

INTERNES' STANDING CAUSES WARM DEBATE AT HOSPITAL MEETING
 Pennsylvania Requirements of Extensive General Practice Defended by Licensure Head
PRaises EMERGENCY WORK

The second day's session of the annual convention of the American Hospital Association in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel... was followed by a discussion over the requirements of hospitals in this State which will result in the training of the Pennsylvania law requires more patients to each institution than an interne can adequately serve, made by Dr. Charles Young, superintendent of the Presbyterian Hospital, New York city, during the course of an address.

Dr. J. M. Baldy, president of the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Education and Licensure, declared that "the paper was written on absolute information by one who does not know what he is talking about." "The law in this State is very definite," declared Dr. Baldy. "It does say that no interne shall be admitted to a hospital having less than twenty-five beds. This does not mean, however, that they must be filled every hour of every day."

"Where an interne is admitted to a smaller institution than this, as is done in a number of other States, it causes him to specialize."

"Pennsylvania does not want medical men who have been educated along only one line in a hospital. The drifting into specialization without knowledge of medicine is one of the greatest evils of the time. We want to place men in large institutions because from seventy to eighty per cent of their cases are emergency ones."

"The whole evolution of medicine lies in the matter of hospitals furnishing proper practice in public. A hospital must have twenty-five beds, a pathological laboratory, an X-ray department and an electrical department and some specialties to qualify in this State."

"Five years from now a great many hospitals in this State won't even be considered. We aim now to get standardization."

CANDIDATES FOR NEXT MEETING

New Orleans, Cleveland, Chicago and Cincinnati are striving to obtain the convention for next year. New Orleans has sent a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock, when Dr. Robert J. Wilson, superintendent of hospitals of the New York Health Department, will discuss the hospital section on "Disinfection and Other Practical Methods of Preventing the Spread of Infection in Hospitals." Dr. William H. Walsh, of Philadelphia, will then begin a discussion.

The so-called Diphtheria Epidemics in General Hospitals and Preventive Methods" will be the subject of an address by Dr. Clyde G. Guthrie, of Johns Hopkins University. Doctor Guthrie's remarks will also be followed by a discussion, to be opened by Dr. R. R. Ross, of Buffalo. Dr. Milton C. Winteritz, associate professor of pathology at Johns Hopkins University, will speak on "Autopsies: Methods of Obtaining Same and Measures for Protecting the Hospital."

SMALL HOSPITAL SECTION

The small hospital section, conducted by Miss Nettie E. Jordan, the second vice president of the association, will discuss "The Creation and Management of a Community Hospital from Varied Angles." Dr. W. T. Graham, of Iowa City; F. E. Chapman, of Cleveland; O. Miss Ida Barrett, of Grand Rapids, Mich., all of whom are superintendents of hospitals in their respective cities, and Ralph Shepherds, M. A. E. S., of Aurora, Ill., will be the speakers.

The delegation will spend the evening at a theatre party in Keith's Theater as the guests of the entertainment committee. At two o'clock the following day the delegates will meet at the headquarters of the association, Dr. George Walker, of the Maryland Vice Commission, started the delegates yesterday when he charged that some hospitals, physicians and nurses in this city condoned practices that resulted essentially in the murder of illegitimate children.

JERSEY REGIMENTS READY TO BREAK CAMP SUNDAY

First and Fourth Prepare to Leave Sea Girt

STATE CAMP, Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 27.—Preparation for the departure of the First and Fourth Regiments from the camp here next Sunday morning are being made by the officers of the brigade headquarters today. Details of the trip home and the final muster out in the home states early next week are being formulated. Transportation facilities were arranged.

Brigadier General Hine this morning issued an order releasing on furlough all the Jewish soldiers in the two regiments. This action was taken after the mustering officers notified him that the work of the muster out was progressing better than they had anticipated and stated that the men could be spared.

AGED WOMAN KILLED BY GAS

Victim of Accident Found by Her Husband

Mrs. Annie Connelly, seventy years old, was found dead in bed in a third-floor room of her home, 244 Germantown avenue, this morning by her husband, who conducts a furnishing goods store on the first floor of the building. A gas jet in the room was partly open and it believed she was accidentally asphyxiated.

Dr. L. A. Podolski, 1117 West Lehigh avenue, was called to attempt to revive her, but pronounced her dead.

Bone Grafting for Tuberculosis of Spine and Lung Operations Explained by Experts

Curing tuberculosis of the spine by placing a piece of the rhinbone in the spine; operating with knives on abscesses in the interior of the lungs; and removing tumors of the bladder by the use of an electric surgery during the last year's achievements of the American Hospital Association are some of the operations explained by eminent surgeons attending the sessions on the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel today.

It was Dr. H. H. Harris, associate surgeon of the Mattie Creek Sanitarium, at Ann Arbor, Mich., who spoke of the modern methods being performed on patients with tuberculosis of the spine. "Before this marvelous operation, performed by Dr. Fred Albee, of New York, was perfected," said Doctor Harris, "people with tuberculosis of the spine either became hunchbacks or cripples for the spine would over when this disease develops. The patient is put on the operating table, and prepared for operation by proper antiseptic measures. A piece of bone, sometimes six to eight inches in length and wedge-shaped, is taken from the rib or shin."

CITY EMPLOYEES ASK MORE PAY

Men in Water Bureau Send Petition to Councils

Employees in the Bureau of Water have petitioned City Councils for an increase in wages, which, if it is granted, will be the first they have had in twenty years. Their petition contains a table showing the amount of wages paid employees in similar work in other cities, and the comparisons show that the Philadelphia employees receive the lowest wage paid in any of the twenty cities tabulated.

A Series of Eye Talks

Our Next Talk, Tuesday Oct. 3 By Joseph C. Ferguson, Jr.

It is commonly called "eye trouble" and is responsible for much of our blindness. It is a disease which is frequently curable.

At such times the eyes become heavy and red, and "tearing spots" are often observed.

Such symptoms might lead the sufferer to believe that glasses are necessary, when, as a matter of fact, the trouble is not the case at all.

What is the cause of eye trouble may be, you can depend upon the "Eye Talks" for the answer. The specialist in treatment of eye trouble—to prescribe proper treatment.

SOUTH PHILADELPHIA FAMILIES FLEE FROM BLAZING GRAIN STORE

Move Belongings to Safety as Big Building at Third and Fitzwater Streets Is Swept by Fire

STOCK BADLY DAMAGED

Fire this morning in the feed store of Robert McCracken, 231-237 Fitzwater street, seriously damaged the building, which was a two and a half story brick, and almost destroyed the stock of flour, feed and hay. Several firemen were overcome by smoke and many families of the neighborhood moved their belongings to the street in fear of a spread of the fire. Crowds of spectators gathered near the fire and seriously handicapped the firemen in their work before sufficient policemen could be summoned.

The fire started in the stable at the rear of the feed store and rapidly spread to the entire building, which contained great quantities of hay. No horses were injured, as all the teams had gone out before the fire was discovered.

Stephen Mullolland, 214 Fitzwater street, formerly a fireman of Engine Company No. 3, Second and Queen streets, was overcome by smoke when he entered the stable to see if any horses were in danger. He was rescued by Policeman Meyer, of the Second and Christian streets station, before the firemen arrived. Dr. M. L. Levitt and sent home.

While thousands of persons were on the street watching the fire, a negro youth, Joseph Booker, 1125 Poplar street, attempted to rob the home of Samuel Sandofsky, 414 Fitzwater street, and was arrested only after a fight with the owner and a neighbor on the street.

Booker was noticed entering the house and Sandofsky followed, chasing the negro to the roof. The two grappled there, but Booker darted back through the trap door and reached the street. Mrs. Sandofsky gave the alarm to the crowd assembled to watch the fire and hundreds swarmed about the negro, threatening to mob him.

Policeman McFarland, of the Second and Christian streets station, attempted to rescue him, but Booker pulled a .25 caliber revolver. McFarland knocked it from his hand and arrested him. Booker was sent to Central police station, where he will be given a hearing this afternoon.

PENROSE AND FLINN BURY THE HATCHET

After Six Years Leaders Shake Hands on Way to Meet Hughes

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 27.—After six years of political enmity, United States Senator Boies Penrose and ex-Senator William Flinn, former leader of the Progressive party in this State, have shaken hands and buried the hatchet.

The love feast was at the Union Station today, while both men were waiting to board a train as members of the reception committee which met Charles E. Hughes, the Republican presidential candidate, at Alliance, O., and escorted him to this city. Senator Penrose and Mr. Flinn were the center of a group of politicians when the reconciliation occurred. After they had shaken hands, they walked down the train platform together and conversed for several minutes.

PERRY'S

New Fall Styles in Suits and Overcoats at $15, $18, $20, $25

have that air to the manor born nowhere else associated with their price.

Perry's "WAIST-FITTING" MODEL FOR FALL
 Snug, form-fitting waist, close skirt; very narrow shoulders and sleeves, silk-lined; long soft-rolling lapels. An ultra fashionable coat for young men.

Perry's "KIMONO-SLEEVE" FALL OVERCOAT
 A distinctive Perry style. Deep, roomy armholes; full draped body; loose wide back, ample skirt, outside patch pockets with flaps or with slanted side pockets. Soft-rolling lapels.

The fundamental difference between Perry Clothes and all others is that Perry Suits and Overcoats are made by Perry for the definite requirements of Philadelphia tastes and needs. We make them as we sell them, one by one. Most other clothes are made in the mass and sold in the mass to dealers North, South, East and West, with general characteristics as indefinite as the map they are designed to cover.

While Perry models conform to the general "Styles" of the season in the sense that coats have a certain length, lapels a certain contour, backs a certain snugness or fullness, as the case may be; yet the execution of a cut, of a curve, of an angle, of a pocket-slant, of a vent or a gore is endowed by Perry with that certain individuality, that deftness of tailoring looked for and expected in fifty to sixty-dollar clothes.

Ask your friends about it!
