

PHILLIES OPEN DECIDING SERIES WITH DODGERS IN BROOKLYN TODAY OTHER SPORTS

CRITICS AND FANS FAVOR PHILS TO TAKE TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES FROM DODGERS

Veteran Scribes Point Out That Moran's Men Have Been Through Grueling Campaign Before and Showed They Had the Punch

By CHANDLER D. RICHTER In St. Louis, Md. Kenner, of the Times, is the only critic who has been in the Philadelphia camp since the famous struggle of 1908.

It has been so much interest in a series contested during the pennant race at the Brooklyn stadium today, and fans and scribes look upon it as the greater battle than will be witnessed in the world series.

The interest is not confined entirely to Philadelphia. New York and Brooklyn are speculating on the result of the series, and the consensus of opinion seems to favor the Phillies to take two of the three games scheduled or make a clean sweep of the series.

Betting Favors Phils Scribes of Philadelphia naturally are prejudiced and feel certain that the Phillies will win, as are the Brooklyn and New York critics. In New York last night one could hear nothing but Philly and Brooklyn sportsmen gathered, the fans entirely forgetting the wonderful winning streak of the Giants.

Chicago Strong for Moran Chicago is strong for the Phillies. This may be due to the fact that there is a natural prejudice against Ebbets and anything that is close to New York, but such is the opinion of the Tribune, the Examiner, the Tribune, and the Herald.

Looked Bad Against Cards No pennant contesting team ever looked worse than the Phillies did against the Cardinals and Pirates on the last swing through the West, and as Brooklyn completely outplayed both teams a few days after Moran's men had been there, it is only natural that they should feel that the Dodgers have the better chance.

IN THE GOAL POSTS' SHADOW

Les Jourdet, who is in charge of the freshmen football material this season at Pennsylvania, is gradually getting his boys at Franklin Field, and considering the fact that the former captain of the University football team will be in the line-up in the first game.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Sept. 28.—Bill Row, one of the forward guard line centers, has stated his intention of leaving Swarthmore to enter business, and did not appear in the varsity letter last season as an end, but has taken a considerable interest in the team since the season of 1914.

HAVERFORD, Pa., Sept. 28.—Still more men have been added to the varsity football team at Haverford, and today when regular college work starts, it is hoped that Haverford will have one of the largest squads to start with that it has ever had.

LAKE MINNEWASKA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—It was on Friday that the varsity football players wound up their early season training at Lake Minnewaska in a short but snappy scrimmaging practice.

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—Tom Eberhart, of Fall River, one of the promising backfield men of the year's Harvard football team, was dropped from college just before the Yale game and is now attending the examinations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Cornell football team, established a new record for early season work, the varsity and second teams battling for five minutes to a draw.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—With two days' practice left before the Lafayette game, Jerry Jones, but he is in charge through the staff list of football players, and three hours were spent in punting, interference and other matters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—New York University football candidates were put through a severe test yesterday when they were put through a series of tests.

FOLWELL'S IDEA, TOO

By NEIL MATHEWS Captain Penn Football Team. Something the spectators never see and something which is just as important in the final selection of a varsity team is brain work.

Other National League cities sentiment favors the Phillies to repeat. This is true even in Boston, where the Braves still have a chance for the flag.

Nick Platy, of the Herald; Melville Webb, of the Globe; Ed McGrath, of the Post; John Moran, of the American, and Bert Whisman, of the Traveller, all favor the Phillies, while Jim O'Leary, also of the Globe, is the only Boston critic who thinks the Phils will lose out.

TWO BOXERS HERE FROM WEST SHAPE UP IN FINE STYLE

Mike Paulson, Lightweight, Is Clever; Mickey Sheridan, Welter, a Caveman

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS By LOUIS H. JAFFE Out from the west come two boxers, a lightweight and a welterweight, and if their preparatory work—boxing in the gymnasium—can be used as a criterion, neither is a false alarm.

Paulson is rather tall for a lightweight and has a much longer reach than boxers of his weight, but he is a legitimate 132-pounder. The Dane is a clever boxer. He possesses a wonderful left jab and shoots out southpaw stabs with a velocity of rifle bullets.

TED MEREDITH, TRACK STAR, SAILS FOR EUROPE TODAY TO COMPETE ON CINDER PATH

JAMES E. (TED) MEREDITH, of this city, whose performances in the Olympic games held in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1912, started the world, and who as a representative of the University of Pennsylvania created several world records, sailed today for Stockholm, where he, together with three other American athletes, will compete in the National Championship Games of Sweden.

After touring Sweden, Denmark and Norway, Meredith will return to London, where he intends establishing himself in business. Meredith was taken to Stockholm as a member of the American team because of his remarkable running while a student at Mercersburg Academy.

His world record of 47 2-5 seconds in the quarter-mile dash was established at the intercollegiate meet at Cambridge, Mass., last May. In this race Meredith was pitted against Billy, of Dartmouth, and Crim, of Cornell.

The team which Meredith will captain is composed of "Bob" Simpson, of the University of Missouri, holder of the world's record in the 120 high hurdle; Fred Mur-

JOE WRIGHT WILL RETURN TO PENNSYLVANIA Popular Canadian Will Train the Red and Blue Oarsmen in Autumn Practice

Joe Wright, Penn's crew coach of last season, will return to the University and take up his duties as coach, it was reported yesterday afternoon by Captain Adolph Wolf, after he had been notified by the rowing committee of the University. The return of Wright to the Quaker institution is regarded by the hearts of the rowing enthusiasts, and especially the crew men.

Just whether or not Wright will sign a contract to coach the Quaker crew for the entire season is not known, but he has consented to return for the autumn practice. It is probable, however, that if he remains for the entire fall season he will return to take up his duties in the spring. Pennsylvania needs Joe Wright, and they are willing to make most any concession to retain him.

Tuesday afternoon next week will be the day for the initial workout of the Red and Blue oarsmen, both Varsity and freshmen.
