

CITY HALL PIGEONS ENJOY FINE PRE-ELECTION WEATHER
 The blur in the center of the photograph is only an intrepid pigeon which flew across the lens almost within arm's length of the camera.

ORGANIZERS OF PHILADELPHIA BOOTBLACKS
 A. M. Volpe and B. E. Beard, from left to right, are the men chiefly responsible for the organization of the Philadelphia Bootblack Association. The association, because of increased cost of living, a few days ago decreed an increase in the price of shins.

A PAIR OF THE FINEST OF PHILADELPHIA'S FINEST
 Captain William B. Mills at the left, in charge of the Reserves and the Traffic Squad, and Captain George E. Tempest, of the Fifth Division, which comprises West Philadelphia, are two of the most popular men in the Bureau of Police.

ARMS SAID TO BE FOR VILLA SEIZED IN THE WEST
 A United States marshal "pinched" a cargo of machine guns bearing an innocent-looking address, but said to be destined for Villa's use.

WOMEN GO DOWN A LONG WAY IN THE FAMILY MUDD. THE PURCHASERS, A DISTINCTIVE FEATURE OF PHILADELPHIA'S MELTING POT DISTRICT, ARE EVEN MORE USEFUL THAN THEY ARE PICTURESQUE.
