

WHOLE STATE MAY GREET RETURNING GUARDSMEN

Continued from Page One

of the Department of Pennsylvania, G. A. R. today warmly endorsed the plan for a State-wide celebration.

"Let us set aside a day, or two days, and do the thing right," he said. "Give the boys time to rest up, but that does not detract from the greatest peace jubilee ever held in this country."

"Let us get the whole State in on the act," he said. "Let the entire Nation be invited to Philadelphia to issue invitations to every patriotic society in Pennsylvania to come and worship for a few hours at the Shrine of Patriotism."

"If we go about it right, we can have a peace jubilee that will rock the nation. I am sure that the Grand Army will support this thing with enthusiasm."

George W. Fisher, commander of Cavalry Post G. A. R., headquarters in the Parkway Building, said:

"Every one of our soldier boys went to the Mexican border with the idea that they would sacrifice their life if necessary for his country. Peace-at-any-price folks who think that they don't fire a shot and don't see any real service, but that they can't detract one whit from their patriotism."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

"We have all too little patriotism in Philadelphia—the birthplace of the nation. There is no reason why the entire National Guard and Pennsylvania should not come to Philadelphia."

SCENE OF STRANGE MURDER AT SHUNK AND HANCOCK STREETS

PROBED DEATH OF WIFE, HELD AS HER SLAYER

Missouri Prosecuting Attorney Accused of Killing Woman Who Threatened Divorce

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 25.—After having conducted an investigation into the murder of his wife in his capacity as county prosecutor, Oscar McDaniels is held here today, charged with having killed her himself.

Special Prosecutor Bart Lockwood will sue for an indictment, alleging that Mrs. McDaniels had threatened divorce and was slain by her husband after a quarrel.

The attorney who is carrying on the work which McDaniels had charged, McDaniels had declared that he was lured from his home by a fake telephone call on the night of the shooting, and upon returning found his wife dead.

McDaniels took his arrest lightly, laughed when policemen came for him and with a cheer "all right" walked two miles to prison.

CAESAR RODNEY MAY, WAR VETERAN, DEAD

Collateral Descendant of 'Signer' and Colonel in the Union Army

Col. Caesar Rodney May, namesake and collateral descendant of the heroic signer of the Declaration of Independence, died today in the Cooper Hospital, Camden.

Colonel May's death closes a career at once picturesque and pathetic. Apart from his noted ancestry, there were incidents in his own life that brought him into intimate contact with Abraham Lincoln.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

Colonel May was born in Illinois, and his father defeated Abraham Lincoln for Congress. The son was sent to Harvard University and Law School, graduating from both institutions with honors.

WIFE HAD VISION OF TRAGEDY NEAR

Continued from Page One

was fired by some one standing on the sidewalk on the same side of Shunk street on which the Richter family sat. Evidently the bullet came along the side of the building, struck Richter, and the left arm as he sat with his arm resting upon his knees.

According to Mrs. Richter, the family ate supper and went on the stoop about 7 o'clock. Her husband sat on the lower step, while she was seated at the right.

The daughter, who is five years old, was standing on the step behind her father, with her arms about his neck. Smith, a neighbor, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

The daughter, feeling her father slide from beneath her arms, began to scream. Her mother, who was sitting on the sidewalk near the door, saw the bullet strike across the street to the dump, but was unable to find anybody about the vacant lot.

The victim was taken to the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, where physicians said that he had been instantly killed. Detective Belshaw was summoned, and together with the district detectives, he canvassed the neighborhood.

Survives Year of Trench War, but Falls in Football

ROCHESTER, Sept. 25. JOHN WHITTAKER, of Clark Mill, came to Rochester with the football team of that village to play a city eleven. Whittaker was thrown during the game and suffered concussion of the brain, which will keep him in the hospital for several days.

VENEZELOS REACHES SALONICA; MAY HEAD GREEK REVOLUTION

Pro-Ally Ex-Premier Likely to Be Chief of Provisional Government of Crete

INSURGENTS WIN ISLAND LONDON, Sept. 25.—Ex-Premier Venizelos has gone to Salonica, said an Athens dispatch to the Evening News this afternoon.

BERLIN, Sept. 25.—The Lokal Anzeiger reports that Venizelos has reached Salonica.

ATHENS, Sept. 25. Thirty thousand insurgents now control the island of Crete, following the occupation of Crete and Hieracium. Only eleven of King Constantine's Cretan bodyguard remained loyal, the rest surrendering to the insurgents without a struggle.

Despite the formation of a new anti-Venizelos party, pressure upon King Constantine is growing to compel the entry of Greece in the war, on the side of the Allies. The revolt of 1907 were at the head of a strong determining influence upon the King, although it may be some time before a decisive step is taken.

The capture of the island of Crete marks the successful consummation of the eleventh revolution the island has witnessed during the last hundred years. The same men who led the revolt of 1907 were at the head of the present uprising.

Venizelos' trip to Salonica may be of the greatest significance in view of reports that the revolt of 1907 were at the head of a strong determining influence upon the King, although it may be some time before a decisive step is taken.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY BEGINS ITS 90TH TERM Approximately 600 Students Enrolled at Opening

The Philadelphia College of Pharmacy opened its nineteenth term today with an approximate enrollment of 600 students. Exercises were held in the auditorium of the college, Tenth street above Cherry.

Speeches were made by Howard B. French, Provost Edgar Fahs Smith, University of Pennsylvania; Ex-Governor Stuart, Dean Joseph P. Remington and Associate Dean Julius W. Steurer, Doctor Steurer comes from Medico-Chi with six others who served overseas during the war.

Members of Post 31, G. A. R., to which Colonel May belonged, are striving to arrange proper burial for the veteran, who for years had been one of the most picturesque figures in Camden.

"VERY WEAK," SAYS WILCOX OF WILSON'S 8-HOUR DEFENSE

Contains Contradictions, He Asserts. Wanamaker Sees Chairman

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—William R. Wilcox, chairman of the Republican National Committee, today declared "a very weak indeed" the speech delivered Saturday by President Wilson at Shadow Lawn, N. J., "if his time to go into a detailed discussion of the President's address."

Mr. Wilcox said the advisory committee of the national committee would meet about October 10, probably in Chicago, to prepare the final plans for the campaign.

EARL OF ESSEX DEAD

English Nobleman, Whose Second Wife Was New York Girl

NEWMARKET, Eng., Sept. 25.—The Earl of Essex was found dead today. His second wife was a fifty-eight-year-old New York girl. He served in the South African war, winning the rank of colonel in Her Majesty's Army. He owned about fifteen thousand acres.

Child Killed by Fall From Swing

Edith Embrey, seven years old, the daughter of Dr. Frank Embrey, Academy road above Grant avenue, was killed by falling from a swing late yesterday.

TODAY'S MARRIAGE LICENSES

- Elmer H. Allen, 2430 E. Sergeant st., and Elizabeth Hamilton, 2037 Arlona st.
James J. Sullivan, 2000 E. York st., and Kathleen Sullivan, 2000 E. York st.
Thomas Joseph Pennington, N. J., and Della Louise Payne, 1928 N. 10th st., and Mary Willard, 1928 N. 10th st.
Charles M. Hennessey, 521 N. 8th st., and Amelia M. Hennessey, 521 N. 8th st.
Arthur W. Weather, 4117 N. 8th st., and Anna L. Weather, 4117 N. 8th st.
Edward J. Ryan, 512 Mulberry st., and Eva M. Ryan, 512 Mulberry st.
Francis R. Martin, 4012 Mulberry st., and Marie M. Martin, 4012 Mulberry st.
Frank E. Warner, South Bethlehem, Pa., and Joseph E. Warner, South Bethlehem, Pa.
Daniel Delaney, Bridgeport, Pa., and Martha O. Delaney, Bridgeport, Pa.
Charles J. McElroy, 410 Fairmount ave., and Elizabeth J. McElroy, 410 Fairmount ave.
Frederick Mader, 2018 N. 8th st., and Alice M. Mader, 2018 N. 8th st.
Gerard J. Conroy, 1738 N. 11th st., and Constance M. Conroy, 1738 N. 11th st.
Frank J. Hines, 1320 Waverly st., and Marie Hines, 1320 Waverly st.
Walter R. Smith, 2018 N. 8th st., and Marie R. Smith, 2018 N. 8th st.
Harold H. Paves, 45 E. Collin st., and Catherine H. Paves, 45 E. Collin st.
Charles J. Hill, 612 Sanson st., and Ester F. Hill, 612 Sanson st.
Alfred Wilson, 1230 Carpenter st., and Edith Wilson, 1230 Carpenter st.
George H. Marshall, 1233 Waverly st., and Ellen H. Marshall, 1233 Waverly st.
Carlton H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
Frederick H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
Eugene H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
T. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
Mabel H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
Hilda H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
Alfred H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.
Robert H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave., and Louise H. Haines, 410 Waverly ave.

Father Moran, Augustinian, Dies

The Rev. Joseph A. Moran, O. S. A., professor of English at Villanova College, died today following a year's illness. The clergyman was fifty-one years old. Arrangements have been made to hold the funeral on Wednesday morning at St. Charles' Church at Villanova.

WALK-OUT FOR CARMEN DWINDLES TO 179,000; MANY UNIONS BALK

Remote Prospects for City-wide Strike in New York—Leaders Strive for Action

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Prospects for a city-wide walk-out, threatened for Wednesday morning, in sympathy with the striking carmen, seemed remote early today.

Officials of the conference of labor leaders, promulgating the suggestion of work by $60,000 wage-earners, are making frantic efforts to translate their threat into action, but indications point to strong opposition among many of the individual unions.

The prime movers of the proposed general strike early today announced that sixty more labor organizations, with the total membership of 120,000, have pledged their support to the conference of labor leaders and will remain away from their places Wednesday morning.

The only unions, however, that are known to have actually voted for a strike last night are the butchers and the longshoremen. The decision of the former has not been ratified by the individual local. In the case of the latter it is reported the decision was opposed by many individual members.