KNOX WILL SPEAK HERE IN MAMMOTH REPUBLICANRALLY

Roosevelt Unable to Appear and Senator Penrose Is Blamed

Philander C. Knox, former Secretary of tate and Republican candidate for United tates Senator from Pennsylvania, will de-ver the principal address at the big Re-ublican rally in the Academy of Music iver the principal address at the big Republican raily in the Academy of Music Friday night.

In spite of the fact that Theodors Roosevelt, whom the city committee and other organizations that are staging the raily had asked to speak, was forced to decline because of other engagements. Senator Varetoday predicted that the Academy meeting would be one of the largest political demonstrations ever held in this city.

Governor Brumbaugh, Congressman J. Adam Bede, of Minnesota; Congressman J. Adam Bede, of Minnesota; Congressman George S. Graham, William Draper Lewis and probably several leaders of the city will also address the meeting. It is admitted by politicians that it is altogether likely Senator Vare's prediction as to the size and enthusiasm of the assemblage will be borne out to the full, for the Vares are making personal efforts to arrange such a rousing raily as will not only add impetus to the closing days of the campaign, but which also will reflect credit upon themselves.

but which also will reflect credit upon themselves.

Definite announcement has been made, at National Republican headquarters in New York that the Colonel will speak at Cooper Union in that city next Friday night, and that, therefore, he cannot come to Philadelphia to address the Republicans of three States in the big raily that will be held in the Academy of Massic the same might.

Many Vare leaders are inclined to blame Benator Penrose for the failure to obtain Roosevelt as the principal speaker. They are charging him with baving played factional politics in the whole affair and with "throwing down" Philadelpiha and Pennsylvania Republicans.

In support of their assertions, they point to the fact that Roosevelt was asked to speak at the Academy meeting a full month ago.

A representative of the Vares presented the first invitation, and later William Flinn, of Pittsburgh, Roossvelt leader in Penn-sylvania in 1912, who previously had re-ceived a declination from Roosevelt to speak in Pittsburgh on Friday night, wrote to Rooseveit and asked him to come to Phila-delphia if the Colonel could not arrange to delphia if the Colonel could not alrange to speak in Pittsburgh.

The invitation extended last Friday to Roosevett to address the voters of the na-tion and call upon them to support Hughes at the Cooper Union meeting, the Vare fol-lowers point out, was extended by John Wanamaker, who has been closely aligned politically with Senator Penrose since start of the Penrose-Brumbaugh fight.

NO LONGER FUNNY, A SUICIDE

Aged European Comedian Kills Himself in Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 36.—Grieved because people no longer laughed at the antice which once amused the crowned heads of Europe. Adolph Koppel, seventy, who half a century ago was one of the noted comedians abroad, killed himself. His body was found today in the little house which had been his home for twenty-five years. He had torn the chandelier from the ceiling and the flow of gas had asphysiated him.

"I am too old to be furny any more," Roppel had told his friends.

FOR WHIRLWIND FINISH NUSBAUM BACK FROM LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Assistant Superintendent Will Not Be Paid for Vocational School Inquiry

Louis Nusbaum, associate superintendent of schools, who was granted a leave of absence by the committee on elementary schools of the Board of Education a week ago for a reason which he would not make public, has returned to his office. He said that he had been away to study vocational schools in the Middle West.

He said that he had been to Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul, and there had observed methods employed to instruct foreign and illiterate adults. No record of his leave of absence is contained in the minutes of the Board of Education.

Mr. Nusbaum went away on a similar purpose about a year ago. On that occasion his expenses were paid out of public funds. This time, according to William Rowen, chairman of the committee on elementary schools, he will not be reimbursed by the school board.

when Mr. Nusbaum went away Dr. John P. Garber, superintendent of schools said that he had been granted a leave of absence and that he was attending to a "school matter."

The exact nature of this "matter," however, Doctor Garber would not divuige. Mr. Nusbaum, upon returning, said that he had found in the Middle West a splendld system of caring for men and women engaged in the industries who in later life were trying to obtain the educational advantages which they lacked in childhood. Day schools for foreign adults had been conducted with success he said and similar institutions are under consideration here.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF SUPREME ISSUE AT POLLS NEXT WEEK

Republican National Committee Make Powerful Presentation of the Case

Powerful Presentation of the Case

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—"Back to the bread line if Wilson's tariff is not repealed." This is the text of an address to President Wilson printed in today's newspapers over the signature of the Republican National Committee. It is a comprehensive and convincing resolution of the protective tariff as the supreme issue of be determined at the election next week.

"It is a fact, and you know it is a fact," the President is told, that under the operation of a Republican tariff, and prior to the artificial stimulation of industries, due to the European War, the exports of the United States vastly exceeded the importa, and this excess was steadily and swiftly reduced in the period following the operation of the Wilson tariff. This decrease, in the course of a few months continued until the excess of exports reached the vanishing point and was replaced by a balance of trade on the other side of the ledger." he ledger."

The figures are presented month by month, in support of the argument for protection, the summary showing that "in the five months from April to August, 1915, inclusive, under the Republican tariff, we sold abroad $218,000,000 more than we bought abroad, but in the corresponding months of 1914, under your tariff, we sold abroad."

Warning is given that with the cessation of the munition exports hundreds of thousands of wage-earners will be separated from the payrolls of industrial plants now supplying the European belligerents and go "back to the bread line of 1914."

It is a powerful and unanswerable argument for protection.

SOMEBODY FOOLED OLD SOL

Gray Mask a Little Too Early

Old Sol arose this morning, looked at his calendar, saw the 30 staring him in the face, and remarked: "Aha, Halloween. Now for my masquerade." Then he donned a mask of dull gray mist that completely hid his features, and assumed an appearance that made many persons mistake his approach for that of Jupiter Piuvius. It wasn't until several hours later when the sun, peering through the fog, discovered that Halloween was still some twenty-four hours in the future.

In the meantime trolley traffic was slowed up on account of the fog and the slippery rails, while ferryboats shrieked and bellowed as their pilots exerted all their skill to guide them through the darkness into their proper slips. That no accidents were reported was a tribute to the good steersmanship of the navigators.

The movement has been indorsed by prominent citizens of Camden and Philadelphia. Letters of praise and encouragement have been received from Rabbi B. L. Levinthal, the Rev. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 20.—Charles Evans Hughes rolled into Ohio today for the wind-up of the Republican campaign

This was his second journey in the Buck-eye State, where just now the Republicans are centering their heaviest artillery.

They are relying on Hughes to bring a forceful message on his doctrine of "false and unnatural prosperity" and on the Adamson eight-hour law.

Hughes has twenty-three speeches during the week, winding up with a mass-meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York, Sat-urday night.

Fire insurance policies for $145,080 on St. James's Episcopal Church, Twenty-sec ond and Walnut streets, have been lost or stolen. Today the policies are being advertised in the lost and found classification of the EVENING LEDGER.

The policies, known as perpetual policies of insurance, were written in 1879. It is a fact, however, that no vestryman or church official has seen the policies for many years.

official has seen the policies for many years.

Discovery that the papers were missing resulted from the decision of the Rev. Dr. John Mockridge, rector, to piace the affairs of his church on a business basis. In this work he was assisted by John O. Platt, who was elected a vestryman about six months ago. In making a thorough examination of the business affairs of the church Mr. Platt could find so trace of the policies.

Vestrymen conducted a thorough search in the church and in the guild house, but it was unavailing. Then the various insurance companies were communicated with and requested to write new policies. This they agreed to do if an advertising cam-
