

HEY, SKIN-NAY, C'MON; CHESTNUTS ARE FALLING WITH OLD JACK FROST

Big Stickers Stick You, but Oh, Yum, Yum, When You Get Into the In'ards

ALL OUTSIDE THE TOWN

HERE'S A CHESTNUT The best chestnut... The survey of the autumn chestnut crop...

Why does a hen cross the road? This is a legitimate introduction to this story, which is about chestnuts.

With the shivery "burr-r-r-burr-r-r-r" of humanity the burrs will respond to the sowing of the frost and will split open.

It seems only yesterday that the chestnut man was standing on the street corner with his roaster cleared for action.

It seems only yesterday that piping hot turkeys, glistening with brown gravy, were observed to be stuffed with chestnuts.

And here all this will be happening to-morrow almost. In the form of small boys who've visited the chestnut groves report that the outlook is pretty good.

2 DIE, 16 HURT AS FAIR TRAIN HITS WORK CARS

Excursionists to Hagerstown Injured in Head-on Smash at Cumberland, Md.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 12.—Two men were killed outright and sixteen others were injured when a Western Maryland excursion train en route to the Hagerstown Fair, ran head-on into a work train in the Knob Mount yards today.

Edward Mercer and John M. Armistead, both colored, both of Piedmont, W. Va., were rushed to the hospital, while the other fourteen injured, after receiving first-aid treatment on the scene, were removed to their homes in ambulances.

According to unofficial information, no orders were given the work train crew regarding the movement of the excursion train.

In order to reach the pocket it was necessary to run the train on the main track. The work train, it is understood, had started back toward Cumberland in order to enter the siding.

Superintendent C. A. Steiner, of the Cumberland Division of the Western Maryland Railway, has started an investigation.

R. R. AGENTS SEE INDUSTRIES

Visitors Make Tour of Plants Here. Trip Down Delaware

Agents of the Washash Railroad to the number of a score started from Reading Terminal this morning at 9 o'clock on a tour of industrial Philadelphia.

The party visited the Belt Line and saw other evidences of the booming industry of the "Workshop of the World."

$2,000,000 FOR P. R. R. WORK

Total Appropriations for Improvements Reach Sum of $10,000,000

Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad authorized an expenditure of $2,000,000, half of which will be used for locomotives and freight handling yards at Morrisville, Pa.

This will make a total of about $10,000,000 which the Pennsylvania Railroad is now spending in new construction and improvement work.

LIVE STOCK QUOTATIONS

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—(HORN.) Receipts 20,000. Market steady.

MILLIE DI MARCO HER MOTHER DYING, GIRL DENIES RIDER MURDER

Continued from Page One for I am telling you the truth. See, I have my hand on the Bible.

The interview between mother and daughter lasted more than an hour. Mrs. Di Marco pleaded with the girl to clear her conscience and to shield no one.

The girl, together with the three men who are also held in the county prison on a charge of being concerned in the crime and are awaiting extradition to New Jersey, will be arraigned tomorrow in the Court of Quarter Sessions on habeas corpus proceedings.

BOARDER SUSPECTED OF ATTACK ON WOMAN

Bedroom of Baker's Wife Entered and Fierce Struggle Follows

Mrs. Pauline Handrecht, wife of George Handrecht, a baker, of 6708 Woodland avenue, was awakened in her bedroom before daybreak by hands clutching her throat.

Her husband and son Chris were absent, having left a short time before on their routes.

Police of the Sixty-fifth and Woodland avenue station, two squares away, were notified, and Detectives Prints and Quigley started an investigation.

A short time later, Guenther, the boarder, and Harry Gump, of Sixty-third and Fuchsberg avenues, were arrested.

ARMOR PLANT LOCATION SETTLED NEXT MONTH

Last Hearing of Cities Applying for Works Held by Secretary Daniels

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Announcement was made by Secretary of the Navy Daniels today that he would name the location of the $11,000,000 Government armor plant early next month.

Two volunteer firemen, Andrew Graham, Burgess of Jenkintown, and Dr. William M. Brock were injured and $15,000 damage was done by fire which wrecked the large barn on the Children's Village, or Seibert Institute, near Woodbrook.

Firemen Injured in $15,000 Blaze

Agents of the Washash Railroad to the number of a score started from Reading Terminal this morning at 9 o'clock on a tour of industrial Philadelphia.

The party visited the Belt Line and saw other evidences of the booming industry of the "Workshop of the World."

$2,000,000 FOR P. R. R. WORK

Total Appropriations for Improvements Reach Sum of $10,000,000

Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad authorized an expenditure of $2,000,000, half of which will be used for locomotives and freight handling yards at Morrisville, Pa.

This will make a total of about $10,000,000 which the Pennsylvania Railroad is now spending in new construction and improvement work.

LIVE STOCK QUOTATIONS

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—(HORN.) Receipts 20,000. Market steady.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE MAN ADVERTISES HIMSELF; HAS BRAINS TO SELL

Continued from Page One who have employed him for the last six years, that during the last twelve months his territory has netted $4,000,000 of the 11,000,000 articles sold by the concern.

As a result of the European war and the policies of the foreign stockholders and officers, circumstances make it necessary for the young man to search for a position in the country.

Now the man is placing his own brains and ability on the market to sell them to business men who need them.

His advertisement, written by himself, has caused considerable comment. When it was sent in advertising men, who know good copy when they see it, declared it the best which had been used in any Philadelphia newspaper in years.

When a reporter went to see him at his office this morning, the immediate impression given was that of a game man making a game fight in an up-to-the-minute way.

In a frank manner he told the whole story of the circumstances which made a change of position necessary, in spite of the fact that the concern wants him "to go on as heretofore."

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

RECLAMATION PLANNED FOR 12,000,000 ACRES

State College Experiments Outlined to Farmers' Meeting at Snow Shoe

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 12.—Extensive plans for a State-wide reclamation of more than 12,000,000 acres of only partly unproductive farm land in Pennsylvania were outlined today to hundreds of farmers who went to Snow Shoe to inspect the fertilizer experiments conducted there by the Pennsylvania State College.

Headed by President Sparks, the college executive, and R. L. Watts, dean of the agricultural school, a corps of soil-tilling experts spoke to the farmers on the encouraging results obtained in the experiments.

While the experiments have been under way only eighteen months the achievements are considered remarkable. It was announced by Professor J. W. White, under whose supervision the demonstration plots are handled, that the field experiments, together with preliminary pot tests of similar soils at the college laboratories, show beyond a question the possibility of reclaiming the waste land at a cost of a few dollars to the acre.

According to Professor White, these experiments have for their object a study of the economic methods of building up this type of soil. He told the farmers how the State college was operating to give them an object lesson in the proper handling of acid soils, this being a condition that marks the territory around Snow Shoe.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE MAN ADVERTISES HIMSELF; HAS BRAINS TO SELL

Continued from Page One and three children. He lives in an exclusive neighborhood and counts among his friends some of the most influential business men of Philadelphia who have homes in the finest suburbs.

As a result of the European war and the policies of the foreign stockholders and officers, circumstances make it necessary for the young man to search for a position in the country.

Now the man is placing his own brains and ability on the market to sell them to business men who need them.

His advertisement, written by himself, has caused considerable comment. When it was sent in advertising men, who know good copy when they see it, declared it the best which had been used in any Philadelphia newspaper in years.

When a reporter went to see him at his office this morning, the immediate impression given was that of a game man making a game fight in an up-to-the-minute way.

In a frank manner he told the whole story of the circumstances which made a change of position necessary, in spite of the fact that the concern wants him "to go on as heretofore."

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

When asked for permission to print the story, the young man threw back his shoulders, set his square jaw and snapped his eyes and said, "It would be impossible if you mention any names. In the first place, I would not hurt my old employers and it would hurt my competitors.

RECLAMATION PLANNED FOR 12,000,000 ACRES

State College Experiments Outlined to Farmers' Meeting at Snow Shoe

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 12.—Extensive plans for a State-wide reclamation of more than 12,000,000 acres of only partly unproductive farm land in Pennsylvania were outlined today to hundreds of farmers who went to Snow Shoe to inspect the fertilizer experiments conducted there by the Pennsylvania State College.

Headed by President Sparks, the college executive, and R. L. Watts, dean of the agricultural school, a corps of soil-tilling experts spoke to the farmers on the encouraging results obtained in the experiments.

While the experiments have been under way only eighteen months the achievements are considered remarkable. It was announced by Professor J. W. White, under whose supervision the demonstration plots are handled, that the field experiments, together with preliminary pot tests of similar soils at the college laboratories, show beyond a question the possibility of reclaiming the waste land at a cost of a few dollars to the acre.

According to Professor White, these experiments have for their object a study of the economic methods of building up this type of soil. He told the farmers how the State college was operating to give them an object lesson in the proper handling of acid soils, this being a condition that marks the territory around Snow Shoe.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

The Alert Young American "Who Does Things" is Most Particular About His Clothing—

The Stein-Bloch and the Hart, Schaffner & Marx Suits and Overcoats, $20, $25 and $30. Our $15.00 Lines of Suits and Overcoats are the Best Possible Value at the Price.

Some Interesting Special Lots for To-morrow

Men's $18.00 and $20.00 Suits $14.50. Men's and Young Men's Suits $10.00. Men's Winter Overcoats $18.50.

Men's Trousers—Of worsted, in neat striped patterns, special value at $3.50. Of dependable blue serge, special at $2.75.

Men's Suits To-Measure $28.50

Our first announcement of this special purchase of fine Suitings at a reduction in price brought a rush of orders. Our cutters will be ready for another such rush to-morrow and Saturday.

Men's Autumn Hats, Neckwear, Shoes

The Cordhat—Is the best Soft Hat style of the season. It's the most popular too—for it looks well on any type of man.

New Shirts in the "Little Shirt Shop"

A wide assortment of madras, chevot, silk-wet and Habutai silk Shirts. For formal wear—a varied assortment of French plaid-pique bosoms.

Coats of Seal Plush Again in High Favor

This is a season of FURS, and anything resembling fur is sure to have a vogue. These Seal Plush Coats have much of the elegance and beauty of real fur.

If You Want a Treat, See Our Fine Suits, $25 to $32.50 and the Dresses, $20 to $35

You will find variety greater than you dared hope for, and styles that have been selected with the same discrimination, the same forethought and careful attention to details.

Suits from $25 to $32.50. Dresses from $20 to $35.00

Broadcloth, shadine, diagonal cloth, wool velour and whipcord. Many fur-trimmed models, many trimmed with plush.

MARKET ST. EIGHTH ST. FILBERT ST. STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER