

WHIRLWIND FINISH TO WIND UP G.O.P. CAMPAIGN HERE

Old Time Rallies and Nightly Parades Features
for Next Week

BIG ACADEMY MEETING

The Republican campaign in Philadelphia will end in a whirlwind finish next week. Old-time Republican rallies and parades with red fire and bands will be held on Friday night at a mass-meeting for the voters of the entire city will be held in the Academy building.

Theodore Roosevelt is expected to be the principal speaker at the Academy meeting. The Republican State leaders and organizations are lending their aid to this meeting and are enlisting the aid of Republicans of New Jersey and Delaware in order to make it really a three-State rally instead of just a mass-meeting of Philadelphia voters.

Delegates are expected from southern New Jersey and Delaware, and Maryland also will be officially represented. The various Republican chairmen in the counties in the eastern end of Pennsylvania also are being urged to send delegations.

In addition to Roosevelt, whose appearance as the headline is expected to be assured within a day or two, the Republican National Committee will send two or three other names.

Their names may be announced today, when the Philadelphia business men journey to New York to hold a "Pennsylvania Day" celebration there in honor of Hughes.

The sectional rallies will be held starting Wednesday night, November 1. The meetings that night will be held in West Philadelphia and in the northwestern section. On Thursday night there will be meetings for the voters of Germantown and Frankford and Kensington.

The big rally of the campaign will be the Academy meeting, which will be held on Friday night.

The Yares, who control the City Committee and the arrangements for the meetings, will have the campaign closed in their home district, South Philadelphia. The last meeting of the campaign will be held there on Saturday night.

The schedule of meetings and the places where they will be held follow:

Wednesday, November 1—West Philadelphia rally, Fifty-second Street Theater, Fifty-second and Sansom streets. Northwest rally, Moess Hall, 1314 North Broad street.

Thursday, November 2—Germantown rally, Town Hall, Frankford and Kensington rally, Textile Hall, Kensington avenue and Huntingdon street.

Friday, November 3—Rally for all Philadelphia, eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, at the Academy of Music.

November 4—South Philadelphia rally, Broadway Theater, Broad street and Snyder avenue.

PARADES A FEATURE
Parades, with red fire and bands, will be held on the night of each of these meetings. Plans that had been previously made for a monster torchlight parade up and down Broad street on the night of the Academy of Music meeting have been abandoned by the Republican leaders and the city committee, because a law which they have discovered prohibiting such a parade within ten days of election.

On the night of each rally, however, the various Republican clubs throughout the sections where the meetings are held will march with bands and red fire to the places where the rallies are held. This will occur in all sections of the city.

On the night of the Academy meeting it is planned to have the clubs march singly, or in groups of two or three, to the Academy. They will come from all parts of the city, and even without an organized old-time torchlight parade Philadelphia on that night should look just as it did on big town mass-meeting nights during campaigns ten and twenty years ago.

COURT CAN'T ISSUE PENNSGROVE LICENSES

man, Island Heights, Ocean Grove, they said, were all incorporated under special acts, and that their services were entirely different from those at Pennsgrove. If the court should decide that an association existed, they argued, the whole liquor question can be controlled by a body of men merely getting together and adopting a name and erecting a building, such as exists at Pennsgrove, and placing it in the center of a municipality, only those places already licensed would survive.

After hearing the argument Judge Waddington decided that the licenses would be refused, whereupon Mr. Hilliard insisted that the decision of the Court should be whether or not he finds that the camp-meeting exists, or he finds in the affirmative he has no jurisdiction; if in the negative he then could either grant or refuse. Judge Waddington then announced that he found he had no jurisdiction to act.

False, Says Carranza of Report He Would Flee

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—REPORTS that Carranza intends to leave Mexico City were flatly denied today by Juan T. Burns, Mexican Consul General here, who made public the following telegram which he had just received from Carranza:

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27.—Absolutely false that the Bandit Villa is besieging Chihuahua City or that Zapata is threatening the tranquility of Mexico City. Felix Diaz was defeated in recent skirmishes with our troops. He is now fleeing with a few followers to Guatemala. I shall remain in Mexico City until the Constitutional Convention convenes at Queretaro. All military operations have been successful and general conditions are improving daily.

V. CARRANZA.
Burns said the Constitutional Convention would convene at Queretaro on November 21.

VILLA CUTS RAILWAY INTO CHIHUAHUA CITY

Carranza Garrison Isolated
From South—Re-enforcements
Are Blocked

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 27.—Chihuahua is cut off from the south, both wire and railway communication being severed yesterday through a coup executed by Villa, according to reports to government agents today.

The heavy Carranza forces coming up from the south to reinforce the garrison will be delayed and ammunition supplies stopped except from the north.

Acting under orders from Villa himself a detachment marched across from Santa Ysabel and cut the Mexican National highway near Ortiz about thirty miles south of the Chihuahua capital. Agents of three United States departments obtained this information today from sources declared to be reliable.

The severed line was the only railroad from the south entering Chihuahua City, and that place now is isolated, except from northern Chihuahua. At the same time the main force of Villistas is moving southward.

Until the present time Villa has not attempted to cut the railway lines, although he had access to them, because the civilian population of northern Mexico would suffer.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 27.—In a fight between Carranza and Villa forces at Babicora, fifteen miles west of Namiquipa Wednesday, the bandits were defeated and a number of them killed, states a message received yesterday by General Francisco Gonzales at Juarez.

The skirmish occurred on the cattle ranch of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst. The bandits were in command of Major Juan Marrero, who was captured by the Carranza troops together with Captain Perfecto Lopez and two privates.

TO RAISE ORCHESTRA FUND

Women's Committee Launches Campaign for $18,000 Endowment

A vigorous campaign to raise the $18,000 required to complete the Philadelphia Orchestra's endowment fund was launched this afternoon by the women's committee. It is the hope of the committee to raise the money within the next seventeen days.

It was learned that Josef Hofmann, famous pianist, had given a substantial subscription to the fund, and many others, it is said, will be forthcoming.

By way of expediting matters, Mrs. William W. Arnett has formed a plan, which a number of women unite in one subscription.

Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, Mrs. Harold E. Yarnall, Mrs. William V. Slaughter and others are taking a prominent part in the movement.

report that the Villista forces operating near Namiquipa, twenty-five miles south of the American base in Mexico, have demanded that Pershing withdraw his men northward and shorten his lines. It is significant, officials say, that the reports to this effect say Villista and Carranzan forces in this section are fraternizing.

Thousands of Mexicans who have been secretly supporting the Legalista faction in northern Mexico plan to join forces with the troops of Felix Diaz in an effort to overthrow the Carranza regime, according to reports received at the Department of Justice today. Diaz, whose cause has been dormant for many months, now is reported to be creeping up from the south, driving the Carranzan forces before him and threatening Mexico City. The plan is said to contemplate a union of the forces by the movement of large bodies of Legalistas southward. These, upon joining the Diaz troops, will give battle to the main forces of Carranza.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 27.—All the commanders of the army corps along the border have been warned by the southern department to be on the alert for the attack or attacks said to be planned by Mexican troops. The commanders were ordered to send the warning to every organization on the border.

At General Funston's headquarters it was said no redistribution of troops would be necessary, as the cavalry, artillery and infantry organization are so stationed now as to cope successfully with any situation that might arise.

U. S. BORDER PATROL WARNED OF ALLEGED MEXICAN PLOT

representative of the new York house yesterday and expressed a desire on our part to have all his purchases of our goods shipped via the new line, provided the line was willing to quote the same price as could be obtained out of New York. In fact, we went so far as to state that we would concede them an amount equal to the freight from here to New York and would also make delivery to the docks at Philadelphia. This is something that we have not hitherto done. Seeing how actively you are pursuing the subject of the South American line, I should be very pleased if you would give me a few minutes before the meeting of the export managers to further discuss this subject.

SHIP VIA PHILADELPHIA
E. E. Kiehl, of the export department of the Entrepriase firm, advised the Chamber as follows:

"The New York house has virtually given us permission to ship their goods via the new Philadelphia line to South America. We have taken steps to get their order out in time so that we can have the goods ready for steamer sailing, we believe, November 15. You may rest assured that we will always give Philadelphia lines the preference when it is possible to do so, although the New York exporters usually prefer attending to their own shipments from New York. We have had a call from John D. Bennett, representing the new line, and we will arrange with him to reserve space on the next steamer for this particular shipment."

Morea-Montemayor & Co. said: "We hope to be able to avail ourselves of the facilities offered by the Philadelphia and South American line."

AMPLE TONNAGE
Herman Wright, president of the new company, returned to Philadelphia from New York today and emphasized the fact that there will be ample tonnage to send a ship to South America once a month, assuring the success of the venture. The addition of 1200 or 1500 tons from this city, in addition to the surplus from the West, would mean that two steamers could clear port every month, he said.

Philadelphia exporters, when quoting prices to New York commission men, would give them one price for a S. S. New York and quote another price for a S. S. Philadelphia, which would be less the freight charges from Philadelphia to New York. There is no doubt that the New York firms would see a great money-saving."

N. B. Kelly, the secretary of the Chamber today notified the chairmen of the thirty trade groups into which the membership is divided at once to call meetings of the executive committees of their groups for open discussion of the subject and to decide on such action as shall be taken successfully to combat the underhand methods of the British shipping interests that are leaving no stone unturned to abolish the new line.

Frank N. Poe, in charge of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Chamber of Commerce, who is largely responsible for whatever success has attended the establishment of the Philadelphia-South American line, said that there was no guarantee given by the Chamber of Commerce for 1200 tons of freight a month from Philadelphia to South America, as he generally supposed. Such a guarantee was asked for, but the only guarantee the Chamber would give, he said, was that every effort would be made by the Chamber to provide that amount.

"There are," he continued, "three large shippers in Philadelphia who could easily guarantee 1500 tons of freight a month from this port to South America, if they only had enough civic pride to do so. If it should eventually happen that the line is withdrawn from this port it will be the fault of Philadelphia exporters, who look on trifling temporary reduction in freight rates as of more importance than the building up of their own port and city."

Asked if there was any guarantee demanded by the owners of the line or promised by the Chamber of Commerce of return cargoes from South America, Mr. Poe said there was not. "But," he added, "no steamship line would undertake such a trip without a more than reasonable certainty of full return cargo; they could not afford to do otherwise."

South Has New Textile Mills
BALTIMORE, Oct. 27.—Among the new southern enterprises listed this week by the Manufacturers' Record are: Commonwealth Hosiery Mills, High Point, N. C., capital $125,000, to build plant and produce 400 to 500 dozen pairs of hose daily; C. B. Armstrong, Gastonia, N. C., organizing $150,000 company to build 6000-spindle mill for spinning cotton yarns.

'PRIVILEGE OF PRAYER,' EVANGELIST'S THEME

Dr. Lyon, in Camden Sermon,
Declares It Honor to Interview Creator

"The Effectiveness of Prayer" was discussed by the Rev. Dr. Milford H. Lyon at the revival meeting in Camden this afternoon.

"Prayer is important, first of all," he said, "on account of the great association in prayer. Not one of us would deem it a small privilege or honor to have an interview with the King of England or the Emperor of Germany, or our own President. We would consider it one of the great events of our lives to be planned for in advance and looked back upon."

"How much greater is the privilege and honor of having an interview with the King of Kings? Yet many rush hastily into God's presence just as mischievous boys rap at the door and run away before the housekeeper can answer the summons."

The evangelist said that prayer was important because it was commanded by the Scriptures, an account of its great results, and for many other reasons. He told of many cases where prayer had been answered. Tonight Doctor Lyon will preach on the text, "Thou art weighed in the balance and art found wanting."

group of chain grocery stores, also said he contemplates no change in the price of his five-cent loaf, which he said averages fifteen to sixteen ounces in weight.

SMALL BAKERS TO FOLLOW
An official of the Philadelphia Home-Made Bread Company, which makes Jones's Hoium bread, said this morning: "We can't do anything else but raise the price, but we haven't made any newspaper advertisement of the fact. It is foolish to spend money to tell people we have raised our bread under consideration for food." The small corner bakers of the city and virtually all follow the action of the Hoium company. It was thought by a number who were called on the telephone this morning, F. L. Schillhenmayer, an active member of the Philadelphia Master Bakers' Association, said: "I suppose most of the bakers will have to follow suit, although I do not know of any who have made any definite announcement such as the 'Kohb' company has done."

E. F. Whitecar, representative of the National Bakers' Association, said he knew of no concerted action on the part of the bakers, but he considered it likely that all in the city would make the increase effective in the near future.

PRIEST GOES TO BORDER

The Rev. George T. Montagus, a curate at the Church of Our Mother of Sorrows, has been sent by Archbishop Prendergast to the border to minister to the Pennsylvania guardsmen. He will reach El Paso on Sunday.

Father Montagus is one of the most successful preachers among the younger clergy, and has been especially successful in his labors for the welfare of young men. It is understood he will continue his work at the border until the Pennsylvania troops return home.

Why Not a Pure Piano Law?

Had the writer been in some other line of business and anxious to get the best piano value offered, what would be the proper thing to do? Take up the various newspapers, read the advertisements, study and digest them! And what conclusion would be reached? Almost all piano advertisements speak of beautiful instruments and great values, but do not explain why those values can be had at their establishments, as they are simply dealers in pianos, buying and selling for a profit and knowing little or nothing of construction and durability.

When you are buying your food supplies, the farmer politely tells you he has to raise the price of milk as the inspectors will not permit him to use water; the baker tells you he must advance the price of bread as flour is higher than it has ever been, and the grocer and meat dealers bluntly inform you that products are higher and they must charge accordingly. Had the pure food laws not been in force, the farmer might add a little water and inferior products would pass muster.

We only wish there were some thoroughly posted and strictly honest government inspectors understanding piano construction. Then there would be no question as to the great piano value we are offering to the public in a Cunningham-made player-piano for $450 and on easy weekly or monthly payments, without interest or extras.
