your club news for Saturday night I found your speech on observing a very good one. Wherever I go I am almost always observing art in all branches. In yesterday's paper (Sunday) I found that the Academy of the Phine Arts has an exhibition of the Phinadelphia Water Color Club's paintings, which will be open till December 5, 1916. I expect to go down soon to see the exhibition. Maybe I'm not lonesome at night around here. It's as dark as pitch. Well, we're not supposed to go out at night anyway. I am sending you a mounlight drawing I would be glad to help any of the Rainbows with their drawing through the club news. I can tell them essenthing about upono formation it they would like to know. PAINTING WILLIE'S NOSE By Farmer Smith

"I do wish that engine would stop making so much noise out there," said Willie Wideawake, as he listened and listened to a locomotive ruffing and panting in the midnight air. "I wish——"

But Willie was fast asleep before he could finish the sentence. "You must put something in the picture to keep your eyes company." said the Good Dream Fairy, who had not been to see Wil-lle for a long long time.

Willie hopped out of bed and soon was seated in front of his canvas, ready to 'Don't you think you should have a painter's coat—something to keep the paint from getting on your pajamas? asked the Good Dream Fairy. Wille looked down and there was a coat I want to talk to you more and more about your music-I want you to already covering his pajamas. He did not stop to even wonder how it got there—so many things had happened to him. "Lock, Fairy dear, I am going to paint my nose right into the picture to keep my All was silent Willie looked at what he thought was going to be a nose and it seemed nothing more than a daub.

"Mercy!" he exclaimed. "Can that be my nose? Why, I thought I painted two holes—just like I have in my nose. Oh, dear! what can be the matter?" "Matter?" came a voice that sounded like some one talking through his nose. "You breathe through your mouth so much I get very little us. You might just as well be without me and breathe with your mouth

"Are you soing to paint things as they are or as you want them to be?" asked the massi voice.

"I am going to paint them as I know

"I am going to paint them as I know they are."

"Wrong wrong—you must paint things from your imagination—all painters doleaving out the points that are disagreeable. Paint the beautiful—leave the ugly to the photographer."

"The photographer!" exclaimed Wiffle.

"Yes, the photographer. His camera takes in everything, just as it is. It takes a picture of a grand cathedral and also the beggar on the steps. The painter pictures the cathedral only and leaves out the beg-the cathedral only and leaves out the beg-gar on the steps."

"Wonderful!" excisined Wills.
"What is wonderful?" asked Wills's mother, who was standing boaids him when she is heartily in favor of mothers' pensions, especially as the war ended in 1865 and there can't be enough of the poor old ladies left to cost the country so very much.

Brothers in Distress

Have you heard that Grace is engaged to be married? She says she has found her ideal at last." "What was her ideal, I wonder." "Any man who would propose to Familiar Sights

Her Ideal

SIDNEY SMITH

-Williams Purple Cow "I say, Ethelbert, why is eating at the Commons like fishing?"

"I dunno-why?" "Because you're always waiting for PROTESTING TOO MUCH

"Now look here, Alice, I know everything. You've been carrying on with snother man. I even know that his name is Rupert."

"How ridiculous you are! First of all I haven't flirted with any one, and so-ondly, his name isn't Rupert."

-It was the proper thing to present flowers when he called.

"A case of love at first sight, ch?" "No, second sight. The first time he saw her he didn't know she was an heiress."
