PHILADELPHIA PHOTOPLAY PARAGRAPHS

The Girard Avenue Theater has put into effect a new policy, or rather an exemplification of the old policy that had proved so successful. The photoplay features will be strong and elaborate and the vaudeville numbers will be interesting, and many noveities will be provided. As an added attraction Tuesday night there is always an amateur contest; on Thursday night exhibition of baliroom dancing for cash prizes; Friday night professional try-outs, and Saturday evenings is "Kiddies" Night." The new policy seems to have met with the approval and support of the large paironage of the house, and the bill announced for the coming week is one of exceptional interest and entertainment. The Girard Avenue Theater has put into

The Stanley Booking Company announced as reopening of its theaters' doors to chil-ren by use of advertising.

In "Shell 43," coming to the Eureka, there is not much action on the part of the lead, H. B. Warner, but his role calls for tense, straining work. It is a good play.

The popularity of C. Chaplin makes it necessary for his picture to be shown for two days at the Jefferson.

Harold Lockwood and May Allison will be seen on the screen at the Fairmount on Friday in "Mister 44." They are sur-rounded by Lester Cunso, the well-known leading man; Franklin Hall, Yonda Lan-dowska, Henry Otto, Alleen Allen and Belle Hutchison

The only playhouse in South Philadel-phia privileged to provide Paramount pic-tures is the Alhambra. For the first three days of the coming week Dustin Farnum appears in "The Fighting Parson," and on the same bill will be Charlie Chaplin, who

BILL CHANGES TRURSDAY

A triple bill of more than entertaining character will be the feature of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Palace. "The House of Lies" is the feature. A new volume of laughter, entitled "The Pawn Shup," brings back Charlie Chaplin, the prince of screen comedians. The third big attraction will be the last episode of "Gloria's Romance," in which Billie Burke is featured.

A double bill will be at the Victoria and A double bill will be at the Victoria and the variety offered should prove more than plentiful to all patroms. As a main attraction on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday there will be offered Norma Talmadge in the Triangle-Fine Arts play, "The Social Secretary," This is a play entirely different from any of those in which Miss Talmadge has appeared. One of the features at this playhouse which is attracting much attention and one creating approval of lovers of music is the selections rendered by Dessauer's Symphony Orchestra, which has been engaged for the season.

The lobby of the Savoy Theater, 1211 Market street, is without doubt one of the prettiest on Market street, but that is only the beginning; the interior is just as beau-
