JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

eat Bazaar of December Eleventh Week Is Formulating New Departures Each Day—Opera the Great Thing This Week—Anecdotes

more plans are on foot for booths at the great "Made in America" bazaar mich is to be conducted at Horticultural Hall during the week of December 11. prest heard from is the Armenian and Syrian booth, which is under the special an relief committee, with Mrs. George H. Lerimer as chairman. The vice an of this committee include Mrs. Paul Brown, Mrs. Walter Baird and Mrs. ter Sturges; Mrs. Frederick English, secretary, and Mrs. Bob Downs, treasurer.

good women who porking earn. for this booth to sell Oriental and handialso Oriental products. Ima-They will have rugs for and embroidsilks, laces, s. beads, jewbrasses, figs, almonds, spices, perolives, olive cigarettes, citobacco, coffee a dozen or so varieties onder how they think up all the es they have pro of for the booths. t you? This fair certainly outdo one given two ago, which I aught perfectly lous then. Do is remember the n show at the y I will never Marie Louise n, then Wanama in her lovely suit and her beautiful dogs.

The national com o for Armenia 8 Syria is at prestrying to load a b, which has been ened to this work the President, supplies of food and clothing, which in be sent as direct as possible to the ed and dying Armenians now in northm Syria. They are begging for new om underwear for men, women and ren; new sweaters, new shoes, new dags, new socks, both cotton and in: also new blankets and new saket shawls. Why do I repeat new much, you wonder. Well, the Turkauthorities will not accept secondand articles. Besides clothing the comtee is begging for gray cotton and en cloth by the piece, unbleached din cotton thread, needles and pins, and shopworn seconds and remnants are o very acceptable. These contribunors may be sent direct prepaid to the American Red Cross, Bush Terminal, Booklyn, N. Y., marked "for Relief Ship Beirut," and they must be delivered belore November 25,

Why is it men grow so facetious at They always do, it seems, shether it is because they are not exsmely sentimental or romantic, and the willy of yelling secrets at the top of are now at Hamilton Court, where they have me's lungs on one side of the stage or he waving of a large-sized tablecloth abbby from the ramparts of the tower til he is out of sight, while his rival waiting to embrace the heroine in the onway, takes from the theme of the mic, true it is, opera seems to make em extra clever. At "Iris" on Tuesday ant this little gem fell upon mine ears: "gushed she, "we must go to Wed-day night's!" "What is it?" said he. Love of Three Kings." "Well," said for the property of Wyncote road, Jenkin-town, are spending several weeks this month in New Jersey. They will return the end of next week. The Love of Three Kings." "Well," said a safe bet, anyhow."

ong those who occupied boxes at opera last night were Mrs. William Godward Arnett, of 2116 Pine street, d Mrs. Frederick Brown, who had Mrs. sary W. Doughten and Miss Helen eighten in their box. Miss Henrietta ons was in Mrs. Clifford Lewis's box of had with her Miss Jessie Wilcox ith and Miss Violet Oakley. Mrs. book Yarnall, Miss Elizabeth Hood alta and Mrs. Scammon Jones were

NANCY WYNNE.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. J. Percy Keating will give linner on January 12 before the ball ich Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Emlen New-will give that night for Miss Dorothy on Newhold

Miss Mary Converse will entertain a at her country home at Rosemont Tuesday morning. Among the guests he Mr. and Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, tad Mrs. Robert W. Daniel, Miss EleaH. Verner, Miss Katharins Verner, Herbert S. Casey and Mr. Channing
Daniel. About thirty additional guesta hear invited for informed dancing been invited for informal dancing hap Kinsolving, of Brazil, who will ha an Thursday, to be the guest of and Mrs. Samuel F. Houston, of Molr, Chestnut Hill, for several will be the principal speaker at the Men's Association in the parish house a. Martin-in-the-Fields. Mr. A. Nathan For will be toastmaster.

the Elizabeth Steal, who is spending the at Atlantic City, is visiting Mrs. Sell Resengarten at her home, 2947 the luncheon which Mrs. Arthur At Kent gave yesterday at her home is sent in honor of Miss Katharine Verguests were Miss Eleanor Hamp-verser, Miss Mary Gordon, Miss in Lucas, Miss Agnes McDonough, Heise Bates, Miss Lesnore Lucas, Mrs. inton Lucas, Mrs. Robert W. Daniel, cochran and Mrs. William A. Wieder-can, French and English flags, palms, au-tumn leaves and autumn dowers.

The occasion ended with tea and other dainties, presided over by Mrs. L. Webster Fox, Mrs. Theodore Abbott and a number of members of the chapter. A silver offer-ing was collected in one of the intermis-sions of the program for the purchase of hospital supplies for the Allies, a cause for the benefit of which these ladies sew and Bohert Coano, of 2116 Chestnut announces the engagement of his f. Miss Elizabeth Charlotte Coans, Thomas C. Stellwagen, Jr.

and Mrs. William W. Curtin wil the house at Rosemont the end of the and open their town house, 2215 cap street, for the winter.

Barries G. H. Geyelin has returned incide, her bome in Villanova, after a few days with Miss Pauline at the fills-Cariton Hotel, Now

Joseph Earnshaw, Mrs. Tolbert Richardson, Mrs. Harry C. Butterworth, Jr., Mrs. George Landell, Miss Anna Denniston, Mrs. Edward Weiner, Mrs. Herbert M. Tilden, Miss E. E. Price, Mrs. Frederick Dudley, Mrs. John Hamilton, Miss Dorothy Mayberry and Mrs. Thomas Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C Dearden, of Hillair, Merica, have sent out invitations for a dinner dance at the Believue-Stratford on Saturday, November 25. They will also entertain at dinner at the Philadelphia Country on December 2.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wadsworth and first Isabella Wadsworth have closed their Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wadsworth and Miss Isabella Wadsworth have closed their cottage at Magnella. Mass., and returned to Overbrook. Mrs. Wadsworth, having re-covered from an operation for appendicitis, has left the hospital and is now at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. McNeil, of 5639 Proomall avenue, West Philadelphia, are reciving congratulations upon the birth of a

The Terpsichoreans will hold their first dance in the Gold Room of the Adelphia on Saturday evening. Other dances will be held on December 16, January 20 and February 17. The committee in charge in-cludes Mr. K. J. Birnbrauer, Mr. G. H. Knauer, Mr. C. E. Wolfinger and Mr. J. P. McCollough.

The Senior Auxiliary to the Jewish Shel-ering Home will give the third of a series of dances on Thanksgiving night. It will be a Hawaiian Dance A Hawaiian orchestra will furnish the music and the decorative frects will be very elaborate.

Weddings

TOMLIN-HUNTER

A beautiful wedding took place last eve-ing in Summit Presbyterian Church, West-ew and Greene streets, when Miss Estelle view and Greene streets, when Miss Estelle H. Hunter was given in marriage by her father to Mr. J. Lybrant Tomlin. The church was decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. The bride was gowned in lustrous white duchess satin frimmed with opalescent beads and fulle. She had a court train and tulle veil and carried bridal roses and illies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Grace B. Wingate of the carried street of the satin with an overdress of the carried street of the satin with an overdress of the carried street of the satin with an overdress of the carried street of the satin with an overdress of the satin with a satin with a maid of honor. Miss Grace B. Wingste, wore deep pink satin, with an overdress of pink tulle, the bodies of which was draped with opalescent trimming.

She carried an arm bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. The bridesunaids, Miss Marie Tomlin, sister of the bridegroom, were gowned alike in pale pink satin frocks, trimmed with tulle and opalescent heads. They carried crocks tied with pink rosebuds and chrysanthemums. Miss Estelle Wishart, the little cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl. She wore a white tulle dress trimmed with pink ribbon and carried a French basket of pink rosebuds.

Mr. Tomlin had his brother, Mr. Richard E. Tomlin, Jr., as best man, and Mr. Albert Gee and Mr. Warren Heaton as ushers. A reception followed the ceremony at the

by Photo-Grafters.

MRS. ROBERT WETHERILL, JR.

Mrs. Wetherill, whose wedding took place November 9, will be remembered as Miss Barbara Bispham. She is the daughter of Captain Harrison Bispham, U. S. A., of Claymont, Del., where the wedding was solemnized to give.

Miss Katharine Verner

taken apartments.

Mrs. William J. Willeox and Miss M. Eulalie, Willeox, of St. Davids, returned last night from Washington, D. C., where they have been spending a few days.

Mrs. William Baker Whelan, of Clovelly

Dovon, is spending a few days in New York.

Miss Mary Caldwell Gordon has issued cards for a luncheon and bridge on Tues-day, at her home, 1829 Pine street, to meet

Mrs. Robert W. Daniel, of Rosemont

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Serrill, of Hav-

Mrs. Delany and her daughter, Miss

An original idea in fairs will be carried

The attractive headquarters of the central ranch in St. Mark's parish house, 1625, ocuat street, will be the scene of action the work here and has been its inspiration and head ever since, will, of course, he in charge, with the able assistance of Miss

Lewis, Jr.

The women belonging to the Main Line branch will preside over their country booth and will dispense scrapple, home-made preserves of different kinds and big, red apples all of the most fuscious and tempting kind Among these "saleswomen" will be Mrs. J Harvey Gordon, Mrs. Henry Thouron, Mrs

George Black Rea, Mrs. William W. Mont-gomery, Jr., Mrs. T. Truxton Hare and Miss

Esther B. Hare. Mrs. A. L. Phillips, who will have charge

f the booth of the Boxborough branch, rhigh is composed entirely of English-romen, will provide true English goodles, including native English plum pudding, beggy buns, pork pie and scenes, all very delectable. In addition to these culinary gems, there will be a special table for the benefit of the French hospitals, where French laces will be sold.

A delightful "afternoon in Scotland and lightful quality and sweetness.

The platform was decorated with American, French and English flags, palms, au-

The ladies of the auxiliary of the Germantown Hospital will give a bridge party today to the board of lady visitors at the home of Mrs. Frederic English, 216 West Schoolhouse lane Germantows, at 212 o'clock Ameny those who will play are live Edward F. Hannett, Mrs. Edward J. Moore Mrs. Prant Shatton, Mrs. William Chattle With Ingel Toward Mrs. William Chattle With

Miss Elizabeth Hays, who started bert Gee and Mr. Warren heaton as uahers.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Newlin S. Hunter, at 308 Lincoln drive.
After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Tomlin will live at 308 Lincoln drive. two weeks with Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr and Mrs. Louis Rodman Page.

AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE 'JOLTED' ON TEA-MAKING

Chinese Trade Booster Declares People Would Use Much More of Beverage if Properly Brewed

GIVES CORRECT RECIPE

will give a children's party on Wednesday, November 29, in honor of her son, Master Lucian Philip Smith, 2d, who will celebrate his fourth birthday. Julean Arnold, a commercial attache with the American Legation in Pekin, China, who is visiting Philadelphia for a few days in air, and Mrs. William J. Serril, of Hav-erford, will shortly issue invitations to a dinner at their home on Friday evening, December 29, afterward taking their guests to the subscription dance at the Merion Cricket Club which Mrs. Richard E. Norhis country-wide tour, to teach American exporters the value that lies in trade with Chins, today dropped a hint to housewive. Mr. Arnold said bluntly that American women did not know how to make tea.

It was in line with his job to say that;
for, he went on to explain, if American women knew how to make tea the chances would be that this country would buy all of China's tea output instead of a mere part of it. ton and Mrs. Kane S. Green are planning Judge and Mrs. J. Henry Williams, who lved at the Hartram for a number of years, part of it.

"The United States," he said, "purchases something like 23,000,000 pounds of teatfrom China in a year. If the women who prepare that tea for the table did it preperly they would buy many times that Miss Katharine Verner, of Wayne, whose marriage to Mr. Channing Williams Daniel takes place on Saturday, will give a lunch-eon at her home on Thursday in honor of her bridal party. China makes the finest tea in the world. Miss Miriam Schultz, of Wyncote road, lenkintown, has returned from Washing-on, D. C., and is spending several days his week with her parents. Mr. and Mrs.

but the way it's served here is a shame. Ever since I came from Pekin, September I, I've bought tea all the way from San Francisco east, and while I'm ashamed to say it I can't buy a cup that's made the "You know Chinese tea is delicate, subtle

The way it is served in America it is heavy acid-like, bitter. That is why people put a whole lot of sugar and milk or cream is it. To put milk or cream in Chinese tea is nothing short of a crime.

"The mistake is made by putting the beverage on a fire after the boiling water out by the members of Queen Mary's Nee-dlework Guild today, when they propose to give a food fair, with all the out-of-town is mixed with the tea. It is left there until it gets heavy and syrupy-looking, and then served. Quite naturally, it needs the milk as a softener."

Mr. Arnold was asked to give a recipe pranches of the organization joining in the

for the tea, seeing that he had so much to say against the American housewife's way of making it. 'Well," he said, "what should be done in to put the tea in a tea ball—any wom knows what that it—and then pour a c of hot water, boiling water, on it. Wait for Helen Cadwalader, Mrs. Sidney W. Keith, Miss Elizabeth R. Sinnickson, Miss Fanny R. Sinnickson, Mrs. Avery D. Andrews, Mrs. Richard McCall Elliot and Mrs. Saunders a light amber color, and that is all. You a light amber color, and that is all. You may add a bit of sugar if you wish, but under no consideration any milk or cream. You'll have the most delicious tea in the world, and it will be fust as good for ice tea as for hot tea. And also, if everybody does it, the tea trade between China and America will treble."

XMAS TREE FOR FRANKFORD

Plans Afoot to Raise $500 for Children's Pleasure-Strong Committee in Charge Frankford is to have a centrally located Frankford is to have a centrally located community Christmas tree, according to plans which have been formulated by the Frankford Business Men's Association. The tree is to be at either Wonrath Park, at the lower end of Frankford, or in the vicinity of the new High school building, Oxford pike and Harrison street. It will be between forty-five and sixty feet in height and will be procured from the Maine woods. The committee plans to raise $500, of which, in two days, $75 has been pledged, it has the unqualified approval of the Frankford Grocers Association, the Fraukford Board of Trade and the school teachers. The tree will be decorated with electric lights and if the approval of the underwriters can be obtained will also be strung with many yards of tinest.

The committee in charge of arrangements

A delightful "afternoon in Scotland and Ireland." with Miss Lena Duthie as soloist, was given in St. James's Guild House. Twenty-second and Saniom streets, by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the British Empire. Connaught Chapter, of which Mrs. L. Webster Fox is regent.

Miss Duthie, a Scotch-Irish vocalist, now of New York, preceded each of her Scotch numbers by a story of the song and its setting with much charm and local color. Only a hint of the dramate power in the singer's voice could be shown in her folic songs, but her rendition was full of sympathy and her voice full of rare and delightful quality and sweetness. The committee in charge of arrangements follows: Chairman, Thomas Creighton; Howard George, Harry Schumaker, Elwood Davis, John L. Shroy, principal of the high school; Richard T. Holme, Lincoln Cartledge, James France, editor of the Frankford Gazette; Edward Gallen and Evan C.

What's Doing Tonight

Real Estate Board, 1126 Walnut street, Conference on universities and public service. University of Pennszivania, Lemon Hill Association annual meeting. Witherspoon Building. Oil Trade Association dinner. Bellevus-Strat-Reception to Bishop McDevitt, of Harrisburg, American Catholic Historical Society, 713

Lecture, "Our New England Alpa," by Arthur E. Peck, Association Hall, Germantown. Lecture, "Burns of the Mountains," Wither-Volumerseln Chural Society, Academy of Music. Starket Street Merchants' Association, Blue-am Moral

SUPERFLUOUS PROOF

He: Darling, you don't have to put on a new dress every time I call. I have faith in your extravagance.

HEART OF THE SUNSET

By REX BEACH Copyright, 1916, by Harper & Brothers

CHAPTER XXVIII-(Continued) ALAIRE trusted herself to ask, "Then we

The general's face was swept by a grim-ace intended for a smile. "I have ordered your horses to be saddled."

Dave, who had with difficulty restrained his anger at the fellow's bombast, was upon the point of speaking when Father O'Mal-ley took the words out of his mouth:

"Would you send this woman out of her own house into a country like-like this? Remember the fortune in cattle you have already taken Longorio broke in with a snarl: "Is it my fault that the country is in arms?

How would YOU like to wake up some morning and find yourself the only person alive in all the

This is the experience of Bea-trice Kendrick, a beautiful stenog-rapher, who awakens into

"THE VACANT WORLD"

A masterpiece of romance by George Allan England Don't fail to read this story, one of the most remarkable tales of adventure and love which has yet been written. It begins in

SATURDAY'S Evening & Ledger

I consider myself magnanimous.
His voice cracked and he made a espairing, violent gesture. "Go, before change my mind."

Dave signaled to the others, and Alaire slipped away to make herself ready. Dur-ing the uncomfortable silence which suc-ceded her departure. Longorio paced the room, keeping his eyes resolutely turned away from Law.

"Do you mean that I, too, may go?" O'Malley inquired. "What good are you to me?" snapped the reneral.

"You will give us safe conduct?"

"Be still, priest!" Longorlo glared at the speaker chapling and unclasping his fists behind his back. With the sound of hoofs outside, Alaire and Dolores appeared, and the Mexican traightened himself with an effort.

"Adots, senora?" he said, with a stiff now. "We have had a pleasant friendship and a thrilling filrtation, eh? I shall never case to regret that Fate interrupted at ch an interesting moment. Adols! Adols! such an interesting moment. Adols? Adols? His bowed formally, in turn to Dave and to the priest, then resumed his pacing, with his hands at his back and his brow furrowed as if in a struggle with affairs of greater moment than this.

But when he heard the outside door creak shut behind them his indifference vanished and he halted with head turned in an effort to catch the list sounds of their departure. His face was like tallow now, his lips were drawn back from his teeth as if in supreme agony. A moment and the hoof-beats had died away. Then Longerio slipped his leash.

He uttered a cry-a hoarse, transled shrick that tore his throat. clucked the collar from his neck as if it hoked him; he beat his breast. Setsing whatever article his eye fell upon, he tore and crushed it; he swept the table clean of eer Spanish bric-k-brac, and trample o litter under his heels. Spying a paint-g of a saint upon the wall, he ran to it, pped it from its nail, and, raising it over a head, amashed frame and sless, cursing all saints, all priests and churchly people favor follower him as he raged about the blace wreaking his fury upon insnimate blacts. When he had well-nigh wrecker objects. When he had well-sign weeken the contents of the room, and when his first puroxyam had spent its violence, he hurled himself into a chair, writhing in agony, lie bit his wrists, he pounded his first, he kicked; finally be sprawled full length upon the floor, clewing at the cool, smooth tiles until his nails bled. "Christ! O Christ!" he screamed.

The sound of his blumphemies reached the little group of soldlers who had lingured curiously outside, and they listened openmouthed. One by one they crossed themselves and stole away into the darkness. muttering.

> CHAPTER XXIX A SPANISH WILL

WITH a singing heart Alaire rode through the night at her husband's side. The sirain of the last few hours had been so intanse, the relief at her deliverance so keen, that now she felt curiously weak, and she kept close to Dave, comforted by his steemes, and secure in the knowledge of his nearness and secure in the knowledge of his trength.

Although he was unusually taciturn and ods with his chin upon his breast, she at-thuted his silence to fatigue. New and sen, therefore, she spurred to his side and to softly, caressingly. At such times he and for her hand and clung to it. Dave was indeed weary; he was in fact a nort of stunor, and one infrombally he but a growing sense of guilt and dismay at what he had brought upon himself. In a moment of weakness he had done the very thing against which he had fought so biterly, and now he faced the consequen How, when where could be find strength to undo his action? he asked himself. The weight of this question bent his shoulders.

paralyzed his wits. Some two hours out from La Feria the riders haited at a point where the road dipped into a rocky stream bed; then, as the horses drank, Dolores voiced a thought horses drank, Dolores voiced a thought that had troubled all of them.

"If that bandit really means to spare us why did he send us away in the night, like this?" she asked. "I shall be surprised if we are not assassinated before morning."

"He must have meant it." Alaire spoke with a conviction she did not entirely feel. 'Father O'Malley aroused the finer side of his nature." "Perhaps," agreed the priest.

where in him there is a fear of God." But Dave was skeptical. "More likely fear of the Gringo Government," said he.
"Longorlo is a four-flusher. When he realized he was licked he tried to save his face by a grand-stand play. He didn't want to let us go."

"Then what is to prevent him from-well, from having us followed?" Alair inquired. Nothing," Dave told her.

"Nothing." Dave told her.

As they climbed the bank and rode onward into the night she said, "No matter what happens, dear, I shall be happy, for at last one of my dreams has come true." He reached out and patted her. "You've no idea what a coward I was buill you came. But the moment I saw you all my fears vanished. I was like a lost child who suddenly sees her father; in your arms I felt perfectly safe, for the first time in all my life, I think, I—I couldn't bear to go on without you, after this."

Dave found nothing to say; they rode niment that required no speech. Then Alaire naked: "Dear, have you considered how we-are going to explain our marriage?"

"Won't the circumstances explain it?"
"Porhaps, And yet— It seems ages since I learned—what happened to Ed, but in reality it's only a few hours. Won't people talk?"

Dave caught at the suggestion. "I see. Then let's keep it secret for the present. I promise not to—act like a husband." With a little reckless laugh she confessed, "I-I'm afraid I'll find it difficult to be conventional." "My wife!" he cried in sharp agony. Leaning far out, he encircled her with his arm; then, half lifting her from her sad-dle, he crushed his lips to hers: It was die, he crushed his lips to ners. It was his first display of emotion since Father O'Malley had united them.

There were few villages along the road they followed, and because of the lateness of the hour all were dark, hence the party of the hour all were dark, hence the party passed through without exciting attention except from an occasional wakeful dog. But as morning came and the east began to glow have told the priest:

"We've got to hide out during the day or we'll get into trouble. Besides, these women must be getting hungry."
"I fear there is something feminine about me," confessed the little man. "I'm familiard too".

At the next rancho they came to they applied for shelter, but were denied; in fact, the owner cursed them so roundly for being Americans that they were glad to ride enward. A mile or two farther along they met a cart the driver of which re-fused to answer their greetings. As they passed out of his sight they saw that he passed out of his sight they saw that he had halted his lean oxen and was staring after them curiously. Later, when the sun was well up and the world had fully awakened, they descried a mounted man, evidently a cowboy, riding through the chaparral. He saw them, too, and came toward the road, but after a brief scrutiny he whirled his horse and galloped off through the cactus, shouting something over his shoulder.

shoulder.
"This won't do." O'Malley declared, un-easily. "I don't like the actions of these people. Let me appeal to the next person we meet. I can't believe they all hate Soon they came to a rise in the road, and from the crest of this elevation beheld ahead of them a small village of white houses shining from the shelter of a grove. The rancheria was perhaps two miles away, and galloping toward it was the vaquero who had challenged them. (CONTINUED TOMORROW)

HAT BETRAYS HER ASSAILANT

Negro Who Attacked Girl Found at Meeting Called by Fire Bell

MERCHANTVILLE, N. J., Nov. 16.—A negro who had attacked Miss Caroline Nelson on the Haddonfield road near here fled on the approach of a farmer who heard her cries, dropping his hat as he ran. An hour later Chief of Folice Linderman rang the fire bell of Jordantown, a negro settlement, and when virtually every person in the place was gathered in the town half the chief held up the hat and asked who was the owner.

the chief held up the hat and seach who was the owner.

A dozen man said that it looked like one that Albert Collins had been wearing. Collins was arrested, confessed he was guilty and Justice Craig committed him to fail. Later Miss Nelson identified him.

Miss Nelson white not sentingly hart, received many stratchins, and her throat wall look where the fingers of her available lind.

JERSEY WILL PROUDLY GIVE HOLIDAY CHEER

What, Asks Its Natives, Would Thanksgiving Be Without Cranberries or Christmas Wthout Holly?

BOTH A-PLENTY; MOSS, TOO

Thanksgiving, Christmas and weddings would not, could not be complete in this part of the country without contributions rom New Jersey, according to natives of Burlington County, who have made a study f festive occasion needs. They say they find that no big wedding. Thanksgiving or Christmas celebration is complete without Jersey cheer.

In the first place what is Thanksgiving without cranberry sauce; in the second, what is Christmas without holly, and in the hird, what is a church wedding without a ovely flower basket, with blossoms embed-led in mosa?

On these three products the Jersey in-vestigator bases his assertions that "It's Jersey which makes the festive seasons

Right now, hundreds of men and women are working in the cranberry logs of New Jersey, picking tone of berries to be shipped to the four corners of the nation to deck the turkey tables on November 20. Turkey itself also comes from Jersey, but not in such enormous quantities as cranberries. Twenty-five days after Thanksgiving festivities. Jersey products will again aid in bringing cheer to thousands of homes— for what is Christmas without a holly wreath or holly decorations?

Holly gatherers are already making the rounds of the woods in Burlington County. N. J., in an effort to locate the best trees from which to pluck their holly sprays. For weeks before the Christmas holldays they gather holly and make wreaths. cal one as the cranberry and holly. The o the large florists in New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City do a rushing busi-ness many months in the year.

The men go out into the woods, gather tie moss and put it out to dry. It is then inced in great bundles, fastened together with boards, wrapped tight with wire or ope. It is necessary to dry the moss, for he bundles would weigh too much to be ifted it sent wet.

When the dried mosses arrive at their destination, they are taken out of the bun-dles and revived. In time they find their way into beautiful flower baskets for wedings, receptions and gala occasions.

"Truly we do furnish the Thanksgiving. hristmas and wedding joy and decorations or many, don't we?" said a resident of hatsworth, down toward the pine regions. nity and explaining that "persons there made considerable money, and that they had brains in spite of the fact that folks think everybody who lives in the piney re-gion is feeble-minded."

PROPOSES MARRIAGE TO CONGRESSWOMAN

Lawyer Working as Cotton Picker Would Wed Miss Jeannette Rankin

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 16 — Miss Jeannette tankin, first woman elected to the Na-onal House of Representatives, today reeived her first proposal of marriage since er election.

Charles H. Williamson, of Oklahoma City. Charles H. Williamson, of Oklahoma City, Okta., who says he is a lawyer but is now picking cotton at $2 a day because "the law business is not what it might be," is willing to marry Miss Fankin at once. He is frank with her, in that he says she is his second choice, although ahe is the first to whom he has offered marriage. He admired his first love from a fire and restrict the control of the first love from a fire and the first l mired his first love from afar and waited to offer his hand until he could earn enough to buy a pair of shoes. In the meantime she eloped with a man of wealth. he mays.

METHODISTS TO GIVE BANQUET

Bishops Will Dine Tonight at Bellevue-Stratford in Spite of Ruling Against Liquor

One of the largest banquets ever held by the Methodist Episconal Social Union, with the entire Board of Bishops attending, will be given in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel tonight.

Hishop Joseph F. Berry, together with other officials of the Social Union, do not believe, however, that the recent rolling of the Philadelphia-New Jersey miniators not to patronise any hotel where intoxicating liquous are sold will mar the occasion. There will be five promipent speakers at

Among those who will address the min-sters will be Bishop William A. Quayle, of St. Louis: Bishop Thomas Nicholson, of Chicago: Bishop A. W. Leonard, of San Francisco: Dishop K. R. Rugnes, of Jos-on, and Bishop Francisca Hamilton,

LADY BECK DELIGHTS HORSE SHOW THRONG

First and Only Woman Tanbark Judge Has an "Awful Time" Picking New York Winners

PRANCERS GET PRIZES

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 .- The Horse Show lidn't really begin today until Lady Beck, wife of Sir Adam Beck, of London, Ont., and first and only woman horse show judge that the world has ever known, walked across the tanbark and took her place at the judges' stand. It never does.

With her beach basket hat clamped firmly on her head, her round, chubby face all smiles, note-pad in one hand and pencil in the other, Lady Beck appeared in the center of the big oval at 10:45 to give her verdict on eight prancing saddle horses.

verdict on eight prancing saddle horses.

A most particular judge is Lady Beck.
No horse can give her the laugh. First she had them put through their paces round the rim of the bowl, carefully noting every point of walk, trot and canter. One by one she then lined them up before her and ran circles around them to see their fine points. She scooted in and out among the bony legs of the thoroughbreds like a hrownie with an evil genie after it. prownle with an evil genie after it.

She had an "awful time" deciding be tween seventeen saddle horses in Class 39.
She couldn't seem to choose between W.
H. Rhodes's Radiant, ridden by a young woman who thoroughly lived up to her mount's name, and Buren Arnold, exhibited and ridden by Miss Anna A. Austen. Finally she gave it to the two Badlasts. y she gave it to the two Radiants.

FINE PONY DISPLAY As for the horse show in general there sever were so many hand-laundered horses ogether in one place in the world.

Take the pony classes. A pony class consists of two ladies and misses' size horses, 4½B on a double E last. These are attached to a two-quarter buggy, built on a wire frame and fitted with dropstitch wheels. Add one tail, thin man, who has collapsed on to his seat in sections, and there you have it.

After a while they turned loose a flock of glorified stage coaches equipped with four horses aplece and "all the harness in the world." Several times around having brought no excitement but the yelling of the crowd, a long-legged old man in short trousers leaned over and barked through his goatee to know when they were going to stage the robbery. Somebody told him the bandits had gone on strike for an eighthour day and time and a half for overtime.

HACKNEYS ON VIEW.

They finally cut this act and brought on even backneys and let them back. Other eleven hackneys and let them hack. Other two and four footed performers followed, and there was some show of interest in them, of course; but, after all, it's with horse shows as it is with afternoon teas— the horses and the tea are all right, but it's the color scheme that counts.

The color scheme of this horse show in red and white. The upper halves of the white grooms and boxes are trimmed in red. The only time you get a complete flag is when a blue policeman comes in and stands around.

The really maddening thing though is the red and green symphony at either end of the Garden. There they have thousands of red lights blinking behind a billowing curtain of evergreen branches. This is more than any man with three drinks and thirty minutes in a warm room can stand. Society was there in force and furbe-ows. The boxes were filled with the latest in lingerie.

JOY OF ANTICIPATION FOR RABBIT HUNTERS

It Was the Only Kind Enjoyed by Tiogans Who Set Forth in Auto

Anticipation, said a sweet-souled phil-The moss business is not such a period- is more pleasurable than realization; and another, who might have been an automo-bilist, supplemented the idea with the ob-servation that joy is coy and must be caught unawares. Either of them, at any rate, might have been inspired to the same sentiment had he seen a member of a party of prominent residents of Tioga who went to hunt rabbits and wind up the happy day with a farm barn dance near Newtown.

In the party were Mrs. August Fertig, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bolling, Mr. and Mrs. George Waldman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Cox. Mr. and Mrs. C. Kircher and Miss F. Kircher, Mrs. Joseph Welsh, Dr. and Mrs. Frank. Nice, Mrs. Harold Nice and Miss Frances Nice and L. Kinsler.

Leaving Tioga at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, they had come within three miles of their destination, the farm of Joseph Nice, brother of Dr. Nice, at 7 o'clock last night. Nine inner tubes and two automobile shoes had been punctured and blown out on the trip and they could go no farther until August Fertig, a grain dealer of 2797 North Broad street, arrived with repairs. The party did not return to Tioga until 4 Colork this morning because of the description. o'clock this morning because of the de-

OIL TRADE MEN TO DINE

Federal and State Legislation to Be Special Topic at Association's Annual Banquet

Conditions of the oil trade will be discussed at the annual banquet tonight of the Oil Trade Association of Philadelphia, to be held at the Bellevue-Stratford. Oil men from all over the country have been in-vited as guests.

Federal and State legislation affecting the trade will be one of the subjects broachd in particular, the oil men desiring this nation to be prepared to compete with flumanian and Russian products after the war. A pure oil bill will also be introduced in the next assaion of the Fennsylvania Legislature penalizing adulteration and substitution in oils.

Thomas G. Cooper is president of the Cit Thomas G. Cooper is president of the Oil Trude Association and Charles E. Carpenter will be the toastmaster. Prominent oil men who will be guests of honor include Judge M. J. Byrna. of the Connecticut Oil Worke, Waterbury, Conn.; E. E. Grant. of Chicago, secretary of the Independent Oil Men's Association of the United States; Captain U. G. Lyons, of Warren. Pa., a leader among oil producers of the Pennsylvania fields; J. W. Williams, Guif Heffning Company; E. Allen. of the Complanter Refining Com-M. Allen, of the Cornplanter Refining Com-pany, Warren, Pa, and F. E. Van Tilburg, a leader in the oil industry in the North-west, who halls from Minneapolis.

TURKEY KING DIED INSOLVENT Disclosed by Adit of Hatfield Man's

Estate at Norristown

NORRESTOWN, Pa., Nov 16 — Joseph B. Anders, of Hattisid known as the "Turkey King," died innoivent. This was disclosed fit an audit of his astate in the Orphina' Court here, when the widow made a claim for $1000, representing principal and interest of about $1200 inceived at various times by here Anders to inheritance and turned over in her hadres to inheritance and turned over in her hadres of the court of the contract of the The widow filed a paper serveing