

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM THE LAND OF THE THEATER

YES, LOVE STILL MAKES THE PLAYS GO ROUND

"The Natural Law," which enjoyed a successful run of four months at the Republic Theater, New York, last spring, will come to the Walnut for one week, commencing next Monday evening, with what is said to be a strong cast.

The play deals, with boldness, but with modesty, with one of the problems of modern life. The heroine is Ruth Stanley, a young artist, who is engaged to marry a young man, but who, during his absence in the West, meets and is irresistibly attracted to a young athlete, whose portrait she has been commissioned to paint for another of her admirers.

When the doctor returns he finds that his fiancee has become so infatuated with the athlete, that she wishes to break her engagement. He pleads with her not to allow physical attraction to be her guide, but she is determined to follow her heart. The play is a study in the psychology of love, and is a masterpiece of the modern drama.

MAUD ALLAN, DANCER, COMING TO BROAD

Maud Allan, the dancer, will be seen at the Broad Street Theater at three special matinees Tuesday, October 24, and Thursday and Friday, October 25 and 27. A symphony orchestra of forty musicians under the direction of Ernest Bloch, the Swiss conductor and composer of the opera "Macbeth," produced at the Opera Comique, Paris, just before the war broke out, will play during her appearances.

Mr. Herbert Tree, with his company, including Lyn Harding and Edith Wynne Matheson, will appear in Shakespeare's "Henry VIII" at the Forrest during the winter.

T. Roy Barnes is the featured comedian in "Katinka," the musical piece, which opens at the Lorys Monday night, October 16. It was written and composed by Otto Hauerbach and Rudolf Primm.

The cast of Augustus Thomas' "Rio Grande," coming to the Broad, includes Frank Campeau, A. H. Van Buren, Amelia Gardner and Edwin Brandt.
