PENN COACHES HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF DEPENDABLE SUBSTITUTES FOR LINE POSITIONS

DEVELOPMENT OF WONDERFUL LINE AT PENN ACCOMPLISHED, DESPITE DEARTH OF MATERIAL

Folwell Has Very Few Substitute Forwards Capable of Holding Up Against Experienced Opponents-Backfield May Be Changed

COOTBALL coaches, critics and opponents of Penn's fighting eleven are us in the opinion that the Red and Blue line is as strong defensively as any in the entire country. They marvel at the rapid development of the Penn forwards, and probably would be amazed if they knew the true conditions. As a atter of fact, Penn is weaker in line material than it has been in years, and the act that such excellent results have been shown is due to the tireless efforts and lover coaching of Folwell, Dickson, Gaston and Wharton.

Penn has less high-class line material than any other large college eleven, d it really is remarkable that this department is so strong. The disqualification Hill Nefil leaves Penn with only three guards who are capable of holding up eir end against a strong attack, and the tackle material is so weak that Wirkin, the substitute guard, moves over to tackle if Mathews or Little retires from Lud Wray is the only center in the squad who really understands how the should be played, his younger brother being too inexperienced for an ertant game. There are only four ends of class in the entire squad, and for the greater part of the season both Crane and Young, the substitutes to Heinie Miller and Urguhart, have not been able to report for practice until after 4 o'clock. By Dickson has had a hard time developing ends this season because of the class work of the most likely candidates and the scarcity of good material.

Folwell has many substitutes for every line position, but they all are below big college standard excepting the two utility ends and Wirkman. Robinson tands how to play guard, but lacks the physique to put his technical knowlige into operation. Swann is too green to be trusted in a guard position in an ortant game, and the same is true of Berg, who has been with the squad a few days. Wagoner, the only substitute tackle worthy of consideration, also lacks experience, and that is why Wirkman, whose regular position is at guard, has been shifted over to tackle.

Conditions Will Be Different Next Season

No other coach of a large college eleven is handicapped as much as Folwell in this respect, despite the fact that we hear so much of his wonderful line and line material. It is a wonderful line, but if the old saying that a team is just as strong as its reserve strength is true, then Penn is weak in its strongest depart

At Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Syracuse and other eastern colleges the coaches have at least four seasoned substitutes for every position, and these teams really are not handlcapped so much by injuries to regular line men. If Penn is unlucky enough to have two or three linemen injured in a game it will be a miracle if the opposing team is stopped. And this is realized by the Red and Blue coaches, who are spending more time on the line than on the backfield, despite the fact that erratic play in the latter department has been the greatest handlcap to date.

Conditions will be different next season. The old Penn spirit has returned, as was proved beyond doubt last Thursday night, before the Red and Blue eleven departed for Pittsburgh, and again yesterday, when a losing team was given as great a reception as any winner Penn has had in years. When enthusiasm is running high the list of football candidates will be large, and next fall virtually all the hig men in college will be candidates for the team, whether they are aperienced or green.

The entire student body turned out to welcome the team yesterday. Even Provost Smith, who usually follows the work of the team with only passing interest, has become enthusiastic, and made a stirring speech to the football team and student body during the demonstration. Coach Folwell predicted that Penn would win at least four and possibly five of the remaining games on the schedule, and as "Fighting Bob" is not given to making idle boasts the student body and general public can rest assured that the Red and Blue coach has received favorable reports from the scouts who have been following the work of Lafayette, Dartouth, Michigan, West Virginia Wesleyan and Cornell. It is said that Folwell tears Michigan more than any other team on the schedule, the Maize and Blue team being touted as the strongest Wolverine eleven since Jimmy's Craig's last year.

New Backfield for Lafayette Game

PENN probably will have a new backfield again on Saturday. It is believed that Jimmy Bryant, quarterback on last season's freshman eleven, will pilot the team, Light's work against Pitt and his poor physical condition being responsible for the change. Bryant is not the equal of Light in general play, but is a better team director than any man in the squad, and that is what Penn needs nost at the present time

It is said that Light may be shifted to halfback, replacing Graves Williams, ose work has not been up to the early-season standard. If this is true, the burden of Penn's offense will be placed entirely upon the shoulders of Berry, as Detr and Bryant are not strong in this department, while Light has not as yet shown anything out of the ordinary as a running back. Unless Berry's injured

TEN SIXTY-YEAR-OLD ATHLETES FORM FRANKFORD GOLF TEAM: HURL DEFI IN WORLD'S TEETH

By SANDY MCNIBLICK

FOR glory and the old man's champion-ship of the United States. Ten patri-archs, sunbrown, of wrinkled neck and clear of aged eye, threw down the gauntlet today to the whole world-wide realm of golfdom in a challenge over the links for the team title of America.

The sweeping Gen was issued through E. S. Davis, Select Councilman from his ward, golf fan extraordinary, and captain of the spirited veterans who would go forth to bat-tle. The whole ten of them are from the Frankford Country Club. The combined age of the band of Methugaleans is more than six hundred and fifty years.

The conditions or the match are these: Every member of the team must be at least sixty years old, and no handicaps will be given golfers of extreme age, 100 years or so. Every pre-Adamiter on the team must belong to the same country club. The conditions of the play will be determined by envoys from each team, but the spirited Frankfordians don't give a rip whether the play is match or medal, or both. What the grandfatherly team wants is

It is distinctly stated in the challenge that clubs such as the Ozone Club, made up of members of different clubs are not eligi-ble. All the fellers must be active members of the same country club.

"Cap" Davis intimated today that, if they had the nerve to accept, there was a flock of old men over in the Cricket Club, right here in this city, that would make "good practice" for his team.

"We'd like to clean up a couple of local feams just to get our team going nicely." said the Frankford Nestor. "and then we can give other teams around the country "The Frankford line-up, with Golf Associa-What's coming to them." The Frankford line-up, with Golf Associa-tion of Philadelphis handicaps, follows: E. S. Davis, captain, 11; Daniel Darreff, 12; Wade Wilson, 8; Emmett O'Neill, 14; A. J. Gilmour, 14; Harry and Fred Buckius, 17; Robert Lewis, 18; Ben C. Tillinghast, 18; and tenth man a "dark horne." Several old men have recently joined the Frankford men have recently joined the Frankford Club, and among them is said to be a star of the first order. of the first order. Plans for the challenge, definitely decided upon today, were first hatched at Northfield last Saturday, on the last day of the tour-nament of the Country Club of Atlantic City.

A squad of the Frankfordian Noahs were gathered in the locker room immediately after the bath and were bellowing like young walruses. The joshing turned to the golf successes of Frankford and how it "took the old fellers" to uphold the glory of the club. Some one wished for now fields to the club. Some one wished for new fields to conquer, and that gave the idea for the pilgrimage.

The challenge sets a new mark in ath istic history. The team is the oldest that has ever gone out in competition and is a grand tribute to golf. There is no other outdoor sport, probably, in which sixty-year-old athletes would long stay in the running. But golf sees no age limit, young or old. If recipients of the challenge think they will meet a tottering fine-up of graybeards, quavering of voice, shaky of limb, wearing black spectacles and hobbling about with the aid of a cane, they have a shock coming to them. The condition of the Frankford team is one of the finest arguments for the preserving qualities of the ancient and toyal game.

"Cap" Davis, who will play way up at the head of the team, is actually a blonde with scarce a gray hair on his head. He was one of the first winners of the gold medal in the ancient and honorable tournament held annually in Philadelphia.

This year's champion of the "ancients," Danny Darreff, who is oft mistaken for Teddy R., is set up like an ox and looks no more like sixty years on this earth than a college fullback with a mustache.

By GRANTLAND RICE

Above the Mass

Good Idea

-HDR

Today along the grassy beat I missed a putt of thirty fest; And as this cost me several bets, I think I'll give up cigarettes

If jammed into a corner, however, and forced to make a choice, we would be set tent enough and safe enough to mane the quarter —Jim Thorpe. Ned Mahan, Wills Heston and Waiter Eckersail. This quartet could put on French or hest linh uniforms, take the ball outside of Park and carry it in straight rushes to Batter without heing thrown for a loss. Seven long years of disaster passed o'er us, Seven long years with defeat as their tale, Since Andrus and Goebel and Ted Coy and Lilley Fought for the honor and glory of Yale.

We who have seen them have wondered and

As year upon year our opponents' score grew; Shades of Kilpatrick and Shevlin and Rock-

Above the share There are only a very few that say above the mass over a long stretch years. Germany Schuis, of Michigan-feet 4-240 pounds and as fast as an an-has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center. He was the has had no rival at center the same was the same way the same way the same way the Michigan never will forget the same Where were the stalwarts that once wor the Bluef

Patiently waiting, at last came the answer, Flashed from the stands as they rose to the score; We who had lost them so long now had

Even if these were not greater than normal, There's still a reason why gloom clouds should pale— Back with that strong heart we used to Michigan never will forget the name Heston, Schulz and Snow, just as Tale ne will forget the names of Hinkey, Hogan Shevlin; just as Harvard always will call Dibblee, Campbell, Brickley and 3 <sup>1</sup> Princeton still thinks of Pos and W Dewitt and Kelly and Cochran. Ponn her list in Woodruff and Wharton, On Hare and others.

remember, Tad Jones has come home to Yale, —GEORGE TREVOR, '15.

Further proof that golf injures the bas-ting eye was offered this last season. The ball player who played more self than any other big leaguer was The Speaker, of Cleveland. And look what is did to him! It was all Tris could do to "WAS Tad Jones the greatest quarter-back that Yale ever had?" queries G. J. F. One of the greatest, anyway, Other stars were De Saulles, Rockwell and Fincke -not to forget Harry Beecher, from the old regime. hit .383.

Yale's greatness ran more to ends than to quarterbacks. Frobably the five greatest ends in American football would be listed as Hinkey, Shevlin, Kilpatrick, Campbell and Snow. Three-fifths of these—the first three—all belong to Yale, with Harvard and Michigan represented by Campbell and

Some, as It Were, Backfield

Another sideliner asks for an opinion as to the greatest backfield that might be se-lected from all who have played. Reaching the proper answer here leads one into water too deep for safety. There have been so many brilliant backs that to cut the pick down to four would be almost impossible. by giving their club handlcap. For there is on the reverse side, plain as day, the figure of a golf bag. The surrounding foliage is meant to rep-resent the rough, flourishing on every good golf course.

so many Repair Bills

If there's one thing more than another that sours a man against motoring and makes him wish he'd stuck to the horse-and-buggy, it's having to dig down every week or so to pay for some darned thing that has gotten out o' kelter. Correct lubrication will help to keep your car out of the repair shop and your hand out of your purse.

GARAGE

knee mends sooner than is expected it would be impossible to make this shift, as Bill Quigley, Berry's substitute, is not versatile enough to carry the offensive

Coach Folwell would like to use Ertresvang in the backfield, but the absence of high-class line material and the fact that the season is half over makes this mible. Next season Folwell plans to use Ertresvaag in the backfield, and he believes the youngster will develop into a star. He is a natural back, and had little experience in the line until this senson. Considering the short time he has been playing guard, Estresvaag's work has been wonderful, and Folwell has ceased worrying about his position.

. ...

Every season Yale has almost as many coaches as varsity players late in the season, and stars of other years are beginning to arrive at New Haven. Foster Rockwell, the sensational quarterback of the 1904, 1905 and 1906 teams and later coach of Sammy Morse's eleven, joined the coaching staff yesterday. Rockwell will look after the quarterbacks for the rest of the season.

100 M 2 100

Tris Speaker's presence in Cleveland, at the banquet of Owner Jim Dunn, gave e to the report that the leading slugger of the American League is to succeed Lee Fohl as manager of the Indians. Just why Fohl should be released is a mystery, as he surely has made good. There are few managers in the game who ald have been able to keep Cleve'and in the race as long as Fohl did last season, with a badly crippled pitching staff. If Cleveland lets Fohl out there are several swners likely to dicker with him at once.

Harry Fisher, for twelve years the leading basketball coach of the East, will not handle Columbia's five this winter. Fisher has decided to give up the game, ng to business pressure. During Fisher's regime as coach Columbia won five Intercollegiate titles and tied Cornell once. Fisher also played on the champion-ahlp Columbia teams of 1903 and 1904. Only one game was lost in these two searons, and that contest was with an independent team.

Philadelphia fans saw a real little battler last night at the Olympia. Dick dman, of Buffalo, proved what a hit an aggressive boxer can make, and even igh the visitor was beaten by Lew Tindler he carried the house by storm. diman is not a boxer; he doesn't know even how to jab, but cleverness is for-tan when a lad wades into an opponent in a perfectly good imitation of a street wi. Loadman, no doubt, will be rebooked in Philadelphia and against an op-tent of equal height the Buffaio had probably would make a battle even more nteresting than last night.

PETEY

....

THIS TRAING TO BREAK

- IT'S THE LIMIT"

ILTO SOCIETY STUNT MY

Few of those on the team look their mel-

be years, and knowing this condition will probably hold true of other ancient golf teams, the Frankfordlane will demand birth certificate datos to be duly registered be-fore weighing in at the first tee. It is likely that some of the far distant chal-lenges will be played, each team on its own course and the results be malled to a refourse, and the results be mailed to a refereeing committee. Speaking of tributes to the game of golf, the very latest one is the design on the back of the brand-new dimes, samples of which may be had by golfers at any bank, simply Atlantic Polarine is "correct lubrication" for eight out of ten cars. Under certain conditions, one of the other three principal motor oils-Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium" or Atlantic "Heavy"-may give better results. But, in all events, at least one of those four olls is the one best suited to your particular needs. Ask your garageman which.

PHILADELPHIA

Atlantic Motor Oils are to correct lubrication what Atlantic Gasoline, the accepted standard, is to correct fuel. In either gas or oil, you can't go wrong on "Atlantic."

Drain your crank-case, wash it out with a little Rayolight Oil, put in a fresh supply of pure, honey-clear Atlantic Motor Oil. You'll have fewer bills for repairs and be glad you took the advice of oil experts.

PITTSBURGH

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensi-book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they can

ATLANTIC

MOTOR OILS

THE ATLANTIC REFINING COMPANY

Oldest and Largest Manufacturers of Lubricating Oils in the World

加加的如何知道

