MISS MARION JOSEPHINE DATESMAN

Miss Datesman, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Datesman, was guest of honor at a luncheon given Nevember I by her mother at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club. Miss Datesman's engagement to Mr. Edmund Allen Hill was recently announced.

Mr. James Cheston, 3d, has issued invitations for a theater party on Saturday, December 9, in honor of Miss Alice Janney and Miss Meta Janney.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Bement, of 3817

Miss Agnes Brockie, of Red Gate, School

tone Germantown is spending

Mrs. Clarence H. Clark, 3d, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John P. Hollingsworth, of Chestnutwold Farm, Devon, will leave shortly for the berder, to visit their hus-bands, who are members of the City Troop.

They will remain for a visit of several weeks.

A meeting of the surgical dressings committee, at 1428 Walnut street, will be held on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Arrangements will be made for the bazaar which is to be held by the different com nittees at Horticultural Hall on Decem-ter, Park and Susquehanna avenues, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anni-

At a dinner which will follow the re-ception, covers will be laid for 150 persons

Weddings

JOHNSON-WATT

gravia.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will live at 326 West Springfield avenue.

WILSON-WILLIAMSON

where they will be at home

Invitations have been sent to a number friends in distant cities.

ry The reception will be given by children, Miss Martha Halpern and eral days in New York.

versary

Mr. Samuel George Stein, of this city.

ice street, announce the engagement of r daughter, Miss Eleanore Bement, to

THE Philadelphia Operatic Society is preparing to give us son and has again reverted to grand opera, which, after all, is its primal pursuit, for I understand it was really a bit unusual to give "Robin Hood" last spring; but, my, wasn't it well given? And really that opera is deedly above par as a

On November 15 the society will give Puc-"La Boheme," and Mrs. Austin S. Heckscher, president of the society. in greatly rested in the sucof the undertak The performance will be held in the Academy of Music and very many person have taken boxes. Judg ing by foregoing pro ductions, it will be well worth while to go, I think. Among those who have already procured boxes are Mrs. William Woodward Arnett, Miss Constance ale, Mrs. John S. Bioren, Mr. John Braun, Mrs. Robert Brock, Mrs. Frederick Brown, Mrs. Walter Bryant, Mrs. Edward Coates, Mrs. Horner Alexander Brown Coxe, Mrs. Charles Coxe, Mrs. Henry Dillard, Mrs. George Dallas Dixon, Mrs. Henry Edward Drayton, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Duane, Mrs. Logan Feland, Mrs. William H. Greene, Mrs. Robert Emott Hare, Mrs. Henry Hassan, Mrs. Austin S. Heckscher, Mrs. Maurice Heckscher, Mr.

rice Heckscher, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jenkins, Mrs. Frank G. Jr., have issued cards for a dinner on Monday, January 1. in honor of Miss Newbold. The guests will afterward attend the dance to be given by Mrs. Arthur Brock. Wassili Leps, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lewis, Miss Mary Lewis, Mr. John Luther Long, Mrs. Howard Longstreth, Mrs. W. Mc-Lanahan, Mr. Clarence Miller, Mrs. L. Pratt, Mrs. J. Ernest Richards, Mrs. J. Harrison Smith, Mr. Thomas B. Smith, Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, Mrs. Yorke Stevenson, Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Allen Strong, Mrs. Sydney Thayer, Miss Elizabeth Wallace, Miss Fanny Waln, Mrs. S. D. Warriner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weatherly, Mrs. Rollin Wilbur, Mrs. A. H. Wintersteen, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Charles Stewart Wurts and Mrs. Harold Yarnall,

The Little Theater was jammed to the doors and then some last night at the Plays and Players' opening performance; the first club night always seems to be most popular, as it is the "getogether" occasion, and greetings were smiled and waved from one to another across the tiny house. Two very short sketches were given, the first with a nall cast, consisting of the handsome "Reggie" Oates and Katherine Seeler, with Mr. Henry Schaffer in the offing, as were, doing his small part very creditably. I was not the only one amused at the selection of so young a girl as as Seeler for the part she was called upon to play; one's astonishment was only increased when it was learned that Mary Mitchell wrote the playlet. However, the thing was very well done and the young author's lines were good.

Mr. Waldo's "Sea-Shell" proved most amusing; the character sketches were mingly good, as any one will testify has spent much time at a resort otel. Miss Helen Duffield, Mrs. Wirt Putwiler, Miss Ruth Verlenden, Joseph Dearing, Alfred Ward and others were in the cast. The thrill of the evening furnished, however, between the ays. when Mrs. Yorke Stevenson aned her resignation from the presiof the club; the announcement so unexpectedly to most of the numbers that they were petrified! the proverbial pin dropping would have ned like an explosion so intense was the stience during her address.

The evening affair for buds will be the barn dance which Judge Martin and his wife and daughter will give for Anne Meira. Every one is to go in farmer ne, so it will be some party, don't you think? "Anne Meirs is such a lady," said one of last year's buds to me quite ecently. "She has the most exquisite manners and is so well poised, and she awfully popular and makes you feel so at ease." I like to hear these things about the buds, and perhaps you do, too, so I pass it along.

NANCY WYNNE.

Personals

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Krumbhaar, of Chesinut Hill, will give a supper party at the Ritz-Cariton on Tuesday, November 21, ster the first performance of the Metro-cellan Opera Company, in honor of Miss Barothy Emien Newbold, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Emien Newbold, MEDICAL MISSIONARY TO ARABS WILL TELL EXPLOITS TO Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Paul Harrison, Passing Rich With $700 a Year, Has Had Remarkable Experiences in the East

EXPERT AS A LINGUIST

Dr. Paul W. Harrison, American medical missionary to Arabia, graduate of Johns Hopkins and of the University of Nebraska, and who is said to have "added a Christian page to the Thousand and One Arabian Nights," will wind up an interesting course of lectures in Philadelphia when he speaks tonight in the Y. M. C. A., 1421 Arch strest.

Arch street.
The meeting will be held under the auspleas of the Student Volunteer Union.

Doctor Harrison's experiences, it is said, would fill several volumes with interesting and rair-raising explets. Although young he is accredited with many accomplishments. he is accredited with many accomplishments. Not long ago he startled missionaries already in Arabia by learning Arabic sooner than any of them thought possible. Then he had to get a Turkish diploma and the examination is held in French. Since the diploma was imperative the young doctor decided to spend a month in Paris to ouch up his book French. The trip across the northern Arabian desert was made in ecord time on a camel's back, and Doctor Jarrison then yent the four weeks in the rench capital talking with everybody, injuding janitors' children and some of the est known surgeons in the French hospitals.

He returned and soon was given a Doctor Harrison went to Arabia for the arabian Mission, which pays him $700 a ear, and of that sum much is spent for nedicine and instruments for the Araba, Furthermore, the young missionary has introduced American methods and styles in Arabia. The Arabians are accustomed to ward tales and it takes constituted to Arabia. The Arabians are accustomed to weind tales and it takes something to shake from them their usual mask of composure. Doctor Harrison did it, however. He conducts a dispensary at Kuweit, and operates on everything from sheiks to donkeys. One day an Arab brought him his son, who was suffering from water on the brain. When the doctor saw the child he raked why he had not been brought to him. asked why he had not been brought to him before.

"Something might have been done to save him, but now he is dying," he said.
"Can't you do anything for him," the father asked.
Doctor Harrison then suggested that transplanting of a vein into the child's neck might save his life, and suggested that the father give a vein from his arm or leg to act as a drain.

"What, you you want to cut me!" the father exclaimed. "No, let him die first." Undaunted, Harrison cut a vein from his own left arm, under local anaesthesia. It was six inches long, and although he trans-planted it into the boy's neck, the child

The tale of the young doctor's herolam soon spread among the Arabs, and many would come to look at the red scar on his arm with amazement.

Doctor Harrison says the Arabs are unwilling to help each other and for that reason need his help. He is a poor man. however, like many other sons of minis-ters. He worked hard to get his training at the university, at Johns Hopkins, and at the Massachusetts General Hospital in

The Rev. Stuart Tyson and his sister, Mrs. Hermann Denckla, has issued cards for a tea to be given on November 16 at at Acorn Cub to meet Miss Katherine Emily Tyson and Miss E. Pauline Denckla. The card of Miss Mary Tyson Denckla is also inclosed. Within a few weeks he will be traveling back to Arabia. Needless to say, his lectures are interesting. He already has given several in Houston Hall and at the Jefferson Medical College. He halls from Ne-

> RELIGIOUS BREVITIES The Rev. John Dumont Reid, of St. Paul. Minn., will preach temorrow morning in the First Unitarian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Earle, 3d, are spending some time as the guests of Mrs. Earle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Baily Browder, at their home, Lincoln drive and Mermaid 1 ne. Chestnut Hill. Mrs. Browder's other daughter, Miss Katherine Potter, will return in a few days from Lexington, Ky., where she has been a member of a house party given by Mrs. Thomas M. Owsley. The Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters will preach again tomorrow in the Memorial Haptist Church, Ris subjects will be: At half past 16, "Our Friends in Heaven," and in the evening, "is the Traditional Heil True?" He will also talk in the afternoon for men only.

The Rev. Milford H. Lyon, evangelist, will ad treas the Congregationalist ministers at their egular meeting on Monday.

The Socialist Literary Society will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Broad Street Theater, with John Spargo as speaker on "The Issue of the Campaign."

The Rev. James B. Ely will speak tomorrow night under the auspices of the Lemon Hill Association on "Within the Vall." The Junior Symphony Orchestra will furnish must at the meeting, which will be held at the Garrick Thea-

The Rev. Dr. J. Gray Bolton will preach to-morrow morning on "The Dew of Israel" at the Hope Presbyterian Church. Communion services will be held in the evening.

Four hundred persons were present at a parish Halloween party held in the administration building of the Church of the Holy Apostles last Tuesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Halpern, of 2638 North Thirty-third atrect, will be given a reception temorrow night in Studenta Chap-The Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell will preach both morning and evening tomorrow at the Bap-tist Temple. Emily D. Hagar, soprano, will assist the choir at the evening service.

David Halpern.

Soveral friends who were present at the wedding twenty-five years ago will be among the guests. The Rev. Dr. Marvin Nathan, rabbi of Beth Israel Synagogue, and Mrs. Nathan are also among those in-

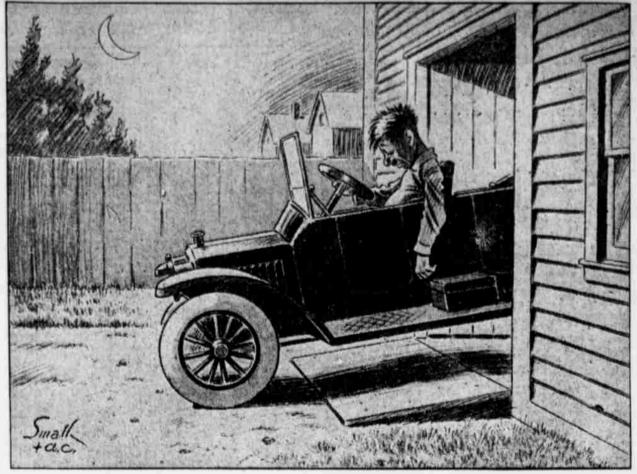

The war councils of the Drexel Biddle Bibl Classes will be formally organized next Monda-evening when two delegates from each class will meet in the Holy Trinity Parish House. The Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins will preside. Mr Biddle himself will speak tomorrow at Alloway N. J., in the afternoon, and in the evening will be the speaker at an evangelistic service in the Greenwood Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church Trenton.

The Rev. Dr. George F. Pentecost, pastor the Hethany Presbyterian Church, preaches t morrow morning on "The Garden Agony as Prayer." and in the evening on "A Farewe

Arthur J. Behlichter will address the meeting to be held timerrow afternoon at o'clock at the North Branch Y. M. C. A. on "Fools There is." Special music will be presented by a quinter of stric from the deliver Memorial

THE SOMNAMBULIST

Since buying his car Jinks doesn't walk in his sleep any more-he rides.

and every Mexican must fight or become his employer. "Yesterday I carried the mail to town, but as I rode away from Las Palmas the senora handed me this, with a sliver dollar for myself. Look! It is writ-

When the General had finished reading,

"Then I did well to steal that letter, ch?"

"Diablo! Yes! That brute of a husband makes my angel's life unbearable, and she flees to be rid of him. Good! It fits in he exclaimed: "Ho! A miracle! Now know all that I wish to know."

General went on in a different tone:

not think that you can withdraw from our little arrangement. Oh, no! Do you re-member a promise I made to you when you member a promise I made to you when you came to me in Romero? I said that if you played me false I would bury you to the neck in an ant hill and fill your mouth with honey. I keep my promisea."

Jose's struggle was brief; he promptly resigned himself to the inevitable. With every evidence of sincarity he assured Longorio of his loyalty and denied the least intention of betraying his general's confidence. What after all, was his mission upon earth if not to serve Longorio's interests? One might have a peaceful heart

DAVE LAW COMES HOME

ten to the man we both hate."

spelled out the contents.

By REX BEACH Copyright, 1916, by Harper & Brothers.

HEART OF THE SUNSET

ALAIRE AUSTIN, mistress of Las Palman, one of the Snest ranches on the Texas eide of the Rio Grande, and La Feria, across the Mexican border, is lost among the mesquide bushes when her horse falls and brooks a leg. After a terrific struggle she shadly subveceds in tracking a water hole which she had passed earlier in the day.

DAVID LAW, a Forest Kanger and former soldier of fortune, is preparing his evening meal at the water hole when Alaire arrives. She is on the verge of caliapse. He helps her to consfort and furnishes her with food from his meager supply.

ED AUSTIN, Alaire's husband, has dissipated his fortune and health, Alaire, opposed to discover, lives in a section of the house opart from Ed. They seldon meat.

GENERAL LUIS LONGGRIO, head of the Mexican Federal troops, is a tall, susceptible Latin, who immediately falls head-over-heels in love with Alaire when she meets him in a effort to obtain restitution for the ravages of the Mexicans on her La Feria estate. This he gushingly promises, and more, too, and Alaire Suds it difficult to ward of his advances without insulting him.

BLZE JONES lives with his daughter Paloma near Las Palmas, and when Dave arrives in the vicinity to investione cattle thefts he makes his home there.

ELISTOTEM, Alaire's spraking to him about it.

RELEVOITH, Alaire's spraking to him about a makes the ranger promise never to marry belower stockers include Jose, who resolves to average the murder of his cousin, and it. Tad Lewis an inserviptions neithbor and partner of Ed Austin, Urbina, one of Lewis's employed cattle theirs, and Ricordo Jusman, whose cattle have been stolen.

While Gusman is in Romero, across the Rio Grande from Las Palmas, he is murdered. A party of Americans led by Biase Jones and Dave raid Romero and bring the body back to make the partner of the stockers and by Eliaps him that he comes of an insone stock. Dave decides to traos his ancestry. In the meantime, Alaire tells Ed she wants a divorce in order to marry Dave.

TTERING to himself, Ed made a MUTTERING to amount the room, then paused before his wife with a sneer on his lips. "Did it ever occur to you that I might object?" he demanded.
Alaire eyed hinf scornfully. "What right have you to object?"
Ed could not restrain a malevolent gleam of curiosity. "Say, who is it? Ain't I en-titled to know that much?" As Alaire retitled to know that much?" As Alaire remained silent he let his eyes rove over her with a kind of angry appreciation.

"You're pretty enough to stampede any man," he admitted. "Yes, and you've got money, too. I'll bet it's the Ranger. So, you've been having your fling while I was away. Huh! We're tarred with the same

"You don't really believe that," she told him sharply.
"Why not? You've had enough oppor-tunity. I don't see anything of you, and haven't for years. Well, I was a fool to trust you."

Alaire's eyes were very dark and very bright as she said, "I wonder how I have managed to live with you as long as I have. I knew you were weak, nasty—so I was prepared for something like this. But I never thought you were a downright crimnever thought you were a downright criminal until-

Criminal? Rot!" "Criminal? Rot!"
"How about that Guzman affair? You can't go much lower. Ed, and you can't keep me here with you."
"I can't keep you, sh?" he growled. "Well.

perhaps not. I suppose you've got enough on me to secure a divorce, but I can air some of your dirty linen. Oh, don't look like that! I mean it! Didn't you spend a night with David Law?" He leered at her unpleasantly, then followed a step as she drew back. "Don't you touch me!" she cried.

A flush was deepening Ed's purple checks; his voice was peculiarly brutal and throaty as he said: "The decree isn't entered yet, and so long as you are Mrs. Austin, I have rights. Yes, and I intend to exercise them. You've made me jealous, and, by God—" He made to encircle her with his arms and was half successful, but when Alaire feit the heat of his breath in her face a sick loathing sprang up within her, and, setting her back against the wall, she sent him reeling. Whether she struck him or merely pushed him away she never knew, for during the instant of their struggle she was blind with indignation and fury. Profiting by her with indignation and fory. Profiting by her advantage, she dodged past him, fled to her room, and locked herself in.

She heard him muttering profanely; heard him approach her chamber more than once, then retire uncertainty, but she knew him the median of the status of the retire uncertainty, but she knew him the seement to be a fraid.

too well to be afraid.

Later that night she wrote two letters-one to Judge Ellsworth, the other to Dave Law. Jose Sanches rode to the Morales house feeling some concern over the summons that took him thither. He wondered what could have induced General Longorio to forsake his many important duties in order to make his many important duties in order to make the long trip from Nuevo Pueblo; surely it could be due to no lack of zeal on his, Jose's, part. No! The horse breaker flattered himself that he had made a very good spy indeed; that he had been Longorio's eyes and cars so far as circumstances permitted. Nor did be feel that he had been lax in making his reports, for through Rosa he had Nor did be feel that he had been lax in making his reports, for through Rosa he had written the general several lengthy letters, and just for good measure these two had conjured up sundry imaginary happen ngs to prove beyond doubt that Senors Austin was miserably unhappy with her husband and ready to welcome such a dashing lover as Longorio. Therefore, Jose could not for the life of him imagine wherein he had been remiss. Nevertheless, he was uneasy, and he hoped that nothing had occurred to terests? One might have a peaceful heart and still be a man. Jose was every inch a man; he was a very devil when he let himself go, and his Excellency need have no fears as to the outcome of their plan. anger his general, But Longorio, when he arrived at the no fears as to the outcome of their plan.

After all, the Gringoes were enemies, and there was no one of them who did not merit destruction.
Pleased with these sentiments and feeling sufficiently assured that Jose was now really in the proper frame of mind to suit his purpose, Longorie took the winding trail back toward Sangre de Cristo. meeting piace, was not in a bad humor. Having sent Rosa away on some errand, he turned to Jose with a flashing smile, and Well, my good friend, the time has Now Jose had no faintest idea what the general was taking about, but to be called the freed of so illustrious a person was flattering. He nodded decisively.

"Yes, beyond doubt," he agreed.
"Mexico is in a bad way. These rebals are growing by the thousands: they overrun the country like ants. You read the papers.

A FEW days after she had written to Judge Ellsworth Alaire followed her letter in person, for, having at last decided to divorce Ed, she acted with characteristic decision. Since Ellsworth had more than once advised this very course, she went to Brownsville anticipating his willing support. She was greatly amased, therefore, to find that he had completely changed his views and to hear him argus strongly against her determination. Hurt and suggiest at first by this strange land of sympathy. Alaire soon broad to grow angry, and when the Judge pareleted in his arguments are quarried with him he the first time in their as come to doubt the wisdom of such a course, inasmuch as the war talk grew louder with every day. However, her attorney's inexplicable change of front and his stubborn opposition to her wishes prevented her from confiding in him any more than was necessary, and she returned to Las Palmas determined to use her own best judgment. To be sure, she would have preferred some place of refuge other than La Feria, but she reasoned that there she would at least be undisturbed, and that Ed, even if he wished to effect a reconciliation, would wished to effect a reconciliation, would not dare to follow her, since he was persona non grata in Federal Mexico. Nor were her doubts of Ellsworth's loyalty entirely allayed. All in all, therefore, it seemed to her that the Mexican ranch seemed to her that the Mer offered her the safest asylum.

Now Alaire had desired Ellsworth's advice also as to her own immediate plans, since it was of course impossible for her longer to share Ed's roof. She had written to Dave Law, telling him that she intended to go to La Feria, there to remain pending the hearing of her suit; but later she had come to doubt the wisdom of such a course

She had counted upon seeing Dave during She had counted upon seeing Dave during her stay in Brownsville, and her failure to do so was a grave disappointment. The news of his resignation from the force had at first perplexed her; then she had thrilled at the thought that his action must have something to do with her; that doubtless he, too, was busied in making plans for their new life. She told herself that it was brave of him to obey her injunctions so literally and to leave her unembarrassed by slave."
This was indeed news! Jose began patriotically cursing the whole American patriotically cursing the whole American people.

"Understand, I make you my confidant because I think a great deal of you, Jose." The general laid an affectionate hand upon Jose's shoulder. "The first time I saw you I said: There's a boy after my own heart. I shall learn to love that Jose, and I shall put him in the way of his fortune.' Well, I have not changed my mind, and the time has come. You are going to help me and I am going to help you."

Jose Sanchez thrilled with elation from head to foot. This promised to be the greatest day of his life, and he felt that he must be dreaming.

"You haven't tired of Rosa, eh? You still wish to marry her?" Longorio was inliterally and to leave her unembarrassed by his presence at this particular time. It in-spired her to be equally brave and to wait patiently for the day when she could wel-come him with clean hands and a soul unashamed.

In the midst of Alatre's uncertainty of mind it gratified her to realize that Dave alone would know of her whereabouts. She wondered if he would come to see her. He still wish to marry her?" Longorio was in-"Yes. But of course, I'm a poor man."
"Yes. But of course, I'm a poor man."
"Just so. I shall attend to that. Now we come to the object of my visit. Jose, I propose to make you rich enough in one was a reckless, headstrong lover, and his desires were all too likely to overcome his deliberate resolves. She rather hoped that in spite of his promise he would venture to cross the border so that she could see propose to make you rich enough in one day so that you can marry."

"But first, wait!" exclaimed the horse breaker. "I bring you something of value, too." Desiring to render favor for favor, and to show that he was fully deserving the fact that the thought. of the General's generosity, Jose removed from inside the sweatband of his hat a scaled, stamped letter, which he handed to his employer. "Yesterday I carried the Alaire did not explain her plan even to Dolores, but when her preparations were complete she took the Mexican woman with per, and during Ed's absence slipped away from the ranch. Boarding the train at Jonesville, she was in Pueblo that night. If Alaire's clash with Ellsworth had been Longorio took the letter, read the in-scription, and then opened the envelope. Jose looked on with pleasure while he trying to her, it had been no less painful to the lawyer himself. Feeling himself bound by his promise to Dave, he had not dared to tell her the truth; consequently he had been hard put to it to dissuade her from taking immediate action. When she would not listen, he found himself in the most unpleasant position of his life; for would not listen, he found nimself in the most unpleasant position of his life; for although he could not but sympathize with her desire to be free from Ed Austin, it distreased him beyond measure to see her riding blindly to a fall. More than once after their strained parting he was tempted to go to Las Palmas and set himself right in her eyes; but he managed to hold to his determination and to school himself to await Dave's return. Before long, however, Ellsworth found fices to be rid of him. Good! It fits in with my plans. She will be surprised to see me there. Then, when the war comes and all is chaos—then what? I'll warrant I can make her forget certain things and certain people." Longorio nodded with satisfaction. "You did very well, Jose."

The latter leaned forward, his eyes bright. "That lady is rich. A fine prize, truly. She would bring a huge ransom."

This remark brought a smile to Longorio's face. "My dear friend, you do not in the least understand," he said. "Ransom! What an idea!" He lost himself in meditation, then rousing, spoke briskly: "Lis-Before long, however, Ellsworth found other worries engaging him, for it seemed at last that war with Mexico was imminent. After months of uncertainty the question had come to issue, and that lowering cloud which had hung above the horizon took ominous shape and size. Ellsworth awoke one morning to learn that an ultimatum had gone forth to President Potosi; that the Atlantic fleet had been ordered south; and that marines were being rushed aboard transports pending a general army mobilization. It looked as if the United States had finally rise in wrath, and as if noth-What an idea!" He lost himself in medi-tation, then, rousing, spoke briskly: "Lis-ten! In two, three days, your senora will leave Las Falmas. When she is gone you will perform your work, like the brave man I know you to be. You will relieve her of her husband." had finally risen in wrath, and as if ing less than a miracle could now the long-expected conflict. Jose hesitated, and the smile vanished Jose hesitated, and the smile vanished from his face. "Senor Ed is not a bad man. He likes me; he—." Longorio's gaze altered and Jose fell silent.
"Come, you are not losing heart, eh? Have I not promised to make you a rich man? Well, the time has arrived." Seeing that Jose still manifested no eagerness, the General went on in a different tone." Do Naturally Brownsville, like other border towns, was plunged into a panic, and Ells-worth, as a leading citizen of his com-munity, had his hands full. In the midst of the excitement, and while suspense was at its highest. Dave Law returned. Ellsworth found him in his office one morning and fell upon the young man eagerly. Two weeks had young man eagerly. Two weeks had worked a shocking change in Dave, he was gaunt. II; his eyes were bright and thre and feverish. They had a new expression and reversel. They had a new expression, too, which the Judge at first could not fathom, but which he took to be fear, Dave's brown cheeks had bleached; his hands hung loose and unmanageable at his sides. CONTINUED MONDAY

FALLS CHURCH CELEBRATES

Sixtieth Anniversary of Schuylkill Presbyterian to Be Marked The sixtleth anniversary of the Falls of

The sixtleth anniversary of the Falls of Schuylkill Presbyterian Church, Ridge avenue below School lane, will start tomorrow morning with a special sermon by the nastor, the Rev. Samuel W. Steckel, on "Three Score Tears And."

A congregational evening will be held on Wednesday night, with an anniversary sermon by a former pantor, the Rev. Milton Thompson, D. D., of Far Rockaway, N. Y. There will also be special music by the choir, of which W. Horace Linton is chorister. Thursday night will be given over to a fraternal evening, and Friday to a social evening. The anniversary will end Sunday night with an anniversary musical festival by the choir.

KURTZ VOICE STUDIOS

TSCHOPP

THOUSANDS WILL JOIN IN CARNIVAL TO ERECT SCHAFF CIVIC BUILDING

Every Protestant Denomination in Philadelphia to Join in Program in Week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 2

PAGEANT BIG FEATURE.

Several thousand persons, representing every Protestant denomination in Philadelphia, will participate in a carnival during the week of November 27 to December 2 for the purpose of raising of a fund for erection of the proposed Schaff Civic Building, in memory of Dr. Philip Schaff, worlderenowned advocate of Christian co-operation and church unity.

One of the big features of Schaff Carnival Week will be a Reformation pageant in which more than 200 persons will take part, attired in costumes of the sixteenth century. The carnival will be held in Horticultural Hall.

ticultural Hall.

The program for the week will contain many other striking entertainment features. There will be musicals, entertainments by German singing societies and athletic exhibitions, motion pictures, Boy Scout drills and an operetta. The evening events will begin on the night of Monday, November 27, with an entertainment by a German society and athletic exhibitions by the Philadelphia Turngemeinde. Tuesday will be known as "civic night," with addresses by the executives of leading civic and philanthropic agencies. The Strawbsidge & Clothler Quartet will sing on Wednesday night, and on Saturday night an operetta. "The Wild Rose," will be presented by fifty young women, under the direction of Miss. Louise De Ginther.

The proposed Schaff Civic Building will

The proposed Schaff Civic Building will cost about $800,000. Interchurch and other philanthropic organizations in Philadelphia will occupy space in the new building on a maintenance-rental basis, while any net income will be devoted to the cause of chilanthropic and improvement. quaintance. But it was not until she had threatened to secure another attorney that he reluctantly gave in, even then making it plain that in meeting her wishes he was acting against his best judgment. dren through extension and improof Sunday schools.

FEAST DAY AT ST. ELISABETH'S

Special Services to Commemorate the Anniversary of Foundation

St. Elisabeth's Episcopal Church will celebrate the feast of its dedication to-morrow with special services at the church, Sixteenth and Mifflin streets.

The church, of which the Rev. Frederick D. Ward is rector, will be the scene of corporate communion at 7:30 a. m., with a solemn high celebration following, with a special music at 10:30 and solemn evensong at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening, with a procession and Solemn Te Deum. The special preacher at evensong will be the Rev. John Mockridge, D. D.

St. Elisabeth's was started for mission work in 1888, but it was not until a decade later that the present building was dedicated. November 5, 1898, being the date. The church will make tomorrow a special effort to pay off a mortgage of $9000.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES

Baptist PAPTIST TEMPLE, Broad and Berks sts.
RUSSELL H. CONWELL will preach 10:36
a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
EMILY S. HAGAR, soprane, will assist the cherus in the evening.
Organ Recital, 7:15 p. m.
Clarence Reynolds, Organist,
Visitors welcome.

CHESTNUT STREET BAPTIST CHURCH Chestnut st. west of 40th.

GEORGE D. ADAMS. D. D., Pastor 9:45 a. m.—Brotherhood of A. and P 19:39 a.m.—Worship and Sermon by I 2:39 p. m.—Bible School, 7:49 p. m.—Bible School, Angelque, Rubinstein; "Romanza, Sier; Meditation," Hasseiman; "Braure; anthems, "The Lord is My Parker; "Adore and Be Still," Goundobligato, ganist and leader, RAY DANIELS JONES Assisted by DOROTHY JOHNSTONE BASELER, harptst FIRST CHURCH OF THE BRETHIEN (Dunker), cor. Carlisle and Dauphin Preaching 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Sunday Schoel. 2:30 p. m. Prayer Meeting each Wodnesday event

Ethical Culture Your Enemies." Broad St. Theater, Sunday, 11 a. m. Public welcome. Lemon Hill Association

WITHIN THE VAIL"
Rev. JAMES B. ELV.
Tomorrow, Garrick Theater, 7:30 p. m.
Everybody welcome.

AT "THE PRINDLY CHURCH"

10TH AND JEFFERSON STS.
DANIEL E WEIGLE PASTOR.
MORNING SERVICE, 10:30.
HIBLE SCHOOL 2:30 F. M.
EVENING SERVICE, 7:46.
SERMON: "WE KNOW HOW."
F. J. LAPITINO, SOLO HARPIST, Victor
Talking Machine Company, SOLO QUARTET AND ORGAN.
EDUCATIONAL MOTION PICTURES. HOLY COMMUNION, Chestnut above 21st Services, 11, 8, Rev. E.P.Pfatteicher, Ph.D., Pastor,

Methodist Episcopal HART. D. D. Services 10:30, 7:30; S. S. 2:30 COVENANT, 18th and Spruce ats. Rev. Dr. E. E. BURRISS, Pastor. 16:80—Sacrament. 7:45—"Visions of God."

Presbyterian HOPE, 234 and Wharton sta. Minister, Rev. J. GRAT BOLTON D. D. Rev. WILLIAM TAYLOR CALDWELL. Assistant, 10,46 a. m., Doctor Bolton, thems. The Dew of Israel, 7-45, Communion.

Protestant Episcopal CHURCH OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, 21st and Christian siz. Hav. George Herbert Toop. D. D. Rector—Services: 9 a. m., 10:20 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday School and Hibbs Chasses 2:30 p. m. At the evening service there will be special music by organ, bary

CHURCH OF ST. LUKE AND THE EPIPHANE
18th st. below Seruce.
Rev. DAVID M. STERLE. Rector,
8:30 a. m.—Holy Communion.
10:50 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:50 a. m.—Holy Communion and Sermon.
4:00 p. m.—Evening Prayer, Anthem and Act

The Rector will preach at both services.

Reformed Episcopul OUR REDEEMER, 16th and Oxford.
Dr. BARNETT'S last sermons as 10 no. "Direct Knowledge of Christ."
"Spoid in the Protestants" Sun." Socialist Literary Society

Offn SPARGO will speak on "The Lause the Campsian" tomorrow 5 p. m. at its ill. Theater. Music by Hain String Quar Public Invited.
Second year, 1918-1917, Philadelphia School Secial Science continences November 6, 18, Details as to courses may be obtained by waing to Mrs. Rosa Laddon Hanna, Secreta.

IRST UNITARIAN, 2125 Chestuar st.

III. Rev. J. D. Role, of St. Faul, with a line Prayer Anthem. Comes at Tips Rillings for the Comes at Tips Rillings for the Chase Cur Way. by Huhn. Pullip R. Organizat